DR. HAGGARD

1953 marks the fourteenth year of leadership for Dr. W. W. Haggard as president of Western Washington College of Education. Dr. Haggard has not only been successful as an acadamic leader, but has helped to bring about in the past years new developments in the College that have been a benefit both to campus and students.

The current year has brought distinguished educators to the campus as guests of Dr. Haggard and the College. Dean Anna Rose Hawkes of Mills College spent several days here in February in behalf of the American Asociation of University Women. A group of faculty men from Western colleges, headed by Dean Reginald Bell of San Francisco State College, also made one of the visitations for evalution sponsored by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

Three outstanding gatherings, the Northwest Music Educators conference, the Washington Art Association convention, and the Northwest General Education conference, helped to make the year 1953 a memorable one for President Haggard, the faculty, and the students.

TRUSTEES

The Trustees of the College are Burton A. Kingsbury, lawyer of Bellingham, chairman; Donald Eldridge, Eldridge's Stationery Store of Mount Vernon, an alumnus of the College, secretary; and Harry A. Binzer, Comptroller of the Puget Sound Pulp and Timber Company of Bellingham and Alaska. Mr. Eldridge is currently a member of the Washington House of Representatives, and Mr. Binzer has been recently a member of the Senate. The College is fortunate in its Board of Trustees. The powers and duties of the Trustees are defined by statute. Considering both the legal provisions and the present practices, the responsibilities of the Trustees may be classified in three categories, namely: formulation of College policy; evaluation of program and practice; and public relations. An example of policy formulation is the faculty salary schedule or the student fee schedule; an example of evaluation is the decision to continue or to expand a department; and an example of the public relations duty is the interpretation of the College to the community.

D. Eldridge, B. Kingsbury, H. Binzer

Administrators

As Coordinator of Instruction and Director of Student Personnel Services, congenial Dr. Merle S. Kuder ably harmonizes the various outside-of-class activities and guidance services.

The Registrar's office is the efficient center of academic planning and enrollment. There, always ready to be of assistance are the Registrar, Donald A. Ferris, and his assistant, William O'Neil. Another responsibility of the office is the maintenance of complete student records. Mr. Ferris is also coordinator of extension courses.

DR. HAWK

The Campus school is the workshop where the prospective teacher gains experience through actual teaching situations. Both the modern campus school and the student teaching program are ably supervised by Dr. Raymond F. Hawk, director of teacher education.

Dr. Hawk has built a reputation of congeniality and responsibility at Western and throughout the state.

Dr. Hawk

DEAN OF WOMEN AND DEAN OF MEN

The two deans, Miss Lorraine Powers and C. W. (Bill) McDonald, are wellknown at Western. Together, they generously give much time and effort to regulating the many-sided extra-curricular program, while also ably supervising college residences and living conditions.

In addition to advising women students, Dean Powers teaches mathematics. Dean McDonald finds time to coach the varsity basketball squad and to assist students in securing part-time employment.

Lynn Hunt

The seniors began their last year at Western under the able leadership of president Ray Ondracek, vice-president Gerry Royal, and secretarytreasurer Lynn Hunt.

To add to their memories of a very pleasant school year they had a senior party and a picnic.

The group with few exceptions say that they will look back on their years at Western with a great deal of satisfaction. Their contribution to Western's success have been made and their gains from the school have been equal to their contributions. Western wishes them well. Aarstad, Neva

Junior Class

Looking back over the year we find that the junior class, under the leadership of Bob Porter, Carolyn Crook and Benita Offut, has made a record of outstanding achievement at Western. The year of 1952-53 has been a bright one for those completing their third year of college.

Nancy Jo Roberts and Spud Miller were co-chairmen of the very successful Junior Prom. The picnic held in the spring was a bright climax to an eventful year.

Looking forward, the juniors are seen stepping into the places of leadership vacated by those who are leaving the campus for a wider field.

With one eventful year behind them, the sophomores again started the year out right under capable leadership, with Ray Cohrs as president, Lorrene Bergmann and Barbara Hazlett as vice-presidents, and Glori Mutch as secretary-treasurer. The capabilities of the sophomores were well known after they won first place on their float for the "Western Pow-Wow" Homecoming celebration.

In the following quarters the sophomores participated in many activities with the sophomore class picnic one of the highlights.

