Auditorium-Music Building

As part of the long range expansion program, Western Washington has added another new building to its already beautiful campus. Dedicated May 2, the Auditorium-Music building has been a source of pleasure and relaxation for the students. The student lounge, The Grotto, is located on the first floor, where television, cards, music and a modern food bar are enjoyed by all.

Above the lounge is the auditorium where twice every week the student body congregates for an assembly presented by the students themselves or as a part of the Artist and Lecture series. Frequent organ concerts are planned for the three-manual Moller organ, second largest in the state.

The music department is centered in this lovely building, and a medley of sound from various instruments and from student voices usually hovers over the halls.

Last fall the first freshman class to be welcomed to Western in the new building was addressed by President Haggard. With this send-off, it is expected that they will have an unusually successful four years on the campus.

Many returning students were afraid they would miss the old lounge, located in the main building, but after two weeks all doubts had vanished and the new lounge was accepted as a complete and welcome part of extra-curricular activities.

In the past the college auditorium was not used extensively for meetings of the townspeople of Bellingham. The seating space was comparatively limited and the acoustics left much to be desired. With the building of the new auditorium, however. the College is one of the most sought after places for lectures and other community programs.

Last year Western added an Arts building to its campus; this year an Auditorium-Music building. Western has come a long way from its days as the Normal on the Hill and will go even further in proving to all that there is no better Alma Mater.

Our President: Dr. W. W. Haggard

Each year we wonder how the Klipsun staff can provide a different and better year book, but thus far we have never been disappointed. Among the problems each staff has faced for several years has been that of rising costs. Resourcefulness, however, has characterized each staff, and there is every reason to believe that the present staff has lived up to the tradition. We know that the faculty and the student body will be grateful for an excellent verbal and pictorial story of 1951-1952, a year of progress. We know, too, that all of us will appreciate and treasure that story over the years to come.

W. W. HAGGARD President

The Trustees of the College this year are: Burton A. Kingsbury, chairman, a prominent lawyer of Bellingham; Donald Eldridge, secretary, an alumnus of the College, and a leading merchant in Mount Vernon; and Harry A. Binzer, a high executive in the Puget Sound Pulp and Timber Company of Bellingham and Alaska. The three are very busy men who take time out monthly, or more frequently, to consider the multiple problems involved in the administration of the College. These men deserve much of the credit for the smooth and efficient operation of the College. Their helpfulness is greatly appreciated by the administration, the faculty, and the student body.

Donald Eldridge, Harry Binzer, Burton Kingsbury

DEAN OF MEN AND DEAN OF WOMEN

Cooperating to solve student problems are the two Deans, Miss Lorraine Powers, and C. W. (Bill) McDonald. The Dean of Women is a capable, vigilant director of Western's women students. She does an excellent job of handling the numerous and varied questions which arise and, in addition, clears all campus social activities through her office. Dean McDonald supervises the men of Western, while keeping up with his dual responsibility in the role of "Big Mac," WWC's basketball coach. He is particularly successful at finding parttime work for enterprising students.

DR. HAWK

The fine faculty and facilities of the campus school are ably supervised by Dr. Raymond F. Hawk, one of the most popular men on campus.

In charge of the WWC teacher training program, Dr. Hawk is widely known and makes himself a friend to all students as well as to his fellow faculty members.

ADMINISTRATORS

Western's registrar, Donald Ferris, and his capable assistant, William O'Neil, are charged with keeping the records straight as the student enrollment fluctuates yearly. They also plan and supervise the quarterly registrations. Dr. Merle S. Kuder takes as his problems the problems of all students. This trio works independently, yet jointly, to contribute to the successful operation of WWC.

Senior Class Officers

Graduates of the class of 1952 are the first alumni to come under the new general certificate plan. During their four years here they have seen the appearance of many new buildings and general improvements on the campus. Chief among these are the Arts Building and the Auditorium-Music Building.

Other firsts witnessed by this group of seniors include the arrival of foreign students at Western; the introduction of Junior Prom royalty; and the student-exchange assemblies with other colleges.

During their busy final year, their many activities included a class party in January; a dinnerdance at the Leopold Hotel in February; a picnic in the spring; and of course the last minute details of graduation, class day, baccalaureate, and commencement.

As a farewell to WWC they have left behind a school flag as a token of their appreciation for the many kind memories, and with best wishes for the blue and white.

Junior Class Officers

Another eventful year has gone into the record books for the junior class. This year, under the able leadership of Milt Clothier, president; Bev Dustin, vice-president; and Nancy Brown, secretary, the juniors took advantage of the opportunities to serve the college.

