ST. MARTIN'S FIVE SUCCUMBS BEFORE NEW COMBINATION

Score See-saws Until Half-time, Then Vikings Spurt Until End; New Combination Improvement.

Coming back strong in the last few minutes of the final canto a substitute lineup on the floor the Bellingham Normal Vikings beat the Laceyite basketeers from St. Martin's college 28 to 19, in a sensational game played on the Whatcom High school court last Saturday evening.

Taking their first conference basketball game of the season Coach Sam Carver's cagers displayed a marked improvement over their earlier season's work.

Clark Starts It Clark started the fireworks with a beautiful long shot from the center of the floor which sent the frantic crowd to cheering.

The Laceyites unable to cope with the dazzling unexpected attack, were swept off their feet and were held to one field goal till the gun ended

Howard Woolston to Speak Here Friday

Howard Woolston, Ph.D., head of the Sociology department of the University of Washington, will speak here Friday, February 17, before the regular assembly.

Dr. Woolston is a graduate of Yale and has attended Chicago, Harvard and Columbia universities.

ALUMNI WELCOME AT FRIDAY REC. HOURS

In last week's Messenger appeared an article by the Rec-Hour Committee which stated, "No outsiders or high school students would be allowed on the floor." There seems to have been some misunderstanding about the status of ALUMNI.

A NEW FEATURE of the Rec-Hour Orchestra will be the announcing of the dances. This will avoid confusion and will give the students more time for dancing.

President of Local Y. M. C. A. is One of Northwest's Representatives to National Convention.

Pres. C. H. Fisher of the Normal school, president of the local Y. M. C. A., is one of the four delegates to the Northwest Council of the Y. M. C. A. to the national council meeting at New York, at a date to be set later.

This was the announcement made here today by Lawrence B. Knisely, general secretary of the local association, upon his return from the Northwest council meeting held at Portland, Oregon, Saturday.

The three delegates left here Friday and while en route stopped at Olympia to inspect the new capitol building.

Edens Hall Informal Will Occur March 3

March 3 is the date set for the Edens Hall Informal dance. No definite plans for the affair have yet been made.

Thespians "Come Home" Next Saturday for the Annual Dinner Dance

February 18 will see all the old Thespians coming home to a big dinner dance at a place to be decided upon by the club.

This is an annual affair and plays a big part in the life of the Thespian Club.

Every year the old "Grads" come back to see how the newer members are upholding the standards of their favorite club.

Evelyn Lysons, general chairman, is hard at work to make the thing a complete success and prove to the alumni that the Thespian club is just as good as in the "good old days."

Dr. Frank S. Salisbury, of the Research department of this school, was taken from his home at 233 South Garden street, to the St. Joseph's hospital, last Tuesday morning, where he was operated upon for appendicitis.

He was reported as resting very well this morning by Dr. Kirkpatrick, his attending physician.

Informal for Outside Girls; Colonial Dance at Edens Dining Hall

Do you remember when "grandmother danced the minuet?" No, of course you don't, but she told us about it so vividly that we know just how everyone looked and just what happened.

Grandmother wore a powdered wig and her dress was made of "lavender and old lace" or "old rose and silver."

The Women's League is going to take us back to grandma's girlhood at their informal, Saturday, February 11, held in the dining room of Edens Hall.

The room will be transformed into a quaint Colonial garden with a lovely little white gate at the entrance.

Phyllis Neher, general chairman, has been working very hard and much of the success of the informal will be due to her efforts.

LIGHTS TURNED ON FROM FLORIDA BY THOMAS A. EDISON

Thomas A. Edison will turn on the $102,000 lighting system just completed in Bellingham, by means of the longest possible telegraph hook-up within continental United States.

The lights have been in the process of installation since November, it is very fitting and appropriate that Mr. Edison turn the lights on at this time as besides his birthday, it is the 25th anniversary of the consolidation of Bellingham.

A fireworks program has been planned and the whole town will be in darkness from 6:30 until 7:00, when Thomas A. Edison turns on the new lights.

The Chamber of Commerce has requested all who possibly can to be down town on Saturday to see the lights. The Fox Film company is planning to make nation-wide news reels of the event.

GLEE CLUB ASKS FOR NEW MEMBERS

"More members," is the plea of the Men's Glee Club, recently organized. The group now has fourteen members, regularly attending the meetings held Monday and Wednesday from three to four, and is in need of some first tenors particularly.

Kirby Baldrey, manager, states that there are possibilities of forming a good glee group and opportunities for a number of engagements if the number can be boosted to about 20. The club is at present under the direction of Miss Slawson, but after this quarter will be handled by Mr. Smith. The work gives one hour of credit to all enrolled.

In next Tuesday's assembly the Underwood String Quartet, of the University of Oregon will give a program consisting of nine different pieces.

Rex Underwood, leader of the quartet is well known as a fine violinist and a genuine musician and in this quartet he has formed a valuable addition to the list of chamber music organizations.

"The Underwood String Quartet of the University of Oregon presented a program yesterday afternoon before the MacDowell Club at its meeting in the ballroom of the Multnomah hotel delighting all who heard it.

