Foreword

In the autumn of 1899 "Bellingham Normal" first opened its doors Since then quarters and years have passed by Students have slipped in and out again Dreams have been cherished and realized Buildings have been hoped for and erected Difficulties have been confronted and surmounted Successes have been sought and won Joys have been formed and crystallized In an anniversary mood — imbued with the spirit of these forty scintillating years — has the 1939 Klipsun been planned.

DEDICATION

To one who has had all-encompassing vision for future needs and present opportunities . . . who, through persistent and careful effort, has built up the "library" within the edifice . . . who has sought breadth of thinking and living, and found culture . . . to one who frankly and unflinchingly expresses her views . . . who can discuss issues in deadly earnest, and exchange sallies with no slow wit . . . who can still find time to laugh and be gracious . . . to WWC's head librarian, Miss Mabel Zoe Wilson, is the 1939 Klipsun dedicated.

- Progress . . . from a modest nucleus in a setting of natural beauty,
- shaping the lives, and shaped by the lives of our predecessors who worked earnestly and well,
- changing, as the students and the setting changed, only in superficial dress and design, in buildings and landscaping,
- sustained by the calm firmness of an enduring spirit which, unchanged, touches all who enter these halls and classrooms.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Although this College was born at the close of the nineteenth century, it is really a product of the twentieth century.

Ten years after the territory of Washington became a state, a State Normal School was opened for students at New Whatcom, now Bellingham. In the beginning a high school course had to be offered to prepare students for a two-year course that led to a teacher's certificate. Much of this two-year course for teachers was on a high school level.

From these beginnings, extending over a period of forty years, the normal school has evolved into a four-year college that grants a bachelor's degree and offers a teacher's certificate for not less than three years of college work.

During these forty years the College has gone forward step by step with the development of the state which it serves, and it has also kept in the front rank of educational institutions that prepare teachers throughout the United States.

C. H. FISHER, President

FLORENCE JOHNSON

W. J. MARQUIS

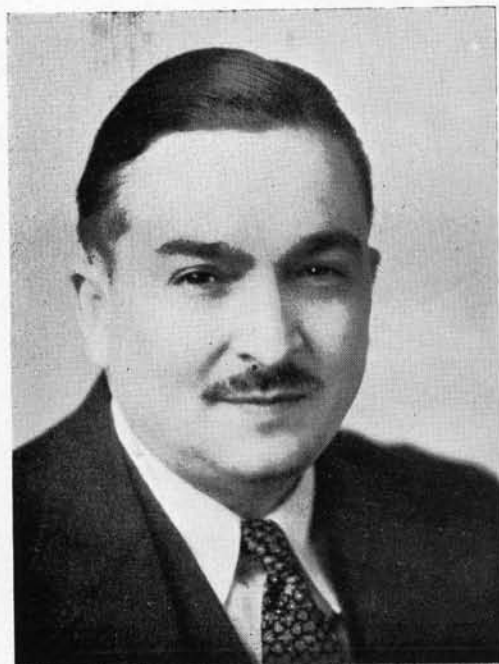

THE DEANS SAY . . .

This year marks two important historical milestones for this college: the fortieth anniversary of its founding and sixteen years of distinguished leadership by President Fisher. These important anniversaries make a fitting occasion to commemorate achievement. They also present a timely opportunity to act for building a fine college.

To our girl students, perhaps the most significant symbol of the progressive spirit and change from the traditional Normal to College is the increased enrollment of men. A continuation of the growth will make for a more versatile social program.

We are aware of much tangible progress over the years. Would this not be an opportune time for each of us to take stock of our education and the education we are offering? Is it making for a critical attitude on our part? Do we have a habitual use of scientific procedure? Does our education furnish us with broad interests as well as a definite, dominant interest? Does it help us to have confidence in ourselves? Can we profit by valid criticism irrespective of the source?

Each one must judge for himself.

M. S. KUDER

REGISTRAR'S MESSAGE

"Life begins at forty!" Don't you believe it! Life begins at the beginning and goes on past forty without pause for breath. A moment for retrospection? Well, only a moment. Progress is a matter of looking forward, not backward. Bigger and better: increased enrollment, new buildings, winning teams! Excellent but superficial—not "progress" except by adolescent standards.

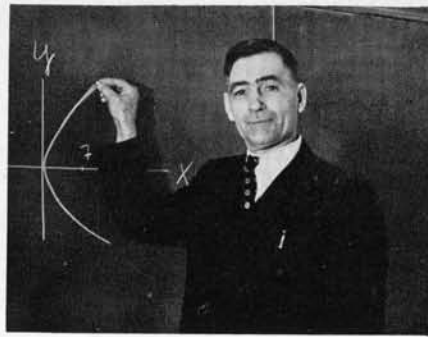

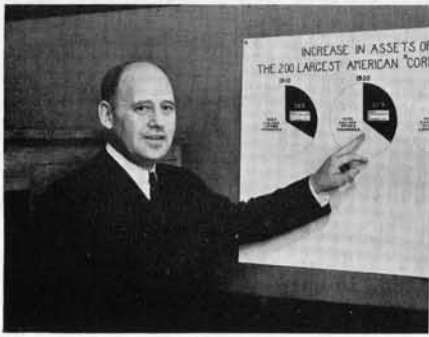

A young college in a young country under a leader with vision has been brought to maturity—maturity measured not by years but by other criteria:

A keener-minded, more discriminative student body with a taste for shouldering responsibility, not dodging it.