Freshman Class

Five hundred and thirty-one frosh entered Western this year (education, 225; liberal arts, 90; junior college, 216). The girls (222) appreciated the stag-line of boys available in the freshman class (309).

Class officers were elected during the second hustling week of fall quarter. They were: president, Larry Lunsford, assisted by Jack Top as vice-president; Carol Resner, secretary; Mary Ann Ohrt, treasurer.

The unique class picnic in the spring at Bloedel-Donovan park brought to a close freshman life for the 1952-53 neophytes.

Elected to reign over the twenty-ninth annual Homecoming, as Queen Sigrid XV was Gloria Gaupp, a popular and highly active co-ed from Seattle. Her beauty as well as her sparkling personality won her the royal job.

The four beautiful girls who were chosen as representatives of their classes for Queen Gloria's court were: Margy Urbick, a senior from Everett; Carolyn Crook, a junior from Bellingham; Lorrene Bergmann, a sophomore from Camas; and Helen Tidball, a freshman from Buenos Aires, Argentina. These girls added their talents and beauty to help make the 1952 Homecoming a great success.

"Heap big doings" told the tale of Western's 1952 Homecoming Pow Wow. This year the combined efforts of Rita Goldade and Bob Porter truly turned the campus into a real life reservation.

Chosen by the student body to reign over the tribal festivities as Queen Sigrid XV, was Gloria Gaupp, 21 year old senior from Seattle. The celebration swept successfully through the two days and ended traditionally with the Queen's Homecoming ball at the Bellingham Armory.

Samuel Spewack's comedy satire of government bureaucracy, "Two Blind Mice," was presented February 13 and 14. Laurence W. Brewster directed, and Mark W. Flanders was technical adviser.

The story's situations led from one hilarious moment to another equally laughable, if not more so. The fun built up from the entrance of Tommy Thurston, Henry Howe, into the lives of the blind mice, alias Georgine Hayward and Alice Jean Davis, until the final defeat of Senator Kruger, Jim Simon, who was responsible for the abolition of the Office of Medicinal Herbs four years before. Of course there was the eternal triangle of love and tears provided by Thurston's ex-wife Karen, Donna Wray, and Dr. McGill, Floyd Jackson.

"... I remember an agency which was supposed to be abolishing an agency which was supposed to be abolishing an agency from World War I. However, we're all caught up on the war of 1812." Page fifty

"Uncle Harry" ushered in Laurence W. Brewster's leadership of the Division of Drama. The play also was the first play under the technical direction of Mark W. Flanders.

The fall quarter play was unique in that it consisted of three separate sets which were covered by a mobile 39 foot ceiling. "Uncle Harry" was a more serious drama than had been presented in recent years. The leads of this murder mystery with a different twist were Charles Dennis as Uncle Harry; Harriet point average of 1.75. The Writer was added to the group of student publications controlled by the Board.

Lord as Hester; and Carol Resner as Lettie.

"On my way, that's a good one. They say murder will out. But not Uncle Harry's murder, not my murder . . ."

The theme of the 1952 Campus Day, held May 14 at Whatcom Falls Park, was Dog Patch Daze. Co-chairmen were Dick McClure and Lollie Hagen. The King and Queen, Tony Royal and Ann Garcia, were crowned at the Sadie Hawkins Hoedown at which the first prize for skits was presented to Senior Hall. The Skunk Hollow contests held in the afternoon were: Beard Judging, Men's Nipple Contest, Guzzling Contest, Women's Slipper Kick, Faculty Sack Race, Three-Legged Race, Pie Eating Contest, Faculty-Student Tug o' War, Sadie Hawkins Race, Dr. Haggard's Horseshoe Game, and the Faculty-Student Ball Game.

One of the BOC's major contributions to college life is the sponsoring of student attendance at conferences held at other institutions.

As the new constitution was put into use, difficulties arose, especially in the area of elections. It can be said, however, that benefits did evolve from the confusion, as students were made aware of the importance of having a sound constitution.

In addition to the innovations of the year, the Board of Control continued its capable supervision of financial affairs, properties, policies, and appointments.

The College Artists and Lecturers series is made available to students of Western each quarter by funds allotted by the Board of Control. A series of nationally and world known artists and lecturers are presented each week. Some of the celebrities who appeared this year are Edward Weeks, literary editor of the Altantic Monthly; Louis Kaufman, violinist; and Margaret Bourke-White, internationally famous photographer. The programs were chosen by a studentfaculty committee.

