Foreword

This is our book of college hours. In it are familiar faces, familiar names. As our present slips away into the past and time searches out for us the precious things, these pages will stand witness to us of days lived gladly. Let it speak then of happy things, the strenuous business of college life, the joy of sport and play --- all the bright, morning things of this our college life.

Dedication

To the spirit of friendliness that lies at the heart of our college life; the spirit which unites students and faculty in the happy enterprises of campus days; that welcomes in the freshman and makes of him a loyal comrade and sends the graduate away with a sense of spiritual kinship to his school. Its value is greater than the value of all our material assets: its sweep is wider than the great waters that lie stretched before us: its manifestations more numerous than the islands that dot the straits. It is the soul of Bellingham Normal.

To Olive Edens

You have not left us; you are only away on an extended leave of absence. Your students, your colleagues, your friends---all continue to feel the heartening warmth of your friendliness and the stimulation of your vigorous mind. As we look forward to the coming years, we know that your spirit will always be with us to make us more tolerant and more human. You found the good life, and with the inspiration of your example we, too, may hope to discover the way to wisdom and happiness.

PRESIDENT C. H. FISHER

President's Message

The KLIPSUN is meant to be a record of school life with its many kinds of activities. While the record is most interesting today, it will be increasingly interesting with the passing years. Familiar faces and scenes and amusing and serious incidents are made a permanent record. Here we have life in its varied experiences and life will flow on in much the same way in the future. Students have learned from each other and teachers and students have learned together. We have had the good fortune to share life together in a happy and idealistic environment. From nature's storehouse of beauty in the mountains and the sea, we have had much enjoyment and inspiration. May a love of the great outdoors, courage to meet life, desire to know, search for truth, joy in living and happiness in work, abide with you always.

—President C. H. Fisher.

Deans

The most vital factors of the school program are under the control and guidance of three administrators: James Bever, Dean of the School; Adele Jones, Dean of Women; and W. J. Marquis, Dean of Men.

Problems pertaining to classes, curriculum, and scholarship are regulated in the office of Dean Bever. The student receives valuable advice and assistance concerning course of study, programming, and credentials from this office.

Dean Jones guides and advises women students in regard to room and board, student employment and social activities. Students are served, through her office, in these and other features of student life.

Men of the school receive a similar service in the office of the Dean of Men. Dean Marquis advises men students in problems of living conditions and employment.

The administration of these leaders is a valuable and essential feature behind school activity and growth.

Library

Our beautiful and serviceable library ranks among the best school libraries in the United States. The attractive Romanesque building was completed June, 1928, and marked the realization of a great dream of our faculty and students.

The main reading room, on the second floor, seats three hundred students. An excellent and comprehensive collection of twenty thousand professional and educational books are on open shelves, accessible to the students at all times. The charging desk, card catalogue, and closed stacks are also located on the second floor.

Current periodicals and required reading materials are accessible to students in the reserve book room on the first floor.

An excellent children's reading room is designed to meet the needs of all grade school pupils. Three thousand books are available to the children and to the students of children's literature.

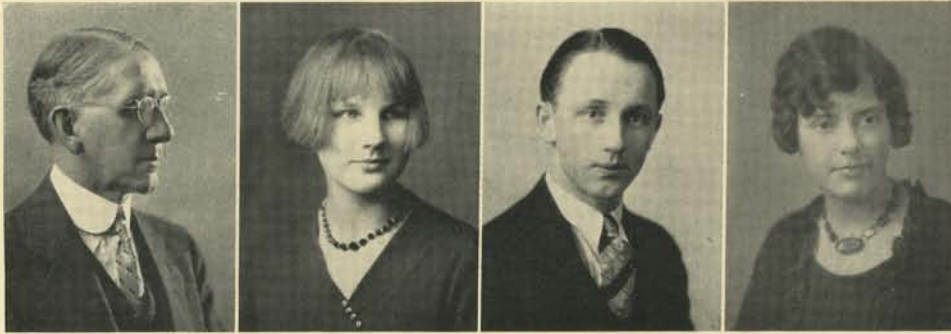

Miss Mabel Zoe Wilson is the head librarian, Miss Beatrice Doty acts as children's librarian, Miss Pearl Reese has charge of the reserve library, Miss La Verne Farlow does the work at the charging desk, Miss Esther Stallman is reference librarian, and Miss Lillian George is cataloguer.

This efficient staff, through the organization of the various departments and their personal service, help make the library a source of unlimited value to the student who seeks liberal education and training as a teacher of children.

Junior-Senior College

The junior-senior college has been reorganized this year after a long period of inactivity. Its membership of about sixty includes all upper division students in school and is expected to increase rapidly due to the new requirements for longer attendance.

The outstanding function of the year was a "get together" luncheon at Edens Hall in March. This luncheon served as a means of making members of these two classes better acquainted and also as an introduction to the events planned during May and June.

The officers elected to carry on the activities of the junior-senior college are:

RICHARD LOUIS	President
GRACE OLSEN	Vice-President
FRANCES YOUNG	Secretary-Treasurer

Sophomore Class

Cooperation is the keynote of the success of the Sophomore class this year.

The spirit of cooperation has been manifested in three parties which could not have been successful without the fine spirit demonstrated by the faculty, committees, chairmen, and the members of the class.

These three quarterly parties have been the major activities of the class this year. A novel idea was carried out in the first party of the year, given in October. Because of the proximity of the Hallowe'en season, a "superstitious" idea was worked out by the committees in both the program and the decorations.

In February, the sophomores, in hoopskirts and powdered wigs danced stately minuets and Virginia reels in "Washington's Silver Ballroom."