A faculty that sees its job in terms of successfully adjusted graduates, not subject matter momentarily mastered.

A pointing up of achievable ideals in terms of social advancement—not fruitless compromise.

These are the real measures of progress.

Library Personnel

Embodying the ideals of beauty and utility, WWC's attractive library ranks high among the best school libraries in the United States. The institution contains more volumes than ninety per cent of the accredited teachers' college in the country, reports the American Association of Teachers College.

In December, 1938, the library received a $9,000.00 grant from the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The money is available for new books at the rate of $3,000.00 annually for three years.

Twenty-nine teachers colleges in the United States were granted funds amounting to a total of $180,000.00; the minimum amount of any grant being $3,000.00. Western Washington College was the only teachers college west of the Rockies to receive a grant.

In the library, where all the heroes of history are found, Miss Mabel Zoe Wilson, head librarian, is responsible for the outstanding prestige enjoyed by WWC's library. Each winter quarter she teaches a class in Library Techniques. Mr. Charles Butler, who joined the staff in September, 1938, occupies the position of reference librarian. Miss Pearl Reese is secretary of the library and supervisor of the reserve book room. Miss Miriam Snow, in charge of the library of children's literature, is also instructor in the children's literature and library courses. Miss Lillian George is cataloguer for the library.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

● Organizing the first official senior class of Western Washington College, the fifty or more degree students held their first class meeting early in the winter quarter. . . . Election of officers and formulation of plans for the remainder of the year were listed on the docket of this, their initial get-together. . . . In their final weeks on the campus the graduating class participated in the activities of . . . Class Day . . . Baccalaureate . . . Alumni Banquet . . . and an impressive Commencement which closed their college careers . . .

● . . . A challenging force on the board of control, Miss Charlotte Richardson, elected faculty advisor, was deeply interested in the activities and the future of the new class.

● . . . Center and captain of the basketball team for the second consecutive year, Harold Nelson demonstrated his executive ability as president of the senior class.

● . . . "Service with a smile" co-op sales clerk, Catherine Christy, also candidate for Homecoming queen, was chosen vice-president.

● . . . Echo Oxford, energetic Valkyrie and happy, snappy songster, efficiently and promptly discharged the duties of secretary.

The tracery of slim branches crusted with brittle cold . . . the sweeping grace of windows masked with white . . . Then as suddenly as it had come, the spell was lifted, the water stood on walks, drab in contrast to the vanished mantle of white.

Scenes of crystalline beauty . . . Altering the familiar surroundings and investing trees and buildings alike with hoary dignity . . . Briefly the finger of Winter touched the campus, making these changes with chill wizardry.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

- Marking the final year of college life for the majority of these third year students, the Juniors took their place in campus affairs with . . . a class party sponsored jointly with the seniors . . . a very successful costumed "Song Dance" held winter quarter . . . capable assistants to the seniors in plans for graduation.

- . . . . A Shakesperean drama enthusiast, Dale Courtney, one of the mainstays of the Board of Control and a capable leader, served as president.

- . . . . Small but dynamic Phyllis McNamee, prominent in school activities, occupied the position of vice-president.

- . . . . With ready wit and humor, quizzical and shrewd comp. prof., Dr. M. F. Cederstrom, the class's favorite advisor since freshman days, continued in that capacity.

- . . . . Sunny dispositioned and brunette, Bertha Hall executed her secretarial duties with the same zeal that characterized her production of the hilarious Homecoming assembly.

● Sophomores of 1939 are not without honors . . . they have played roles of influence and striking responsibility . . . To their class belong both the editor and business manager of the WW Collegian, who also edited and financed the Homecoming Booklet . . . this year's Homecoming Chairman . . . two members of the Board of Control . . . four members on the 1939 Klipsun Staff . . . Socially, they entertained with a Spring Informal, a new undertaking for underclassmen at WWC.

● . . . Dorothy Schaus, known among other things for her scholastic achievements, kept the minutes.

● . . . Dr. Arthur C. Hicks, enthusiastic and encouraging president of the Bellingham Theatre Guild, found time in his overcrowded schedule to be the class's Faculty adviser.

● . . . Jean Morgan, quiet Edens Hall girl, was chosen vice-president.

● . . . Michael Baker, well-known member of the Inter-Club Council, was the class leader.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

● Freshmen indicated to their fellow collegians early in the year that they were well able to hold their special place in college life by first reestablishing the class tradition with a very successful defense of their bonfire on the eve of Homecoming—a precedent temporarily broken by last year's freshmen . . . Winter quarter they acted as hosts and hostesses to the University of Washington Naval R.O.T.C., specially invited guests, at the freshmen party . . . When two of the fall quarter officers didn't return to school Al Biggs was selected for vice-president and Jacqueline Griffith completed the secretarial term.

● . . . Dorothy Gannon, with her disarming smile and elfin sense of humor, acted as secretary.

● . . . Charles Kilbourne, Collegian columnist, was the energetic class president.

● . . . Mr. L. A. McGee, young physical educational instructor and coach, was chosen class adviser by the new class.

● . . . Thomas Cross, blonde headed neophyte, served as vice-president.