BOARD OF CONTROL

The Board of Control successfully carried out several new projects during the busy and eventful year of 1952-53.

One of their projects was the initiation of a plan to have a mural in the student lounge. A committee was also set up to administer the funds for the Student Union building. To insure wide representation, the committee is comprised of one faculty member, two students, one alumnus, and one member of the Board of Trustees.

Much time, effort, and money was spent on the improvement of the Lakewood property. The activity was begun last year and continued through this year, under the guidance of the student facilities committee and volunteer groups of men students working on the property weekends.

Other changes by the Board included the raising of the athletic standard. In order to receive an award, athletes must now have a grade

Officers-Mark Hardie, president; Paul Dodsworth, vice president.

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi is an honorary society which recognizes the importance of high professional, intellectual, and personal standards for teachers. The members have met regularly throughout the year with well planned programs in charge of the following officers: president, Jean Sheets; vice president, Wes Martinsen; secretary, Nancy Brown; treasurer, Lynn Hunt.

Dr. Irwin Hammer is Kappa Delta Pi adviser.

College Christian Fellowship

Bible study and inspirational group singing have helped the College Christian Fellowship to attain their goal of spiritual development and fellowship.

The club has had many distinguished speakers this year. The highlight of activities was the CCF Valentine banquet the first week of February. The members elected Valentine sweethearts for the occasion. Officers for this year were: president, Kenny Linder; vice president, Harriet Lord; secretary, Ruth Forbes; and treasurer, Tom Hill.

AWS

"Hours for girls at Western" has long been a controversial subject on campus and it seemed appropriate that the AWS should have opened their first meeting of the year with that as their topic.

Five girls attended a four-state convention at Washington State College November 7, 8, and 9. Winter quarter AWS sold punch at the Senior Hall barn dance and contributed the proceeds to the World Student Service Fund.

A tea was held on Valentine's day when the guest of honor was Dr. Anna Hawks, Dean of Mills College, Oakland, California.

Spring quarter the girls sponsored a Tolo. Their last event of the year was a picnic at Lakewood for all the old and new officers.

AWS entertains high school guests. Pouring, Miss Ruth Kelsey; Virginia Wilkinson, chairman, High School Leaders conference; third from right, Phyllis Skinner, AWS president.

H. Kluksdahl, W. Smith, W. Kratz, R. Gray.

NORSEMEN

With a membership comprised of every man student attending WWC, the Norsemen has completed an active year. The governing body is the Norsemen Commission with Bill Ward, president; Marv Nilsen, vice president; Ray Ondracek, secretary; and Gerry Royal, treasurer.

Among the year's activities were the fall semi-formal dance at the Bellingham Hotel and several interesting assembly programs.

C. W. McDonald, dean of men, is the adviser.

SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY

To recognize and stimulate high scholarship ideals is the purpose of the Scholarship society. The grade point requirement is 3.5. Students who have been in attendance at Western for one quarter and who have 105 or more quarter hours of credit are eligible for invitation to membership. Edward Arntzen, chairman of social studies, is adviser for the group. Officers this year have been: president, James Stewart; vice president, Harris Kluksdall; secretary, Lynn Hunt.

B. Aho, R. Ondracek, B. Ward, Morris, G. Royal.

ACEI

Bloedel-Donovan park was the scene of ACE's "get under way" meeting. Dr. Anna Hawks spoke informally on the aims of ACE. The first project of the quarter was a drive to bring new members into the club.

Various campus faculty members spoke at meetings during the year. Frank Punches spoke on discipline in the schools and Dr. Howard Critchfield compared the school system of New Zealand to that of the United States.

Spring projects were a membership drive and sending a delegation to Tacoma for the state ACE convention.

RHEBA D

Raising enough money to send delegates to the Northwest district convention of the Association for Health and Recreation in Missoula, Montana, was the special problem of the Rheba D Nickerson club this year. A "car wash project" was initiated and the club was able to pay travel expenses for its delegates.

The club also directed the campaigning for Western's annual blood drive.

CAMERA CLUB

Fine photography is meat and drink to Camera club members, who have their hobby on their minds wherever they go. Their salon exhibiting the year's best camera work was an outstanding feature of spring quarter.

