

Board Election Next Week "John Loves Mary" Opens Wednesday

Elections for four positions on the Board of Control, governing body of the WWC student body, will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, November 14-15, announces Vice-president Harry Pagels.

Twelve candidates who survived the primary elections are contesting for the four positions.

Two student representatives are to be selected on the four-quarter man or woman ticket. Candidates include Bev Dustin and Lynn Hunt, Bellingham; Phil Agar, Bremerton; Jim Wright, Concrete; Gerry Berg, Everson; and Ann Griffiths, Twisp.

A contest for one four-quarter man has been placed on the ballot. In this race are Pat Doyle, Blaine; Stan Peterson, Poulsbo; and Charles (Digger) Odell, of Massachusetts.

Three women students are contesting for the position of feminine representative. The candidates are Marion James, Arlington; Leila Brown, Leavenworth; and Carole Irwin, Seattle.

Candidates will be introduced by their campaign managers in the Tuesday morning assembly. Each candidate will give a brief talk.

Polls will open at the conclusion of the assembly and voting will continue until 4:00 p. m. Tuesday. Voting will resume at 8:00 a. m. Wednesday, and end at 4:00 p. m., Wednesday.

"John Loves Mary" Opens Wednesday

College drama returns to penthouse style production when "John Loves Mary," directed by Victor Hoppe, opens a four-night stand Wednesday evening in the Edens hall Blue room. The three-act comedy, written by Norman Krasna, will be presented at 8:15 Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights.

"John Loves Mary" deals with the romantic complications of a newly discharged soldier. John (Bill Jones), out of loyalty to his buddy, Fred, who had saved his life in battle, marries Fred's girl-friend in London in order to bring her to the United States.

John intends to divorce her immediately in order to marry his own fiance, Mary, played by Jerri Mosier.

The play opens as John arrives at Mary's home. Complications develop in rapid sequence. For example, John finds that Fred has taken another wife who is about to have a baby.

The author hasn't missed a trick in making the most of the plot's humorous entanglements. Mr. Hoppe has applied his adroit directorial skill to advantage in these situations.

In keeping with penthouse customs, refreshments will be served at intermission time. No admission will be charged.

Students in the cast, in addition to Jones and Mosier, include Don Pearsall, Tom Ewell, Jim McHeffey, Alice Daris, Richard Usitalo, Donald Sundal, Leila Brown, and Richard Molby. Assisting Hoppe is June Sutherland.

Director Hoppe said this week that "the play is so funny that I still laugh at it in rehearsal even after seeing it so many times."

Sunday Show Tells Story of Veterans

"Till the End of Time," a movie starring Dorothy McGuire and Guy Madison, will be shown Sunday evening at six and eight o'clock in the college auditorium.

The movie takes two marines from the time they leave the separation center and follows them as they go their separate ways, emphasizing the problems a returning veteran faces in his readjustment to civilian life. Admission will be twenty-five cents.

Education Days Observed Here

Throughout the nation November 5-11 is Education week, sponsored nationally by the National Education association, the American Legion, the United States Office of Education, and the National Parents and Teachers association.

Activities commemorating Education week on campus are being sponsored by ACE. Miss Synva Nicol, Campus school instructor, is the adviser.

Each day of the week has a specific theme such as Sunday, moral and spiritual value; Monday, responsibilities of the citizen; Tuesday, meaning of the ballot; Wednesday, urgent school needs; Thursday, opportunity for all; Friday, home-school-community teamwork; and Saturday, freedom's heritage.

The ACE has a bulletin board on the main floor across from room 126. Charles (Digger) Odell, a student teacher, is chairman of the display.

On Sunday the Speech department, under the supervision of Laurence Brewster, presented an Education week program over a local radio station.

This morning's assembly was the annual Armistice and American Education day program.

Haggard Appointed To Commission

Dr. W. W. Haggard, president of Western Washington College, has been appointed by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education to participate in a three day training school for visitors to colleges of education, to be held January 11-13 at Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls, Iowa.

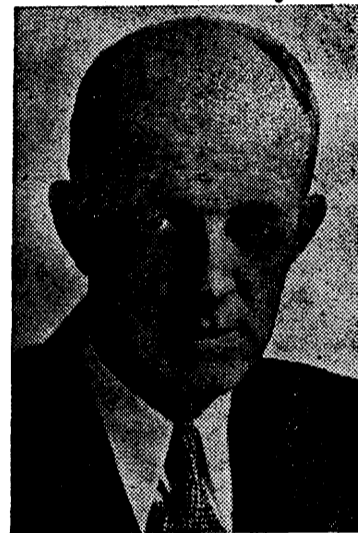

As a western representative of the AATCE, Dr. Haggard will assist in carrying out a three year plan of re-visitation and evaluation of the programs of the 245 institutions in the association. Cooperating with the plan will be the department of education in each state visited.

Lounge Procedures Announced by Earle

Organizations intending to use the student lounge for club meetings are requested by lounge manager Louis Earle to give notice at least ten days before the date of the meeting.

All expenses of keeping the lounge open for club meetings are to be paid by the club at the business office. The Board of Control will pay the costs for all-school functions such as mixers and television openings.

Davis Lectures Here Friday

Distinguished world affairs commentator Howard Pierce Davis will appear on the WWC platform Friday, November 17, as part of the college Artist and Lecture series.

Davis has been a frequent visitor to the WWC campus in recent years, bringing, on each occasion, a clear and penetrating analysis of world conditions. His lectures have provided stimulus for careful thought and discussion on campus.

Music Department In Presentation of Assembly Program

All divisions of the music department were presented in this morning's Armistice day assembly, the first major music program of the year.

The college band, under the direction of Don Walter, opened the program with four selections.

"This is My Country" was then sung by the college male quartet, consisting of Bennett Asplund, Byron Winter, Don Olson, and Clare Campbell.