"The entire program was played with respect for ensemble effect, no one instrument standing out against the others. The instruments themselves seemed especially well harmonized as to quality of tone, and the musicians displayed a mutual confidence which must mark the performance of every successful quartet."

U. Students Head May Face Recall

A recall campaign to oust Marion Zioncheck, president of the student body of the University of Washington, was launched February 6 by George Guttormsen and other campus leaders of Washington.

Pending final action from the office of President Lyle Spencer, Zioncheck has asked for leniency for the nine men implicated in his kidnapping and ducking. Authorities have exonerated Guttormsen, immediate predecessor of President Zioncheck, even though he has been active in opposition to the present administration.

Alkiah Club Will Dine Saturday Eve.

The Alkiah Club has had some very interesting meetings this quarter, two of which have been held at the home of Mildred Moffat, sponsor of the club.

February 11, the Annual Home-Coming Banquet, is to be held at the Montague-McHugh banquet room at six-thirty p.m. About forty people are expected Saturday night. Plans have been made to make this an unique affair with an interesting evening's entertainment.

The Collegiate Idea to be Junior-Senior Feature of the Year

Believe it or not—the upper classes are giving a dance in the big gym next Friday, Feb. 17.

They have chosen as the theme for their dance, "The Collegiate Idea," Herb Hess' Collegiate furnishing the syncopeation. They will decorate with plenty of blue and white and all the pennants they can beg, borrow or steal.

This dance is to be a program affair and in keeping with their "Collegiate Idea," the dances will bear unique names. There promises to be "Here Comes My Sugar," "Tillie, the Toiler, Tussle," and the "Barney Google Hop."

Vernon Zachrison, advertising manager, states that it is going to be the biggest, best dance that the Normal has ever experienced and so will the rest of the school next Friday when they get their partners for "The Last Car Home."

Zachrison Elected Editor Red Arrow Vine Business Mgr.

Vernon Zachrison was elected editor of the Red Arrow, Scribes' Club literary magazine for this quarter, at a meeting of that club Monday evening, February 6.

Contributions for this quarter's issue which will appear the latter part of the term, are asked from any student in school who is interested in submitting them.

Due to the resignation of the club's president, Vernon Vine, and vice-president Rosa Ott, it was necessary to elect new officers at the meeting.

U. Students Head FACULTY GROUP TO ARRANGE PICTURES

Miss Marie Druse heads a Picture Committee, appointed by President Fisher, whose purpose will be to take charge of the arranging and hanging of pictures in the rooms and corridors of the building.

Besides this task the committee will aid students who desire advice in problems connected with art. With the chairman, Miss Delia Keeler, and Mr. H. E. Fowler comprise the committee.

War Veteran Sings to Normal Students

In the last Friday's assembly, the student body was given an hour of pleasant entertainment by William Clarke, a Canadian baritone artist. He has gained much popularity throughout this section, and is known by radio audiences. He has broadcasted over KJR in Seattle.

Mr. Clarke is a war veteran, and has won his reputation while compelled to be on crutches to sing.

"His music is commended for its diction, purity of tone and resonance, and his soul is centered in it," has been said of his singing.

Cheney Defeats Bellingham Normal in Last Tri-Normal Contest of Year

Cheney again emerged victorious over the Viking hoop quintet last night by decisively defeating the Bellingham team 45 to 27.

Oscar Thorsen, Bellingham center, led his team in scoring honors, with 10 points. This, however, was eclipsed by his opponent, Benner, the Cheney pivot man, who garnered 17 during the fracas.

Tonight the Vikings will tackle the strong Idaho University Frosh, recent conquerors of the W. S. C. yearlings, at Moscow, and tomorrow will play a strange game against

CLUB PICTURES FOR KLIPSUN NEXT WEEK

Editor Announces Picture Taking Schedule for School Groups to Occur First Good Day of Week.

The freshman class together with all clubs who have indicated that they wish pictures to appear in the Klipsun, will have their pictures taken the first day next week that the weather is favorable.

These pictures will be run off in periods of ten minutes each, and it is the hope of the Klipsun staff that the students will appear and disappear as quickly as possible.

If the weather is favorable Monday, a picture of the Students' Organization Council will be taken at 9:30 in the morning, and two frosh class pictures at 10:00, A-L first, M-Z second. The schedule from 10:40 until noon will run as follows:

- 10:40—Y. W. C. A. 11:00—Thespians. 11:20—Vanadis Bragi. 11:30—W. Club. 11:40—W. A. A. However, if the photographic work must be postponed until Tuesday, the picture scheduled from 11-12 will be run off Wednesday morning instead, due to the conflict with assembly.

Generals Win Close Hoop Tussle From Vikings at Yakima

Coach Sam Carver's invasion of the Inland Empire with his varsity hoopsters received another check Wednesday night when his charges lost a hard-fought contest to the Yakima Generals by a 30 to 26 score.

The brilliant work of "Zeke" McClurken, sensational Viking forward, who was high point man with 16 markers, featured the tussle.

Led by Carlton and Druse, members of the crack 1927 Yakima high school five which went into the finals at the state tournament, the winners were able to maintain a slight edge throughout the fray.

Both teams displayed good floor work, with an occasional spurge of fine offensive play. The Vikings will mix with Idaho Frosh at Moscow tonight and the Babes at Pullman, Saturday night.

