OLD TIME MOVIES
RIVAL COLUMNIST
ANTIQUÉ TURK
JUGGLED INFANTS

—By Catherine Morse

Do you remember the movies that came out around the time of the war? We just barely remember them. Well, did you ever think how funny it would be to see one of them today after we are so used to silent drama supreme and the talkies? The other day we got to see one and maybe it wasn't funny. It was supposed to be a melodrama, but the biggest thrill came to us by the way of the styles of ten years ago and the old-fashioned technique. And then, the reels had to be turned by hand (the light was generated by an old Ford engine, by the way) and between each reel, one had to wait in the dark for about ten minutes before the next one was ready. Well, all in all, it was a "reel" show.

And now our column has a new rival! Just an every day special staff 'rambles' in with a colyum in a big attempt to steal our thunder! And, do you know, it wasn't such a bad effort, either; he even acquired the editorial we. Next think we know, we will be debunked in favor of this young upstart—egad!

But we think that if our neophyte rival really knew his stuff, about this one armed driving, he would know that nine times out of ten the woman in the case had one hand on the wheel, too. Tsk, tsk, Chuck; you forgot to "Cherchez la femme!"

At last we have some authentic column material. An antique Turk of 156 summers has come to America with a purpose in view. (Whereupon all the big and little columnists in the country avidly leap upon the poor old man as legal copy and give the old duffer a lot of free publicity... He had his picture in the brown sheet, but he's a noble subject for yellow journalism).

However, that is beside the point. What we actually started out to say was that he has come over for his twelfth wife and to be fitted with false teeth so that he can enjoy life. (It doesn't designate whether it is the teeth or the wife that are to lend enjoyment). Anyway, if he is the kind of a man we think he is, he hasn't much left in life that is different to enjoy; but we would recommend a roly-coaster and some pet milk.

We wonder if our friend, the Asiatic Methusalem, would like to come up to our fair institution for a day (or maybe he would like to exhibit the pictures of his other eleven wives in room 209 for a few days) in order to deliver a lecture on technique or "S. A." or even "IT". And then, he might even be able to interest some tired teacher in his lonely years that stretch ahead of him.

Have you been reading in the town papers lately about the Bam-burger baby vs. the Watkins baby. It seems that a Chicago hospital sort of juggled the infants and when the two families left the hospital doubt remained as to which baby was the offspring of which family. Oh, well! accidents will happen, you know. But just think what a beaver of a fiction story it would make—if it hadn't already been run to death as a theme already.

We were listening in on the radio the other night on what we at first thought was a "funny" program; but after thinking it over, we are beginning to suspect it of a rather subtle satire which stabbed at man by disclosing his futility. It was supposed to be Jupiter's view of the earth and its machinations.

Among other more or less poignant remarks, Jupiter said, "Man could cease his tasks right now and life would go on practically the same." We wonder just what would

NORMAL DRAMATISTS PLAY "THE PIGEON" WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Galsworthy's Play Characterized as "Distinguished Entertainment"—Experienced Group Cast.

HOPPE PLAYS

Next Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the Auditorium, "The Pigeon", by John Galsworthy, will be produced. The Normal Drama club offers this play as "distinguished entertainment". Mr. Galsworthy in "The Pigeon" has excelled in his method of partly emotional, partly intellectual talk. "The Pigeon" is essentially a play of ideas. It is distinguished entertainment in that it teaches as it amuses. The story is managed in such a fashion as to be neither tragic, nor essentially serious. Such synonyms as "sympathetic, compassionate, and tolerant," suggest its spirit.

Mr. Eugene O'Neill has written a drama called "The Hairy Ape" in which Yank, a stoker on an ocean liner, tries to find his place in organized society. The O'Neill play is strong medicine, a bitter, turbulent indictment of man's lack of humanity toward brother man. Mr. Galsworthy has treated the same material in a less forthright fashion. He chooses to poke gentle fun at the "tame birds" of society who would clip and imprison the "wild birds". With mild symbolism he brings upon his stage three derelicts: Farran, a young French vagabond; Timson, a besotted old cockney cab-driver; Megan, a little

MAUDE M. SLAWSON TO GO TO OHIO U.

Music Instructor Resigns Position Here to be Assistant Professor of Music at Ohio State University.