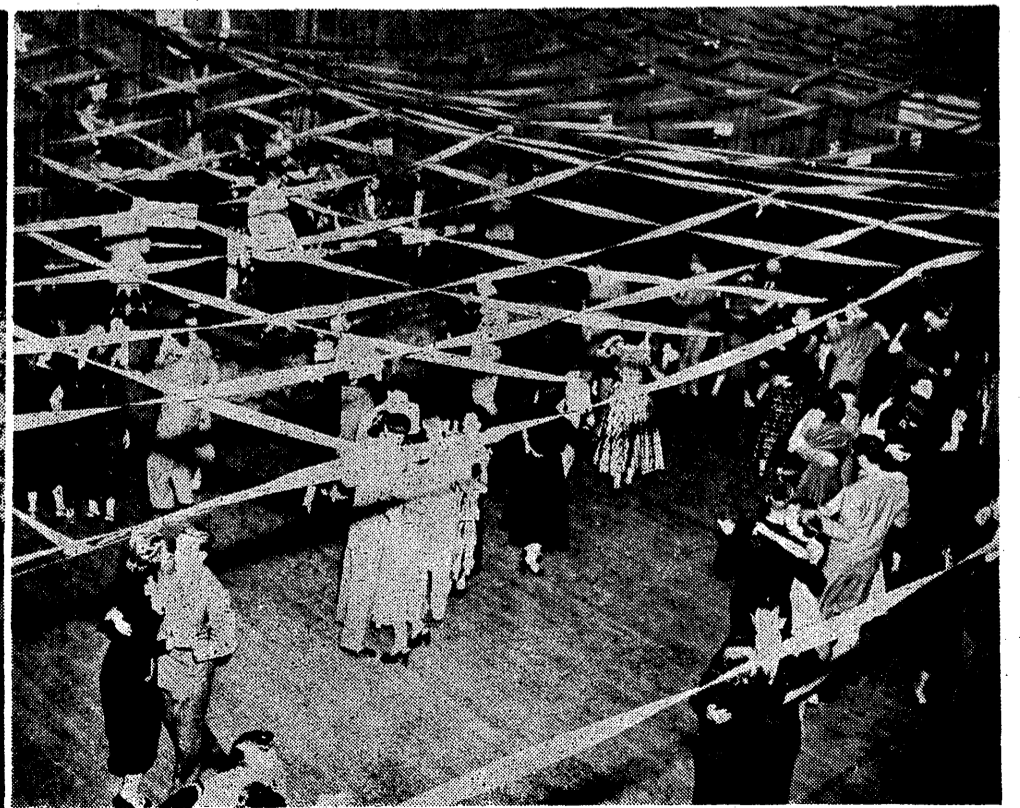

The Vocolegians, under the direction of Bernard Regier, sang two selections, which was followed by two pieces from the college string quartet, consisting of Anne Battey, Noreen Thorsen, Suzanne Palmer, and Dr. Frank D'Andrea.

The college choir, under the direction of Bernard Regier, sang two selections, and then joined with the band in a rendition of "America The Beautiful."

The patriotic program concluded with the playing of "Taps."

of this pre-game activity. "Wide Open Spaces" was the theme of the Queen's grand ball in the Armory Saturday night. The dance, which wound up Homecoming activities for 1950, was attended by over 500 couples. Homecoming skit and display awards were presented at intermission. The dance was sponsored by the "W" club.

College Election Important, Too

Politics on the nation, state, and city level, and Homecoming on the local scene overshadowed an event of great importance on campus last week—the nomination of candidates for the Board of Control.

So perfectly obscured was the college's own election campaign that less than one-third of the student body bothered to cast ballots in the primary election.

As one of the consequences of this apathy we have candidates nominated who received only a handful of votes in the primary election. This is the sort of dangerous procedure which leads inevitably to minority rule.

The general election is next week—Tuesday and Wednesday.

If you want cliques and minority groups to dominate your Board of Control, DON'T vote.

If you want the board to represent no one, and therefore be powerless as a voice of the student body, DON'T vote.

If you want the board to ignore student opinion in making its decisions, DON'T vote.

If you don't care how your money is spent, DON'T vote.

If you want the Board of Control to represent you, to use your opinions, to be a voice of student opinion that the faculty and administration will respect, to spend your money wisely, then VOTE next week. Talk to the candidates, find out how they stand on issues you are interested in, find out if they are capable and sincere or just out to win another popularity poll, then VOTE!

Death Awaits

To date no one has been killed in High street this year, but conditions are just about right for a first-class tragedy.

There is absolutely no prospect that the narrow, bumpy road will be improved until after the 1951 legislature meets. Meanwhile, a small minority of careless drivers and speedsters makes daily driving a hazard for everyone. Winter, with rain, ice, and snow, will soon make it even more hazardous.

The best solution for those of us who want to stay alive is to drive carefully every day.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

Whit Men Tell Date Secrets to Pollsters

SAME OLD LINES

A poll of the Whitworth college Whitworthian was entitled "Honey, How About a Date Saturday Night?"

It then listed several men and their versions of how to ask a girl the fatal question. Among the answers were:

"I shine my shoes; I comb my hair; I throw out my chest and call her on the phone."

"I have my roommate arrange a blind date."

"I use whatever approach the good Lord intends."

"Listen, baby, meet me at the Casbah!"

And then this gem of wisdom, "Put before them the ultimatum, and the ultimatum is 'no sense beatin' around the bush; I need lovin'!"

TOO MUCH COMPETITION

Evansville college has a novel idea for Homecoming, according to the Evansville Crescent. Along with the regular queen elections, they have inaugurated an annual Ugly Man contest. A trophy is awarded to the winner.

Various organizations on the campus choose their candidates and conduct a campaign. A new twist is that the voters have to pay in order to cast their ballots. The money collected is used to purchase food baskets for needy families.

There no need for a dating bureau on the Beckley college campus. Freshman rules takes care of that.

They require all first year students to wear signs giving their names, addresses and telephone numbers, besides stating whether or not they are "available."

SMILE WITH BILE

Ways of Bureaucracy Lead Victim Into Suicide Attempt

By LEO DELANO

This is dedicated to all the veterans enrolled in this college who have survived the path of red-tape which can be found winding in and out of the many corridors that make up a Veterans Administration office.

One day last week I opened a long official envelope and inside was a long official paper, stamped with numerous dates, and signed by at least a dozen well-scrawled official looking signatures. The instructions called for an annual physical exam.

Upon entering the VA contact office, I presented my instructions to a reserved, well-dressed young man, who a moment earlier had been shooting paper clips at a red-haired stenographer. After reading the document he dropped it into a waste basket and asked me what I wanted. I mentioned the exam.

"Let me tell you about the VA," he said, drawing a deep breath out of a drawer and blowing the head off of it. "This precision machine, this masterpiece of co-ordinated intricacy," he said, indicating the room with a flourish, "is the inner workings of the Veterans Administration."

"My," I gasped, and licked his hand reverently.

"Yes indeed," he went on, "our force is composed of hundreds of efficient office workers from all walks of life."

I gazed upon the mass of efficiency experts. Primly dressed young women, wearing gold-rimmed, upturned glasses, sat at their desks smoking Pall Malls and reading "Harper's Bazaar." Some sipped cokes. Some dozed. Upon their desks were heaps of unturned papers and unmailed subsistence checks. I winced.

"Report to Dr. Gaulstone," said the one with the ivory cigarette holder. I did three pirouettes and disappeared out of the door.

"Son," said Dr. Gaulstone after completing the physical exam, "we are going to cut your pension." "No, not my pension," I gasped reeling back against the wall, "who will support me?"

He placed a benevolent hand on my now trembling shoulder. "We're 27 years old now, my boy, we'll have to get out on our own." Two interns pulled me back from the sixth story window ledge, and forced a coconut husk full of rice wine between my lips. I was visibly pale, but much steadier.

"Most of them take it like this," said Gaulstone. I wept quietly in his arms. "There are many occupations a man can follow," he went on, "have you ever thought of re-enlisting, or writing a humor column?"

Two interns pulled me back from the sixth story window ledge.

Comedy Cast Busy Backstage at Daily Rehearsal

By CLIFF DRAGEY

The cast of the play "John Loves Mary" is now in the final stage of rehearsal. The players are wandering about the campus with an air of semi-confidence. That is, they know their lines fairly well, but are somewhat apprehensive about the audience that they will soon be facing.