The officers of the class who carried on these activities this year are:

BERT COLE	President
LOUISE GRIFFIN	Vice-President
ANN SWANSON	Secretary
MILDRED KENT	Treasurer
HAROLD RICH	I. C. C. Representative

LOVIA WEIGER	I. C. C. Representative
MR. PELAGIUS WILLIAMS	Adviser

Under the leadership of the Executive Committee, comprising the class officers, the Freshman class led the school in all activities.

To start off the year, the Freshman were responsible for the Pep Rally bonfire, which was at the beginning of the Home Coming celebration. Tradition has it that it shall be the duty and privilege of the Frosh class to build and keep intact from outside invasion, the Home Coming bonfire. The whole class turned out splendidly to work and help under the leadership of Mark Sanders, chairman.

Each quarter a party was given to all Freshman with Sophomore men invited. For each party there was a general chairman, under whom was a committee that worked with the aid of the Executive Committee. The chairman for the fall quarter party was Bob Walters, the winter quarter party was Quentin Quick, and for the spring quarter party was Earl Hutchins.

In all the activities the responsibility was divided among those who were believed capable to carry out the work.

The Northwest Viking

The second best Normal or Junior Collegiate newspaper in the United States.

This is the judgment granted to the weekly Northwest Viking in the National Columbia School Press Association contest sponsored in New York, in 1930. The Viking was thus judged as a result of six issues being submitted throughout the year. To Dolly Anderson, editor, and Gordon Leen, business manager, during whose term this honor was won, must go much credit for such a splendid ranking.

With a new staff, under Ray Craft, editor, and Gordon Leen, business manager, in the spring quarter, 1930, the Viking underwent several interesting experiments. A questionnaire, devised by the staff, was presented to the students. Through this medium the staff secured criticism of the paper, both good and bad. This questionnaire showed some surprising results and furnished some excellent material for the staff to use in makeup.

An experiment in the use of type was also made, the object being to enable more material to be covered in the space allotted. If news stories can thus be successfully compressed, the type will be adopted regularly.

A keen student interest in the Viking and a general appreciation of the work it accomplishes is ample proof of its success as the official newspaper of the Bellingham State Normal.

WHEN "THE VIKING" WENT TO PRESS

Souvenir Football Program

Each year a souvenir football program is published supplying interesting information about the Homecoming game. This year's program, edited by Don Stickney and Jack Gudmundson, was one of the best of its kind put out by any Normal or College.

Outwardly the book resembled a regular football in shape and color, and within its thirty-two pages it contained information of all kinds. Descriptions of both teams, and dope sheet, records of the results of past games between the Bellingham Normal and Ellensburg Normal, and a large number of photographs were included in the makeup.

The program, thus published, was both attractive in its appearance and complete in its material, having all of the necessary features of a conventional souvenir football program.

Directory

The "Student and Faculty Directory" is published early in the fall quarter of each year. Its purpose is to identify the students as nearly as possible with their respective addresses and telephone numbers. The faculty, the men of the school, and the women of the school are listed in separate groups so as to give greater facility in looking up the names.

Milton Odell and Oren Tarbox were responsible for this publication which has proven of value to every student.

Souvenir Program of Tri-Normal Meet

This spring, for the first time in the history of the school a souvenir program was published for the Tri-Normal Track and Tennis Meet. Jack Greaves and Gordon Leen edited the booklet while Lyle Summers acted as sales manager.

Cheney and Ellensburg Normals as well as the Bellingham Normal were well represented in this program from the school colors used as a cover design, on through the writeups and photographs.

Track and tennis team pictures, photographs of the three schools with accompanying writeups, score sheets, "The Dope," by Mr. Bond, records of past meets, were some of the features of the booklet. Humorous line engravings used throughout the thirty-six pages, served further to make the program one of interest to the students.

Blue Book

The Blue Book is a student's handbook which is prepared under student direction and published at student expense. It comes out at the beginning of the fall quarter and the information that it contains makes it an essential part of every student's school equipment.

The year's school calendar, various administrative officers and school committees, requirements of different kinds, the constitution of the associated students, yells and songs; these are some of the features of this worthwhile booklet which does much to acquaint the new student with school and also help the old students to better adjust themselves to the ways of the institution.

CAST FOR "R. U. R."

"R. U. R."

R. U. R. (Rossum's Universal Robots), a brilliant satire on our mechanized civilization, was presented by the Drama Club during the summer quarter of 1929. The following cast under the direction of Victor H. Hoppe did remarkable acting in the interpretation of this stirring play by Karel Capek:

DOMIN	Barney Chichester
HELENA GLORY	Carrie Tucker
SULLA	Maurine Lindh
MARIUS	Keith Rumery
DR. GALL	Angus Edwards
MR. FABRY	Gordon Broadbent
DR. HALLEMEIER	Wesley Hayes
MR. ALQUIST	William Radcliff
CONSUL BUSMAN	Lloyd Beckes
NANA	Helen Scudder
HELENA	Bertha Altose
PRIMUS	Charles Dewey
1ST ROBOT	Ben Crouch
2ND ROBOT	Leslie Sanford

CAST FOR "WHITEHEADED BOY"

"Whiteheaded Boy"

The winter presentation of the Drama Club was the "Whiteheaded Boy," a rollicking comedy of Irish home life. The story, dealing with the return of the prodigal son, Dennis, and the complications that follow is rich in humor and has as characters genuine, everyday people. These characters were ably portrayed by the following cast:

MRS. HEOGHEGAN	Chloris Fisher
GEORGE	Joe Wetherby
PETER	Karl Decker
KATE	Aileen Hurlburt
JANE	Helen Sullivan
BABY	Madeline Friese
DENNIS	Don Stickney
DONOUGH BROSNAN	John Rajala
JOHN DUFFY	Thad Ellis
DELIA	Maurine Lindh
HANNAH	Eunice Paulson
AUNT ELLEN	Mary McDonald

CAST FOR "THE YOUNGEST"

"The Youngest"

The presentation of "The Youngest," by the Dramatic Club, closed the dramatic season on May 22 and 23. This play is high comedy, the story of the youngest of a large upper class family who finally succeeds in his struggle for independence, against the raillery of his older brothers and sisters. The following cast took part in the play:

Charlotte Winslow	Jean Philippi
Mark Winslow	Lew Lovegren
Alan Martin	Charles Dewey
Martha (Muff) Winslow	Bernadine Brown
Richard Winslow	Tom Durham
Nancy Blake	Louise Griffin
Katie	Virginia Howell
Augusta Winslow Martin	Mrs. Du Bois
Oliver Winslow	Quentin Quick

CAST FOR "THE GIANT'S STAIR"

"The Giant's Stair"

"The Giant's Stair," a melodrama in one act by Wilbur Daniel Steele, was one of the two plays presented in assembly this year by members of the play production classes. The plot of the play concerns the efforts of Sheriff Bane to force either Mrs. Weatherburn or Til to confess to the murder of Mr. Weatherburn. However Bane, himself, confesses to the killing in the end of the play after a knock has been heard upon the door; all of them believing that the ghost of Weatherburn has returned.

Helen Sullivan directed the following cast in the production of this play:

Til Weatherburn	Virginia Turner
Mrs. Weatherburn	Mary McDonald
Sheriff Bane	Quentin Quick
Contoole, Prosecuting Attorney	Hugh Lovegren

NORMAL WOMEN'S CHORUS

Musical Artists Course

The past season of the Musical Artists Course has undoubtedly been one of the finest ever brought to Bellingham people and Normal students.

On December 11, the course opened with Ingaz Friedman, one of the most outstanding pianists of the day. He has so mastered technique that with him it is truly a means of expression and not an end in itself. His audience was held completely by his exquisite interpretation and the delicacy and color of his tones. Mr. Friedman will surely be long remembered.

Efrem Zimbalist, violinist, came on Monday evening, January 27. He plays superbly, giving utmost care to the most exquisite tone possibilities. His famous instrument, the Titian, in the hands of the master gives itself completely to his marvelous renderings. He is an artist who assuredly merits his rank as one of the world's finest violinists.

Closely following the virtuoso, on the night of January 29, came the Carleton Symphony Band, which is unique in being the only college symphonic band on tour. They played splendidly and in perfect unison, responding brilliantly to their enthusiastic reception by the audience.

The Smallman, a Cappella choir, on February 20, achieved an enormous success. The audience was quick to realize that they were witness to something not only novel and charming but also remarkable in the music realm. The huge choir sounded forth as a powerful organ, swelling from the delicate whispering of wind in trees to the mighty roll of a roaring ocean. To say that their voices were flawlessly blended falls far short of the mark. Their colorful costumes were an added appeal.

The brilliant American baritone, Lawrence Tibbet, was presented on February 27. He won his listeners immediately and completely. The artist gave his very soul and being to his performance and his music poured forth in a glorious flood of eloquence. The quality of his voice is fine, with a multitude of shadings and colorings always carrying in its force and beauty a thrill of robustness. His vigorous and winning personality left an impression that with many can never be erased.

As a fitting close to a splendid musical artists course, Mina Hager, mezzo-contralto, attained a really notable success. She chose a highly versatile and interesting program which brought out her extraordinary range of voice. She is not only an artist of much capability, but a dramatist of charming and captivating personality.

Assemblies

An astonishing number of both very worth while and highly enjoyable assembly programs have been presented to the student body in the past year, the greatest emphasis, as is customary, being placed upon the musical phase. During each quarter there has been, however, at least one so-called lecture course of most noteworthy merit. First in this group came Ellery Walters, who gave a highly entertaining account of his exciting adventures while touring the world on one leg. A most engaging personality, with a sparkling and ready wit, he found his audience to be enthusiastically responsive.

Next came Maurice Hindus, the well-known Russian writer and lecturer. An authority on conditions in his native country, he explained them, interspersing his talk with most intimate little glimpses of the people themselves. He was asked many questions at the end of his lecture which he answered gladly and capably.

Maud Sheerer in her recital of "dramatic recreations" was delightful. She was indeed a rare treat. Her personality is so vivid and her accomplishment and ability such that her characters live with a striking realness.

Bathie Stuart, if judgment can be based on applause, was one of the most successful speakers of the year. She gave an authoritative account of New Zealand, and portrayed, in costume, some of the native songs and dances in war and love.

The musical programs were many and almost uniformly excellent. Among the most outstanding are numbered George Hopkins, pianist, who is marked by critics as one of the most promising young artists before the public. The Portland Chamber Music String Quartet came to us with a music that is different. They were highly appreciated. The world-famous cellist, Cornelius Van Vliet, gave a brilliant and exquisitely lovely recital. August Werner, the baritone, won a splendid ovation from the audience. He has a glorious voice under perfect control.

There were many others whose lasting impression with their listeners is assured; for instance, Peter Meremblum, violinist, and the popular Gemma Paglieri, soprano, who sings Italian songs in costume. There were also several commendable recitals given by former and present students of the Normal and local artists.