Miss Maude M. Slawson has resigned her position in the Music Department to accept an appointment as assistant professor in the School of Music at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio. Miss Slawson will have charge of classes in sight-singing and ear training and methods of teaching music and she will direct the girls' glee club.

President Fisher says that Miss Slawson is a teacher to many students who has been a painstaking and stimulative of the Music department and ham. She has been a valuable member in the community who is leaving Bellingham many friends in the school and faculty for the past six years, and Slawson has been a member of the have been in her classes.

The faculty and students have only best wishes for success in her new position. Miss Slawson received the degree of Bachelor of Music at the University of Washington and the Master's degree at Teachers College, Columbia University. She is well prepared by training and experience to undertake the position to which she has been appointed.

be the consequence if men all over the world would respond to the next noon whistle and lay off for a year or so. It would be rather interesting to observe the results from Jupiters elevation, wouldn't it?

But the remark of this debunked deity that interested us the most was that "Life as it is lived today is the biggest joke on man that there is—and the funniest part of it is that he is playing it on himself." Think it over!

OUTSIDE INFORMAL TOMORROW NIGHT

Tomorrow night, in the Edens Hall dining room, the outside girls will hold their Summer Dance. The room will be very simply decorated with large baskets of gay colorful flowers. Because of the small attendance at the summer dances the girls have decided to use the dining room of the dormitory.

Einar Moen and his five-piece band will furnish the music for the dance. The programs which are to be hand painted and are of modernistic design, are now on sale in the outer office of the Dean of Women.

The patrons and paroneses for the dance will be: Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Hoppe, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Marquis, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Pelagius Williams, Miss Adele M. Jones, and Mr. E. J. Arntzen.

The committee chairmen of the affairs are: General chairman, Jennie Berg, Mary MacDonald, Esther Nordquist, and Jean Phillippi; program, Betty Bellman; decoration, Pearl Auvil; refreshment, Alta Al-linson; clean-up, Helen Sullivan.

CRUISE TO ELIZA

An all-day pleasure trip to Eliza Island, Sunday, July 27, aboard Dr. Carl M. Erb's yacht "Thetis" was enjoyed by a number of local people. Among the guests were Mr. Herbert Ruckmick, of the Bellingham Normal School faculty, and Franklin Lock, former student. Mr. Ruckmick took a number of interesting photographs of this trip.

Indignant Constructor Wreaks Havoc With Viking Staff Morale

Speaking of gliders, Viking Reporters, Editors, and Advisors would have welcomed gliders last week, when an enraged glider builder raided the Viking office following the publication of a story about the building of his motorless plane. It seems that an artless reporter, captivated by the complexity of the embryonic craft, desired to spread the good word about and fascinate others too. So he, or she, wrote the story up, and described in detail, but erroneously, the various mechanisms, baubles and gadgets employed in the building. This wouldn't have been so bad, and our tireless builder might have let that pass, had not our reporter gone further and insinuated, prompted of course by the difficulty of the enterprise, that the thing might not fly. This would have been passed over too, (although what airplane

Bureau Places Ten Normalites

The Appointment Bureau has received notice of ten teaching appointments of graduates of this school. These ten are Edna B. Finley, Okanogan county; Kristine Thordardson, Point Roberts; Doris Thompson, Rock Springs, Mont.; Marie Day, Devon, Mont.; Edith Smith, Sidney, Mont.; Maedora Helm, Brewster, Edwin Hunnicut, South Kitsap Union High; Ethel Gordon, Cle Elum; Alice Anderson, Bonaparte school; and Elizabeth Troll, Bainbridge Island.

PREXY'S SECRETARY RESIGNS POSITION

Polly Dee Learnard, secretary to President Fisher, has resigned her position and after her marriage in the early fall will make her home in Los Angeles. Miss Learnard is a graduate of Stanford University and has been secretary to the president for the past three years. President Fisher says: "Miss Learnard has been a capable and efficient secretary and has made a host of friends among the office staff, employees, faculty and students who will be sorry to learn that she is leaving our school."

BOARD OF TRUSTEES VISIT AT STATION

President Fisher and Board Visit Friday Harbor Biological Station Sunday; Greatly Impressed.