While not on stage during rehearsal the student-actors watch the play, study their lines, or go out onto the fire escape where they can look at the sidehill across the road illuminated by fall leaves, shrubs and trees.

The play, of course, is about John and Mary—John, who is in love with Mary was saved from death by his friend. The friend is now in the United States and is married, but John doesn't know this. He decides to do his friend a favor and marry a London dance-hall girl he knows. His plans are to bring her to the United States, divorce her so she can marry his friend, and then he could have a reconciliation with Mary.

However, John's mother and father don't know that he is already married, and when they try to aid his marriage a complicated situation develops. After keeping the audience in suspense for two and one-half scenes, the author comes through with a complete solution to the whole problem and everyone is satisfied.

Downpour Fails to Dampen Viking Spirit; Homecoming Celebration Big Success

By ELAINE DAVERIN

"Nor rain, nor hail, nor sleet, nor snow, kept our team from their appointed game."

These were the famous last words of Viking rooters, western dudes, alumni out WWC way last weekend at the annual Homecoming celebration.

The "slight" downpour, equivalent to the resulting "slight" layer of mud on the field, failed to dampen the spirits of even the collie dog which joined the fracas during the third quarter, although it did dampen the football uniforms a trifle.

The "Lollipop Aria," famous the world over for its tranquil passages, gleaned more ovations as the Music club literally took home the bacon—in this case the cup—for the best

Homecoming skit last Friday evening.

House displays included everything from injuns to dummies. Tragic, but true, that when the press photographer assigned to snap the likeness of Daniels hall's winning display, two of the retreating injuns had disappeared. Whether the disappearance was due to the Savages' longing for their home many moons east of the mountains, or only due to the antics of souvenir hunters, has not been disclosed by the bureau of missing persons.

Elmer Joe, the official title given to the Edens hall dummy, was a man. Ordinarily, such creatures are not allowed past the reception room in the main rotunda, but E. J. was kept in a spare closet in the reading room prior to his debut, and startled many observers during his state of rest.

Fireside Chat

By EDDIE HICKENBOTTOM
President, Associated Students

A LOOK AT LOUNGE FINANCES

Last week it was mentioned in the Fireside Chat that the student lounge had an operating deficit of $12 for the months of September and October. As I see it, there are two main factors involved producing this deficit. Either the cost of labor is excessive or the price charged for goods is too low.

We can't do much about the labor cost as we know it takes a lot to run the lounge although the people working are paid only 75 cents an hour. However, this amount is more than what most of the people get for working around the school.

Let's analyze the cost of goods sold in the lounge. Last month the average sale was 5 1/2 cents on 5,000 sales. The lounge buys milk for 6 cents and sells it for 6 cents. There is no profit on milk. On cokes and other soft drinks we barely break even because people take the bottles and have a bad habit of not remembering where they got them.

On coffee we are almost going in the hole every time they make a cup of coffee.

The problem then boils down to this: is an increase in the price of coffee desirable at this time? I'm not figuring in terms of a ten-cent cup of coffee but in terms of a 6 or 7 cent cup of coffee. As far as I know the lounge is the only place in town offering coffee for a nickel.

On an average we sell about 800 cups of coffee a day. A penny increase on coffee would probably put the lounge in the black. It could put us enough in the black that we could do away with charging clubs for the use of the lounge.

We need some suggestions on this matter. If anyone has any better suggestion than a coffee increase I would be glad to accept them for consideration. If you have any suggestions, jot them down and leave them on the desk in the ASB office.

A pat on the back this week goes to all of those who worked so hard on Homecoming. To the THREE people who decorated the Armory ALL BY THEMSELVES goes a bouquet of roses. The thought in mind is: out of 1453 students, why should only three people have done all that work? Where were the other 1440 people?

Tickets Offered To Students

Free tickets to the Bellingham Civic Music association concert next Tuesday will be given to the first 300 students who ask for them in the business office.

Opening the 16th season of the association Tuesday evening in the Bellingham high school auditorium, will be Arnod Eidus, a young and brilliant violinist. In 1949 he won an international prize for being the most promising violinist in the world.

There will be no reserved seats. The doors open at 7:30 with the program beginning at 8:15.

Tickets will also be given to students for subsequent concerts during the winter and spring. Other artists appearing will be Lawrence Winters, baritone; Luboshutz and Nemenoff, duo-pianists; and Iva Kitchell, dance satirist. The opera "Barber of Seville" will be presented later.

Students are urged not to ask for these tickets unless definitely planning to attend, as the number is limited and the demand in the past has been great.

COWBOYS AND INDIANS—For the fourth year in a row Daniels hall has won the Homecoming house display first prize. A win next year will give them permanent possession of the cup. The display was designed by Bob Ellington, a junior, who also designed last year's winning display.

High St. Mishap Reported

High street—perennial headache of college motorists—was the scene of a minor accident involving three automobiles on rainy Monday morning.

The three southbound cars driven by Leonard Swenson, Ralph LeCocq, and Otto Peter were on the uphill grade between Myrtle and Ivy streets when the accident occurred. Police officers said that Swenson failed to stop in time when the other two cars had to slow down.

Swenson was cited by police for "inattention."

Damage to Swenson's car was estimated at $275. Peter's car was damaged to an extent of an estimated $75, and the LeCocq vehicle, approximately $10.

No one was reported injured.

BOARD OF CONTROL

Lounge Will Open for Husky-Duck Telecast

Western Washington students will be afforded an opportunity to see the telecast of Saturday's football game between the University of Washington and Oregon on the new television set in the student lounge. Board of Control members voted in favor of the idea at Wednesday's weekly meeting, establishing a 9c admission charge. The door adjacent to the annex* will be opened at 1:30 p. m. and will be the only open entrance.

Louis Earle, manager of the lounge, forwarded a request through President Ed Hickenbottom, that all student organizations wishing to use the lounge make reservations at least ten days in advance. Problems concerning the financial status of the lounge were discussed resulting in a decision to consult with the student facilities committee before taking further action.

George Keplinger, editor of the Homecoming booklet, reported that the publication showed an $86 profit this year. The report was received with high commendation from the board.

The Collegian requested that the board pay postage for sending the paper to Western students in the service. The request was granted.

Victor Hoppe, director of the fall quarter play, suggested through the president that no admission be charged at the production this year. The board also accepted this suggestion.

TEACHERS TRAVEL

Linda Countryman and Dorothy Ramsland of the Home Economics department are traveling to Seattle tomorrow, November 11, for a Home Economics workshop. Attending a Washington Education association committee meeting today in Seattle is Miss Elizabeth Hopper, alumni committee.

No Party Line In Student Election

Political party lines were a bit crossed this week as George Dowd, chairman of the college chapter of Young Democrats announced his endorsement of Digger Odell, a candidate for board of control. Odell is president of the local Young Republican group.

In endorsing Odell's candidacy, Dowd declared: "When we elect student leaders, we must disregard political affiliations. I believe Odell is the best man for the job, even if he is a Republican. Odell's capability, experience, and interest in the welfare of all students qualify him for the board of control."