A. S. B. BOARD

The elimination last spring by popular vote of the "Lame Duck" terms permitted the august body governing the various activities of the Associated Students to hold its initial meeting of the present school year with the prospect in view for once of having the same officers leading continuously from fall through summer . . . They allotted all funds for the fun fests including quarterly mixers, rec hours, Homecoming, Campus Day . . . They purchased a much needed sound system and modern wicker furniture for use at school functions . . . borrowed voting machines to effect a more efficient tabulation of student opinion . . . Made numerous appointments . . . Rectified gross errors.

- . . . Ralph Neil, progressive, diplomatic, was rightfully the presiding officer.
 - . . . Wayne Weber, smiling, unassuming track star, proved an able vice-president.
- . . . A more diligent and officious Board would be hard to find.

1939 KLIPSUN

The 1939 Klipsun with its 40th anniversary edition is a fitting climax to the earnest effort expended on the part of the small but efficient staff to give to students a permanent record of the activities of their college . . . Klipsun Staff gave its annual barn dance, a hilarious frolic in the big gym . . . submitted a list of outstanding students to a faculty committee who in turn chose the Big Ten . . . managed the popularity contest . . . They were twice royally banqueted at downtown hotels . . . Bob White, veteran writer, was added to the staff spring quarter . . . For the first time in the history of the annual, pins were awarded members in good standing.

- Frances Daley, fun loving director, librarian, lobbied for her hobby.
- Clarence Soukup, former college weekly editor, disbursed and collected.
- All in all, not bad . . . we hope.

W. W. COLLEGIAN

The new vivacious spirit pervading the hearts of the lads and lassies attending WWC ran rampant, taking the hard working staff of the college weekly by storm . . . An effervescent promulgation, they were, literally and figuratively, the youngest staff in a decade . . . The first woman sports editor was appointed this quarter . . . Thursday afternoon radio broadcasts were a new feature . . . Collegians instigated and sponsored the Schussken Ski Club . . . They nearly had a riot on their hands with the "Life" cover on the Homecoming booklet . . . a satirical April Fool issue on Hearst the American and a special Campus Day Extra were two divergents from commonplace.

- Evan Hill, the crusading editor, dictated the policy and principles.
- Bill Ridder, business manager personified, adeptly financed the weekly.
- Truly a banner paper with a modernistic college name.

W CLUB

Top row: Carver, adviser; Weber, vice-president; Nelson, president; Holtzheimer, Tesreau, Bever, Cook, J. Moses, Fox, Popovic, W. Weber, Ellis, (not in picture D. Bell, secretary)

"W" Club is an association whose membership is limited to those men who have proven their merit in certain designated major sports which include football, basketball, track, tennis and golf, and who are entitled therefore to wear the big W . . . The club aims to keep athletics at a high level . . . It gives an annual dance that is a feature of the spring social whirl.

If you want to be fashionable, join the gangling green freshman as he follows the upper-classmen into the Women's League Lounge on Thursday afternoon for a spot of tea delightfully served . . . And this weekly treat is but a very small part of the comings and goings of the Associated Women Students . . . At a glance . . . usherettes . . . informals . . . kid parties . . . and fall and spring fashion shows . . . to mention a few major activities.

W. A. A.

W. A. A., one of the strongest organizations on the campus, practically doubled its membership this year . . . Starred events began fall quarter with the play day for freshmen women as part of the Freshman Week program . . . a one-day trip on Dr. Erb's boat to the Viqueen Lodge on Sinclair Island . . . Winter quarter . . . a carnival for the entire student body . . . a ski trip to Mount Baker . . . card party, an informal gathering for members with Chinese checkers, bridge, and pinochle . . . Spring quarter . . . annual playday for Whatcom County high school girls . . . a festival of swimming and folk dancing given by the Blue Barnacles and Folk Dancing Club, for the entire student body . . . a week-end boat trip to Sinclair . . . a salmon bake . . . W. A. A.'ers sponsored mixed recreation every Thursday night during the year . . . Fencing, a new sport on this campus, was introduced . . . New clubs organized under the auspices of the W. A. A. were badminton, golf, folk dancing, and riding.

Top row: Fuller, Jenkins, Backer, Fox, G. Adams, Rowlen, Lindgren, Frank, Prouse, I. Anderson, Hubert, Kisch, Jo Jeffers, Hilsenberg, Jones, Benson, Beyer, Buizer, B. Hall, Turner, Allert, Kaufman, Beaty, Burtenshaw, A. Feldt, B. Hart, J. Christopher, Bullock, V. Crossett, Patmore

ALKISIAH

With modern drama in all its phases as the year's theme, Alkisiah attended a Theatre Guild play en masse fall quarter . . . Socially they entertained with a Christmas party . . . winter quarter they held a Valentine Banquet in the Rose room of the Hotel Leopold . . . In May they presented a group of one-act plays in the Blue room for members and friends . . . Another outstanding event of spring quarter was the club cruise . . . Late in May an Installation tea was given by the retiring officers . . . Affiliation with the State Federation of Women's Clubs was a major advancement.

BLUE TRIANGLE

For the first time in its history, Blue Triangle, affiliate of national Y.W.C.A., had club emblems—triangular, white, silk scarfs with a blue insignia . . . Formal initiation was introduced into club practice . . . Most outstanding of club service for others was their work with a group of poor children in a play period at the Y.W.C.A. on Saturday afternoons . . . With Seabeck summer youth conference as their goal, they sold pom-poms at the Homecoming football game, and gave an old-time silent movie, "Ella Cinders," spring quarter to raise money to send delegates.