Faculty advisers are Miss Katherine Lane, Dr. David McDonald, Ralph Cullmann, and Edward J. Arntzen. The officers for the year were: R. Moffitt, president; G. Magelson, vice president; and R. Camfield, secretary-treasurer.

OFF CAMPUS WOMEN

Participation in campus activities is made easier for women not living in organized houses by the large and lively club, Off Campus Women. Regular meetings and service projects supporting the College are kept up throughout the year. The girls of the club sponsored one of the AWS teas and also the ugliest man contest held at the AWS dance. Mrs. Ruth Spearin is faculty adviser. The officers for the year were Loretta Olsen, president, and Jean Reinholt, vice president.

Future Teachers of America

A swimming party at the YMCA in October got the Future Teachers of America members off to a good start. Fall quarter Eugene Reagan, president of the Bellingham Class Room Teachers, spoke on FTA's role in the college.

The annual Founder's Day banquet was held at Edens hall February 16. February 28, representatives were sent to Seattle Pacific to the state meeting. Bill Moores was elected state secretary.

Spring quarter consisted of work and study concerned with state legislation. To climax all the hard work, a spring picnic was held.

Colheconomists

Western's Colheconomists began the fall quarter with a fruitcake sale, and followed that with a journey to Pullman for the Washington State and British Columbia Colheconomist meeting. The club's two big projects for winter quarter were a dinner on campus with UBC and with the foreign students registered here, and the annual waffle supper, the profits going to the World Student Service fund.

There were approximately twenty members in the club this year. Joyce Downing was president and Pat Baxter, vice president.

PRESS CLUB

Several parties were among the social events of this year's Press club. Formation of a basketball team which was victorious in its encounter with the Lummi Indians was another of the club's activities.

Officers this year were: Clint Doherty, president; Roger Gray, vice president; and Colleen Sullivan, secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the club is to bring together students interested in editing and writing jobs on campus.

USCF

The United Student Christian Foundation is devoted to the promotion of religious life among the students on an inter-denominational basis. It promotes Bible study, worship, group discussion, and service projects and is affiliated with the Bellingham Council of Churches as a project of the United Student Christian Council of the United States. The foundation maintains a center for religious and social activities, which is known as "The House," with a full time minister to students, The Rev. William E. Hallman.

Included among the activities for the year were weekly dinners and Bible study periods, roller skating parties at Ferndale, and after-game socials. Miss Mira Booth is the faculty adviser.

ARION CLUB

The organization for students interested in music is the Arion club. With the leadership of President Ken Tinkham and Dr. Frank D'Andrea, adviser, they played an important part in the educational and social activities of the music department.

Arion club members served as the hospitality committee during the Music Educations National conference held on campus in March, with 2500 delegates and performers present. Outstanding work was also done during the Northwest Washington Music Festival in which 1500 high school musicians participated.

VALKYRIE

Valkyrie club, led by Betty Grocott, president, has been active in many service and social functions this year. As a pep group they attend all games and usher at many affairs. Members are selected because of their leadership qualities and participation in service to the college.

The year's activities have included the sale of "Mums" and presentation of a skit for Homecoming. The annual picnic was held spring quarter.

Miss Enid Karsten and Miss Dorothy Ramsland were advisers this year.

I A CLUB

The Industrial Art club's main project for the year was reconditioning a 1940 Packard coupe to raise funds in order to send representatives to the Industrial Arts convention. The club also worked on a float for the centennial and performed I. A. demonstrations at the Inland Empire convention in Spokane. The club is affiliated with the American Industrial Art association.

SKI CLUB

Under the direction of Dr. Roloff the Ski club spent a busy and successful year. Fall quarter began with a steak fry at Lakewood and an overnight trip to Mount Baker. The club put a skiing display in the music building on club carnival night. Officers for the year were Neil Mullen, president; Curtis Noah, vice president; Martha McPherson, secretary; and Pete Newell, treasurer.

COLLEGE BAND

The Viking band, under the direction of Don Walter, was on hand for the College pep assembly and football game which marked the beginning of the school year. In November of fall quarter the band gave a Thanksgiving concert. Again they presented a Christmas concert for the enjoyment of the college students, faculty, and townspeople.

