Cedar Chips

By Ted

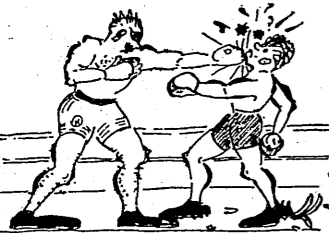

Years from now children will study and debate why Miss Edens nearly fell on the floor, convulsed, when Mr. Fisher said he always made his speeches short.

Just a Girl: "Are you a track man?" This Harold Holton: "Say, girlie, you should see the callouses on my chest from breaking tapes."

Shall This Continue?

Mr. Bever: "Oh, Miss Butler, may I hold you for a few minutes, after class?"

HARTLEY WILL GET BEIGHLE NEXT IS CLAIM

Cupid salesman and other educational leaders over the state have been swamped, the past week, with daring circulars brazenly stating that Pres. Fisher will go to the Avalon tomorrow night, instead of addressing the Alumni banquetters.

If this rumor is true, Dan Beighle is the only choice of the Society for Prohibition of Dogs from Drinking in Downtown Fountains, to make the speech.

Through our kindness and service, always the first thought of the Cedar Chips staff, we have printed Bugle's speech. You, too, can now enjoy Dan at home. Those with radios tune in at 7:30.

We're off. "Fellow men and women. I hardly know what to say (Applause) Always in bed by 10; I won't speak later than that.

"We have met here for a purpose That is—to eat. (Much laughter). I will not ask each one, he or she, to tell the joys, the loves, and the tears in his or her teaching. Am I reasonable?" (More applause and the abandoned throwing about of water glasses).

Only a taste of Dan Beighle's talk is this. The rest was banned. Isn't he just great, though?

Poor Granny Thorlakson has had insomnia lately. He woke up twice during the same class, yesterday.

If there are no napkins for the Homecoming luncheon, at intervals a fuzzy dog will pass under the tables.

VIKINGS TO ENCOUNTER BIG CHENEY GRIDDERS TOMORROW AFTERNOON

According to Former Scores, Bellingham Normal Has a Slight Edge Over Cheney Aggregation.

SEYMOUR IN CONDITION

Coaches Carver and Keeney Have Made Several Shifts in Line. Backfield Positions Doubtful.

Coach "Sam" Carver's Vikings are to meet the Cheney Savages tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, on Walde Field, in the biggest home game of the 1926 football season and the leading event of the Annual Homecoming.

The Savages lack the power shown in recent years, having won but one game this season, and that by a 13-12 score. Nevertheless they present a line-up calculated to give much opposition to the Bellingham men. They have conquered the W. S. C. Freshmen, but have dropped games to Gonzaga, Whitman, College of Idaho, and the Idaho Freshman. The mix lost to the Idaho team was by a 19-0 score, and as Ellensburg defeated that same aggregation 7-0, Cheney is not doped as the equal of either Ellensburg or Bellingham.

Coaches Carver and Keeney have been driving the men this week for this all-important Tri-Normal clash. Russ Seymour, brightest of stars, is in fine shape for the contest. His injured hand is rapidly healing. The former Ballard flash has proved by far the most consistent of the backfield men, and as a triple-threat man is expected to prove the biggest thorn in the side of the Savages.

The remainder of the back positions are still in doubt, with Odell favored over Estill at quarter and Stickney, Clarke, and Hawkings fighting for the two halfback positions.

The line has undergone many shifts, and its composition when the opening whistle blows is still in doubt. Drake and Thorsen are doped to appear in the end positions, with Shelton and Chrisman at tackle. The guards will be selected from Beighle, Hinds, Baxter, and Blizzard; the center position is doubtful, with Ed Hyde and Don Stickney about even bets to get the call. The following men will be in reserve: Backs, Hansen and C. Hyde; ends, Edmundson and Brown; tackles, Wanamaker and Iverson.