When notified of the Democrat's support, Odell stated, "I am pleased to have the support of such an influential group. If elected, I will do my best to represent the entire student body."

HAWK TRAVELS TO OLYMPIA

Dr. Raymond F. Hawk journeyed to Olympia Wednesday and Thursday for the State Department of Education's Teacher Education committee meeting.

Junior Prom Heads Chosen

Keith Wright and Helen Wiik were elected co-chairmen of the Junior prom in a class meeting yesterday afternoon. The prom will be held March 4.

It was also decided this year's affair will be presided over by royalty.

Suggestions for theme or decorations may be submitted to the co-chairmen. Students from any class interested in working on the prom will have an opportunity to sign up for committees next week.

Deadline for Photo Appointments Set For 4 p. m. Today

Upper classmen have until 4:00 p. m. today to make picture appointments in the Klipsun office, the staff announced this week.

To insure that finished pictures are back in the Klipsun office in time to be mounted, students are also urged to return their proofs as soon as possible to Keith's studio to give the studio time to make prints.

Mounting of pictures has already been started on the sports, faculty, activities, and freshmen class sections. All mounting deadlines are set for November 15. Over 400 freshmen have had appointments made and will be included in their section.

Working on freshmen picture mountings are Muriel Weber and Bob Haycox. Alan Smith has been working on the sport section along with Keith Stearns and Cecil Thomas. Dale Kremer, Marilyn Hall, and Alan Smith are on faculty mountings. JoAnn Hoyt and Stella Wallags are scheduling house and club pictures.

College Bond Issues Rejected by Voters

Received with mingled emotions on campus were reports of statewide balloting on Referendums 7, 8, 9, and House Joint Resolution 10 in Tuesday's election. The first two measures were accepted by the voters while the latter two were rejected.

Referendum 7 authorizes a $40 million bond issue for construction of badly needed elementary and high school buildings. Similarly, Referendum 8 makes available $20 million for construction at state institutions for the mentally ill, juvenile delinquents, and criminals.

Music Club Wins Best Skit Prize

Western's Music club was awarded the Homecoming skit trophy for the best skit presented at the Homecoming assembly. Phil Agar, president of the Music club, accepted the trophy presented by Queen Sigrid at the Queen's Ball last Saturday night.

The following clubs and houses received awards for the best Homecoming displays: best house display, Daniels hall; honorable mention, Senior hall; best window display, Norsemen, honorable mention, Sophomore class.

The winning skit was an amusing interpretation of a guest soloist and his accompanist, presented by Alfred Lunde and Dick Hawk. The judges also requested that both Senior hall and Hospice Inn be given honorable mention for their skits.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DISPLAY DRAWS LARGE CROWD

An estimated 300 people witnessed the display in the Industrial Arts building on Parents day, according to David Burrell, Industrial Arts department.

All work displayed was completed by Industrial Arts students during the last year, and consisted of all types of objects. It represented the work of 65 students and four faculty members.

Referendum 9, which would have allowed a $20 million bond issue for capital construction at the state's five institutions of higher learning, trailed in the voting.

An amendment to the state constitution permitting school districts to increase their bonded indebtedness to raise additional building funds was contained in HJR 10, which was also defeated at the polls.

CAIN REPUDIATED

In congressional elections, Sen. Warren G. Magnuson was returned to the senate by the voters, while Representatives Hugh Mitchell and Henry Jackson were re-elected in the first and second districts. Sen. Harry Cain campaigned on behalf of the opponents of each of these incumbents.

A close race which developed for the post of state senator from the Bellingham district will be decided by absentee ballots. Democratic candidate Vaughan Brown holds a slight lead over Republican incumbent Harry Binzer.

Homer Nunamaker was returned to the state house of representatives from the same district. Young Bellingham attorney Marshall Forrest, in his first contest for public office, is leading Leo Goodman in the close race for the other legislative post in the district. The outcome of this race may also depend on absentee ballots.

Thinclads Off To Run at Vancouver, B. C.

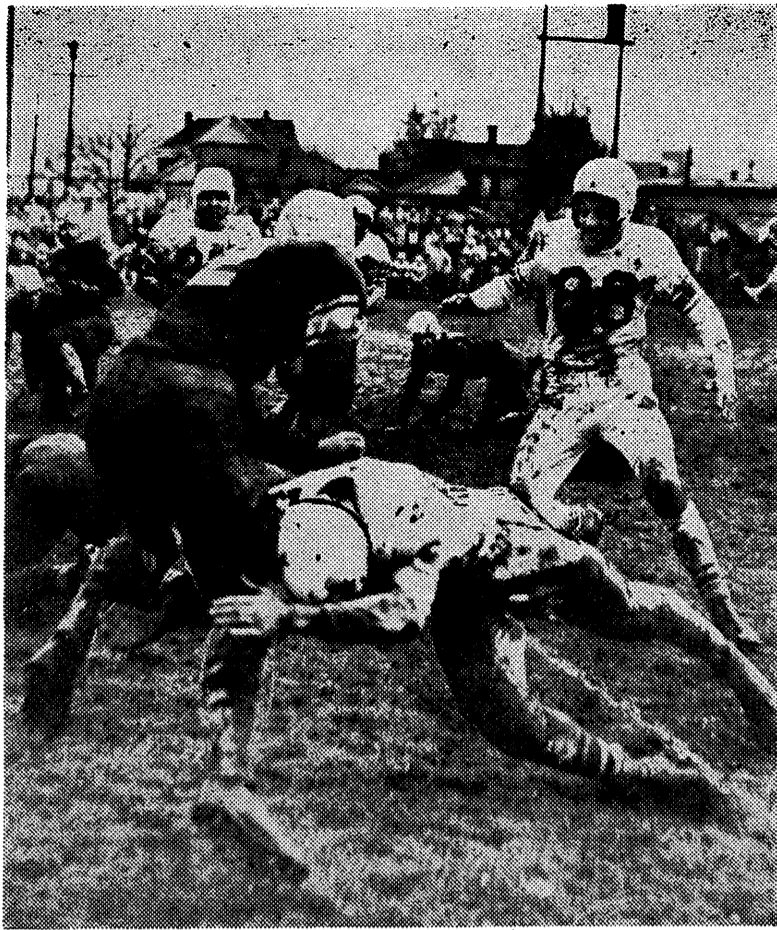

Western's harriers travel to Vancouver, B. C., tomorrow to compete in the Dominion Cross-country championships, according to Ray Cizek, track coach.

Two freshmen, one junior and one sophomore are on the four-man squad.

George McPherson, sophomore from Longview, and Carl Linde Jr., Seattle freshman, will run in the 2½-mile event.

Earl Clark, a junior, Cizek's 2-miler from last spring's track squad, will team up with Clint Doherty, freshman miler from Neah Bay, to try for honors in the 6-mile grind.

Cizek states that all the boys have had running experience of one form or another, but that the longer distance will be new to most of them. In spite of this fact, all the boys will do their best for themselves and the school, he added.