During the fall they sponsored a work party to clear off the Lakewood beach, and took charge of the well attended and much enjoyed mixer after the Homecoming Rally.

In the winter quarter the third year class again put on the annual Junior prom which was a big success and drew a large crowd.

Spring term saw the class going all out for their annual Junior Picnic.

Sophomore Class Officers

Climbing to the second step of their college careers, the class of '54 showed their zest for activities early by selecting a sound governing staff. The president's gavel was handed to Nan Mercier with Jerry Yothers second in command. The secretary's duties were handled by Betty Grocott, and Floyd Mumsford took care of the financial department. Outstanding achievements of the year were the beautiful first place float and winning window display for the "Out of this World" homecoming celebration.

Freshman Class Officers

Fall quarter 1951 saw a new crop of bewildered freshmen on campus at Western. Quickly adjusting to the new college life, the freshmen completed a successful year directed by Ivan Hickenbottom, class president; William Karwacik, vice president; and Barbara Larsen, secretary-treasurer.

During Homecoming, class members eagerly participated in all events. They entered a float in the serpentine, courageously defended their bonfire, and erected a window display downtown.

The class provided several members of the football, basketball, and track teams along with three song leaders and a yell leader.

All in all, it was a good year with a friendly active first-year class adding its full share to college life at WWCE.

Board of Control

Vice President Larry Wilson and President Dick Pederson

This year, in addition to its regular responsibilities of handling student finances and reflecting student opinion in dealing with the college administration, the board of control was confronted with the problem of forming policies regarding the new student lounge. In doing so, they tried to set a precedent between administration and student body which can be followed in future business, such as the operation of the proposed student union building.

Because of decreased enrollment, student activities had to be carried out on a limited budget, and it was the responsibility of the board to improve the financial condition of the ASB and still give the students full return for their money.

The board also tackled the difficult task of reapportioning the finances of the different departments for next year's budget. This was done on the basis of need, service to the students, and the number of students participating in the activities carried on by the department.

Among the year's varied activities were several ASB sponsored mixers; a student talent assembly; improvements at Lakewood; and an exchange assembly between Central and Western. Larry Wilson proved his ability to serve the students as vice-president, as he put in many long hours negotiating the exchange assemblies between Western and Central, supervising student elections, and overseeing assemblies.

All the ASB activities were carried out and the problems solved under the able leadership of Dick Pederson, ASB president.

Presiding over the ICC this year was Iver Heinrich. Dr. Knapman and Miss Lorraine Powers were the advisers.

WHO'S WHO

Recognition was given this year to nineteen members of the junior and senior classes for listings in the annual directory "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Under the direction of Marian Stefani, president, the AWS activiites for 1951-1952 were outstanding. A conference was held in the fall for high school leaders from this section of the state. The visitors enjoyed dinner, special assemblies and programs, a tour of the campus, and a tea and fashion show.

One of the big winter events was the Sno Ball Tolo, a semi-formal dance sponsored by AWS. Other undertakings through out the year included two assemblies in the Campus school auditorium and several Thursday afternoon teas in the AWS lounge.

During spring quarter the new ofifcers for 1952-1953 were elected and installed at a tea given at Edens hall. All WWC girls have an opportunity to take part in AWS which is very much a part of college life.

NORSEMEN

For the Norsemen, the College social year of 1951-1952 began with plans for the annual fall semi-formal dance. The dance was canceled, however, because the club was unable to sell enough tickets. To compensate, the membership swung into full stride on a house drive for the World Service Student fund. They also entered a display for Homecoming in November. Winter quarter they presented the Norsemen's assembly. Putting an appropriate and fitting lid on the year's activities, the Norsemen Spring informal was its usual success.

Serving on this year's Norseman commission were: Bob Lajala, president; Tom Springer, vice president; Bob Woodman, secretary - treasurer. Class representatives were: Hank Rogers, senior; George MacPherson, junior; Marv Nilsen, sophomore; and Bob White, freshman. The commission worked with the Interclub council and the Dean of Men to carry out their successful program.

KAPPA DELTA PI

With the help of the adviser, Dr. Irwin Hammer, the Eta Beta chapter of Kappa Delta Pi is one of WWC's most active clubs. This educational honorary, consisting of 100 active members, 30 of whom are on campus, is open to students in education with a junior, senior, or graduate standing and a three point grade average.

The two regular meetings each month consist of discussions and talks by prominent Bellingham people in the field of education. Vital educational problems are presented.

In March the chapter sent its president, Al Meuli, to Lansing, Michigan, to attend the national meeting of Kappa Delta Pi.

SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY

Keeping pace with an ever growing College, the oldest campus honor society has revised its admission requirements this year. The Scholarship society was originally set up to recognize students who had achieved outstanding academic success in a two year institution, but in recognition of Western's position as a five year institution, the group has voted to reserve the honor award for those students who have completed 105 credit hours of work. This means that juniors and seniors who have met the required 3.5 grade point average will be presented with scholarship pins at the society's annual spring banquet, and will have a maximum of two years' membership before graduation.

The Viking Band of 1951-52 enjoyed a highly successful season under the able direction of Don C. Walter. The organization of seventy-two members was formed during the week preceding the opening of the fall quarter and was on hand for the college assemblies and pep meetings which officially opened the school year. The first football game was the occasion for the initial wearing of the blue, white-plumed shakos which have become standard equipment for Western's marching band.

Martin Smith, Carol Pagels, Lorrene Bergmann, and Jean Landahl filled the respective positions of drum major and majorettes when the blue and white clad Highlight of the winter quarter was the concert tour which extended as far south as Vancouver, Washington, and presented the band to seventeen enthusiastic high school and community audiences.

The Vikings were chosen again this year to serve as the official host band at the Blossom Time celebration and the Bellingham Centennial anniversary held during the second week of May.

During winter quarter members of the club earned fifty dollars by aiding the local Junior Chamber of Commerce in a paper drive. The money was donated to the World Student Service fund.

On tap for spring quarter is a tour of Bellingham and the club picnic.

Homecoming

"Be there," was the familiar cry at Western during the Homecoming of 1951, fall quarter. Surrounded by rockets, stars, and trips to other planets, Homecoming was truly "Out of this World."

Queen Lolli reigned over the remaining activities of Homecoming, which were under the direction of Bud Woodward and Gloria Gaupp, and their hardworking committees.

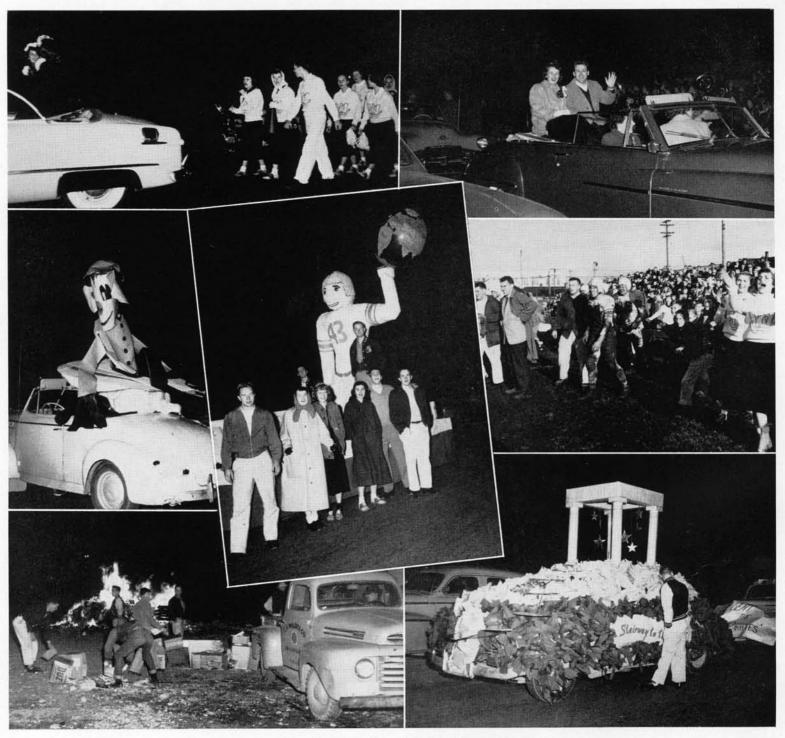

Most of the students turned out for the Friday night serpentine downtown in which the sophomore class float took first place.

The freshmen put up a good fight but the bonfire was lit three times during the day. Skits were given by the organized houses in the new auditorium after the serpentine. Edens hall took first place in their choral and dance skit which included most of the girls from the hall. A mixer was held in Rec hall after the

The day of the big Homecoming game was November 4, when the Vikings came through with a smashing 51-12 victory over the Whitworth Pirates. Everyone wore a big white mum with a blue "W" on it.

After the judging it was announced that Daniels hall had taken first place in the house display. The sophomores took another first prize when their downtown window display was judged best.

A good representation of the alumni attended all the functions, especially the Queen's ball held Saturday night, which finished off a wonderful 1951 Homecoming.

A wonderful Parisian Holiday was enjoyed by approximately two hundred couples who attended this year's Junior Prom and danced to the theme of "An Evening in Paris."