Debate

Schoolwide interest in debate was manifested this fall when an unusually large number of students signed for preliminary try-outs. No special debate class was organized,—students contested independently and without regard to former experience. Those who were selected to represent the Normal School in interscholastic debates were: men's team—affirmative, Lyle Summers, Roger Reid, and Ray Craft; negative, John Thorp, Quentin Quick, and Charles Gerold; women's team—affirmative, Helen Fitzwater and Lois Thompson; negative, Louise Lillienthal, Eleanor Langworthy, and Alice Burke.

The system of debating used this year was the no decision, cross-examination type, which was introduced here last year. This system is ever increasing in popularity among the students.

The men of the school participated in six interscholastic debates. They debated the College of Puget Sound, Seattle Pacific College, Pacific Lutheran College, Weber College, Oregon State Normal, and the Freshman of the University of Washington. The women of the school debated with the College of Puget Sound, the Pacific Lutheran College, and the Seattle Pacific College.

The question for debate this year was: Resolved that the nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament excepting such forces as are necessary for police forces.

"Extempore Cup"

Extemporaneous Speaking

Public speaking has been recognized for many years as a most valuable phase of teacher-training. Extemporaneous oratory provides excellent practice and one of the best means of the development of this training. Miss Alma Madden, a former teacher of speech in this school, realizing the value that prospective teachers would gain if they were given an opportunity for such practice, founded the Extemporaneous Contest in 1926-27. It has since been a quarterly event. Any student in the school who is interested in this activity may select an approved topic on which to speak, and from all those turning out six are selected to speak before the assembly. The two speakers ranking highest among these have the right to compete in the finals during the spring quarter in which the two winners from each quarter take part. The honor of having his name engraved upon the silver loving cup which has been donated by the Board of Control, goes to the winner of the finals.

In the fall quarter Quentin Quick and Eleanor Langworthy were the successful candidates, their topics being, "President Hoover and World Peace," and "Peace and Civilization," respectively. Helen Fitzwater and Charles Gerold proved to be the winners during the winter quarter. Miss Fitzwater's topic was "The Defects of the Jury System," and Mr. Gerold's, "Is the London Conference Succeeding?" It has been evident that the contests are successful judged by the large number of students trying out the fall and winter quarters and by the enthusiasm shown by them. At the time this annual went to press the winners had not been chosen for either the spring quarter contest or for the finals.

The Extemporaneous has not only secured a new spirit for public speaking and debate but has also served indirectly to present current events and international problems to the student body.

Viking Pep Band

The first Pep Band of which Bellingham Normal has ever boasted was organized in the first of November, 1929, by Clarence Thue. At first it was merely a group of six or eight instrumentalists, most of them amateurs, who met once or twice a week to practice school pep songs and simple marches.

It grew rapidly, though, both in size and proficiency, and made its first public appearances at various of the more important football games. It played a prominent part in the celebration of Homecoming Day, November 16, when it supplied the music for the down-town parade, the bonfire, and the football game. At all these affairs Jack Musser acted as band director.

After the football season closed, the band was a fairly well organized musical unit. Its members had advanced in individual skill and were used to co-operating with each other. During the winter quarter the band presented four successful assembly programs, playing from standard orchestrations and from special arrangements scored by Clarence Thue. It was at this time that the band was at its best, and the assembly programs, with Clarence Thue acting as band leader and Jack Musser as master of ceremonies, were among the most popular of the year.

At the beginning of the spring quarter it was found that so many of the band members had withdrawn from school that it would be impossible to continue the band's activity. Accordingly, it was disbanded until next fall, when it will be re-organized if possible.

Edens Hall and Organized Houses

To those girls who lived in Edens Hall, the women's dormitory, some of the happiest memories of their school life have been formed by the associations and friendships they made there, and the parties and various goings-on in the dorm.

These same memories will bind together the girls who lived in the different organized houses. Each quarter it has been the custom to present two banners to these houses. One goes to that group of girls who have shown the highest scholarship and the other is awarded for the best achievement record. If a house wins either of these banners for three consecutive quarters, it remains with that house permanently.

The Pep Club was organized during the first part of the year through the efforts of a number of students who felt that there was a place for such a club in the life of the school. It has been the aim of this club to act as a pep generator for athletic contests and other school activities. In connection with this work the club members put on several interesting assemblies during the year.

Men's Athletics

With a coaching theory built upon a foundation of understudy work from some of the best coaches in the West, Sam E. Carver ably heads the men's physical education department and controls men's athletics at the Bellingham Normal. Coach Carver handles the first team squads of football, basketball, track, and tennis, besides instructing several coaching theory classes in the school.

As an assistant to Coach Carver, Royal Gunn, who has had several years of coaching and physical educational instruction to his credit, handles the second squads in football, basketball, and tennis, and acts as head coach in baseball.

Although the credit of selecting and training the men to represent the school in athletics is in the hands of the coaching staff, much credit for the successful organization and smooth progress of the men's physical education department is due to the athletic management headed by Edwin Hunnicutt and William Osborne, assisted by Dale Overfield and Louis Schaffer.

St. Martin's Game

Coming through with a 19-0 victory over the old football rival from St. Martin's College the Normal Vikings lead by Chuck Erickson showed a good exhibition of football on their home field in an early season game.

The scoring started in the first quarter by a touchdown and was repeated in the second and third quarters which were all gained by an attack of passes, punts, and line plunges. The Vikings threatened to score once more in the fourth quarter but failed when a pass over the goal line fell to the ground.