Western Drops from League Lead as Eastern Savages Win

Eastern Washington college's Savage football squad scored a double victory in Bellingham last Saturday afternoon, when they dampened the Western Washington's Vikings Homecoming with a 6-0 victory. The visitors from Cheney knocked the Viks out of the top spot in the Evergreen football conference and hoisted themselves into the league leader-ship.

The game was played at Battersby field on a gummy blotter of mud and turf.

Howie Glazier, Eastern's "bring home the bacon" halfback, racked up the lone and decisive score of the game in the third quarter. Deep in the Savage end zone Dale Gier dropped back into punt formation for the visitors. Instead of punting Gier passed to Anton Rasmussen in the flat who carried the ball to the Eastern 22.

On the next play Gier passed out to Glazier on the midfield stripe. Glazier eluded two tacklers and carried the ball the rest of the distance for the Savage tally.

As the first half ended Western had driven to the Eastern 9-yard line before stalling. Norm Hash and Art Svidran gained most of the yardage with a pass from Tom Taylor to Svidran topping the drive.

In the fourth quarter Western's watchcharm defensive backs took the field offensively and staged a drive that carried to the Eastern 22-yard marker. Three passes from Rugus Winters to Roy Richardson gained 36 yards. Two running plays by Richardson picked up 12 yards. Then, with the clock running out, the Savage offensive took the field and kept possession of the ball until the final gun.

Winters, Viking defensive back, picked up 56 yards in punt returns on the muddy field.

Final score was Eastern Washington college 6, Western Washington college 0.

Macmen Drill for First Tilt Against Seattle U. Next Week

Coach Bill McDonald is making defense the keynote of his drills as he prepares the Western Washington hoop squad for the opening game next Saturday against the Seattle University Chieftains in Seattle.

The Vikings lost stalwarts Tom Green and Jerry Starr through graduation but still have eight returning lettermen to bolster the squad. Members of last year's junior varsity team along with several promising newcomers will also see action.

Coach McDonald has not announced a starting lineup yet and all squad members are engaged in a battle for first-string positions. Defense will be the Viking trouble spot this year so McDonald is giving all newcomers a thorough glance in the hope that he will discover players who will strengthen this department.

Lettermen Dick Ravenhorst, Ray Scott, Stan Peterson, Hal Norgaard, Jeff Russell, Jack Anderson, Bob Woodman and Gayle Whitsell are leading in the battle for starting jobs. Larry Stephan, a returnee from the '48 squad, has shown improvement but still needs work on defense.

CHIEFS LOOK GOOD

Western faces a real test in the opening game with Seattle university. Despite the loss of Norm Willis and Earl Spangler, who have been mainstays for the last three seasons, Coach Al Brightman will have one of the top independent teams in the Northwest this year.

The fabulous O'Brien twins, Ed and John, are expected to take over the guard posts for the Chieftains. The twins racked up 800 points between them last season as they paced Seattle's frosh team.

Teaming with the O'Brien boys in the starting lineup will be veterans Bill Higlin, Elmer Speidel and Bob Hedequist. Les Whittles, a transfer from the University of Washington, adds strength to the Chieftain's strong second line.

Hermie's "Inn"

University of Nebraska
Lincoln, Nebraska

In Lincoln, Nebraska, a favorite gathering spot of students at the University of Nebraska is Hermie's "Inn" because it is a cheerful place—full of friendly university atmosphere. And when the gang gathers around, ice-cold Coca-Cola gets the call. For here, as in university haunts everywhere—Coke belongs.

McClellan Racks Up Big Score

Intramural basketball and bowling teams passed the mid-term mark this week with all races still close. The Potters quintet of the "A" league is the only undefeated team in intramural competition.

Jack McClellan of the Hawnyaks made big news in basketball this week when he rang up a phenomenal total of 41 points in pacing his teammates to a 72-32 victory over Alki Lodge. McClellan's feat is magnified by the fact that intramural games are only 30 minutes in length compared with the regulation 40-minute game. Intramural director Sam Carver believes this to be a record total.

Potters are pacing the "A" league with a 6-0 record. Tigers and Hawnyaks are tied for the lead in the "B" league. Hospice B and Quirks are knotted for the first place in the "C" league.

The Spares maintained their lead in the 20th Century bowling league by downing the Hawnyaks 2 to 1. Hospice A was upset by Alpine Court 2 to 1. Mathes took two out of three from the Collegian and the Independents outrolled Hospice B 2 to 1.

The Spares rolled the high team total with a score of 1523. Bob Trowse rolled a 184 to edge his teammate Ron Stearns for high individual game. Stearns had a 183.

Local Mentor's Straight Line Theory Spread

Football Lappenbusch style has received nation wide publicity via the leased wires of the Associated Press, located in over 1,000 communities in the United States.

Jack Hewins, AP sports chief on the Pacific slopes wrote an extensive story on Coach Chuck Lappenbusch's straight line defense two weeks ago. The story has been picked up by newspapers from the Canadian border to the tidewaters of Virginia.

The first letter Lappenbusch received about the story on football "Western style" was from a doctor in Hot Springs, Arkansas. The doctor inquired about "indifferential" football.

1938's unbeaten squad hashed the Hewins' article and the straight line defense over at a get-together in Daniels hall after the Savage-Viking tilt last weekend. The general consensus of opinion was that while everyone was confident of his own position, he always worried about the other fellow. They all agreed that the story was an accurate appraisal of the Lappenbusch method.

League Standings Revised in Crucial Games Last Week

Two upsets were scored in Evergreen conference play last weekend. Eastern came nearer to their third straight title by defeating previously unbeaten Western, 6-0. Whitworth's Pirates won their second game of the season by beating Central 19-14 to hand the Wildcats their third loss in four games.

In non-league games the powerful Fort Lewis Warriors smeared hapless St. Martins 52-0. A strong Montana team from the Pacific Coast conference handed College of Puget Sound its third straight loss by humbling the Loggers 35-7. North Idaho eased past the University of British Columbia 33-18 for the Thunderbirds fifth straight loss in as many games.

Pacific Lutheran college exploded over Pacific University 19-0. Pacific was the only team to beat Western before the Eastern loss. Meanwhile, Lewis and Clark college of Portland remained the only unbeaten team in the Northwest by running over Whitman for its seventh win of the year.

Player Of The Week

ARTIS LARSSON—Player of the week. The big "Swede" from Anacortes played superior ball at the middle of the big "D" line Saturday. He was seen charging through the Savage line, and dropped many of the backs for long losses.

Lars had another job to do this week also. Merle Michelson, hard-charging EWC fullback, who had gained 888 yards in play this season, was noted for hitting the middle of opposition lines, but he was held to a small total of 19 yards in 16 attempts, about one yard per try.

Swede stands 6 feet, 2 inches in height, and weighs 230 pounds. Some of the players contribute the success of big 96 in the Homecoming game to the double crowning of Queen Sigrid XIII, which was Swede's duty last week-end.

BIG DAY FOR THE FANS

Next Friday will be a big day for the Western rooters. In the afternoon, the Blue and White football squad will play its last Evergreen conference game of the year against the St. Martin's Rangers. The game site hasn't been decided as yet, but it will be either Fort Lewis or Olympia.