- The Line-up - Bellingham (26) Yakima 30. McClurken 10 F Olson 4 Anderson 5 F Carlton 8 Erickson 2 C Druse 11 Benson 2 G Wyman 11 Isaacson 2 G Burwell Clark 3 Sub Fertig 3 Thorsen 3 Sub Pitterer 3 Jewell 2 Sub Hedlund 1

Strange, because there will be no spectators, according to word from Pullman. Due to the discovery of a case of infantile paralysis, a ban has been placed on social and athletic affairs by the school authorities.

The line-ups for Thursday's game with Cheney follows: The Line-up - Bellingham (27) Cheney (45) McClurken 4 F Moore 5 Clarke 2 F Hames 10 Thorsen 10 C Benner 17 Isaacson 1 G Cliff 3 Benson 4 G Duvall 4 Erickson Sub West 2 Anderson 4 Sub Fishback 4 Jewell 4 Sub.

VIKINGS AGAIN BOW TO ELLENSBURG IN FIRST MIX OF TRIP

Local Team Comes Back Strong in Second Half, but Wildcat Lead Made in First Canto too Large

Dropping the first game of their road trip through Eastern Washington and Idaho, the Bellingham Normal Vikings fell before the strong Ellensburg quintet 42 to 31 in a strongly contested battle played on the Ellensburg floor last Tuesday evening.

Outscored 27 to 6 in the first half the Vikings came back strong in the last half revealing their old fighting spirit by a dazzling rally which completely overwhelmed their eastern rivals, but were unable to overcome the 21 point lead piled up in the fatal first half.

In the hectic final period the Vikings showed they possess the winning strength by their fighting finish and were able to run up 25 points to their opponents 13.

Had the Vikings found themselves earlier in the fray the result would probably have been different.

Scoring Honors High scoring honors go to Morrison, elongated center for Ellensburg, whose individual score was 15 points. "Zeke" McClurken carried the brunt of the burden for Sam Carver's cagers with 8 markers.

Clark and Anderson went to make up a strong offensive attack while Benson not only played a good backcourt game but came through with his share of the basket making with 6 tallies to his credit.

Weakened by the loss of Earl Keplinger, their star forward, who was unable to make the trip, the Vikings were slow to get their offensive under way.

Service Men's Club Planning Fast Card of Bouts for Smoker

Eight boxing and wrestling matches have been tentatively lined up for the smoker of the Veterans' and Service Men's club at the Normal school, which is to be given Tuesday night, March 5. At a meeting of the club last night, Earl Hemmi, matchmaker, reported the arrangements for the bouts, while the program committee for the smoker reported that several feature numbers are being prepared. All men of the school are invited to attend the smoker and a slight admission fee will be charged to cover expenses.

These attendance regulations which are constantly becoming stricter and stricter are viewed with mixed feelings. Some of us have sneaking suspicions that they are justifiable, in view of our actions. According to the theory of the new attendance regulations all requirements are but in accord with it.

But we still cannot quite see the justice of being doubly penalized for missing a class. Undoubtedly it stimulates rigid class attendance. But with all this talk about letting young people learn to take responsibility themselves it is incompatible. It is to much like the old formal discipline idea. The attitude seems to be: "If you don't attend my class you're going to get just what's coming to you, in a double dose." The choice rests with the student. But there isn't any choice.

How much more in accord with the spirit of democracy and the trend of modern pedagogy, would be the system whereby the choice would be the student's own as to whether he would attend class or not. The question of values would be settled on real merits. People who took advantage of the system would in a large measure be eliminated; they would find themselves out of harmony with the attitude of the student body.

In addition, we have already mentioned at times the fact that an unlimited cut system would stimulate teachers to make their classes interesting enough to attract attendance. Sometimes we just suspect a wee little bit that perhaps the Profs. realize what a thorough check on their teaching efficiency such a system would impose.

We find another person voicing a grievance at the "dirty cracks" the Messenger sometimes takes at people and things about school. This time it is one of the Yell Squad. In justice to Mr. Bright, the editor admits that he was under the impression that he, Mr. Bright, was Yell King. It seems, however, that Mr. Bright is only assistant, a Yell Duke. We hereby acknowledge our error.

But it still seems to us that in event of absence of a Yell King it devolves upon the two assistants to take charge of the work, if for no other reason than time worn "school loyalty." In this respect it is generally assumed that the gentleman take the lead rather than the Yell Queen.

As to the charge that the Board of Control failed to have a new King elected or appointed in order to save the price of a sweater, we are unacquainted with the circumstances. If, however, this is the case, it would seem that the Board which recently voted to award sweaters to men playing Junior Varsity basketball is "crawfishing" and showing prejudices in their economy.

The thing which pleases the editor about these student comebacks is that it proves that the paper is at least read; sometimes even the editorials.

The squabble at the University of Washington is viewed by most people with holy horror at the way students conduct themselves at these institutions for the diffusion of learning so begrudgingly supported by their taxes. The affair we grant was unwise, unjust, and almost deplorable. It will reflect back not only on the University students but upon youth and college students as a whole. In a sense, the perpetrators of the hazing of the University student body president, have broken faith with their fellows.