The St. Martin's Rangers showed no signs of scoring until the last quarter when they threatened twice. Once they hurled the ball over the goal line but it fell to the ground as did the one that the Vikings tried over their goal line during the same quarter. The second threat came from the Rangers when they broke away for a long run and gained by a fifteen yard penalty against the Vikings which put them within eight yards of the goal, where they were stopped by the Viking defensive line.

Cheney Game

With a touchdown in the first five minutes of play the Cheney Savages won their Homecoming game from the Viking visitors 7-0, which finished their scoring for the day, but put a band on the Bellingham squad that they could not throw off during the remainder of the four quarters of play.

The Savages put up a hard plunging game with a strong defensive line which was supported by Stannard, Cheney center, who was the outstanding defensive star of the game. With this combination the Cheney squad nearly took the Vikings into camp with two mere scores, but a strong rally seemed to always stop that oncoming line before they could score.

A different scene took place during the last quarter of the game and the Vikings took to the air, which almost brought home the victory. In fact they crossed the goal line once, but were called back because the ball carrier placed one foot out of bounds on the ten yard line. Twice the ball was hurled over the goal line by a Viking, but fell to the ground untouched.

Ellensburg Game

"Bellingham ball on their own 20-yard line with the final quarter almost over and the score is 0-0, but they'll punt out of danger—" What a feeling to a Viking rooter to see that punt blocked and the Vikings hold against a plunging Ellensburg line for two "downs" and then see a triple pass with a heavy wet ball that falls into the arms of a Wildcat across the goal line. "Coming-Home" to see a Viking squad battle through a football game with the old Wildcat rival from Ellensburg certainly must be a thrill, but more of a thrill when their Viking team ploughs through a cold field of mud and rain for four quarters never to give in even though the final score turns into an Ellensburg victory of 6-0.

This was Bellingham Normal's "Home-Coming" and final game of the season.

Super Varsity Game

The Normal's greatest defeat of the year was handed to them by the heavy University of Washington Super-varsity team on November 8th, when they came through with a 19-0 victory.

The Vikings showed their greatest ability during the second quarter, but the strong battering attack of an old experienced university machine proved too powerful for the lighter team.

Frosh Game

Although outclassed in weight the Vikings took an early lead on the University Frosh by making a touchdown in the first five minutes of the game on Waldo field, November 2nd.

The Vikings' fast attack could not be stopped by the heavy Frosh team and it was not until they also took to the air that they scored against the Normal squad.

Viking Basketball Resume

With the close of the football season, Coach Sam Carver and assistant Coach Royal Gunn immediately called for a turnout of all basketball material in school which was answered by thirty prospective basketball members. These aspirants were divided into two groups. The most outstanding and progressive were put in Class A while the less experienced and slower material was put in Class B. During the first part of January the best material of Class A was taken to make up the Varsity squad while the remaining players were divided into the Super Varsity and Junior Varsity squads which entered the city leagues.

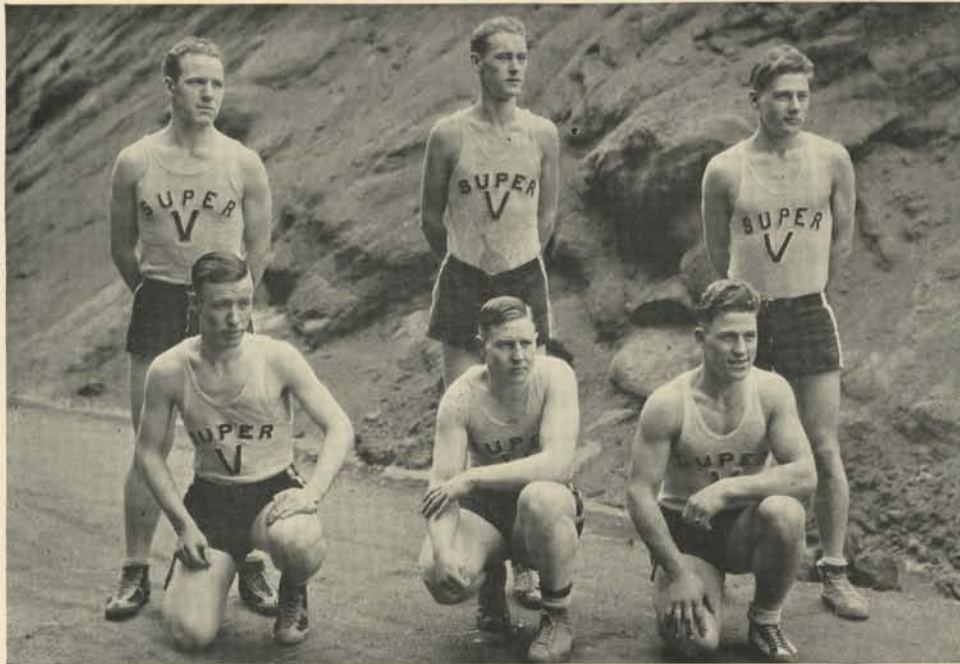

The Viking Varsity team won seven games and lost an equal amount. They placed second in the tri-Normal basketball league in which Ellensburg took first place.

On January 11, the Vikings opened their schedule by defeating St. Martin's 33-32, but the losers came back on their home floor February 22, and defeated the locals 30-27.

After two weeks the Viking squad left for a week's trip to the eastern part of the State where they lost two games to Ellensburg and one to Yakima Y. M. C. A., but defeated Cheney in two games, which was repeated again on February 3 and 4 in the Vikings own camp.