Eaton, Oxford, Dickinson, Bundt, McNamee, Carver, (M. Meyers, not in picture, Treasurer).

Y. W. C. A.

In order to promote Christian fellowship among young women of the campus, the Y. W. C. A. met every Thursday afternoon for song and Bible study at 4:00 P. M. . . . The Association met at the Firs with young groups from other colleges in the University Christian Conference, fall and spring quarters . . . Winter quarter the Y. W. C. A. promoted their own Bible Institute, with an open invitation to all students on the campus.

VALKYRIE

"Enthusiasm" is the password to Valkyrie club members; womanliness, one of their ideals . . . Fall quarter these young women supported the college en masse at football games, sponsored a football pep assembly, sold chrysanthemums for the Homecoming football game, entered the Homecoming window display contest . . . Winter quarter found them all sitting together in the cheer section on basketball sidelines . . . Spring quarter they entertained with a sports dance and a boat cruise.

INTERCLUB COUNCIL

A Czar over all club dances and programs . . . The "Will Hays" of College Clubs . . . Made up of representatives of each and every club on the campus . . . They do their censor job expertly and smartly . . . He who dares trespass, let him beware . . . For by his folly, he may undo the good work of others.

SCHOLARSHIP

A distinguished gold scholar's emblem is proudly worn by the members of the WWC Scholarship Society as a token of their high grade point average of not less than 3:5 for three quarters . . . Colossal initiation banquets are held quarterly . . . Summer picnics welcome graduated members back to summer school . . . the cerebrum est le roi!!!

VANADIS BRAGI

The primary purpose of this active student group is to encourage and stimulate an interest in literature and creative writing . . . Its meetings captivate the minds of the members for the vivid interpretations in discussions of the poetry, drama, and novels of various countries and schools of writers.

SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY

VANADIS BRAGI

ORGANIZED HOUSES

ORGANIZED HOUSES

Flowers to Organized House Officers . . . let's make it American Beauty Roses . . . for they surely deserve the laurels . . . They were the motivating force behind the distinctive house displays for homecoming . . . They insure proper conditions for efficient study . . . healthful recreation . . . and a joyous social life.

MUSIC EDUCATION

By uniting the students who have a common objective in the development and furtherance of all musical aptitudes and professional growth, the Music Education Club is fulfilling its destiny . . . Highlighting a busy year, a number of the members attended a special Music Educator's Conference at Tacoma this spring.

SCEPTER AND SHIELD

The Scepter and Shield is an effective aid to leadership . . . Their lectures and discussions are of vital interest to those girls who are to become guardians of future Girl Scout or Campfire Groups . . . They sponsor enjoyable hikes and participate in many other outdoor activities . . . quite a likeable bunch.

MUSIC EDUCATION

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Fathered by the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace, the IRC Club belongs to a large and interesting family . . . Their contacts are world wide . . . They receive authentic news of international significance long before the average reader . . . Their private library of political science books is adequate and new . . . Each spring the IRC Clubs of Colleges in Washington, Oregon, and Idaho get together for round table discussions.

SCHUSSKEN

Slalom — Telemark — Sitzmark — Christiana . . . Lovers of the Pacific Northwest . . . The Schussken Ski Club tangibly came to life last fall at WWC . . . It sponsored a multiple of happy treks to Mt. Baker thruout the winter . . . Produced a very enjoyable ski movie at a regular assembly . . . And, beautifully, swiftly, smoothly, these native born sons of Washington carried the colorful Schussken standard from the slides of Heather Meadows on Mt. Baker to the slopes of Paradise Valley on Mt. Rainier.

SCHUSSKEN

Edens Hall upheld their traditions in an interesting manner . . . Fall quarter: The Inferno, a dormitory dance; Christmas caroling; a Christmas breakfast, and the Christmas Tea . . . Winter quarter: A Nazi pajama party and a dinner dance . . . Spring quarter: "Insanity Fair," pajama party, May Day breakfast, and Senior breakfast, in honor of the graduates . . . Edens Hall well becomes a home away from home for College girls.

NORSEMEN

The Norsemen's Club, new men's unit, was organized last fall to promote better school spirit. Their keynote is service; their aim: to build a men's organization which can take its rightful place at WWC beside the Associated Women Students . . . In conjunction with the Valkyrie Club, the Norsemen sponsored and supported a joint pep-and-card section at every football game . . . A Norsemen's Informal was a winter quarter feature.

Celebrating the fortieth anniversary of W.W.C. the Band presented its first annual concert under the direction of Donald Bushell in the auditorium . . . In the Memorial Day assembly the 32-piece band included in its repertoire such numbers as Prelude by Beghon, Mascarade Suite by La Come and several concert marches. Larrabee State Park was the setting for an outside concert in spring quarter

The trim, blue and white military uniforms and the impressive music of the band lent color to six civic parades during the year

The popular bandsmen's informal held at the Bellingham Golf and Country Club marked a red letter date on the social calendar

After serving as an inspiration for the untied, undefeated football team the band played for twelve home games of basketball . . . This extensive and varied program gives to the band the first place in the number of extra-curricular activities above any other organization on the campus.