Reigning over the Parisian gaieties was Princess Audrey Dahl, chosen that evening for her qualities of beauty and charm by a judging committee of faculty and students. She was crowned during intermission by President W. W. Haggard.

Members of the royal court were Joy Rude, June Dillman, and Mrs. Robert Todd.

Ken Valentine was Prom chairman, heading a committee composed of Stan Frey, Milt Clothier, Fred Carbonatto, Dorothy James, Buck Burger, Rita Goldade and June Mehl.

The three day Festival of Arts and dedication of the Auditorium-Music and Arts buildings took place April 30, May 1 and 2. H. P. ### FALL PLAY --"MERCHANT OF VENICE"

Using the landing of the stairway in the foyer of the new auditorium as the setting for the "Merchant of Venice" the Division of Drama presented the annual fall play in November.

The show had many interesting portrayals. Shylock was played by Dick Wahl, an accomplished actor who has appeared in many college productions. Billie Reposa, who transfered here from Everett Junior college, appeared in the part of Portia. Miss Reposa was well known for her outstanding work on the Everett stage.

Bob Casto was especially effective in the part of Launcelot Gobbo, a low comedy role. Jack Headlee played a dignified and gentle Antonio, the merchant. As the brilliant Bassanio, Bill Tudor gave a romantic flair to the play. Nerissa was portrayed by Mary Lou Fagerson. Laurnell Cooper as the rebellious Jewess, Jessica, and Denny Renshaw as the lively young Christian, Lorenzo, both added to the brilliant production. In small but aptly characterized supporting roles were Dick Usitalo as Salano, Bill Jones as the wise-cracking Gratiano, James Simon as Tubal, John Franklin as the judge in the great courtroom scene. Nellie Jackson, Barbara Holstrom, and June Sutherland also had effective parts.

Colorful lighting effect, brilliant Elizabethan costuming and special music added to the over-all success of the play. The script did not follow the text of the play found in all the editions but was condensed as necessary in the time alloted it.

The "Merchant of Venice" ran three nights and was attended by capacity crowds. Victor H. Hoppe, director of the production, is to be congratulated wholeheartedly on the success of his ambitious production.

"LIFE WITH FATHER"

Opening for a run of three nights on February 29, the Broadway hit, "Life With Father" was the first dramatic production given on the stage in the new auditorium. Prof. Victor H. Hoppe directed.

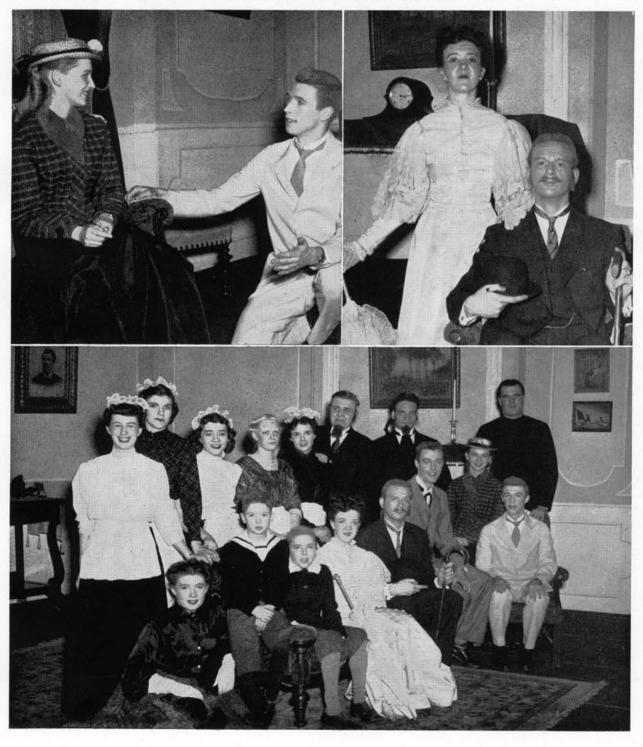

Dick Wahl, as the red-headed father of four red-headed young boys, gave a near-professional performance. The play was a huge success with a capacity crowd each night. Mary Lou Fagerson held the play and her family together as Mother. Henry Rogers and Denny Renshaw did fine jobs as Clarence and John. Appealing to the crowd were the two Campus school youngsters, Jerry Peterson and Bud Walter, who were perfect as Whitney and Harlan. Also successful was Nellie Jackson in the part of Mother's cousin Cora and Norma Baker in her role of Mary Skinner, the young ingenue who won Clarence Jr.

Presented by the dramatic division of the college, the play was a hilarious production nostalgic of the "good old days." Father's explosions against any soul-saving activities in his Episcopalian family are offset by his susceptibility to Mother's charms and tears, through which she finally persuades him to be baptized. John gets mixed up selling a patent medicine which kills the neighbor's dog. These are only two of the exciting incidents in the Day household which went to make up a wonderful play.