But the act only shows that students are very much like the rest of the people and instead of behaving as the intelligentsia should, disport themselves in a manner used by people throughout the world. Italy had its bottle of castor oil, we still have the Ku Klux Klan, and lynchings are by no means uncommon. Such things are actuated by the same impulses which governed these students.

Our opinion is that the recall petition circulated will have a hard time being put through due to the publicity of an unfavorable nature to their cause which the originators have created. Not only from the point of view of the reflections cast on the University, but also from the standpoint of wishing to recall Mr. Zioncheck, their action was ill-advised.

Democracy, as we understood it a few days ago, is founded upon the proposition that all men are created equal, or, if they're not, they should be. The other day we received a nice sample of democracy from a person who should have known better.

It seems that when the writer was still a little boy, the Normal school needed a girls' dormitory, Edens Hall being the result of that need. At that time, according to reports, it was deemed an injustice on the part of many townspeople that the "Normal girls" should have overstuffed furniture, thick piling rugs, and sundry other luxuries. Whether electric lights, running water, curtains, and hardwood floors were mentioned in the objections, we do not know.

However, the big idea was that the majority of the "girls on the hill" came from farms or rural districts where they were not used to such luxuries, and while it was understood that education, along with its many other aims, strove to develop a taste for the better things in life, still, it seemed not only unjust and unfair to the girls themselves, for giving them things they were not used to, but it also was an injustice to the communities from whence they came in teaching them such tastes that they should become dissatisfied with the old homestead. In other words, it seemed that the popular view of democracy and Normal school was: certainly, the farm girl is entitled to the same as every other girl, but as long as she isn't used to it, why give it to her and teach high-falutin notions about how to live and spend money?

However, the country still survives, perhaps thanks to the many schools which do not have "overstuffed furniture, thick piling rugs, and such like."

Edens Hall has been up almost long enough for the roof to start to leak, so the whimpers, wails, and whines have desisted, only to move to the other side of the campus. The new library is beautiful and magnificent, these same chronic knockers say, but won't it spoil the sense of proportions of those Normal students, most of whom come from small towns and poor homes? They don't need anything like that. Why look at what they have up there on the hill? What do they want to do, break the state, and become unfit to live in their home towns?

Recently a local newspaper said of the student governmental disturbances at the U. of W.: "This is the Seattle high school the poor people of the state are taxed to support." Perhaps the same thing would be said about the Normal if the paper was only far enough away.

In the meantime, regardless of the hoots and hollers of those who don't know, we, surrounded by our necessary conveniences, beautiful as they are, will continue our educations, not losing in the process our sense of proportion or our ability to live in "Poor, small town homes."

Listen girls! If you are taking a man (we mean of course a Normal boy) to the informal and he doesn't ask you to go to the BIG-CLASSY COLLEGIATE CUDDLE next Friday night, just invite the dumbbell around to the Messenger office and we'll kill him free of charge.

BRUTAL ROMANCE — 18 pt

Well, folks, this is just another of those tragic heart-rending little accounts that can make strong, stony-hearted men weep and wail with remorse. In the mind of women men are brutes and this little story should waive all contrary ideas.

The two, he and she moved along the moonlit road in the cool evening air. It was a romantic night, ideal for lovers; but he, the brute had no thoughts for love. Except for them the road was apparently deserted. She, the poor young thing, had met him for the first time only the week before, and here he was cursing her already. However, it was not her nature to remonstrate and besides he was such a brute of a man.

On they went, along what seemed an endless road. Where he was taking her she knew not. The fast pace was telling on her and she began to lag only to be cursed some more and even receive stinging blows from the infuriated scoundrel.

Oh, what pain and agony the poor thing went thru during that terrible eternity. Unable to stand such cruelty any longer she began to stagger and alas—too weak to support herself, she stumbled into a hole at the side of the road. The brute stood over her glowering. With large tear-brimmed eyes she looked up at him pleading for mercy. Her leg was broken. There was no pity in the cur's makeup however, and emitting more threats he drew an object from his pocket that glistened in the moonlight. Then came the report of a revolver. The poor creature crumpled. She was dead. She was only an unassuming donkey; but he had shot her like a dog.

Student Opinion

The editorial appearing in the Messenger of last week razzing the "Yell King" for selling tickets, would be a just one, if we had such a "King". Thanks for the compliment. As usual, the editorials are written without the real facts. We have two "Dukes" each with equal authority, supposed to be assistants to a King. Neither is supposed to initiate anything as suggested by the Messenger, although if either had been elected "King" there would have been something doing in this department of the school. Now, place the blame where it belongs, with the Board of Control. I understand they have not put the "Yell King's" position up for election in order to save the price of a sweater.

I know a Yell King could do much for the spirit of the Normal, not only at games but in general. Why not have a pep assembly? Why not have stunts like that at the Cheney game? A committee will not work without a chairman, so my advice is, if you want a King, elect one, then make your suggestions in the proper manner.

WOMAN IS ONLY SEVENTEEN

A 17-year-old Irish girl, who is a United States citizen, a subject of Great Britain, and a resident of Mexico City, has been cast as a French bride in an American motion picture, thereby bringing to light one of the most amazing stories of over-night film success ever told.