The annual band tour was taken winter quarter during the first week of March. The band travelled as far east as Wenatchee and along the coast to Aberdeen. Seventy-five members took part in the tour. On their return the band presented the annual winter concert, enjoyed by many Bellingham citizens.

For many years Western's band has been chosen as official host hand for the Blossom Time festival and so it was not surprising that they were chosen as official host band for Bellingham's Centennial celebration this year.

The Viking band was chosen as official band for Armed Forces Day at Whidbey Naval Air Station, May 16. The last big engagement of the year was the Rhododendron festival at Port Townsend.

COLLEGE CHOIR

The choir this year consisted of 135 members during the three quarters of the 1952-1953 school year. Under the direction of Bernard Regier, the group gave many performances on campus, in the community, and throughout the state.

During the first week of November the choral group sang for the annual Parents' Day program. In the latter part of the same month, they were heard on KPUG.

A beautiful Christmas concert was given for the enjoyment of the students of Western and the townspeople. February found the choir performing again for the High School Leaders' Conference.

The Northwest Music Educators Conference was held on the WWC campus this year, with the blue and white robed choir supplying some of the choral music.

The annual choir tour was held spring quarter this year, when seventy members presented programs in high schools for several consecutive days, and at KOMO radio station in Seattle, April 19. After the tour the choir members turned to work on the opera "Martha," jointly sponsored by the departments of music and drama. Their final performance for the year was for the Baccalaureate service and for Commencement.

STUDENT WIVES

With an average attendance of 35, the student wives' group has been active this year. Included among their activities was the sale of Pow-wow dolls during homecoming.

Each quarter a social was held to which the husbands were invited. This year the banquet held in Edens hall was enjoyed by a large group of students and their wives.

SQUARE AND CIRCLE

The Square and Circle club began the 1952-1953 year with sixteen members who met every second and fourth Monday night in Rec Hall to form and practice new and old square dances. The club worked and presented a dance exhibition for the enjoyment of faculty, students and townspeople at the Christmas program. Officers for the year were president, John Willet; vice president, Earl Sande; secretary, Gerty Strauss; treasurer, George Lanphear.

PEP STAFF ... YELL AND SONG LEADERS

The pep leaders for Western this year consisted of three song leaders and six yell leaders. They rightly earned their titles by attending every game and giving their all to raise the cheers needed to help the teams achieve victories. Their fine example is one that pep squads in the future may look back to as high standard of service to the college. To them we offer our thanks and congratulations for keeping the school spirit alive.

THE COLLEGIAN

Heading the weekly Collegian for 1953 was Elaine Daverin Ondracek, no newcomer to student publications. Elaine reported all her freshman year, was the Collegian business manager as a sophomore, and rose to the top position in her third year. Mrs. Ruth Burnet was student publications adviser.

Loretta Olson and Mildred Seelye were the 1953 business managers. Ruth Smith was copy editor for the three quarters. Other responsible jobs were held by Clint Doherty, Dave Gay, Jim Simon, Roger Grovdahl, John Ricketts, Carol Mulford, Colleen Sullivan, Arlene McKinney, and Maryann Dexter.

Capable contributors for shorter periods were Marion Baldwin, Warren Coffelt, Maureen Couplin, Roger Gray, Mark Hardie, Wil Knutsen, E. S. Laird, Gerry McCormick, Win Pearson, Dick Stark and John Willet.

A highlight of the year was the return to the eight page tabloid-size Collegian instead of the four pages of 1952. Activities were climaxed by the traditional spring Publications banquet.

PROFILE

Another "first" was produced by the '52-'53 Profile. This year the practice of utilizing coupons for obtaining the winter and spring quarter supplements was initiated.

The current student directory was edited by Clint Doherty.

V. Vuylsteke, N. Wardell, V. Schlagel, A. Bowman.

KLIPSUN

Audrey Adams Bowman headed the Klipsun staff for 1953. As business manager, Dona Isaacs was her assistant. James Stewart and Ron Camfield were responsible for the student photography.

Staff members at different times during the year were Clint Doherty and Jim Simon, copy readers, and Arlene Nienaber, Viola Schlagel, Nancy Wardell, and Virginia Vuylsteke on general assignment.

MINOR PUBLICATIONS

Responsible for the three minor student publications this year were Joyce Hutchison, 1953 Navigator, the student handbook; Clint Doherty, Profile, the campus directory; and Galen Freeberg and Dona Isaacs, Homecoming booklet, the Big Game program.