BONFIRE TO BECOME TRADITIONAL EVENT

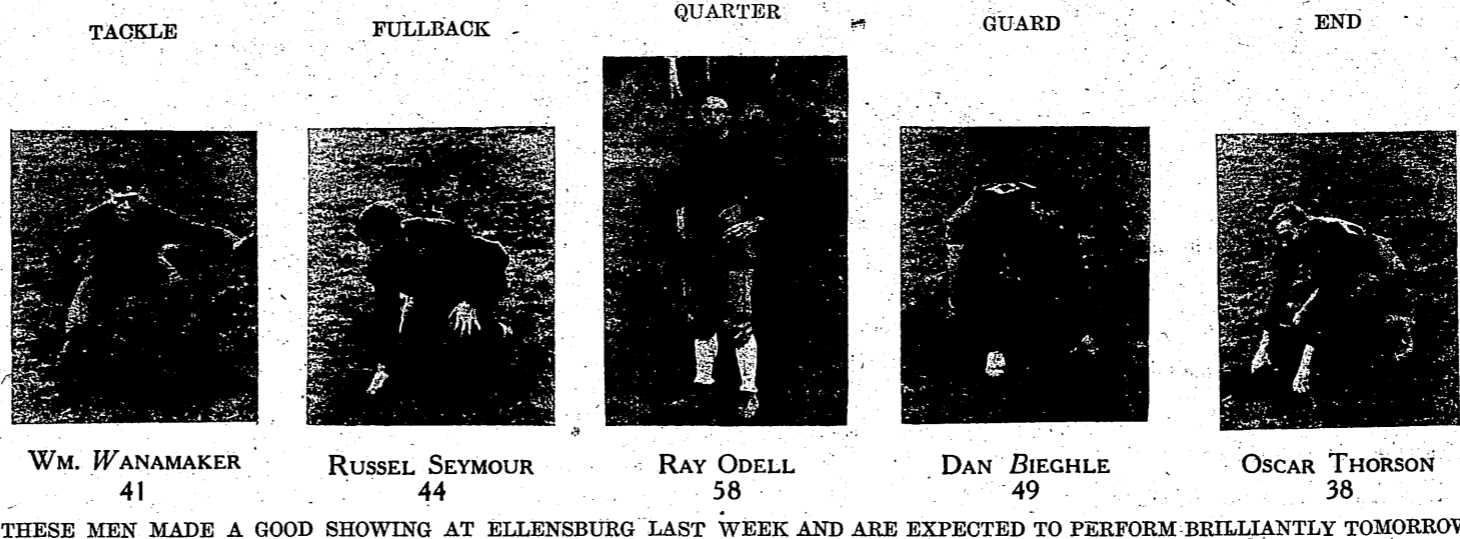

To get the students in a spirit for Homecoming, there will be a bonfire beyond Waldo Field tonight at 7:30, under the management of Henry Durr.

It is the desire of the school authorities to make the Homecoming bonfire traditional. President Fisher and Coach Carver will speak at the bonfire pep rally.

A dummy court will be held for the purpose of trying Cheney, the latter to be buried between halves, on Saturday.

Truck loads of rubbish are being hauled today from downtown to the scene of the bonfire. The trucks for this purpose have been donated for the day by the Bloedel Donovan Lumber Co., Diehl Motor Co., Smith Motor Co., and Ford's Dairy.

Everybody come to the bonfire!

THESE MEN MADE A GOOD SHOWING AT ELLENSBURG LAST WEEK AND ARE EXPECTED TO PERFORM BRILLIANTLY TOMORROW.

LEADING ENGLISH ACTOR TO APPEAR HERE IN COMEDY

George Arliss Plays in Galsworthy Drama at the American Theater Next Tuesday Evening, Nov. 9.

"OLD ENGLISH" IS PLAY

Leading Role Presents Wonderful Study in Character Acting. Play Ran Entire Season in N. Y.

Of interest to many Normal students will be the appearance of George Arliss in "Old English," at the American Theater, Tuesday evening, November 9. This play was written especially for Mr. Arliss by John Galsworthy.