The Board of Trustees and President C. H. Fisher made a trip last Sunday to the Friday Harbor Biological station. Those who made the trip were Mr. Noah Shakespeare, of Everett, and his daughter, Gwendolyn Shakespeare; Dr. W. D. Kirkpatrick, chairman of the Board of Trustees, and President C. H. Fisher. The party was met at Friday Harbor by Miss Sundquist of the faculty and Bennett Howard, a former student, who provided transportation to the Biological station.

After luncheon in the dining hall of the station, the party spent the afternoon visiting the laboratories and getting acquainted with the equipment of the station. Dr. T. C. Frye, director of the station, Miss Rosene and Miss Sundquist, of the faculty, and Miss Dean and Miss Wells, assistants in the Normal school classes, accompanied the party on the trip around the station. Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Frye invited the party to their home which is located at a beautiful spot on the station grounds, where some time was spent enjoying the beautiful scenery and the hospitality of Dr. and Mrs. Frye. The members of the party were greatly pleased and impressed with the advantages offered students by the station. Those of the party who had not visited the station before did not expect to see such fine buildings and equipment. Some time was spent in the Normal school laboratories where there were a number of students at work and an opportunity was given to see the type of work pursued by our students. The members of the party had a great deal of pleasure in meeting students enrolled in the Normal School classes.

S. S. INDIANAPOLIS IS CHARTERED FOR TRIP AUGUST 13TH

Day Set Aside by President Fisher for Trip to Charming Canadian City; Orchestra to be Taken.

ROOM FOR DANCING

That the excursion to Victoria will be a reality this summer was made known by the following announcement received from the President's office this morning:

"President C. H. Fisher has been assured by the Puget Sound Navigation Company that they will furnish the boat Indianapolis for the trip to Victoria on Wednesday, August 13."

The Indianapolis is a large and spacious boat. It will accommodate the entire student body. There will be ample room for an orchestra and a large crowd for dancing.

The boat will leave the Citizen's dock in Bellingham at 7 a. m., and will arrive in Victoria at about 10:30 or 11 o'clock. Returning the boat will leave Victoria at 6 p. m.

Since there is heavy expense in having the Indianapolis, and in order to be sure that expenses will be met—there will have to be a charge of two dollars for the round trip. Further notice will be given regarding sale of tickets and other necessary details.

Dramatic Reader Will Appear Here

Sarah Truax Albert, dramatic reader, always a favorite with Normal school audiences, is to appear in assembly Friday, August 8.

Mrs. Albert will review several plays which she has seen in New York during the year. Some of those which will be included on her program are: "The Apple Cart", by George Bernard Shaw, the Theatre Guild's production; and "Devil Takes a Holiday", from the Italian. Briefer reviews will be given "June Moore", "The First Mrs. Fraser", "Strictly Dishonorable", and a discussion of "The Green Pasture", the famous negro folk play, which has made a tremendous success in New York this year.

CANADIAN PIANIST WILL PLAY TUESDAY

Gertrude Huntly Green, Famous Canadian Artist, Will Be Presented in Assembly Recital

Tuesday, August 5, Gertrude Huntly Green, a famous Canadian pianist, will appear in assembly in a recital. Mrs. Green, usually known as Miss Huntley, an artistic circles, was born in Ontario, studied in the Conservatory of Music at Ontario, and in Paris, where she became the favorite pupil of the famous Polish composer-teacher, Moszkowsky.

Mrs. Green retired from the concert stage after her marriage, but studied in private, and has now reappeared with an increased repertoire.

Almost as gifted a violinist as a pianist, Mrs. Green studied for a time with Paul Viardot, conductor of the Paris Opera, and later with Albert Geloso, a fine artist and teacher, but she felt that the piano was her greatest medium of expression and finally decided to take up her career as a pianist.

As a high tribute to her art, her teacher, Moszkowski, publicly announced his intention to appear with her after eleven years retirement from the concert platform. This unusual honor brought the introduction of the new artist into prominence as a significant musical event.

Numbered among Mrs. Green's most intimate friends are such famous artists as Geloso, violinist; Davidoff, the great Russian tenor; Katorsky, a famous basso of the Russian Imperial Opera company; and Kitty Cheatham, the celebrated diseuse.

The program Mrs. Green will present in assembly is one which students will find most interesting. She has chosen several selections from Godowsky; and the "Spinning Song" by Mendelssohn; "Rondo" by Hummel, and the "Prelude in G Major", by Rachmaninoff, are well known selections.