Shirley O'Hara who recently signed a five-year contract with Paramount as a leading woman is the girl. She will first be seen opposite Adolph Menjou in "A Gentleman of Paris" which reaches the American theatre Saturday.

A year ago she was a student at a private school in Mexico City, where her father, Dr. Elliot Nolan, is British consul-general. Shirley came to Hollywood and entered the University of Southern California to major in Spanish poetry, having decided on a literary career. A theater owner introduced her to a film director, who gave her a screen test.

At once she was selected for leading roles in two-reel western productions. These were seen by Adolph Menjou and his director, Harry D'Arrast, who were looking for a leading woman for Menjou's current vehicle.

Miss O'Hara was signed for the part and before the conclusion of the picture her work had so impressed studio officials that she was given the long-term contract.

COLOR FOR BOOK OF FUTURE

Color, the Literary Digest of a recent week confides, is to be the vogue in all good libraries this year. In other words, the well-dressed book in the future will resemble the rainbow, outside at least.

Color, the article said, will replace the drab, dull book covers of the Library of the City of New York. Thus, when one of the largest libraries in the country introduces an idea, it will naturally attract all good reporters, as well as librarians.

However, here is the excuse for writing this: Miss Mabel Zoe Wilson, who declares she is a firm believer in color where possible, has long been an advocate of jolly looking books. She points with pride to the library of the Bellingham State Normal school citing the comparatively small number of drab dull-colored, typical "library" volumes which repose on the shelves.

It would almost seem that this article might rather be an editorial than what it is, for the main purpose which it strives to realize, is the impression of the fact that the local library is not far behind the leaders, and in this respect, has broken the trail long before.

Menjou, Cohens and Kellys Are Leading Local Film Attractons

If life was made for laughter, whoever attends the Mount Baker theater, while "The Cohens and Kellys in Paris," is the feature, will live a complete life during the run of the picture.

"The Cohens and Kellys in Paris," is life-jammed with wholesome human touches of pathos and comedy. It is a beautiful painting from the delicate brush of the great artist William Beaudine, director of "Little Annie Rooney," "Sparrows" and "Hold That Lion."

Each member of the all-star cast is admirably chosen. It is not a farce comedy but it is drama of the relations between the Irishman and the Jew told with an eye always on the comic possibilities of the tale.

George Sidney, who was featured in the role of Cohen in the first

"Cohens and Kellys," headlines in the screamingly funny adventures of the Irish and Jewish families in Paris. J. Farrell MacDonald is co-featured as Kelly and gives an inimitable portrayal. Vera Gordon and Kate Price are back again in their original roles of Mrs. Cohen and Mrs. Kelly, louder and funnier than ever.

Gertrude Astor furnishes 50 per cent of the good looks and many of the laughs in this hysterical production. Sue Carol represents the remaining 50 per cent of beauty and charm while Charles Delaney is appealing as young Mr. Kelly who marries the pretty Cohen girl and thereby engages the two families in a mad rush to Paris to break up the racial mistake, so that the Cohen grandchildren will not be little Kellys.

Everything that can happen in Paris happens to the Cohens and Kellys, including an Apache dance and a duel. The whole thing ends with one of the most exciting and hysterical sequences ever screened.

JAYVEES ARE CHAMPIONS

CLASS B LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP IS WON BY JAYVEES

With Bob Fisher Leading the Fray, the Jayvees Take the "Y. M. C. A. Hoopsters into Camp 42 to 20.

JAYVEES UNDEFEATED

Go Through Second Half of Double Schedule Winning 7 Victories Without a Defeat Game is Fast.

Lead by Bob Fisher, flashy pivot man in a strong offensive attack, the Normal Junior Varsity trounced the Y. M. C. A. hoopsters 47 to 20 on the Y. M. C. A. court, last Friday evening in a game that was featured by brilliant playing and fine shooting by the Jayvees.

By virtue of their victory they are now the undisputed champions of the City Class B league, having gone through the second half of the double schedule winning seven victories without a defeat. They have held the championship for Class B the last two years and have completed this year's season with but one defeat.

Normal Strong

Counting but 20 points the entire game the Y. M. C. A. quintet were unable to cope with their stronger hilltop rivals. The Normal offense centered around Cox, Thorlakson and Fisher worked smoothly while the checking was commendable. The game was one of the roughest played in the city league this season, but furnished plenty of thrills for the small crowd of fans who gathered to see it.

Fisher was high point man with 13 markers to his credit, while Cox and Thorlakson followed second with 9 apiece. Lundberg played a good game at guard for the Jayvees.

Chichester and Kirkham were the main threats for the Y. V. five, gaining 8 and 7 points respectively.

The Line-ups—

Cox 9 F. Eiseman

ST. MARTIN'S GAME

Slow Start

The game got under way with a slow start; St. Martin's drawing first blood with a free throw and a field basket. McClurken evened up the count for Normal by registering from a mixup under the basket. The score see-sawed back and forth during the first half. Neither team was able to spark on the offense and both were playing only mediocre ball. St. Martin's was trailing by one point when the timer's gun ended the half as the score stood 11 to 12.