Considered by London and New York critics as the foremost actor of the English theater of today, Mr. Arliss has played on the legitimate stage for the past thirty years, with occasional motion picture acting during recent years.

"Old English" is the portrayal of a "great old sinner" who had his grand fling in youth and still clutches at the straws of pleasure at eighty with spiteful arrogance. This type of the old English gentleman of some years ago is familiar to Mr. Arliss as he himself grew up in the shadow of Westminster Abbey, where these proud and independent old men would wander about, usually lingering in book shops.

Fine Character Study. Theodore Cederberg, who saw George Arliss in his present role when playing Broadway two seasons ago, states that although the plot of "Old English" is not so engrossing as is the story of "Disraeli" or "The Green Goddess," the character created by Mr. Arliss is strikingly more attractive. The presentation is as fine a study in character acting as can be afforded a student of dramatic art.

Secondary in importance is Mr. Arliss' remarkable voice, appreciated only by the luxury of hearing it once. The whole production of "Old English" with its finished company is one of complete satisfaction and enjoyment.

Normal Debaters Have Established Excellent Record

By GEORGE ALLEZ. The Bellingham State Normal has a debate record that it can well be proud of. In 1924 this school won the Allison Cup in the Tri-Normal debates with Ellensburg and Cheney. In 1925, Bellingham Normal defeated Cheney in a dual debate on the question of National Fraternities. The Colorado College, while on a tour debating the Child Labor question, met its first and only defeat at the hands of the Bellingham Normal team. The woman's team of the Normal lost to the woman's team of the Pacific College of California.

Besides the two teams which are chosen every year to represent the school, club debate teams are chosen for the inter-club debates. These are a series of debates between the clubs of the school. An independent team is also chosen from students who do not belong to clubs but who are interested in these debates. Notices for try-outs for club teams are already posted on the bulletin boards. Each club is urged to feel the responsibility of choosing the best team possible to represent it.

There is among the student body this year an abundance of good debate material. Besides the second year debaters who are back, the records show that there are many entering students in the school who have participated in high school de-

LECTURE ON ALASKA GIVEN BY BALDWIN

Stereoptican Views of Country are Feature of Talk. Alaska is Shown as It Really Exists.

Ass. C. Baldwin demonstrated very emphatically Wednesday evening that Alaska is vast, unexplored, sparsely settled, abounding in natural resources and intensely interesting. An introductory talk covering the history of Alaska was followed by a stereoptican lecture. The rendition of "The Spell of the Yukon," was made very emphatic by the use of slides. Mr. Baldwin's lecture was interesting and highly instructive with occasional spasms of humor.

"DEAR BRUTUS" IS VERY POPULAR WITH NORMAL PLAYGOERS

Moroni Olsen and Janet Young Are Splendidly Cast in Leading Parts, with Capable Support.

PLAY BY J. M. BARRIE

"Dear Brutus" is Fanciful Comedy of Romantic English Life, Rich in Humor and Clever Lines.

That "Dear Brutus" was one of the most interesting and effectively staged plays ever presented by the Moroni Olsen players in the Normal Auditorium was the criticism of those who saw the production of last Saturday evening. Superlatives, commonly of no value, are necessary to describe, in a measure, the success of the present vehicle employed by Mr. Olsen.

Spontaneous humor and attractive lines marked the entire play. Besides the audience quitted the hall with a satisfaction of having become acquainted with a typical work of a leading playwright. Barrie, author of "Dear Brutus," Galsworthy, and Shaw form the triumvirate of the contemporary English theater.

Players Better Cast

Moroni Olsen, grunting, carefree, and massive as ever, gave a strikingly finer and more satisfying showing of his art in "Dear Brutus" than he did in "Friend Hannah" or "The Ship." The transposition from the elderly society matron of the delicate and gay artist's daughter of the enchanted wood revealed the charm and versatility of Janet Young's vivid acting.