The Orchestra assisted by Dr. Arthur I. Hicks, piano soloist, presented an assembly concert fall quarter. Among other numbers Lyric Suite by Greig was featured

Whitney Tustin, Oboist, and Donald Bushell, 'Cellist rendered solos with the Orchestra in a winter quarter in the Auditorium

The annual Concerto Recital presented by Edith R. Strange and the orchestra on May 26, featured the following students: Vivian McGrath, Violin, Thera Strang, Piano, and Pauline Ebeling, Piano

Finishing an eventful year the 38-piece orchestra played for the Commencement exercise of the College. Schubert's immortal Rosamonde Overture was in the Repertoire. Under the direction of Nils Boson the A Cappella Choir started its second successful year with only six of last year's members

In a Christmas Carol Service given in the library, Arlene Foster, soprano, and Boyd Swanson, baritone, were soloists. Instilling the Christmas spirit the Choir sang a program of ancient Christmas Carols with color and beauty

On April first the Choir motored to Tacoma where they took part in the College Choir Festival held in connection with the Music Educators Conference

The program for the spring quarter assembly given by the Choir included the following numbers: the Cherubim Song by Tschaiakowsky, Ave Maria by Rachmaninoff, and the Gypsy Dance by Zolotariess. Ernest Featherkile, baritone was a soloist

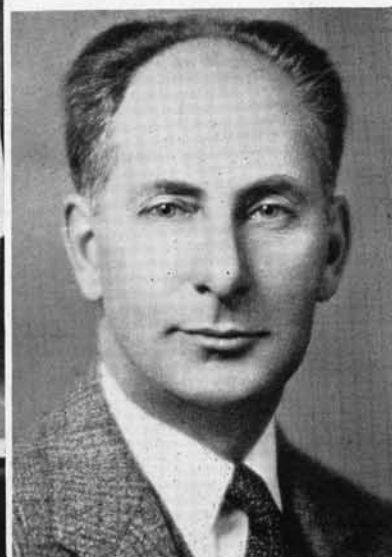

For their last appearance of the year the Choir sang at the Baccalaureate service held by the graduating class.

EVENING HIGHLIGHTS

Informals with beautiful girls and strong flustered men . . . in the enchanting atmosphere of the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Leopold, in exclusive Bellingham Golf and Country Club, in Eden's Hall, all with the rippling rhythm of Jay Curtis and his orchestra . . . Formals, programs, tuxes, corsages and bowls of honey dew punch were in order . . . Popular sponsors included — Woman's League, Bandsmen, Eden's Hall, and the Norsemen's club. . . .

Rec hours with sport dances and collegiate steps were danced away . . . to the strains of popular orchestras and the recordings of Benny Goodman, Kay Kaiser, and Guy Lombardo . . . The Sophomore Football mixer, the Ski Club's "Snowball," and the hilarious Klipsun barn dance were outstanding. . . Hosts for pleasant and refreshing social hours for all were Eden's Hall Christmas Tea, the every Thursday Associated Women Students' Tea, and the faculty reception are memorable . . . Artists who performed on the program were: J. R. Williams, Violinist; Donald Bushell, 'Cellist; Nils Boson, Pianist; Miss Frieda Williams, Soprano, and Mrs. C. H. Fisher, 'Cellist. . . . The compositions of Mrs. C. H. Fisher found favor with the audiences. . . .

ASSEMBLIES---TEAS

Cosmopolitan speakers, world renowned personalities, and artists brought the cultural and political world of today to our stage . . . all-American football hero and Olympic Games star, Jim Thorpe, related his experiences in sports . . . angelic melodies by Ruth Lorraine Close, Concert Harpist . . . distinguished vocales by the Welsh Imperial Singers . . . rich folk lore of old Germany in the Lieder songs of Ernest Wolff, Baritone . . . masculine versatility and rhythm of the dance by Ted Shawn and his male troupe. . . . Through the courtesy of the Civic Music Association such artists as the Seattle Symphony, the Ballet Russe, Millstein, Violinist, and John Gurney, Baritone, were presented.

POPULAR

- RUTH MARTINSON . . . Ruth was chosen as the most popular woman student for 1938-39, a well-deserved honor . . . This year's prexy of WAA, she is an ardent sportswoman with interests ranging from skiing to archery . . . A keen sense of humor and a sane philosophy characterize this very representative student of WWC.

- JOE MOSES . . . Little Joe, chosen as the most popular man on the campus, has added color to the WWC basketball squad for two seasons. A genial personality, Joe has won high regard from his fellow students, not only on the basketball floor, but in all phases of school life at WWC.

SMART

● CLAYTON KNITTEL . . . Music, books, softball and tennis are a few of the interests in the life of this president of the Scholarship Society . . . Clayton is known for his excellent work as drum major of the WWC band and his virtuosity on the clarinet, as well as for his top rank in scholarship.

● PAT GREEN . . . Scholastically superior, and able in all matters executive, Pat has established a record attained by few students . . . Her interests are varied, ranging from boats of all kinds to dogs of all kinds . . . Past president of the Scholarship Society, Pat is interested in people, in culture, and in living.