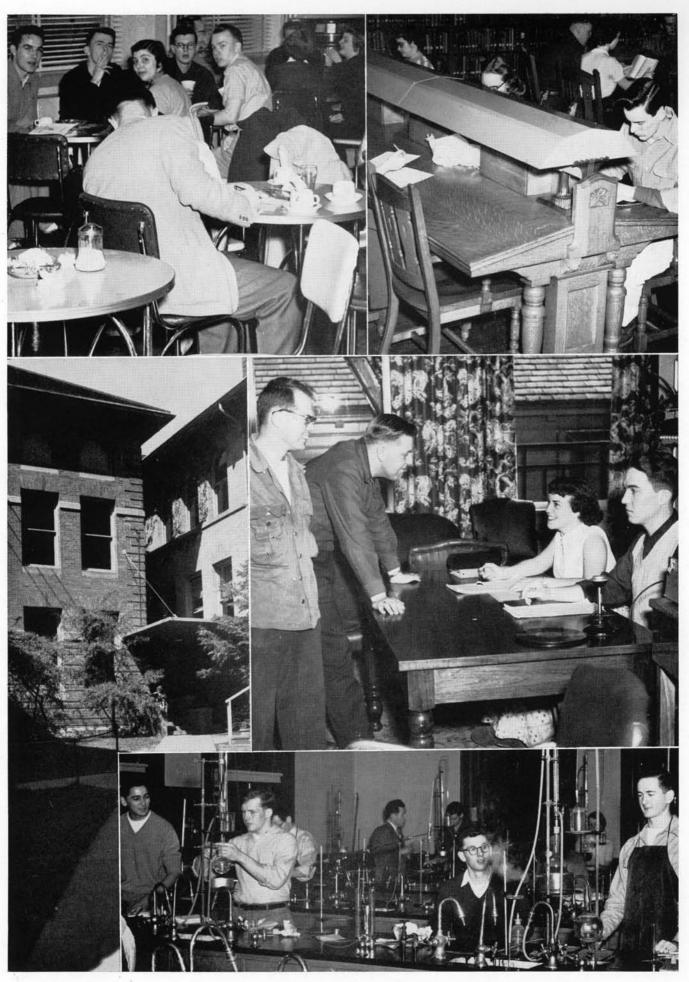

Prof. Laurence W. Brewster's play production class provided an authentic background for the action with their period sets.

W CLUB

When the W Club lost their president, Dan Sullivan, to the draft during fall quarter, the official duties were taken over by the vice-president, Bob Lajala, and the secretary-treasurer, Tommy Taylor. The club is composed of Western athletes and anyone who has earned a letter in one of the four major sports is eligible to join.

The club advisers, Sam Carver and Ray Ciszek, guided the club in its effort to promote a higher standard of scholarship and sportsmanship and to bring together men who have a common interest in sports.

The social activities of the club were centered around their spring banquet held at Snyder House.

WRA

The Women's Recreational Associaton, open to all women interested in sports, can be justly proud of their accomplishments for the past year. Under the supervision of Miss Margaret Aitken and the capable leadership of President Janice Peoples, the club has sponsored several social functions.

During fall quarter, soccer and hockey were in full swing; they were followed soon after by the basketball season. The WRA winter carnival was held in February, and was attended by the faculty and many students.

Blossoming forth with the coming of spring were the girls' intramural programs of tennis, badminton, and archery, along with their over night trips to Sinclair Island, and their annual Sports Day, held this year in April.

Song and Yell Leaders

In their traditional blue and white garb, Western's song and yell squads of 1951 demonstrated both spirit and faithfulness. The most severe conditions of weather failed to stem their energy as they displayed their boosting skill at every sports contest, home or away. To Western's guardians of school spirit, the KLIPSUN offers a sincere salute.

FOOTBALL, 1951

Western's Evergreen Conference co-champion football squad smashed out their most successful football season since 1938 in winning eight out of nine contests, and losing only to PLC.

Coaches Lappenbusch and Ciszek did a fine job in molding the ninth ranking defensive team in the nation for small colleges, allowing their opponents 57 points and scoring 282 for the Blue and White.