The Vikings won one game and lost one respectively to the U. of W. Frosh and were defeated twice more by the Ellensburg squad who proved to be the strongest team the Vikings encountered.

Super Varsity

With a continuous flow of victories until the latter part of the season the Normal Super Varsity finally had to accept third place in the City Class A League, losing only to the Marine Ways which placed first in the League and the Y. M. C. A. which placed second.

Varsity Track

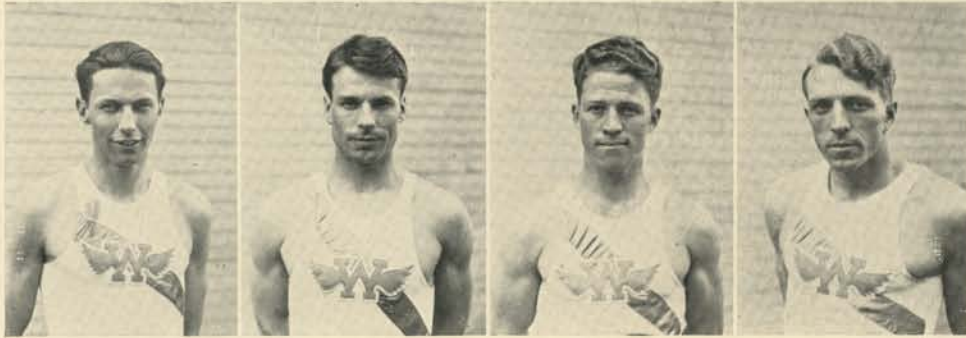

With but three lettermen back to form the foundation for a track team, Coach Carver faced the problem of patching up practically an entirely new squad of men to carry the blue during the season on the cinder path.

April 26 marked the date of the first meet of the season when Coach Carver took his Norsemen to Seattle to enter a dual meet with the U. of W. Frosh which was easily taken by the Frosh, as Normal took but three first places in the meet; those being the half-mile, two-mile, and pole vault. Again on May 3, the mile relay team journeyed to Seattle to take second place in the Class B event in which Cheney Normal took first place.

The next week saw the cards turn in favor of the Vikings when they easily walked away with a $78\frac{1}{3}$ to $51\frac{1}{3}$ victory from the College of Puget Sound at Tacoma and another victory the following week when they easily outpointed Ellensburg in a dual meet on Waldo field to the score of 88 to 42.

May 24 marked the climax of the track season as the Vikings acted host to the tri-Normal meet on Waldo field, which Cheney Normal won by a score of $64\frac{1}{3}$ to Bellingham's $58\frac{1}{3}$ with Ellensburg Normal lagging behind with $7\frac{1}{3}$ points. Although the weather was chilly and there was a strong wind, three tri-Normal records were broken. Pelly from Cheney broke the two-mile tape in 10:11.2, raising the record from 10:26. Oja, also of Cheney broke the discus record with a heave of 126 feet 11 inches. The other record was scored by Dixon of the Viking squad when he hopped 21 feet $\frac{1}{8}$ inch to raise the former broadjump mark of 21 feet.

Varsity Tennis

MT. VERNON JUNIOR COLLEGE

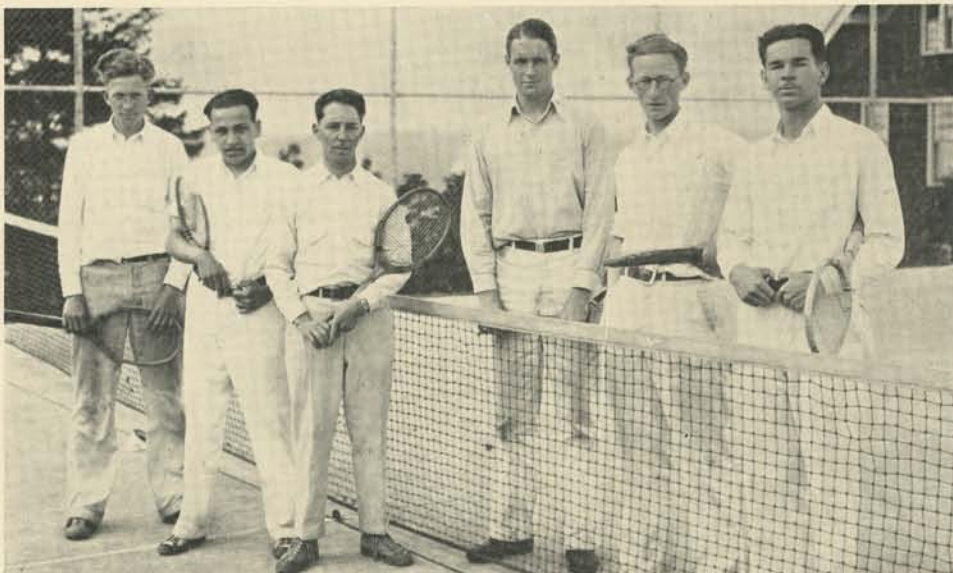

The Vikings opened their tennis schedule this season by winning four out of six matches from Mount Vernon Junior College on April 25. They took all four single matches in this contest while Mount Vernon won both of the double matches.

FROSH MEET

On May 2, the Normal squad journeyed to Seattle where they met the strong U. of W. Frosh squad which defeated the Vikings in all of the matches played and repeated the same victory on May 16, on the local courts.

TRI-NORMAL MEET

May 24 saw the Vikings defeat both Ellensburg and Cheney for the tri-Normal tennis trophy of the year. The Vikings were led by Jimmie Rork who won the first tri-Normal singles and joined with Emery to win a double match from both Ellensburg and Cheney.