RALPH NEIL

MARGARET SCHOLD

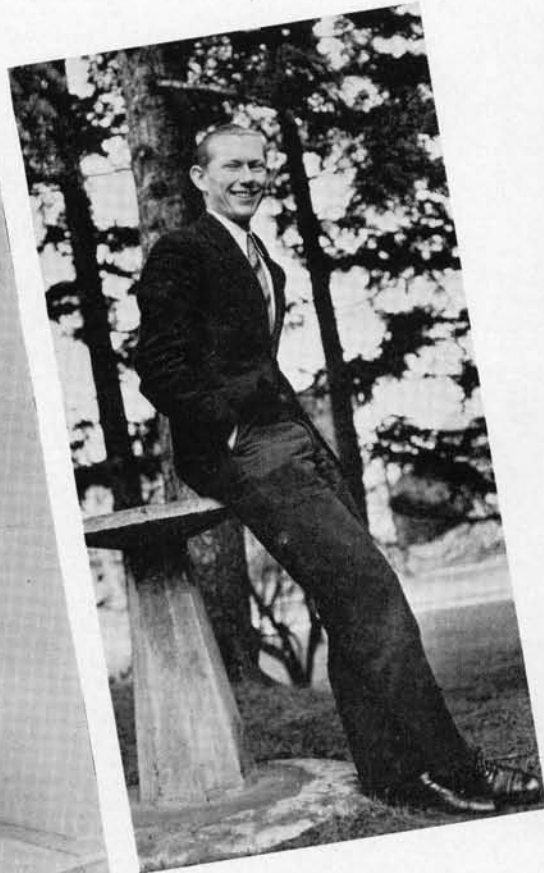

- RALPH NEIL... 1939 student prexy, Bud has held many executive positions, including Board of Control representative and chairmanship of Campus Day.
- MARGARET SCHOLD... Margaret, blond and brown-eyed, is better known to students as Aljean... She has been a motivating force in Alkisiah and AWS.
- DON WILSON... Actor, executive, and student, Don has won many friends at WWC... He made an enviable record as ASB president in 1938.
- FRANCES DALEY... Frances, Alkisiah president, has smilingly served WWC over the Circulation desk in the library... A born executive, she has given us the 1939 Klipsun.
- DALE COURTNEY... Dale, a Kitchen Krew member, is thoughtful and careful... He is interested in the drama and has served on the Board of Control.

DON WILSON

FRANCES DALEY

DALE COURTNEY

● HAROLD NELSON . . . Big Nelse has skippered the basketeers for two seasons . . . He has also found time to uphold a good scholastic record and make many friends.

● HELEN MASTERS . . . Valkyrie president, student library assistant, and excellent at repartee, Helen is known and liked by WWC . . . She has also served on the Board of Control.

● ALICE SIEMONS . . . Blond and brilliant, Sally has a quick and telling wit . . . Science and English are her fields, and Blue Triangle claims much of her time.

● BOB WHITE . . . Bob is the well-liked student assistant to the reference librarian . . . Elected Norsemen prexy, he has also been a member of the Board of Control.

● VIRGINIA NEUERBURG . . . This year's president of Y. W. C. A., Virginia has been an inspiration to its members . . . Alkisiah and ICC profited from her membership.

Homecoming

Homecoming—November 18, 19, 20, 1938—with Queen Sigrid I (Betty Shay) presiding . . . A serpentine and bonfire signaled the opening of the gay festivities . . . Harborview Hall, captured top honors and the silver cup in house decorations . . . A riotous student assembly put the students in the mood for . . . a luncheon at Edens Hall, which merely whetted their appetites for a long-awaited 7-0 victory over Cheney, which set the scene for a grand finale—an alumni dance at the armory . . . All praises went to General Chairman Adrian Alberg, sophomore.

FOOTBALL

Champions of 1938!! . . . Undefeated!! . . . Untied!! . . . First title-holders of the newly formed Western Intercollegiate Conference!! . . . That's the record hung up by Coach Charles Lappenbusch and his men of the gridiron for the 1938 season.

More than 1600 fans saw the well knit Viking machine sputter and spit in the first half of the game against the St. Martin Rangers and then swing back into smooth motored precision to march 54 yards in the first three minutes of the third quarter to a touchdown. The Norsemen won their first of a long string of victories 6-3.

Once rolling, there was no stopping the Viking juggernaut . . . Long and accurate passes by Tisdale and Jones furnished the driving power which carried the Western collegians to victories over Oregon Normal 13-6!! . . . Fort Lewis 19-6!! . . . The University of Washington Frosh 6-0!!

In the first conference game of the season against Pacific Lutheran College, a new entrant into the League, Lappenbusch unleashed the full force of his power and won easily 33-14.