Byron Foulger usually stalks across the stage flaunting a sardonic grin. Since his interpretation of the poet in "Candida" Mr. Foulger has proved disappointing in his sundry parts. In "Dear Brutus" however, happily cast, the amusing though delightful verbal inflections peculiar to him were suited to the part of the philosopher.

Impossible would it be for Dorothy Adams, wife of Mr. Foulger, to play any part out of herself, thus it was best that she essayed not to do so in her present placement.

It is hoped that these players will appear again at the Normal this year. If so, their next production will be "Outward Bound."

COMPETITIVE TICKET SALE HEATED CONTEST

Campaigning between Sophomore and Freshman classes which has been going on for the last two weeks, has not been entirely for selling tickets to the luncheon, but to win a cup, that is being given to the class that sells the most luncheon tickets. The cup is to be presented to the winning class in a future assembly. If time can not be spared for this, the winner will receive the cup at a special meeting, held at the land-ling, some day next week.

THREE HUNDRED WILL RETURN FOR NORMAL'S BIGGEST HOMECOMING

Large Serpentine and Bonfire Will Mark Beginning of Homecoming Events of Today and Tomorrow.

STUNTS AT LUNCHEON

Alumni Registration to Take Place Saturday Morning for Banquet and Dance Held at Armory.

Nearly three hundred Bellingham Normal alumni are expected to return to their Alma Mater tomorrow, to help celebrate the Viking's annual homecoming week, according to statistics received from the faculty and student committee.

This evening the prelude of the annual event will take place at 6:30 in the form of a serpentine and bonfire. The serpentiners will meet in front of Edens Hall at 6:30 sharp. It has been doped out by Yell Leader Andy McCall that the course of the serpentine will be down High to Holly, thence into the business district. After the serpentine a huge bonfire, under the direct supervision of Henry Durr will be started on the hill beyond Waldo Field. A mock trial to consider the innocence of the Savages, will be staged by the Thespians. Short, snappy speeches by President Fisher, Alonzo Kibbe, and Coaches Carver and Keeney will be given.

Immediately following the registration of the Alumni at ten o'clock, Saturday, a luncheon will be served at Edens Hall and the Cafeteria. Lots of fun and pep is promised all who attend the luncheons as several clubs have rehearsed stunts. "It's high class vaudeville," says Kathryn Leach, chairman of the entertainment committee.

In the afternoon, of course, we will be entertained on Waldo Field for a couple of hours by two football eleven of high reputation. During intermission between halves of the football contest Cheney will be buried, in mock funeral rites.

In the evening, as soon as the program is over at Edens Hall, everyone who wishes will find his way to the State Armory, where a gallant "hop" will be staged. The best of music has been secured for the event, with the idea in mind to please everyone. The sooner the program is over in the hall the sooner the dance begins.

ELLA YOUNG WILL ENTERTAIN TUESDAY

Emilie Lancel, Contralto, to Present Program in Assembly on Friday, November 12.

An unusual program has been secured for the assemblies this coming week. For Tuesday, November 6, Ella Young, an Irish poet and story teller, has been secured to speak. Miss Young, who is a graduate of the Royal University of Dublin, has published several books of fairy tales and folklore and books of her own poetry, including: "Celtic Wonder Tales," "Celtic Mythology," "The Weird of Finovar" (verse) and "The Rose of Heaven" (verse).

On Friday, November 12, Emilie Lancel, well known contralto, will furnish the program. According to the Portland Oregonian, Miss Lancel is equipped to sing almost anything as she possesses an amazing versatility.

Board Trustees to Hold Annual Meeting Today

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees and of the presidents of the three state normal schools of Washington is being held at the Olympic Hotel in Seattle today. This meeting is required by the state law, and its purpose is to discuss the policies, programs and other matters in connection with the teacher training institutions. It is a means by which those in charge may work together to promote the welfare of all concerned.