Varsity Baseball

With the opening of the spring quarter, Coach Gunn started issuing equipment to the prospective Viking baseballers. As there were but four lettermen to return to uphold the blue on the baseball diamond, prospects for a good year looked rather poor during the early part of the season, but brightened up as practice progressed to a more matured stage as a good number of new men proved to be of a fair baseball calibre.

The Vikings opened their varsity schedule on May 3 by dropping a game to St. Martins College on Waldo field to the score of 5 to 2, but came back on May 10, to avenge that defeat by handing the St. Martins College nine the short end of a 3 to 2 score.

The second defeat was handed to the Viking squad by the College of Puget Sound, who exploded the bomb in the third inning and scored five times, but were soon stopped by a comeback from the Viking baseballers who gradually gained on their opponents until the last inning which decided the victory in the visitors' favor by a score of 10 to 8.

Rain, which so often hinders baseball practice and puts a stop to games, played its part with the Viking schedule and delayed the U. of W. Frosh from colliding with the Norsemen for a time, but when they did meet the victory went to the Frosh by a 8-0 score.

The final game of the year was played between the Norsemen and the College of Puget Sound in which the former walked away with a 14-0 score.

Women's Athletics

"A sport for every girl and every girl out for a sport," is the goal towards which those in charge of women's athletics worked this year. Directing the year's sport program were Miss Ruth Weythman, head of the women's physical education department, her two assistants, Miss Marjory Horton and Miss Mildred Jewell, who coached the various sports, and also Miss Lillian George who took charge of hiking.

To obtain the greatest efficiency in the turnouts, the girls are divided into intramural teams which play off a series of games. After the games have been played, determining the intramural champions, the class teams are selected from this group of girls. Those girls who throughout the sport season have shown themselves to be outstanding in skill, accuracy, and sportsmanship are given places on the all star team.

The highest award that can be earned by a girl is a sweater, which becomes hers after she has made five first teams. Girls who received this high honor at the end of the fall and winter quarters were: Marjorie Conventon, Alice Babcock, Joyce Arnold, Louisette Bergeron, Bernice Johnson, Beatrice Johnson and Helen McNeill.

Viqueen Lodge, on Sinclair Island, is the scene of many happy times. The girls of the Women's Athletic Association are proud to be the owners of such a site. Work is the by-word of the girls who go there now, but it is with a spirit of fun that they are making the lodge a place for many enjoyable times.

To make the dreams of Viqueen Lodge come true, the girls have entered into many activities to earn money. The W. A. A. sponsored Tony Sarg's Marionettes, and also gave several special recreational hours and a dance.

Due credit for the successful year of the Women's Athletic Association is given Ruth Sammons, president, and her helpers. Play Day at the University of Washington on May 3, a dance given for the Cheney basketball players, and the banquets given at the end of each quarter, have left memories of most enjoyable times with every girl.

Soccer

Vim, vigor and vitality are necessary in turning out for a game like soccer—in which there are many collisions and traffic jams. In spite of these collisions and traffic jams, soccer was the most popular out-of-door sport of the season.

Variety of weather for our sports is an interesting feature. Our soccer championship game was played amid snow and ice. No boundaries were visible—our imaginations had to be our guides. In spite of the adverse weather conditions the Sophomores became the victors by making that one point which is so vital.

Interest for the final class games was enlivened by the thrilling intramural games which were no end of fun.

Hockey

Hockey-one, hockey-two, hockey-three and off they go like a flash, dribbling and passing down the field for a goal. Hockey is a sport for speed and quick thinking. Every girl is on her toes from the second the whistle is blown until the end of the game.

The interclass games were games not to be forgotten soon. The Froshs and Sophs each had a game to their credit, and the championship was still in need of an owner. The deciding game was played one noon—the rain was coming down in torrents, but the girls were willing to play in any kind of weather.

The end of the game showed the Sophomores victorious by a 7-0 score and the Freshmen a little downhearted but true sports.

The hockey all star team was formed by Sigrid Wiberg, Florence Goodman, Alice Babcock, Helen McNeill, Bernice Gnagey, Ann Swansen, Raynhild Bendixen, Sarah Sharpes, and Adriana Vander Griend.

Basketball

The trill of the whistle is heard—every girl is keyed up to the highest pitch and ready to fight for victory—such is the setting for the fascinating game of basketball.

Six different teams made up the intramural league composed of organized houses and clubs. The Outside Girls were the victors of the league. Miss Mildred Jewell and Miss Margery Horton coached the sport and Helen Williams acted as manager.

The Sophomores, backed by the stellar playing of Kathryn Graham and Sue McMillin at the center, won the class championship. The Frosh were no easy competitors with Sigrid Wiberg and Charmaine Whally as star hoopsters.

The all-star team for basketball was composed of: Sigrid Wiberg and Charmaine Whally, forwards; Kathryn Graham and Sue McMillin, centers; and Irene Marz and Wera Waham, guards.

Volleyball

Although the volleyball turnouts were not as large as those for other sports, the girls who turned out were enthusiastic and peppy.

The tournament was won by the Freshmen team. Mariette Bergeron was the able manager of the sport.

The volleyball champions of both classes were: Janet Dodson, Dorothy Reed, Gay Smith, Evelyn Watt, Eunice Paulson, Ruth Sammons, and Mariette Bergeron.