PLYMOUTH QUARTET IS WELL RECEIVED

The Plymouth Quartet, composed of Misses Margaret Moss Hemion, soprano; Winifred Aukland Lundberg, contralto; and Messers. Marshall Sohl, tenor; and Walter Reseburg, bass; under the personal direction of Arville Belstead, gave one of their delightful programs in assembly last Tuesday morning. The first group was sung by the whole quartette. Then Miss Hemion, soprano, sang two songs that were well received also. After the second group Mr. Reseburg, bass, delighted the audience with two old favorites, "Old Man River", and "Captain Stratton's Fancy". Mr. Reseburg is always well received. His range of tone and dramatic ability combine to leave an effect that is pleasing to all concerned. The quartette concluded with a number from "Rigoletto".

The Plymouth Quartet has been here before during the school year, and their programs are always well attended.

A Washington State College professor says that the amount of vitality in the body and the amount of mentality in the mind determine the amount of color a woman can wear.

Mystery Explained!
Beard Growing Is Prompted By Play

While speaking of ball teams and from the hirsute appearance of a couple of students you would think that there was a "House of David" baseball team in the offing. Or, perchance it is that they are so fearfully sunburned from the Baker climb that they can't apply the "Palmolive and Gillette." But, no, we are wrong.

The one with the heavy red chip whiskers, sideburns, goatee and Van Dyck circling the lower half of his face is not starting a ball team, is not sunburned, is not even starting a fad, but is merely doing the real thing for a character part in the forthcoming presentation of the Pigeon.

His friend, Al Brown, is raising a sympathetic growth, that is lending moral support to his cause. Al contends that Ray has a week head start on him, but confidently expects to overtake this lead before the play is produced. Such intense interest in a play lead is noteworthy and commanding of respect.

TWO HOUR DANCE VOTED BY BOARD

Double Rec Hour to Be Held for Balance of Quarter; Committee Named to Blue Books

The Board of Control at its regular meeting last Wednesday evening appointed a committee to revise the Students' Blue Book which must be printed and ready for delivery at the first assembly of next fall quarter. The proof of the book as revised will be submitted to the Board of Control at its last regular meeting of this quarter, for final inspection and approval. The secretary, John Moawad, will call for bids from the local printers. One thousand Blue Book copies will be printed and each student receives of copy free of charge. Mary McDonald, Lyle K. Summers, Jean Phillipi, and Quentin T. Quick will constitute the Blue Book committee.

Double Rec Hours

Student rec hours were discussed and the members of the Board decided to have a double rec hour Friday evenings from 8 to 10 for the remainder of the summer quarter.

Evelyn Crow, Student Representative, gave a report concerning the quarterly picnic of the Board of Control. A salmon bake will be held at Birch Bay, Monday evening, August 11. All present and former members of the Board are permitted to bring guests.

Mary MacDonald was appointed to act as chairman in arranging for the student mixer at the opening of next fall quarter.

The meeting was called to order by Mary MacDonald. This is in keeping with the policy of the Board of Control, that the Vice-President of the Students' Association shall preside at one meeting each quarter.

The next meeting of the Board of Control will be held in the office of the Students' Association at 12:20 P. M. on Monday, August fourth.

Miss Clare Wilson left Friday for Toppenish, Washington, where she visited until Tuesday.

CLUB NOTES

MRS. WILEY MILLER, NEE FLORENCE HORSWILL, SURPRISES FRIENDS

Mrs. Wiley Miller, formerly Miss Florence Horswill, surprised a number of friends recently at a wedding dinner, given at the Viking Room at Baughman's, announcing that she had been married since June 3, 1930, to Mr. Wiley Miller of Seattle. Mr. and Mrs. Miller spent their honeymoon at various points in Eastern Washington.

The room was decorated with sweet peas with a color scheme of green and pink. Those present at the dinner were friends of Mrs. Miller. Miss Florence Johnson, Kathleen Reff, Elizabeth Gable, Mary Erickson, Irene Larson, Ruth Steele, Elsie Rapier, Margaret Galby and the hostess, Mrs. Miller.

Mr. Miller is a graduate of the University of Washington and is going back to school to specialize in law. Mrs. Miller is a graduate of this school in '29. She has been teaching at Onalaska the past year. Mr. and Mrs. Miller plan to make their home in Seattle.

flower girl of the city streets. These three, samples of the drifter and wanderer, are his exhibits A, B, and C.