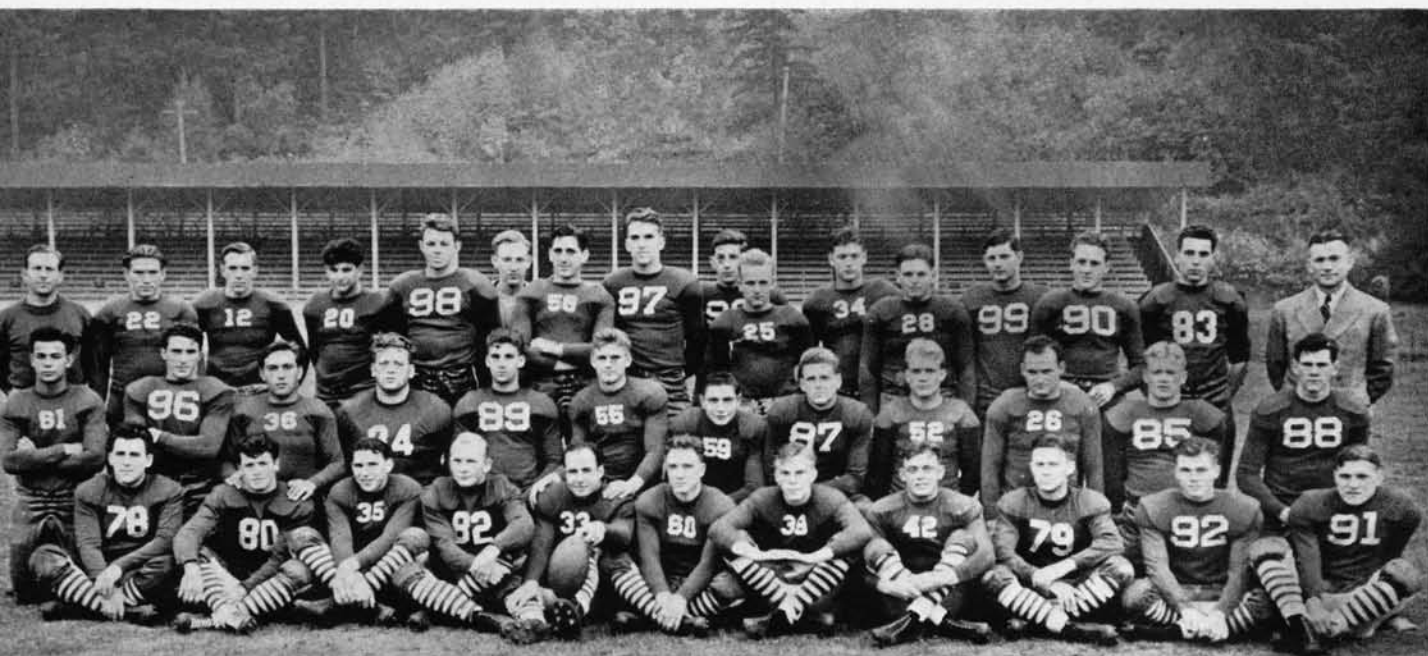

Ellensburg, always a tough team to beat, could not hold back the powerful driving machine of the Vikings and bowed out of the conference picture 13-6.

With Cheney, the Viking Jinx, between them and a perfect season, the dreams of Lappenbusch were not to be denied . . . After a thrilling stand by the Viking forward wall on the 2 yard line, his hopes of six lean years were realized with a 7-0 victory . . . The Cheney game was the event of the fifteenth annual Homecoming.

INTRAMURAL

Intramural sports attracted men of the school whose inspirations were not for varsity fame and glory, but for recreation and exercise . . . Basketball attracted the largest number and was played during the fall and winter quarters . . . A team, whose very name portrayed their quality, "The Berries," won the A League title, while Viking Manor, always a contender, won the B League crown.

Don McNeil bested all of his opponents in both badminton and ping pong tournaments to become the first titleholder of these newly created intramural sports. . . . Jeff Tesreau for the third straight year claimed the foul shooting championship, making 80% of his tosses at the basket.

Intramural baseball won the acclaim of Spring athletes with six vying for honors. . . . This game also initiated the college's new football field, being the scene of all the league battles. . . . As this book goes to press, George Dack's NYA is favored for the title, having already won the first half crown.

BASKETBALL

Winning 11 and losing 8 games, the Viking basketball quintet finished on the blue side of the ledger for the 1938-39 season.

Though the defeats were numerous, they were glorious. Numbered among the losses were games to the University of Washington varsity, which later finished second only to Oregon, National champions, in the northern half of the Pacific Coast conference, Alpine Dairy, winners of the AAU tournament in Seattle, later reaching the quarter finals at Denver, Colorado, and the House of David, a comedy team that has stood many a college quintet on their heads.

Among the wins were victories over Pacific University, who later won the championship of the Northwest conference; Pacific Lutheran college, a strong contender for the Western Intercollegiate conference title; and Ellensburg, favorites to capture the crown until they met the Vikings.

In conference games, the Viking basketeers fared well on the home courts, winning two games and dropping one. On invasions into foreign territory, however, the ill fated Viking nemesis which has dogged their conference road trips for the past ten years was again present and the Norse failed to collect a single victory.

Six newcomers to the Viking squad this year were members of the traveling squad of 11 men. All six made their letters and will be back next year to fight for Lappenbusch's dream of a basketball title to rest alongside his ever memorable football crown of 1938.

GOLFERS

With double victories over University of British Columbia, and Pacific Lutheran College already bagged in early season tilts, the Viking golfers look like probable champions again for 1939. . . . Added to the usual routine of divot digging was a special trip to Oregon in which the Vikings met defeat at the hands of the University of Oregon varsity and tied the varsity of Oregon State College. . . . Also listed on the defeat list was a loss to the University of Washington frosh.

Nucleus of the team strength is made up of Jeff Tesreau, Manford Chase, Phil Kidder, James Armstrong and Day Williams. . . . With the exception of Williams, this is the same team that won the Tri-college title last year.