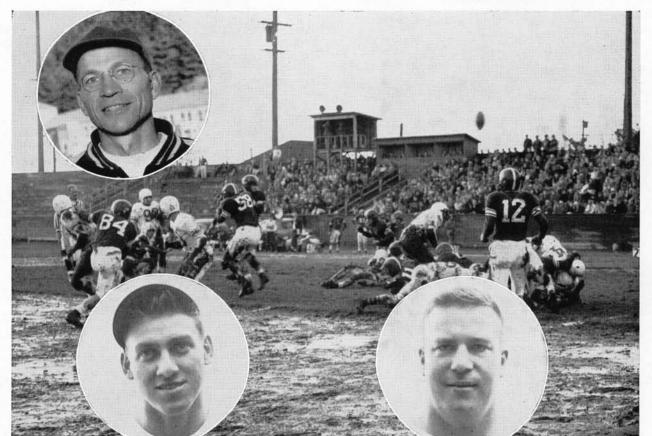

Norm Hash was selected on the Little All American squad and was elected by his teammates as their honorary captain. Eldon Odle was chosen as the inspirational award winner for his inspiring teamwork and hustle.

The Vikings were an outstanding team and every man on the squad performed with the zeal and spark of an All-American. Trainer Dick Abrams, along with Coaches Lappenbusch and Ray Ciszek, did a very fine job of keeping the athletes together as they battered opposing players with the rough, tough football tactics that are necessary to win a championship.

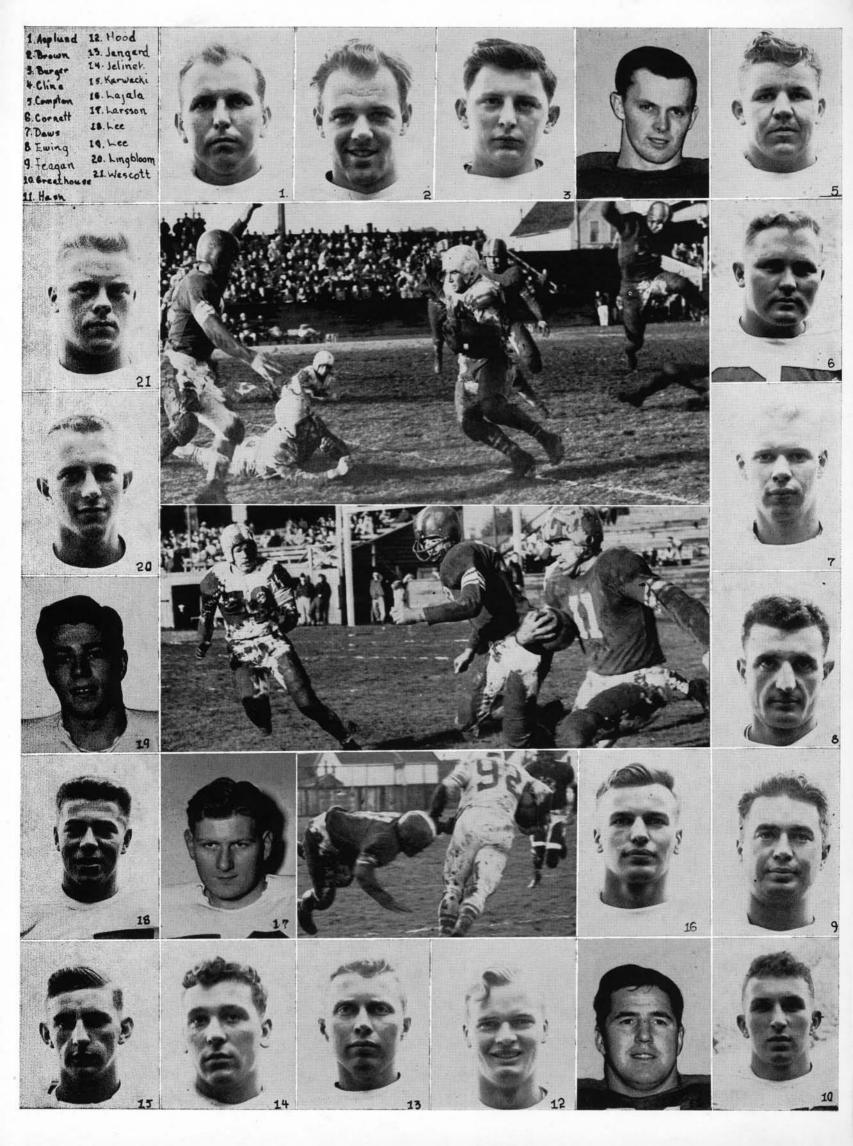

The following season's schedule and game scores are self-explanatory as to the defensive and offensive ability of Western's power-laden Vikings.

BASKETBALL . . .

Coach Bill McDonald's Vikings showed great spirit and fight this year as they battled their way to a fourth place in the Evergreen conference.