Carver's discovery of a winning combination will give the backers of the team a little more of an optimistic view as to the results for the rest of the season.

"Swede" Anderson who has been with the Supers all season, performed in fine style. Swede handles the ball nicely and has the necessary height and speed to make an aggressive player. Clark, who has hitherto played guard for the Vikings, played a nice floor game and although not an exceptionally good scorer, is a dangerous man.

The two forwards, Burger and Johannes, ran off with high scoring honors with 11 and 8 points respectively.

The Lineups

FOLLOW-UPS

By Sully

If you should meet the Viking cagers while they are on their present road trip, you would probably not recognize them. All are wearing knickerbockers, plus-fours, or what have you? All that is, except Ocie Thorsen, who says he will have to take care of the others. Can you feature Harry Benson strutting around in a pair? Well, he is and says he would wear them here except that no one would appreciate him. Zeke McClurken expects to blossom forth in his while on the train, but has said he would not wear them elsewhere.

A great factor in the recent victory over St. Martin's was the playing of "Swede" Anderson. Although probably not possessed of the potential ability of several members of the Viking squad, "Swede" went into the game with the right spirit. Caring not whether he was high point man, "Swede" passed at every opportunity and changed the Vikings into a "passing team" instead of a "shooting team" of other days. This type of game ultimately brought victory which is all that is desired.

To Ted Clark goes the honor of starting the Viking quintet on a rally which brought the Normalites their first conference victory of the season. Entering the game with the score tied 17 all, Ted was fouled soon after. Stepping to the foul line he converted his free shot giving his team a lead which they were not to relinquish. Not content with a one point advantage, Ted looped one from the field which was enough to win the game as the Irish were only able to count two points while his teammates garnered eight during the remainder of the game.

When are the new tennis courts to be built? Certainly, there is a great need for several more and also better courts. The present group are fine for beginners but put any one at a disadvantage after they have played for a while, especially in tournament play when the Normal's tennis team is compelled to travel and play where there is a long back court. The only remedy is to build those promised as these we now have cannot be rebuilt.

FIRST VOLLEYBALL ELIMINATION PLAYED

Good volleying but poor serving marked the women's first intramural volleyball meet in the little gym on Tuesday night. There are three teams in competition for the championship this quarter, and the first series of games gives Martha Ylonen's "Hi-Landers" first place.

The "Hi-Landers" defeated the "Spartans", whose captain is Arlene Johanson, 15-10. Then the Spartans won a 15-12 game from Goldie Abel's "Volleyers." In the third game the Hi-Landers made their second victory of the tri-game match over the Volleyers, 15-7.

Each Tuesday and Thursday at 4 o'clock, until February 23, there will be a chance for each team to play each other. Final championship will be conceded the team holding the highest number of points at the end of the season. The Hi-Landers now have 30 points; Spartans 25, and Volleyers 19.

Class team organization, February 20, at 4:50.

From a late survey of intelligence ratings for college athletes, it appears that tennis players average much higher than the non-athletic or the football man. The following shows the college athlete placed in relative position to his average intelligence as conducted for the Carnegie Foundation in New York:

Tennis players, fencers, wrestlers, rowers, golfers, non-athletes, and football coming last in line.

CO-OPS WINNERS

Playing the best brand of ball dish-ed up in intramural circles this year, the Co-op quintet overcame the fast Kitchen Krew cage team 20 to 22, while the contest for the cellar championship between the Froshi and the Scotchmen fives ended in a tie with both teams claiming a victory and was called no-contest, in games played in the small gym, Wednesday.

Due to the basket tossing ability of Brinkman, Pearl Durr guard, and general poor play of Durr and Stickney, the Kitchen Krew took the lead and were not headed until the final minutes of the initial half. At this juncture Keith, sharpshooting forward took the floor and sank one from the field giving the Co-ops a 13 to 12 lead.

Substituting several men the Co-ops set a faster pace slowly tiring their opponents and forging to the front. After gaining a comfortable lead the Co-operatives played a nice stalling game Wanamaker and Iverson, particularly showing themselves very proficient at this style of play.

With the Frosh-Scotchmen set to ending in an argument, they decided to play this game over on a later date. Holding the Freshmen to a 15 to 6 score in the first half the Scotchmen seemed likely to leave the Frosh lone occupants of the cellar. In the second canto the tables were turned and with Van Louven and Rodland hitting the hoop from afar the Frosh had tied the count when the teams disagreed and cancelled the remainder of the game.

SPEEDY CO-OP FIVE DISPLAYS FAST GAME

Wanamaker and Iverson Proficient in Displaying a Nice Stalling Game.

Continuing to bowl over all opposition in its race to win the second half gonafalon, the close checking Co-op quintet downed the Freshmen five in a roughly contested game on the Normal gym court Wednesday.

The Storemen took the lead and playing a strong checking game held the Freshmen to a pair of free throws during the opening half while tallying nine points themselves. In the final canto the Frosh rallied and scored three baskets, holding their opponents to four. Playing hard and always fighting, the lowly Frosh are handicapped by the inability to score when within easy shooting distance. Rodland, Freshman guard, performed well for the losers, caging two field goals and a free throw. Keith was high for the Co-ops, with seven.

