

Traditional Battle Out; Queen to Light Fire

Safety will be the by-word at the Homecoming bonfire, reports Gloria Gaupp, cheer leader and member of the pep committee. She explained that due to injuries and near catastrophes resulting from past freshman-sophomore battles over the bonfire, the old tradition has been done away with. The Homecoming Queen will light the fire during a regular ceremony instead.

Another point against the traditional battle, according to Gaupp, is that many times the sophomores have been able to light the fire long before the Queen arrived. Consequently, the fire would be nearly out before the ceremonies could begin, and attendance at the bonfire dwindled. The materials for the fire will be carried in trucks in the parade which leaves the A-M building at approximately 7 p. m., Homecoming eve.

SIGNS FURNISHED

Signs for cars joining in the parade will be provided by the pep committee, but persons planning to take part are asked to decorate their cars, and make pom-poms to add to the festive atmosphere.

The order of the parade has not yet been decided, but besides the cars and floats, it will include the Valkyrie girls, the band and majorettes, yell and song leaders, the Queen and her court, and Coach Lappenbusch and the football captains. Gaupp reports that the yell leaders will have some new yells to try out.

BUSES AVAILABLE

The pep committee is also trying to get buses to bring students back to campus from the pep rally at Cornwall and Holly after the parade so that they may attend the bonfire festivities.

Profile on Sale Next Tuesday

This year's Profile will be on sale Tuesday, October 28, announced Editor Clint Doherty. The price will be 35 cents per copy.

Phone numbers, home towns, local addresses and marital status of the students, faculty, and administrative personnel will appear within its pages.

Other events will include a campus tour and a coffee hour in the Art building.

Service Tests To be Given

Selective Service College Qualification tests will be given Thursday, December 4, according to William O'Neil, assistant registrar. Students must make application for the test before Saturday, November 1. These applications may be made at the local Selective Service board in the Clover building even though the student is registered at another board.

Mr. O'Neil urges all eligible students to take the examination. He lists three points of qualification that the student must fulfill before taking the test. They are the following: the student must not have taken the test previously; he must be a Selective Service registrant; and he must be a full time student.

Million Dollar Job For One Dollar

For one dollar have your car washed and cleaned this afternoon and Saturday, by the Rheba D's. Drive it to the hard top play area, by the IA building. Your name will be taken and the time that your car will be finished will be set.

The project is being conducted to raise money for sending a student delegate to the district convention of health, physical education, and recreation in Missoula, Montana.

Four Positions for Board of Control Open, Roberts Says

Four positions on the Board of Control are open, announced Nancy Roberts, election chairman. The positions run for a one year period beginning winter quarter and are open to men or women who have a 2.3 grade point, and have attended Western for at least two quarters.

Persons interested in those offices can obtain application blanks at the student center, room 114. Blanks must be returned to the office by October 29.

Positions Open on Board of Control

Phyllis Skinner, AWS president, asked the Board of Control Wednesday night for funds to send delegates to a four state AWS conference at WSC November 7 through 9. The Board granted traveling expenses and some food expense money.

Appointed by Mark Hardie, ASB president, and approved by the Board to take Pinky Bennett's place as four quarter man was Don Wallace. He will take over his position at the next meeting.

Indian Artifacts Unearthed

Students from Western's Anthropology classes excavated an old Indian village site at Lopez Island last week-end. They unearthed Indian artifacts and old pieces of animal bones.

The group opened an Indian "trench" and found it rock-lined, but they could not determine its use. They found a similar "trench" on the other side of the island. Approximately 765 cubic feet of earth was moved from two trenches, and several bone needles, scrapers, one piece of human bone, and around 150 pieces of animal bones were found.