Badminton

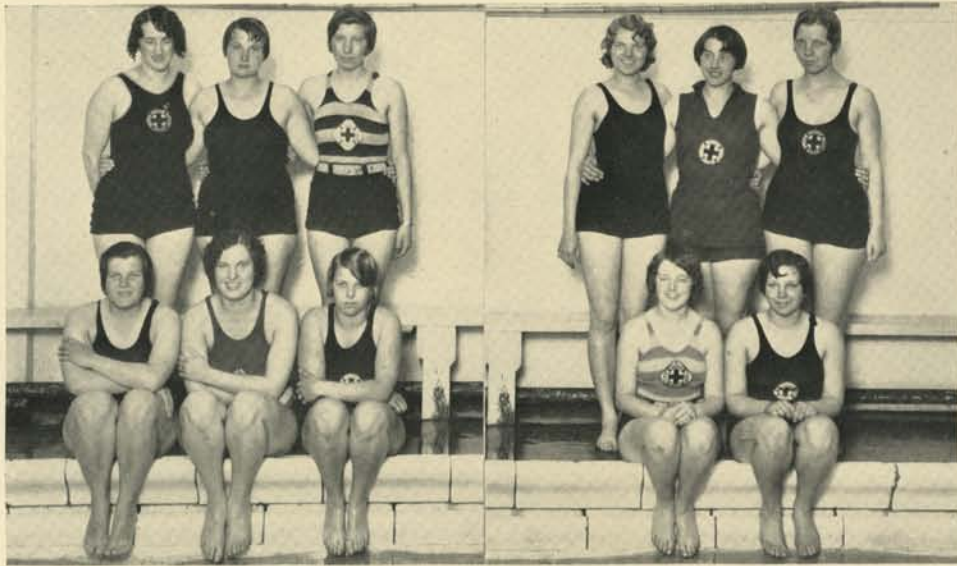

Badminton has ranked high on this year's athletic program as a fast and interesting game to both players and spectators.

The singles championship went to the Freshmen, while the Sophomore team won the doubles championship. Bernice Johnson was the efficient manager of the sport.

Ray Bendixen, Marjorie Coventon, and Bernice Johnson, were awarded places on the all-star team.

Good form and speed in swimming and correct methods of life saving were learned by the girls who turned out for swimming under Miss Margery Horton.

The Frosh team won the championship after some strong competition from the Sophomores.

Serve-Us Ball

Although competition between the Sophomore and Freshmen teams was not as strong as in some of the other sports, the serve-us ball games were of decided interest to the participants.

The championship went to the Sophomore team.

Baseball

Large baseball turnouts, coached by Miss Mildred Jewell, were held every Tuesday and Thursday during the spring quarter. The four intramural teams gave some keen competition and made the spirit of rivalry run high.

After the intramural tournament was played off the class teams were chosen from those who had turned out.

Speedball

Although a comparatively new sport, speedball has won much favor among the girl athletes. It is a combination of basketball and soccer and may easily be called girls' football.

Under the coaching of Miss Margery Horton and management of Florence Goodman, the speedball season was very successful.

Tennis gained much attention from the girls this year. The courts were constantly full of players practicing their serves, drives, and trick plays.

The matches were played off by means of a ladder tournament. Miss Mergery Horton coached the sport for which the teams were chosen from those highest on the ladder.

Archery

A new version of Greenwood Forest and several feminine Robin Hoods, were to be seen back of the grandstand every Monday and Wednesday night during spring quarter. The girls turning out became archers of note under the coaching of Miss Mildred Jewell.

The teams were chosen from those highest on the ladder.

Training School

FOURTH GRADE READING HOUR IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Training School

The training school, in which the newest and best in educational methods are exhibited daily in the classrooms, affords the students of this institution an opportunity to acquire a practical knowledge of teaching.

The school is made up of a kindergarten and eight grades, each of which is under the direction of a skillful teacher, a specialist in her line. Here students see the educational theories of today worked out in actual class room situations.

SECOND GRADE AT WORK IN THEIR GARDEN

FIFTH GRADE SCIENCE LESSON

Many interesting projects are carried out in connection with the school work of the children. The care of a garden by the lower grades has given many worthwhile experiences to this group of children. Here they have watched the growth of their flowers and vegetables, cultivated them, and have done some work with the preparation of the vegetables for eating.

The building of a post office by the second grade to be actually used by them, the making of a city representing Bellingham by the kindergarten, and the construction of a castle by the sixth graders out of the actual materials used in such a process, are typical of the activities carried on in the various rooms.

EIGHTH GRADE BOYS DO SOME COOKING

THE CITY OF BELLINGHAM AS CONSTRUCTED BY THE PRE-PRIMARY

Nature study becomes a living subject to these children through many out-of-door trips where they see the things that they discuss. The Science Department cooperates with the training department and, as a result, the children have the advantage of very worthwhile experiences in the scientific field.

Twice yearly the eighth graders publish the Junior Viking. It contains original poems and stories, pictures, and records of the activities of the various grades. This publication gives valuable experience to those responsible for it and works as an incentive for the children of all grades in their language work.

EIGHTH GRADE STUDY PERIOD

SIXTH GRADE ACTIVITY PERIOD

The assemblies held every Friday morning form an important part of the training school life. The programs for these assemblies are not artificially arranged for an audience, but come as an outgrowth of the regular activities of the children. Each grade puts on one assembly during the quarter.

GYM PERIOD FOR THE THIRD GRADE

SEVENTH GRADE CURRENT EVENT SESSION

The dramatization of "The Courtship of Miles Standish," a program of ballads, including the playing, reading, and singing of many of them, an hour of song with contributions from all of the grades, and a program in which the actual outdoor play of the children was represented in rhythm work, are some of the interesting assembly features during this last year.