REVAMPED SUPER VARSITY QUINTET DROPS CLOSE TILT

In a game, replete with thrills and not decided until after the allotted playing time, the Y. M. C. A. defeated a fighting Super Varsity five, on the "Y" Court, Wednesday evening.

With but few seconds to play and the score 37 to 36 against them, a Normal player was fouled and granted two free throws. Before he had time to attempt any of his throws the whistle blew ending the game. Stepping to the foul line, the knowledge that he could either win, lose or tie the game proved too great a mental handicap and, although an invariably good shot missed both attempts.

Winning this game virtually gave the "Y" the class A championship, as nothing but a startling upset will relegate them from first place.

The revamped Super Varsity, composed in part of several J.V. stars, could not hit their stride, and the "Y" jumped into a four-point lead; but not for long, as Fisher, Cox and Hawkings tallied in quick succession. Throughout the rest of the game both teams battled on even terms, first one and then the other counting. The Association quintet led at half time, 16 to 14.

Due to spectacular shooting by Harris and Herb the Supers trailed five points with one minute to play. Rallying to the occasion, Cox converted a pair of free throws and Hawkings shot one the length of the floor. Having time for another shot, Fisher attempted one from the center which rolled around and finally out the aforementioned foul he committed at the time.

Lundberg played a nice game at guard, holding the veteran McBeth to one counter. Cox tallied fourteen points and played his best game of the year. Herb and Harris led the "Y" attack, caging fifteen and twelve points respectively.

MISS BOWEN TO BE MARRIED NEXT FALL

Engagement to Mr. Winchester King Is Announced at Seattle Will Not Return to Faculty.

Culminating a college romance came recently the announcement of Miss Beth Bowen's engagement to Mr. Winchester King. Miss Bowen is a Delta Gamma and Mr. King is a Kappa Sigma, both of the University of Washington.

The announcement came on little cards on which were the photographs and names of the newly engaged. These were presented at a tea given by Miss Bowen's parents at her home on Lake Washington, in Seattle. Tea was served for one hundred and fifty guests.

After the wedding the couple will live in Seattle. Miss Bowen will not return to the Normal faculty next fall.

Chuckanut Goal of Vanadis Bragi

A climb to the summit of Chuckanut Mountain, sponsored by the Vanadis Bragi club, was made by a party of twenty last Saturday.

The hikers left the campsite at 9:15 Saturday, February 4, for the Interurban depot. The car was taken to the summit trail and from there the climb was made to the top.

Dinner was enjoyed when the party reached the summit. Miss Emma Erickson and Miss Leona Sundquist were the faculty members in the group.

Mr. A. V. Quigley, of Vancouver, Visits the Science Department

Mr. A. V. Quigley, of the Dawson school in Vancouver B. C., paid a visit to the science department of this school last Friday, to study the course of science which is offered here.

Mr. Quigley was very much interested in the demonstration desks and the modern tables in the laboratories, and other equipment of the department.

He visited for the purpose of obtaining an outline of the work that is taught in the elementary science classes in the training school and to see what equipment is used here so he can obtain it for his institution.

Mr. Quigley has charge of all the grades in Dawson school.

Low Stars Master Vanadis Bragi Team

Playing a postponed intramural game as a preliminary to the Normal-St. Martin's conflict the Low Stars vanquished the scrappy Vanadis Bragi five 28 to 13, on the Whatcoch High floor, Saturday evening.

Unaccustomed to a large court, the club team could not cope with the veteran-like play of Tommy Marsden's team. Taking an early lead with Gray and Marsden displaying some nice floor work and Brown converting several set-ups, while Miller broke thru and scored three goals from the field, the Marsdenites led 13 to 5 at the half.

After running up a 15-point lead during the second canto, a new Low Star team, with the exception of Brown, entered the fray. This lineup did not fare as well. Moser and Adkinson caging a couple of baskets and converting several free throws while holding the revamped five to a lone point. With three minutes to play Marsden rushed in his regular lineup and led by Barney Chichester, who found the hoop for a trio of baskets, the Low Stars were leading 28 to 13 as the game ended.

Normal Y. W. C. A. Holds Valuable and Important Meetings

The Y. W. C. A. of the Normal school held their regular weekly meeting Thursday afternoon in room 206 at 4 o'clock. Miss Marcia Seeb, regional secretary of the national Y. W. C. A. led a discussion of affairs of special interest to the local organization.

Cabinet Meeting Held
 Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock Miss Seeb met with Miss Freida Aasey, president of the Y. W. C. A., at the Bellingham Normal school and the members of the cabinet thereof. Miss Seeb explained what the Y. W. C. A. groups in other institutions are accomplishing. She also gave the local members new ideas, concerning problems that can be met with on their own campus, and in their own institution.

Cabinet Meeting Today
 This afternoon at 4 o'clock Miss Freida Aasey, president of the Y. W. C. A., at the Bellingham Normal school and the cabinet members will hold another business session. Following the valuable interview with Miss Seeb the members have thought of plans. Freshmen Stage Enjoyable Mixer

By Irene Schagel
 Even some of these sophisticated Sophomore men who never get "up in the air" about anything, not even their student teaching, were decidedly there at the Frosh "Up in the Air" party.