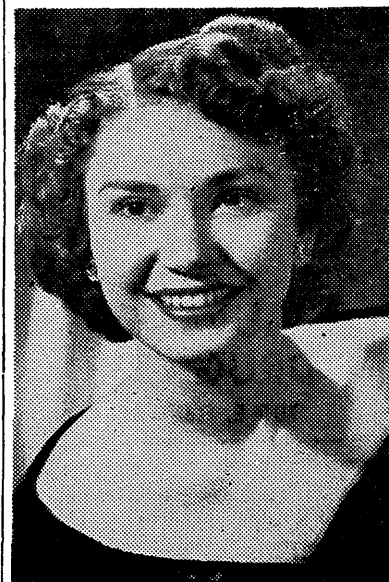

Rough dates which could be calculated from the evidence was that the village site had been occupied for several centuries by Northwest coast Indians, and that the occupation had ended before 1700. Also found was a bone of a very large animal, which, according to Dr. Herbert Taylor, social science department, merits further study.

Anthropologists who were with the group and Dr. and Mrs. Taylor, were Dr. and Mrs. Carol Riley of the United States Department of Justice.

Mixer Theme Is 'Syncopation'

Tonight at 8:30 p. m. is the time set for the mixer sponsored by the Arion club, says Ken Tinkham, general chairman. The Recreation hall will be jumping to the music of the Jazz Trio, featuring Bob Casto, Ron Simpson, and Burke Hatfield. The theme of the mixer is "Syncopation."

Ross Sings at Ball

SONGSTRESS—Carol Ross, vocalist with the Ray Stark band, will sing at the Homecoming Queen's ball at 9 p. m., Saturday, November 1, at the Bellingham Armory. She has been with the band since it started, appearing in such places as the Last Frontier Hotel in Las Vegas, and the Town and Country club in Seattle.

Sigrig XV To Rule Festivities

Candidates for the 1952 Homecoming queen, to be designated Queen Sigrig XV, were nominated at class meetings this morning. Queen Sigrig and her court will reign over the activities and events of the 28th annual Homecoming.

The nominees will be presented to the students at an assembly at 10 a. m., Tuesday, October 28, in the A-M building. Voting for the candidates will start soon after the assembly.

Friday, October 31, Homecoming events get under way with the Queen's coronation assembly at 10 a. m. Judging of house and window display goes on during the afternoon.

The Friday evening events start at 7 p. m. with the pep rally, parade, and bonfire. Following the bonfire, the "Comic Time" Homecoming skits will be presented in the auditorium.

Al Mendenhall's orchestra will furnish the music for the Homecoming mixer from 10:15 p. m. to 12:30 a. m. to the theme of "Tribal War Dance."

The final affair of the 1952 Homecoming, the Queen's Ball, will start at 9 p. m., Saturday, November 31, to the music of Roy Stark's band. There will be "music fit for a queen," according to Rita Goldade, co-chairman of the Homecoming committee. The dance will be held at the Bellingham armory.

X-Rays Given November 4

Free chest X-rays will be given to all students and faculty from November 4 through November 7. The X-ray unit will be located on the main parking area south of the main building.

Classes will not be dismissed for the x-rays; the entire process is up to the students. The X-ray takes only one-half minute. All student teachers are required to have one.

Students are asked to have their X-rays early because the last day will be used for contact cases. This will be the only appearance of the unit in this area for some time.

WWC Fire and Ice Girls?

By JIM SIMON

How many girls in college have a foolproof formula for melting a male?

The experts who set the feminine mood in beauty and fashion are launching a new American prototype. She's the FIRE AND ICE GIRL. These experts decided that while American girls have always had fire and ice attributes, they have been letting the European belle usurp the title as the glamour girls of the world.

It's time for a change, they've decreed, and the Fire and Ice Girl is the result. You'll know her by her lush-look and make-up, her siren-like Homecoming dress, her "skating on thin ice" hairdo and her frost and flame glamour.

You can put the sugar-and-spice sweet thing in permanent moth balls. Make way for the vivid successor—The FIRE AND ICE GIRL.

Blondes, brunettes and titians can have Fire and Ice. For this girl can be tempting in tweeds or tantalizing in taffeta, she can be siren and gamin, dynamic and demure. You men will find her delightfully baffling sometimes, but you will have to admit that she is the most exciting girl in the world.

You can't miss this new transformation and you won't be able to ignore it.

You may squirm! you may rebel; only don't be an ostrich with a non-committal attitude. Who ever believed that women ever made themselves attractive for any other reason that to win the admiration of men.