If a fan hurries from there after the game, catching a hamburger on the way, he will be able to cheer for the 1950-51 edition of the Viking basketball team in Seattle the same evening. The basketballers open their play at the Seattle University gym. Watch next week's paper for more information and be sure to save the date.

Dr. Lapp is losing one of his best players this week, as Uncle Sam's Navy has called Norm Richardson back to active duty. Last Saturday was his last game for the Viks, for a while. Norm will be missed on the "D" squad especially where he played with speed and agility.

Norm is only a freshman, and will be welcomed with open arms when he returns.

HOMECOMING TROUBLE

Western's wasn't the only homecoming to be dampened by a defeat. Among others, the U. of W. had the same trouble. Both of these games had a similar ring. Both teams were rated as slight favorites but neither could quite gather the power to top the big boys.

Those who said at the start of the season that Eastern was the favorite knew what they were talking about. Of course many also had CPS up there, with Western rated a "dark horse." Unless there is an upset pulled by St. Martin's next week, the Viks still have a chance to take the title, IF the Central Wildcats can dump Eastern. If the Viks and Savages both win, the Blue and White will take second spot.

Forensic Club Travels to CPS

Western's debaters, members of the Forensic club, are participating in a pre-season tournament with other Pacific Coast colleges at the College of Puget Sound, today and Saturday.

This year a women's team will be entered by the Forensic club in the tournament along with the various male debate teams. Jeannine King and Katherine Niemela compose the feminine team, according to Sene Carlile, adviser.

On the men's teams will be Roy Carson, Larry Fosmo, Glen Carson, Creigh Campbell, Jim Bemis, Paul Herbold, Dick Grimes, and Ernie Benner. Les Johnson will go as a judge.

Individual events will also be entered in extemporaneous and impromptu speaking, panel discussion, experimental speaking, and oratory.

19 Girls on List For Hockey Meet In Vancouver, B. C.

Nineteen Western girls are on the tentative list of team members for the trip to the hockey conference in Vancouver, November 17-19, Miss Margaret Aitken, Physical Education department and team adviser, announced this week.

Team members will leave Friday, November 17, staying at the Vancouver Colonial motel, and returning Sunday, November 19. Other teams in the conference include BC Varsity, Evergreens, Washington Purples, WSC, College of Idaho, Skyliners, Clark College, CPS, Boise Junior, Cascades, Chintimini, Vancouver No. 1, Vancouver No. 2, Champeog, Forest Grove, Portland, Washington Golds, and Idaho Vandals.

WWC has three games scheduled, the first at 9:00 a. m. Saturday with Clark college. The other two games are with the Idaho Vandals at 12:30 p. m. Saturday, and with Boise Junior college at 9:00 a. m. Sunday.

Friday evening team members register at the motel and get their final game schedules. In between the morning and afternoon games on Saturday there will be a workshop on the position of the goalie with Shirley Kroeger, College of Idaho, presiding. Following Saturday's games, team members will attend student discussion groups and a planning council meeting at the University of British Columbia.

In the evening, the girls may attend the banquet at Brock Memorial building, UBC, and the dance mixer in the Brock lounge. Teams have a chance at the banquet to present a skit, song, or similar entertainment.

Students who will make the trip include:

EDUCATION PROFS SPEAKS

Dr. Irwin A. Hammer, Dr. Merle Kuder, Dr. Alan Ross and Dr. Raymond Hawk traced the development of WWC from 1899 to date before the Kiwanis club members at a luncheon in the Bellingham Hotel last Tuesday.

THE MARQUIS CHOSEN AS NAME

The Marquis—The old mule train has finally come through with the long awaited news from 512 N. Garden street, the latest addition to men's residences. The home will be referred to as The Marquis (pronounced Mar'kee).

There are twelve boys in the house. At the first house meeting Charles Beardslee was elected president with Bob Porter as his assistant.

Bob Porter, a shutter-bug fiend, has begun plans for taking pictures of all the members in the house, which will be on a wallet-size card with a picture of the house in the middle. These cards will be carried by all Marquis members.

Earl Cash has been made official manager for Carl Linde, who is running on Western's cross-country squad. Others turning out for school athletics are Bob Porter, skiing; and Jack Anderson, basketball.

MRH OPEN HOUSE SUCCESS

MRH—Open house was a huge success with an estimated crowd of 200 people, including many grads, being sown through the house.

MRH is planning another fireside for tomorrow evening. There are special plans being made and everyone attending is sure to have a good time.

Congratulations to all freshmen from the hall for the fine job they did of defending the bonfire.

The boys of MRH wish to congratulate Ed Lapsley and Roy Williamson for doing such a fine job on the Homecoming skit and display.

The favorite topic at MRH lately has been food. Any suggestions or comments pertaining to this topic are welcomed. (Editor's note: You asked for it men. See cartoon on this page.)

GIRLS LOOKING FOR CAMPAIGN MANAGERS

Bev Dustin, Leila Brown, and Gerry Berg, who passed the primary elections for Board of Control, are now looking for campaign managers.

Edens Hall—All the girls who worked so hard on the skit deserved a party, and they had just that Tuesday night in the Blue room. After a social time the girls were served Spudnuts by skit chairman Peg Straus.

Bev Mandery got back from the infirmary a few days ago but now Jeannette Baylor is there.

The volleyball team of south corridor tasted the sweet fruit of victory Wednesday, November 1, when they beat Kluane in two out of three games.

AMBER'S BOYS WIN CUP

Daniels Hall—Amber's boys came through to win the Homecoming display for the third straight year and gain permanent possession of the cup. People from all over Bellingham and out-of-town came up High street to view the prominent display of the Western style theme. The display showed a stagecoach filled with Vikings on their way to the "college on the hill" and Vic the Vike, decked out in a cowboy outfit and riding a horse chasing three Savages away. The idea and drawings were worked on by Bob Ellington, Ken Blakely, Ed Angevine, and were ably assisted by Dick McKole, Dick Peterson, Kenny Crow, Ed Owens, Dick Brozovich, Dale Hevley while the rest of the household pitched in as well.

Homecoming always means a big get-together for alumni of the past who have resided at Daniels hall or who have been associated with athletics at Western. This year was no exception. Approximately 150 people attended the open house and smorgasbord after the game last Saturday night. On Sunday, Parents' day, the boys brought their families in to see their second home and meet the boys' adopted mother, Amber. That night to finish off the festivities the boys brought their dates over for a fire-side where the couples dined and danced until 10:30.