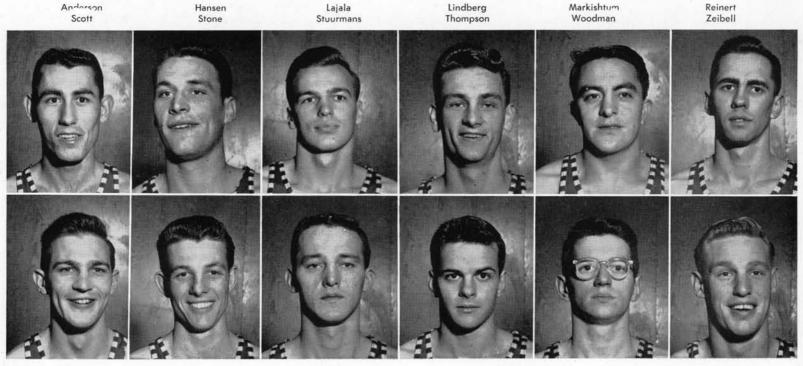

In losing their final game of the season to the power laden Central Wildcats, the Viks missed a tie for third place and a chance for a play-off game with Pacific Lutheran college. A win over PLC would have given the Vikings a chance to represent the Evergreen conference in third spot at the NAIB tourney in Phoenix, Arizona.

The squad showed good form in pre-season games by winning 11 and losing only three. Two of the games lost were to the fast pacing Chieftains of Seattle university. The other defeat was to St. Martins college team whom the Vikings had upset three times previously.

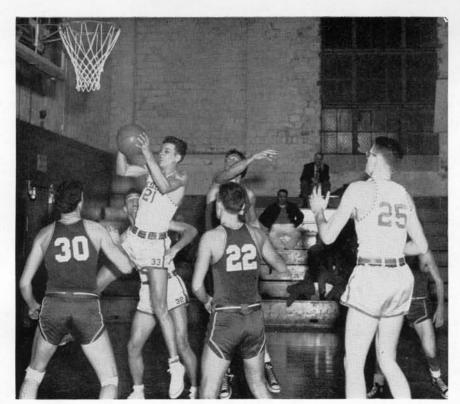

In conference play the squad split even, winning six and losing six. With the exception of Central and Whitworth, the Vikings managed at least to split even with the teams by winning one and losing one. Double defeats by Central and Whitworth were revenged by the posting of double victories over CPS and UBC.

Winding up their playing careers for Western were four oustanding players: Bud Scott, Bob Lajala, Seymour Stuurmans, and Dick Brock. These men will be a big loss to the team.

Inspirational award winner for the team was Bob Woodman, who was high scorer in pre-conference play with 134 points, and in total scoring was second only to Seymour Stuurmans with 213 points. Stuurmans led the scoring for the season with a huge 283 points to his credit.

J-V BASKETBALL . . .

Scoring a season's total of 204 points, Arnold Reimer led his team mates to a highly successful season. This year the JV's, under the coaching of Jerry Starr, split 16 games, winning eight and losing a like number.

The team scored a total of 832 points to 751 points for the opponents. At the season's close Reimer was chosen both Inspirational Award winner and Honorary captain by his team mates.

MEN'S SWIM TEAM

An outstanding event of the season for Western's swim team was a quadrangle swim meet held here, in which the University of Idaho, UB, Eastern, and Western participated.

This year initiated the college pool and swim team to Evergreen Conference meets, which includes visits from such outstanding teams as Washington State College and the University of Washington.

Thanks to the efforts of coach Ray Hyatt and his boys, more college and city-wide interest was shown in non-conference and conference swimming at Western than ever before.

BLUE BARNACLES

Blue Barnacles swimming enthusiasts, under the direction of Miss Margaret Aitken, this year presented two water shows to the general public. The first show was given winter quarter and the proceeds were donated to aid the World Student Service fund. The second water exhibition was presented in early spring.

Both shows featured various strokes and synchronized swimming numbers.

Every Monday night throughout the year these eighteen girls have met in the college pool with the aim of improving their swimming and taking part in the intramural program.

BASEBALL TEAM . . .

Good hitting, good pitching, and good coaching made the combination that was needed this year for a winning baseball team. Coach Joe Martin had a number of very capable hurlers on the mound. To back them up the team put on a demonstration of well-timed hitting and some of the best fielding that Western spectators had seen in years.

The most brilliant win recorded by the club was the 5-3 thumping handed Johnny O'Brien and company of Seattle University. The Vikings had lost the opening game of the double header by a very close 4-3 decision and with vengeance in their hearts came back to prove that they didn't mean to be on the losing end again.

Some of the outstanding pitchers who contributed greatly to Western's success this year were: Spud Walley, Chuck Lindberg, Bob Hansen, Tom Rassley, and Bob Lajala.