WWC MEN: In cooperation with a nation-wide poll will you answer the question on a blank sheet of paper and place in the Collegian Box in Room 116 addressed to the Feature Editor, WWCollegian.

1. What qualities in your opinion make the Fire and Ice Girls?
2. Do the girls who are dated most often have Fire and Ice personalities?
3. Do you prefer the Fire and Ice type?
4. Would you marry a Fire and Ice Girl?
5. Do you think Fire and Ice personalities help girls careers?
6. Do you try to date Fire and Ice Girls for the big special events?
7. Name a few of the fair sex who epitomize Fire and Ice.

Dissension is Cause of War—Bolles

Attributing the causes of the Korean war to disagreement and dissension among the United States congress, presidency, state department, and military, Blair Bolles, political analyst from Washington, D. C., presented the third program in the fall quarter Artists and Lecture series Tuesday.

Mr. Bolles stated that the roots of the present fighting in Korea go back as far as 1945. The military mission in Korea called Syngman Rhee from Washington at that time to help set up a government for South Korea, causing disagreement between them and the state department. He went on to point out other instances of appeasement and disagreement that led to the present situation.

Bolles advised voters to be careful in their choice at election time, and to advise their representatives of their opinions between elections.

Procrastination

By WIL KNUTSEN

"Don't put off 'til tomorrow, sir,

What you can do today."

Those wise words pricked my conscience,

Procrastinating yesterday.

But still I sat serenely watching TV here at school

And my books lay in my dorm room,

New, unused, still cool.

I could not let my inner self

Disrupt my recreation;

I cried out to my conscience thus:

"Hands off my education."

I'll do my work this very day—

Dispel your gloomy fear!

I know tomorrow never comes,

Today is always here."

I may not study 'til next week

But still 'twill be "today."

"Let it slide, just pass the buck,"

That's what I always say.

But all this happened yesterday;

Today my tests came 'round,

Procrastination does not work

The plan just isn't sound.

And as I struggle o'er the tests

I knew that I was "sunk."

Procrastination reminds me of

A fellow, good and drunk.

You feel fine, no worries or cares

Roomfuls of smoke and laughter

But think of how you'll feel upon

The dreadful morning after.

Editorially Speaking:

Want To Be a Teacher?

So you want to be a secondary school teacher? So you want to have part in the shaping of habits, interests, intellects of future generations? So you haven't taken any education courses yet, but you're sure you can do the most to realize your aims by teaching in the secondary schools?

Then before you become too decided that that level is where you are SURE you want to teach, take a look at what most psychologists and educators who have been in the field a long time have to say: Reading habits, attitudes toward learning, attitudes toward other persons, adjustment to life in general, and other patterns of behavior have their CRUCIAL BEGINNING in the primary grades or SOONER. The hardest and most challenging job is to start a student in anything new. It is much easier to take up where someone left off, whether it be in remedial work or a continuation of the correct process of growth in learning.

Did you know that the United States will need 160,000 NEW elementary school teachers? And that only 32,000 will be graduated from all the colleges, teachers colleges, and universities of the nation? Did you know that only 48,000 secondary openings will be available this year and there will be 62,000 new high school teachers anxious to take those jobs?

Statistics show that the elementary grades need YOU and need you NOW!

Pirates Edge WWC By Score of 20-14

Playing at Spokane last Saturday, Western lost a bitterly fought football game to Whitworth, 20-14, in a game that might just as well have been won by Western.

Western chose the end of the field with the sun at their back thinking it would help, but the break of events seemed to be against the Vikings. Holding Whitworth the first time they got the ball they thought they had the advantage, but the next time Whitworth got the ball they scored on an 87 yard pass play.

Western seemed to come to life in the second quarter when they scored two hard earned touchdowns with the help of fine blocking. In the last half Whitworth's fine running backs seemed to sieve through Western's defensive line for both long and short gains, finally ending up in a Whitworth touchdown.

In the last quarter Bill Karwacki picked off a blocked field goal attempt and ran it back for a t.d. only to have the whistle blow and the play called back. After the