Gerry McCormick and Roger Grovdahl made a good start with Western Roundup, a series of information booklets on sports and players of each current season.

W CLUB

The W club consists of most of Western's athletes and includes some from each and every sport. Sam Carver and Ray Ciszek are the club advisers. The social activities this year were the smoker held in the college gym and the annual banquet, held this year at Brownie's Cedar Chest.

WRA

A trip to scenic Diablo dam was first on the fall quarter agenda for the WRA girls. Thirty girls signed up for the trip. A membership drive was sponsored during which the club succeeded in signing up one hundred members.

Winter quarter the WRA sponsored the annual carnival. Business for the year was completed with a weekend spent at Sinclair Island.

FOOTBALL

The Vikings started the 1952-1953 season with a game against Pacific University, one of the finest opponents and champion in the Northwest league: Pacific U. won it with a score of 9-7.

On offense, the Western team used eight different formations, which is possible on the "straight line" philisophy. Coaches Charles Lappenbusch and Ray Ciszek commended the team on their excellent defense, which held the opponents to 42 points, and on the Viking offense which gained 195 points for Western.

BASKETBALL

Western's blue and white varsity squad stacked up 672 points to come just slightly under the combined 729 points of their opponents.

In non-conference games the team had a record of 11 wins and 3 losses, with combined total points standing at 793 for Bill McDonald's Vikings and 743 for their opponents.

There were three graduating seniors on this vear's 1952-1953 squad, Jack Anderson, Bob Woodman, and Bob Hansen. Western will feel their loss in future games.

JV BASKETBALL

Top scorer for this year's JV basketball team was Fred West. This Enumclaw sharp-shooter led the team through a successful season.

Besides playing the regular round of games, the JV's also met with independent teams and junior colleges.

Under the capable coaching of Jerry Starr, the game of the year proved to be against UBC.

The purpose of the Junior Varsity is to find and develop varsity material and to give more men a chance to compete on the basketball floor.

SWIMMING TEAM

The 1952-1953 year marked the second season that Western's swimming team has been a member of the Evergreen Conference. Coach Sande can well be proud of his swimmers because this year they walked away with the conference championship. The co-captains for the team were Dick Mealy and Barry Davis.

BLUE BARNACLES

Blue Barnacles swimming club consisted of twenty of Western's mermaids this year. They were directed by Miss Margaret Aiken. The girls have met in the college pool every Monday night throughout the school year to practice various strokes and synchronized swimming. They presented a water ballet for public enjoyment spring quarter.

The baseball team is coached by Joe Martin, who also manages the Bellingham Bells, the local semi-pro team. Under his coaching, the 1952 nine met with an outstanding season. According to Coach Martin, as good a record is expected this year, providing the pitching holds up. The pitching chores at the beginning of the 1953 season were handled by Spud Walley and Bob Hansen.

The team is a member of the Evergreen Conference, which includes UBC, CPS, and PLC on the west side. The west side then plays the east side for the championship.

Under the able coaching of Ray Ciszek, the 1953 track team was one of the best. Even with the loss of eight men, this year's team proved to be better, all around, than that of last year. Four important team members were back. They were Jerry Swan, and Ken Swalwell, New Westminster, B. C., Modris Peterson, Seattle, and Fred West, Enumclaw. Swalwell, a sophomore, ran the mile and twomile. Last year he took sixth place in the 1000 yard run at the NAIA meet at Abilene, Texas.

Swalwell competes in the shot put and the discus. He made a new discus record of 139' 6'' over the former one set in 1950 by Jeff Russell of 134' 7''.

GOLF

The golf team this year had three returning lettermen: Fred Carbonatto, Roger Stearns, and Eugene Park. These experts, plus the host of new hopefuls, including Bob Doyle, Bennie Doyle, Ron Caufman, Jack Spadler, Dave Merner, and Earl Petersen, comprised Western's 1953 golf team. Their opponents were the Evergreen Conference colleges plus Seattle University and Seattle Pacific. They played a full schedule from the middle of April to the middle of May and practiced at the Country Club in their spare time.

To the players who represented Western so well in a sport that brings comparatively little glory we say, "A job well done boys. Keep it up!"