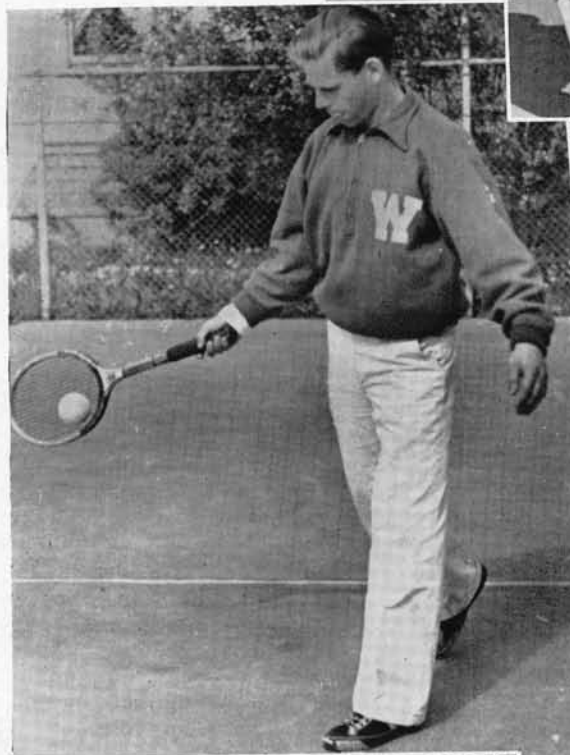

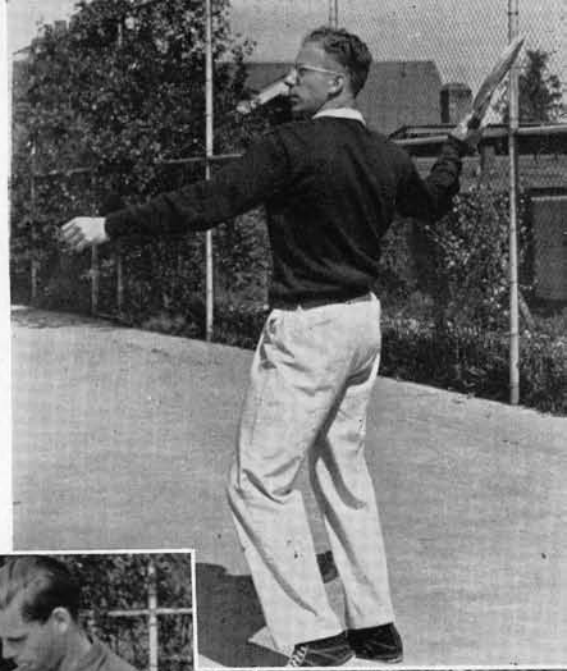

RACQUETEERS

With six consecutive victories already under their belt, Western Washington's tennis team bids fair to give Coach Lappenbusch his second Western Intercollegiate Championship for the year 1938-39 . . . The College of Puget Sound Loggers and the Pacific Lutheran Gladiators have already fallen under the swinging rackets of the Viking net-sters . . . A setback at the hands of Ellensburg in a mid-May tilt is the only mar on the Vikings' record

New names and faces make up the championship builders' net team with Charles Fisher, Bill Fowler, Don Lomdale, Vic Mollan, Art Bauman and Glenn Lund as prospective lettermen conference favorites.

WITH THE W. A. A.

Minus the prospect of a letter and sweater under the new merit system adopted this year, WWC women nevertheless thronged the courts and fields to partake in the wide range of sports sponsored by the Women's Athletics Organization . . . Basketball had the largest turnout . . . Hockey was voted out but the ever-popular volleyball had a marvelous run, showing both fall and winter . . . New clubs organized under the WAA included Badminton, headed by Fern Allinson, known not only on the hill but also in the town for her dead shot on the birdie; horseback riders, with smiling Bertha Hall as their president, and the Golf club, not the kind to be swung, with a leader . . . The annual trip to Sinclair Island brought sunburned noses and a wholesome liking for "Angels on Horseback", as a Dagwood sandwich composed of graham crackers, Hershey bars, marshmallows and some even toss in the kitchen sink. The beautiful rock laid fireplace makes this possible . . . Lucky gals that attended the A.F.C.W. convention in Berkeley and the San Francisco Fair included secretary Edith Meenk, treasurer Lila Hart, tennis ace Margaret Greer and a hard working freshman, Melba Mayhew . . . Where would WAA have been without prexy Ruth Martinson, who not only lead the gals thru the year with a smile but also was secretary of the Women's League and voted the most representative girl of the campus? . . . Who could forget the roller derbies on Friday nights . . . that Babs Kennedy and Shirley Rogers won the county women's doubles Badminton tournament . . . playing host to the high school visitors on Play Day . . . and un-ion derbies to Toad Lake, the Rocks and all points west? . . . Ping pong, shuffle board and jacks were played all year long . . . The bulls-eye, though seldom hit, glared hopefully at many a beauty and her arrow . . . But most of all, the gay smile of Miss Rupert and the happy way of Miss Weythman, not excluding dog, was the memory held most dear to every WAA girl.

Gone are the days of the long bloomers, middies and ties for basketball as well can be remembered, but present still is the game, and modern misses enjoy it just as well as their mothers used to . . . Present too are the thoroughly modern sports of badminton, swimming in the crystal water of the WWC pool; golfing at the Lakeway course, and horseback riding through the bridle paths of the nearby hills . . . Something else the oldsters never had was the WAA and the comfortable well equipped club-room, made only possible thru high membership . . . The bloomers and middies may have been relegated to the forgotten past, but our modern miss still brings out the long red flannels when on a ski trip . . .