Super-Varsity Game On Armistice Day To Close Grid Season

Hitting the Line WITH SULLY

Ray Christman, the big tackle, has been suffering from several reverses. Bad colds and sore eyes have hindered Christman. The big fellow has been performing marvelously this week and is sure to fill a big hole in the Viking's forward wall when they clash with the Savages tomorrow afternoon.

"Rumpy" Seymour performed brilliantly in the Ellensburg game. He out-kicked, out-played the best of 'em. The Seymour to Odell combination was a dangerous threat, and almost meant the winning of the game in the last few minutes of play. Had it not been for a conceited head-linesman, the game would have been ours.

Garner Snakes!!!

"Bill" Wanamaker and Dan Bieghle played a high class of ball last week. They deserve much credit for the impression the Vikings made. They were opening holes galore in the last quarter when the Vikings were penalized for holding and off-side.

The Vikings, although trodden underfoot by the Wildcats last Saturday, 9-13, vow vengeance on Cheney, so a triste matinee is in waiting for Eustis' pets. Coach Carver has been drilling the squad conscientiously, and as this is the only chance to keep out of the cellar, the team will give it all.

CHENEY DROPS MIX TO IDAHO U. FROSH

Savages Succumb in Face of Unexpected Opposition Shown, as Eustis Witnesses Ellensburg.

Cheney Normal met with unexpected opposition in the University of Idaho Frosh team and succumbed to their attack, 19-0.

The Freshman team played straight football and bucked the ball across for three touchdowns. Cheney, unable to retaliate in like manner, attempted an aerial attack which almost resulted in scores for the Savages.

This defeat, after Ellensburg's 7-0 victory over the same team, places Cheney in a bad light for Tri-Normal championship chances. However, comparative scores mean little, and furthermore, the Ellensburg-Idaho game was early in the season. The Cheney cohorts, no doubt, regarded the defeat with surprise. Coach Eustis left his team to witness the Bellingham-Ellensburg game, which may have had something to do with the Savages' downfall.

Winner of Coast
Football Flag Is Not Yet Decided

With football season nearing its end, the winner of the Coast Football championship is still in the dark. Stanford, although outplayed throughout the game last Saturday, took the break and won a grueling contest from the highly touted U. S. C. eleven, 13 to 12. California's Golden Bears fell before the assault of Oregon 21 to 13. This gave California its third straight conference defeat of the season.

Football Results
Lewiston State Normal 0, Spokane College 18.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS RETAIN POPULARITY

Horseback Riding Is Enjoyed by Many Women; Blazers Are to Be Worn by Hockey Artists.

Last week a number of girls enjoyed an afternoon of horseback riding, and it is hoped that as many or more will continue to show an interest in this excellent form of recreation.

A new stable has been opened up nearer the school and is equipped with 15 good horses. The horses will be brought to the school at the usual hours on Friday.

The games are progressing nicely, a great deal of improvement being shown in technique. Very soon, the athletic field will be dotted with vivid orange and green. Material has been purchased and blazers are being made for each team to distinguish them in the inter-class games.

The orange blazers will be worn by the Sophomores and you can guess who will wear the green ones.

These colors were chosen instead of blue and white, because it was thought that they would be more serviceable and that they would stand out more clearly on the field.

FIRST BASKETBALL CALL IS ANSWERED BY ABOUT 20 MEN

Initial Practice of Season Held Tuesday in Little Gymnasium, with Enthusiastic Response.

GAME NOVEMBER 17TH

Second Squad to be Entered in City League. First Game of the Season Two Weeks Away.

About twenty men answered the initial call for basketball turnout, last Tuesday evening at 7 a. m.

When the season gets under way two teams will be in the field, one to represent the Normal in inter-scholastic basketball and another to represent the Vikings in the Bellingham City League. The latter will be known as the "Junior Vikings." They will play high school teams in addition to their regular city games. Eight or nine men will be carried on each team.

Any club or organized house wishing to play basketball may organize a team and a schedule will be drawn up. Intra-mural basketball always goes over big with the students.

Football men will not start basketball practice until after Thanksgiving vacation, it was announced by Coach "Sam" Carver, today.