The trip among the celestial bodies started at 8:30 and by 9:00 everyone was in the air. There were stars, both human and celestial (the basket ball team didn't leave until Sunday morning, you know) and the moon as round and friendly as ever and hush! plenty of moonshine—during the moonlight waltz).

We thought for a moment that the charming aviatrix who favored us with that feature dance was Ruth Elder but we found out that it was none other than Naomi Smith. The dance was well in keeping with the atmosphere of the party.

Einer Moen's Oofy Goofs were "on the air" and added much to the success of the dance.

The Frosh surely show what they are capable of doing when their turn comes to give a party. Bill Reeves, social chairman, deserves a great deal of credit for the success of the affair to say nothing of dozens of others who worked untiringly.

In a recent trip to Everett, Mr. Smith of the music department gave examinations to the students of music in the grade schools of that city. The type of exams given has been worked out by Mr. Smith. New music has also been ordered by the men's glee club and they will be ready to appear before different organizations soon.

Ruckmick Begins Industrial Arts Work in Classes

Mr. Herbert Ruckmick met his Industrial Arts classes Friday. Mr. Ruckmick has just returned from an extended trip to New York.

For the remainder of the quarter, the classes will meet six hours a week to make up for the delayed start.

Project work in woodwork, photography, sheet metal, home mechanics, electrical construction, concrete and printing, are being offered.

Mr. Gibson, who is the park superintendent of the Bellingham city parks, has presented the science department with a dozen plants to use for plant experiments. They will be used by the elementary science classes. They are geraniums of the best variety.

CLUB - HOUSE - SOCIAL

A number of Edens Hall girls spent the weekend at their respective homes. Miss Elena Reavis and Miss Louise Dunn visited in Arlington; Miss Ethelyn Hand in Snohomish; Miss Florence Palmer and Miss Nelda Six in Tacoma; Miss Kathleen Reff in Everett; Miss Dorothy Legg and Miss Frieda Aase in Seattle; Miss Adelaide Dale in Vancouver; and Miss Kristine Thordarson in Blaine.

Miss Dorothy Dayton of Snohomish, was a weekend guest of Miss Evelyn Lysons. Miss Dayton was graduated from this school in 1926. Miss Tillie Thordarson, a 1927 graduate of this school who is now teaching in Mt. Vernon, visited her sister, Miss Kristine Thordarson, Friday.

Miss Evelyn Lysons, Miss Dayton, Miss Mary Crosby, and Mr. Alfred Samuelson of Tacoma motored to Vancouver, B. C., Sunday.

Warner Poyhonen, a graduate of this school and former editor of the Messenger, wrote a book review for the December number of the Washington Educational Journal. Viola Poyhonen, a sister of Warner, is attending the Normal.

At their last housemeeting Wednesday, February 1, the girls at 332 N. Garden chose "Talihee" for the name of their house. People have been calling both Mrs. Nicholl's old house and her new one, "Nicholl's Hall." In order to distinguish them it seemed necessary to find an entirely different name for the new house. As "Talihee" therefore Mrs. Nicholls requests that her house shall be known in the future, rather than as "Nicholl's Hall."

Mt. Vernon Five Loses Hard Mix

The Mount Vernon Junior College basketball five lost their second game of the season when they played the Pacific Lutheran College on the Mt. Vernon floor, Saturday night, February 4. The result of the game was 26 to 20.

Two outside players assisted the junior college team, their lineup being: Marble and Sharrett, forwards; Thompson, center; Turner and Valentine, guards. Minahan, of Mt. Vernon, refereed.

In a preliminary contest the girls of the junior college lost to the girls of the Pacific Lutheran college by score of 26 to 13.

This was the Junior college's second game for the season, playing previously the Centralia team when they made a trip to that town. The Junior college is slated to meet the Centralia bunch again tomorrow night when they play on their local floor.

Twenty-five of Industrial Group Entertained at Y

The Y. W. C. A. of the Normal school entertained twenty-five members of the Industrial Group of the Bellingham Y. W. C. A., Wednesday evening in the drawing room of Edens Hall. A program of musical numbers was given by members of the Normal school student body.

Miss Alma Manny also of the Normal, led a helpful discussion concerning "Interior Decorating." Miss Marcia Seeb, regional secretary of Y. W. C. A., spoke at the gathering for a few minutes.

The evening program was arranged by Miss Beatrice Burton, chairman of the Social Department of the Normal School, Y. W. C. A., aided by a corps of workers.

Science Department Is Puzzled by Eggs Found on Waterfront

A local longshoreman, while hiking along the waterfront recently, noticed a white sponge-like mass drifting among the piling. Becoming curious to know what it was, he carried the substance to town and showed it to many people, all of whom were puzzled at it but were unable to determine the identity of the mysterious mass.

He then decided to take it to the Science department of the Bellingham Normal school and have Miss Sundquist of the Science department analyze it. Miss Sundquist was unable to recognize it offhand, although she is quite certain that it is a form of white fish eggs which are rarely, if ever, seen in the waters of Puget Sound.

A sample of the eggs was shipped to the University of Washington Science college, where Professor Kincaid, of the zoology department, will determine the exact species of fish to which they belong.