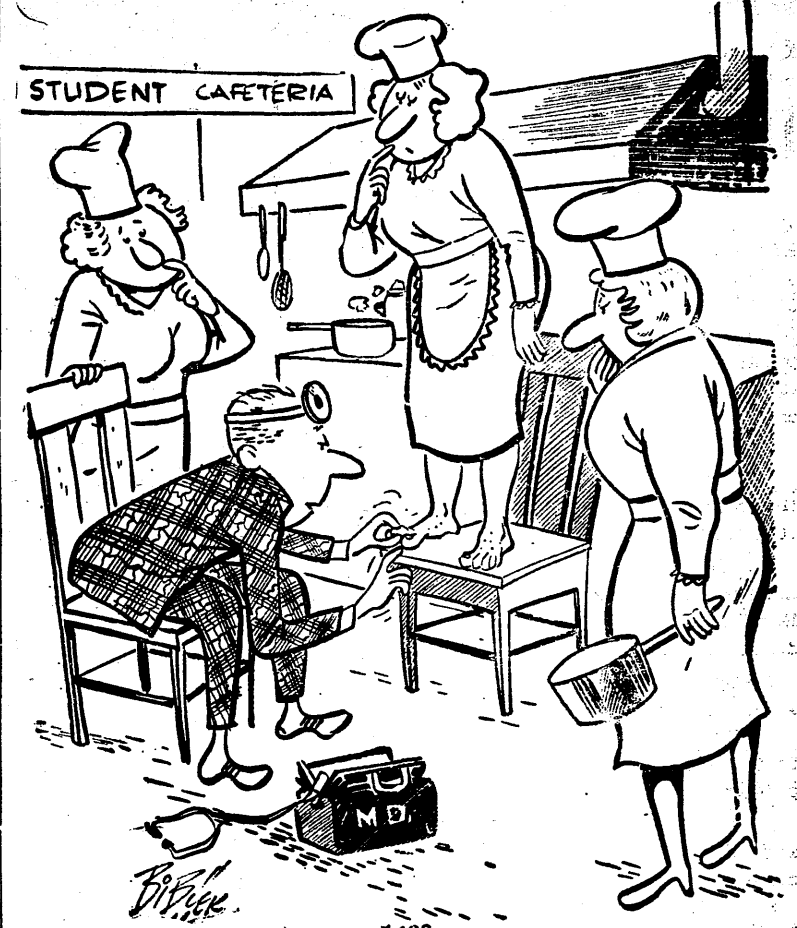

MATHES HAS NICK NAMES

Mathes House—Alfred Lunde, from Mathes House, and Richard Hawk conducted "The Lollypop Aria," the winning Homecoming skit. Alfred and Richard produced the skit for the music club.

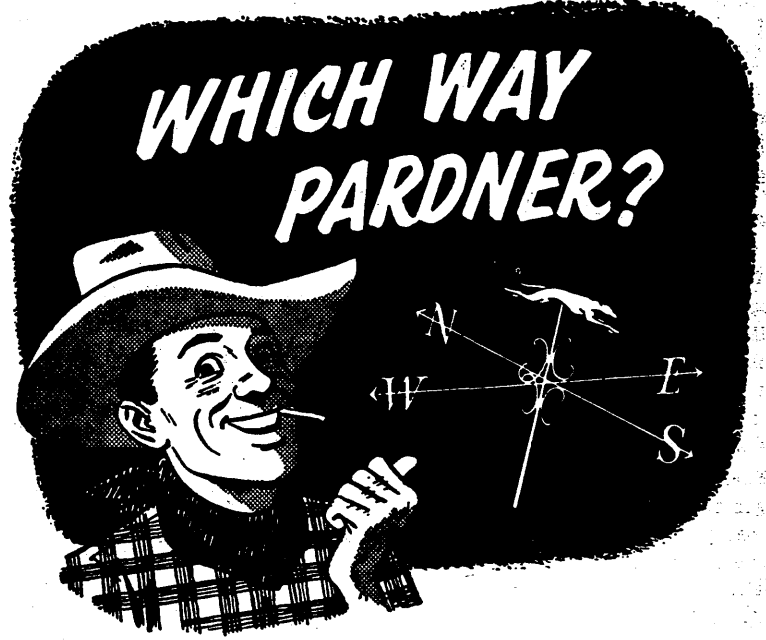

Harvey "Buck" Burger was the artist of the Homecoming decorations. Buck has been diligently working in the field of art. He has printed name plates which are at the entrance of each room of the house.

Seal Contest Sponsored By Shutterbugs

The Campus Shutterbugs are sponsoring a contest open to the entire student body and faculty to obtain a suitable seal for the use of the Camera club. The seals are to be placed on the back of the salon prints that travel from Camera club to Camera club throughout the state of Washington.

Contest rules are as follows:

1. The contest is open to the entire student body and faculty, except members of the Camera club.
2. Ideas should be submitted by noon on November 22, in David MacDonald's box located in the President's office.
3. Symbols must be submitted on a sheet of 8 x 10 paper.
4. Symbols must be original and based on a theme pertaining to photography.
5. The symbol can be in black and white, but should not contain more than two colors.
6. A person may submit as many entries as he chooses.
7. Name, address, and telephone number should be placed on the back of the paper submitted.
8. The winner will receive a free 8 x 10 portrait of him or herself, or his favorite negative will be enlarged to 8 x 10.
9. Symbols will be judged by the members of the Camera club.

YRC Meets Tuesday

The second official meeting of the Young Republican Collegiate group will be Tuesday, November 14, in room 209 at 7:30 p. m. A draft of the constitution has been written and will be presented to members for approval at the meeting.

President Chuck (Digger) Odell urges that anyone who is interested in becoming a member of this group come to the meeting. "This is your chance to voice your opinion politically and to learn just how political education plays a major role in our schools today," Odell declared.

Speakers and debates are being arranged and will be announced at a later date.

MILLER PUBLISHES BOOK

Neal E. Miller, son of Dr. Irving Miller, WWC professor emeritus, has published a book on "Personality and Psychotherapy" written in collaboration with Professor John Dollard of Yale.

Dr. Miller attended the Campus school, Bellingham high, and studied for one year at WWC in 1926. He received the B. A. degree from the University of Washington and a master's degree in psychology from Stanford.

Dr. Miller holds the position of research professor in psychology at the Institute of Human Relations of Yale University.

COME AND GET IT—Amber Daniels, genial Homecoming hostess, serving turkey at her annual smorgasbord Saturday evening. Many of WWC's famous athletes, past and present, attended. Being served are George Yonlick and Bob Niegeman, '50; Fritz Chorvat, '39; Al Weber, '50; Bob Tisdale, '39; and Morrie Forte, '36.

Hansen Engaged

Miss Carolyn Hansen's engagement to Brad Bishop was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar W. Hansen of East Stanwood. Mr. Bishop is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bishop of Sumas. Miss Hansen is a former junior member of Valkyrie and former yell leader. No date has been set for the wedding.

Colhecons Attend CPS Conference

Five WWC Colhecons left yesterday to attend a four-state home economics conference at the College of Puget Sound, which lasts through Saturday. Claretta Erdman, Joy Hoff, Maureen Johnson, Lora Lee Soude, and Joan Young are those attending from Western.

Delegates are attending from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and western Montana. Conference activities start today with a regular business meeting.

Friday evening and Saturday will feature reports from state and national Colhecon officers, outside speakers, and demonstrators.

METHODIST CONFERENCE TO BE IN PROSSER

Prosser, Washington will be the scene of a college Methodist conference this weekend. College students from all over the state of Washington have been chosen to represent their respective schools. Those attending from Western are: Ruth Rahlgrn, JoAnn Ludens, Martin Chandler, and Nona Cochran. They will be accompanied by a local Methodist minister.