The question is posed, what shall society do with such as these? The answer is suggested by four people: Wellwyn, an artist; Sir Thomas Hoxton, a justice; Canon Bertley, a clergyman, and Prof. Calway, a social scientist. All but Wellwyn have face of the actual situation. Only those which break down in the gullible, impractical Wellwyn can furnish help and comfort and that in the most haphazard fashion. But while the story is a social, human document in dramatic form—it is more. It is a compelling character study of diverse personalities. It teaches in quiet fashion the new commandment of the New Testament, to love one's neighbor as oneself.

The cast of the play is adequate. Normal Drama club again presents Ray Bright, Mary MacDonald, Charles Dewey, John Rajola, Lou Griffin, and Frank Franz—all having given splendid account of themselves in previous performances.

The cast is as follows:

- Christopher Wellwyn, an artist..... Victor Horpfe
  - Ann, his daughter..... Lou Griffin
  - Guinevere Megan, a flower-seller..... Mary MacDonald
  - Rory Megan, her husband Joe Harris Ferrand, an alien..... Charles Gerrold
  - Timson, once a cabman..... Charles Dewey
  - Edward Bertley, a Canon..... John Rajola
  - Alfred Calway, a professor..... Lyle Summers
  - Sir Thomas Hoxton, J. P..... Ray Bright
  - Police Constable..... Frank Franz
  - First Humble-man Warren Boynton
  - Second Humble-man..... Haddox
  - A Loafer..... Alexander Kuznosky
- The play is directed by Mr. Hoppe with Mr. Harris acting as stage manager. The management promises a complete scenic production, designed especially for the occasion. Seat sale will open Monday—next and seats will be available daily on the landing in the central corridor.

GIRLS OF EL NIDO BUSY

The girls of El Nido and their guests enjoyed an all day boat trip among the Islands, July 13. They stopped at Cottonwood Beach and ate their lunch and went swimming. Edna Swanson, Helen Kalenius, Elvera Abrahamson, Edythe Matson were the dinner guests of Elsie Bissonette and Trina Westendorp Monday evening.

William Jacka and Edgar Cox were the dinner guests of Carol Howe and Marie Day Thursday evening.

The girls leaving at the end of five weeks are: Helen Doran, Mildred Decker, Esther Dow, Trina Westendorp, Florence Elliot.

Helen Kalenius, Edna Swanson, Trina Westendorp climbed Mt. Baker over the week-end.

Funeral Held for Mrs. Harry Winsor

On Wednesday, July 23, at 1 p. m., the funeral of Mrs. Harry Glen Winsor, (Henrietta Sherwood) was held at Hollingsworth Funeral Home, despite the fact that her husband had not been located, being in mid Pacific on the S. S. Antietam. Mrs. Winsor attended Normal in 1928, and her husband was a student here for several years. Mrs. Winsor, who was the sister of Asa Sherwood, also a student, had been ill for several months. She was removed from Seattle to a local hospital in May.

Family friends who wish to communicate with Mr. Winsor will be able to reach him by addressing him at Seattle, S. S. Antietam, care of the Luckenbach lines.

Normal Instructor Back from Study for Master's Degree at Columbia; Had Year's Leave of Absence.
Miss Gertrude Longley, after a year's absence, has recently returned from New York City, where she attended the Columbia University and received her master's degree. Miss Longley was accompanied on the trip by Miss Bertha Crawford, 8th grade training teacher, who also spent the year at Columbia.
Miss Longley experienced an enjoyable year, and was especially enthusiastic about the Columbia university. She said, "The Columbia University is a cosmopolitan school, and one daily encounters interesting people. I did, however, miss the Normal campus."
In February, Miss Longley attended the N. E. A. conference at Atlantic City. Miss Longley commented, "Apart from the pleasure derived from the conference, I was delighted with the shops on the board walk, where gorgeous merchandise was displayed. Then I marveled at the wonderful hotels!"
On her way home, Miss Longley stopped at Philadelphia, and spent two days at Washington, D. C., where she was entertained by Miss Anne Halberg, who taught two summers at the Normal, and now is president of the Wilson Teacher's College.
Miss Longley is very glad to be home. She will resume her duties at the Normal this fall.