TRACK TEAM . . .

Coach Ray Ciszek came up this year with one of the best track teams that Western has fielded in a number of years. Some of the performers were the most outstanding that Coach Ciszek has worked with during his four years at Western.

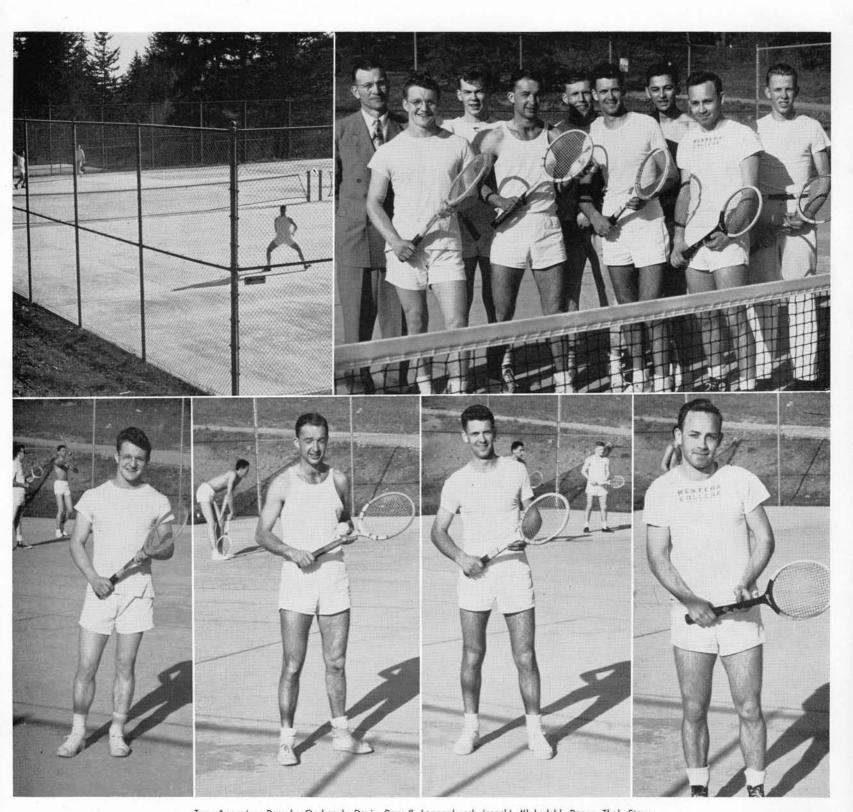

A top performer on the squad was Pete Muir, who was a consistent winner in three events, the high hurdles, low hurdles, and broad jump. In the first two meets of the season Pete picked up a total of 32 points.

Another sterling squad member was miler Jerry Swan. Jerry started the season by running the mile in the time of 4:27.2 which was less than two seconds more than Western's all time record of 4:25.4 set by Norm Bright in 1931. Coach

Ciszek has great hopes that Jerry will break the record and possibly set a new one at which future milers can aim.

The teams Western met this year were the University of British Columbia, Seattle Pacific, College of Puget Sound, Pacific Lutheran College, and the Vancouver Olympic Club. They played host to the Conference Relays on May 3, and on May 23 traveled to Vancouver to compete in the Evergeren Conference meet at UBC.

In the final competition of the year the individual winners in the Evergreen Conference meet traveled to Portland, Oregon, to compete in the Northwest College Invitational meet.

TENNIS TEAM . . .

Western's varsity tennis team had a fine schedule of matches this season, including the following schools besides all colleges of the Evergreen conference: Seattle University, Seattle Pacific, and the University of Washington, undefeated member of the Coast conference.

Taking top honors were the five members of the traveling squad in this order: Ed Angevine, Harold Ramaley, Ray Ondracek, Don Davis, and two boys new to the team this season, John Stave and Chuck Anderson, battling for the fifth position of the squad.

The boys had a good season which climaxed at the Evergreen Conference Tournament May 23 and 24 at UBC. Western can be proud of its showing on the courts.

GOLF TEAM . . .

The six members of the golf team had a busy spring schedule. Fred Carbonatto, Wayne Swanson, Roger Stearns, Walter Shaudney, Gene Caraker, and Eugene Park comprised the golf squad this year. Playing about two matches a week, the team has practiced at the Country Club in their spare time.

Sam Carver was the able instructor and coach of the team. The weather was ideal for golf and by the end of the practice period the team was ready to show well in their matches.

The squad traveled to Seattle University and Pacific Lutheran College for matches. College of Puget Sound and Whidbey Naval Air Base were opponents also.