Skiers Take First Trip to Mt. Baker

Skiers will take their first official ski trip of the season tomorrow to Mount Baker to begin the round of winter sports available at WWC. A bus will leave the parking lot at 7:30 a. m. Students will be charged a fee of $1 to cover expenses of transportation.

At last report, there were three feet of snow at Baker lodge, with deeper measurements on the higher slopes. Those who skied last Sunday said the skiing was excellent.

Austin pass tow will be operating and the warming hut and Heather Inn will be open. Those desiring ski insurance may sign for it in the Co-op.

Trips will be made to the mountain every Saturday as long as weather conditions are good for skiing.

Successful Parents' Day Held--O'Neil

Three hundred parents attended the annual Parent's day held Sunday, November 5, on Western's campus.

The parents were given an opportunity to meet the students' counselors in the library. Later in the afternoon, a program consisting of music by the choir and a talk by President W. W. Haggard was held in the reading room.

Following a campus tour conducted by the students, a tea and reception was held in the Blue room at Edens hall, climaxing a successful Parent's day, according to William O'Neil, assistant registrar.

"Platter Party" Theme for Mixer Tonight

Seniors will offer a novel theme in the line of mixers tonight in the junior high gym when they introduce Western to a "Platter Party."

Instead of providing music of a local band, George Keplinger, general chairman of the affair, reports that the dancers will have access to some of the "best bands in the land" via recordings.

According to Keplinger, a list of records will be distributed to all dancers and requests and dedications will be played from a disc-jockey's booth situated at one end of the gym. Free refreshments will be available.

BLUE TRIANGLE SPONSORS SUPPER HONORING LAWYER

Blue Triangle sponsored a buffet supper at the Bellingham YWCA, Wednesday night, November 8, to honor Mrs. Gladys C. Lawther, regional secretary of the YWCA.

Officers for the organization this year are Virginia Williamson, president; Audrey Aarstad, secretary-treasurer. Faculty advisers are Miss Edna Channer and Miss Enid Karsten.

Liberals To Form ADA Here

The Whatcom County Chapter of Americans for Democratic Action, (A.D.A.), is slated to be re-organized according to word received from Paul Gillie, Walter Goetz, and George Dowd, committee members working for the establishment of the liberal organization.

"ADA is neither a political party nor part of any political party," declared Gillie. "It was founded as an independent progressive political organization opposed to all forms of totalitarianism, including communism."

"Students, faculty members, businessmen, labor leaders, and citizens form the nucleus of America's non-communist liberal group," stated Dowd. "Liberals should be loosely organized in order to exert the influence necessary to promote the liberal philosophy."

ADA will be organized on a permanent basis. Outstanding members include: Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., Reinhold Niebuhr, Adolph A. Berle, Senator Hubert Humphrey, Helen Gahagan Douglas, Senator Herbert Lehman, Walter Reuther, and Hugh B. Mitchell.

Any student interested in learning more about ADA's program may contact any member of the committee. An organizational meeting will be called soon.

Keep It Beautiful!

By LEX MILTON
Board of Control

Most of us, who attend Western every day, either take OUR CAMPUS for granted or are in too much of a rush to appreciate the fine trees and abundant lawns. But chances are we were impressed at least once, on our entering day, by their beauty as are most visitors and newcomers. Perhaps students should devote a little time each week admiring the handy work of nature and the caretakers. If they did, they no doubt will show more care in their treatment of the grounds.

That YOUR CAMPUS did not always look as it does today is shown by many early pictures of the "Bellingham Normal" grounds. It has grown to its present splendor only because of the interest shown by many people and, if it is to remain so, we must display a similar if not greater appreciation.

The two greatest factors contributing to the defacement of our campus are students who walk on the lawns and those who drop papers or wrappers. If each one of us would take it upon himself to act as a personal custodian of the grounds we might then take a justifiable pride in our campus. Remember to help KEEP YOUR CAMPUS BEAUTIFUL!

Blue Notes by the

Roaming around the music department I see:

The band has marched many miles again this year, but not as much of it for the public as had been hoped, rain having put the damper on much of the hard work.

In the civic choir we find many college students and faculty members blending together at 7:30 every Tuesday, including Marianne Oakes, Donna Steenson, John Anglin, Wes Bailey, Dolaine Nelson, Ray Snively, Ted Whalstrom, Miss Enid Karsten, Mrs. Ray Schwalm, and Robert Peach.

The Music club is off to a fine start with Al Lunde and Dick Hawk winning the blue ribbon for the Homecoming skit. Bob Boko deserves a pat on the back for scrounging up that watering trough that helped to make a "real Western" homecoming.

Those who attended the Navy band concert in Everett all agreed that it was nothing short of terrific.

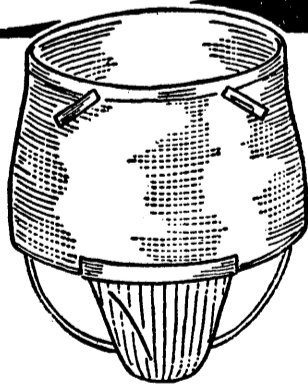

Saw Bruce Gillet slaving away building a symphony orchestra out of pipe cleaners for the campus school kiddies. That's a new twist if I ever heard of one.

Bob Brown played for the alumni luncheon last Saturday favoring the group with several Western tunes, among them the "Tall in the Saddle" aria from "I've Got So Many Blisters That I'm." This popular horse opera was written by Hopalong von Wolfgang who was inspired by the ride of Lady Godiva while on a visit to England earlier in history.

Klipsun Wins High Rating

For the tenth time, the Klipsun WWC yearbook, has won an excellent or first class honor rating from the Associated Collegiate press in nationwide competition among colleges with a comparable enrollment.

The judges especially commended the eight colored pages, the copy on student activities, and the printing of the book.

Bob Safsten, who was editor-in-chief of the Klipsun last year is presently in Salt Lake City preparing to do missionary work in Sweden. Nancy Merrick, business manager, graduated from WWC in June. Joyce Gillie, assistant editor last year, is editor-in-chief of the 1951 Klipsun.

IRC To Attend Conference

Plans have been completed by the International Relations club for a delegation to attend the annual IRC conference at the College of Puget Sound, November 17 and 18. Speakers on various conference panels will be: Keith Stearns, "Human Rights"; George Dowd, "Arming the Western Nations"; and Lyle Daniels, "Recognition of Communist China." Other delegates include Oscar Olson, Jim Smith, and Miss Nora Cummins, club adviser.

Asia Expert Speaks On Korean War

Speaking before a joint student-faculty audience last Wednesday, Dr. George Williston, professor of the Far Eastern Affairs department of the University of Washington, recited the historical background of the present Korean war.

Professor Williston was in South Korea in 1946. He pointed out historical factors of Oriental psychology which he felt were clues to the present attitude of the Asiatic peoples.

Dr. Williston received his graduate work at the University of Chicago and taught at the College of Puget Sound prior to joining the University of Washington faculty.