The Junior Vikings play their first game on November 17 against an entry in the City League.

ELLENSBURG SMASHES BELLINGHAM TITLE HOPES WHEN SPECTACULAR RALLY FAILS

Vikings Caught Napping in Second Quarter, and Ellensburg Scores Two Touchdowns. Ruble, "Cat", Guard, Runs Over Seventy Yard for Goal. Seymour is the Outstanding Star of the Contest.

A stalwart Nordic fighting ship, manned by eleven sturdy Vikings, bound for the Tri-Normal championship, floundered, and was lost in a heart-breaking struggle with an unleashed band of Wildcats, and the disfavor of the elements.

The Ellensburg Normal Wildcats proved untamable, and after 60 minutes of terrific battle, the Wildcats had succeeded in clawing the Blue and White emblem to shreds and escaped with the booty, the Vikings' championship hopes.

Vikings Caught Napping.
As has been too often the case, Bellingham awoke to their danger too late. After an even first quarter, Ellensburg took advantage of a break, recovering Odell's fumble on his own 22-yard line and on the next play sent Peterson skimming around end for a touchdown. Wanamaker blocked the goal attempt. The Vikings, sensing their danger, brought forth an aerial attack which was advancing the ball deep in Wildcat territory, when Ruble, Ellensburg guard, snagged one of these passes on the 30-yard line and ran for a touchdown. To insure the victory, the goal was kicked. Thoroughly awakened and desperate the Vikings recovered an Ellensburg fumble and with half time nearly up did the best thing possible. Odell kicked a field goal. The half soon ended with the home team leading 13-3.

Determined to redeem themselves, the Vikings again unleashed their passes in the last half, and so efficient were they that the Wildcats were nearly overthrown. The quarter ended with the Vikings in possession of the ball on the Wildcat

VIKINGS TO MEET STRONG U. OF W. SQUAD THURSDAY

Mix to be Part of the American Legion Armistice Day Program, With a Big Crowd Expected.

HARD GAME ON DECK

Super-Varsity Is Rated as Good Team, Hold Decisions Over Vikings in Former Contests.

In the last game of the season the Normal bootballers are scheduled to meet the University of Washington Super-Varsity next Thursday on Waldo Field at 2:30 p. m.

The game is to be a part of the American Legion's Armistice Day program, being preceded by a parade downtown. The Legion members are to assist in selling tickets for the game, and in view of this, the largest crowd of the year is looked forward to. As an added feature, the parade is to march around the field before the contest.

The Washington team is heralded as a strong aggregation. They have conquered the Vikings in both of their former meetings, winning 14-0 in 1924, and 3-0 last year. However,

Jack On The Sportstalk

The Ellensburg game, like that with St. Martin's, was a heart-breaker. The team showed a never-say-die spirit that is not often equalled. After being trodden on in the first half, the second half comeback was remarkable, and but for three penalties in a row, the Vikings would have won.

Over at Ellensburg, the natives, after the game said that it was the finest brand of football ever witnessed there.

Well, Homecoming is here at last. This morning there are many old faces around the school, and by tomorrow noon hundreds of returning grads and former students are expected. The football game tomorrow is to be the feature of this gala event of the year. Cheney crowds, with a strong team—a team, however, rated a little lower than Ellensburg—so a real battle is sure to take place. The Savages have met such opposition as Gonzaga, Whitman, and College of Idaho, and are in fine condition. A Bellingham win in this mix will still give us a place in a three-cornered tie for the Tri-Normal title, providing that Cheney conquers Ellensburg.

The U. W. Super-Varsity comes here next Thursday, Armistice Day, for the final football game of the 1926 season. Little is known of its strength, but if the Washington team shows the brand of football it has in defeating Viking teams in the last two years, it will provide strong opposition.

Lewis and Clark High is now an almost universal favorite for the state high school football title. The Spokane team is now the only first class team in Eastern Washington with no defeats or ties registered
