Friendship

Theme in a yearbook is an idea that is used to maintain unity and to lend an artistic flavor to the entire book.

Our theme, "Friendship," was chosen because Western is known and loved for its friendly spirit. Many visitors to our college have spoken of the cordiality among students, between students and faculty, and of the friendly spirit which reigns on the campus.

Let us take a few minutes now to reminisce—to remember some of the activities that took place this year and to think of the friendly spirit which prevailed.

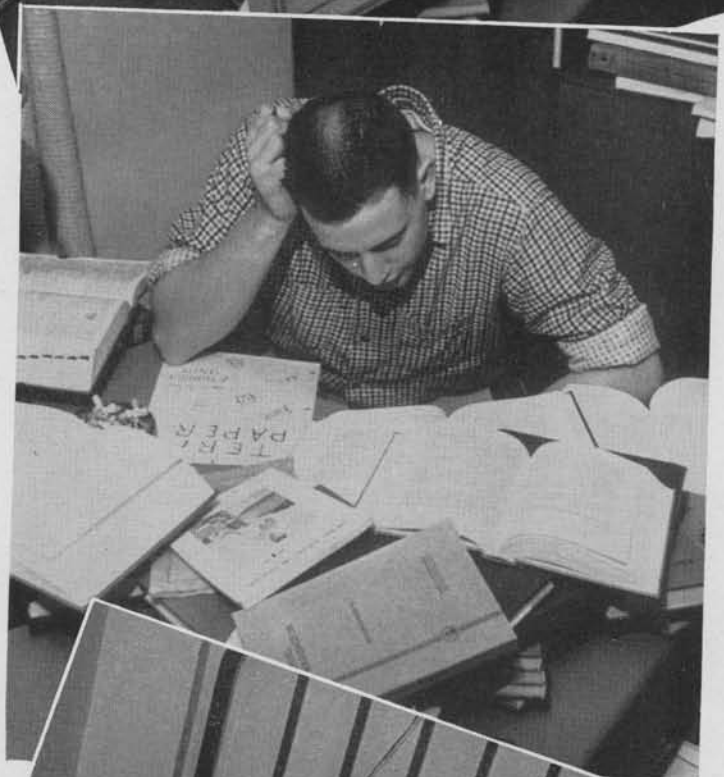

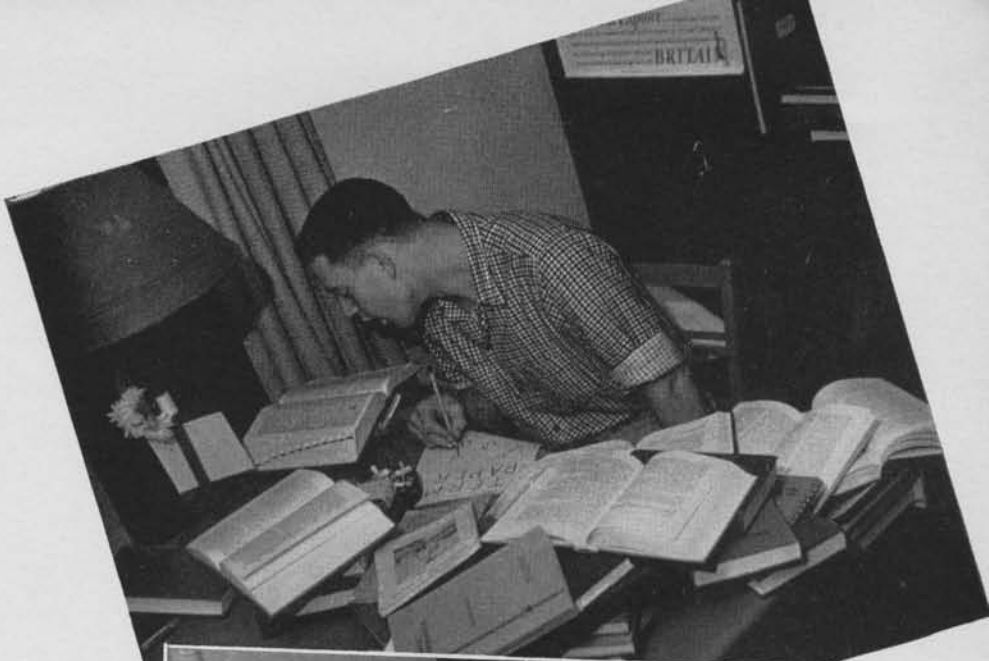

Many personalities will stand out in our minds because of the active parts they took and because of their achievements. But at Western each student is an important part of the whole organization. Without his contributions, we would not have the friendship and cooperation that we now have.

Formal and Informal

No matter when Westernites meet, whether formally or informally, you will find the same friendly atmosphere. If you glance back to page five, you will notice that even "Uncle Pogo" finds a place at Western.

Gordon Pfister is the "model" who willingly posed for the pictures used here.

Dean MacDonald, when told what the caption would be under his picture, said, "Well, at least in height they do!" Hisa Hayashida is the young lady shown with Big Mac.

Friendship and happy times are combined here as to the right we find several people enjoying themselves in the student lounge. Below is one of our more formal times, the Homecoming Ball. Between the streamers you will notice the gay crowd.

All in all — don't you agree? — Western is a friendly place to be associated with!

Campus

Surprised to see yourself and your friends? Our photographers caught you unawares, didn't they?

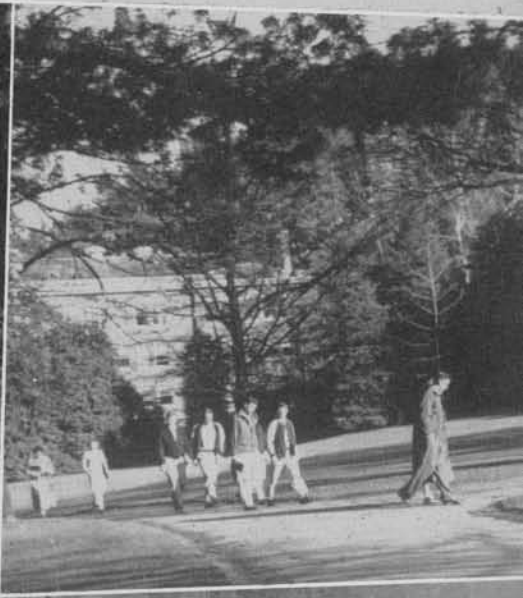

1. When there's nothing else to do, heaven forbid, Westernites like to get together in the lounge and do nothing!
2. It is said that clothes make the man . . .
3. Now, who could ask for anything more?
4. Oceans of commotion on Rec night.
5. Ah, yes, life has its gentler moments.
6. Western even has taxi service.

Capers

There's more yet . . .

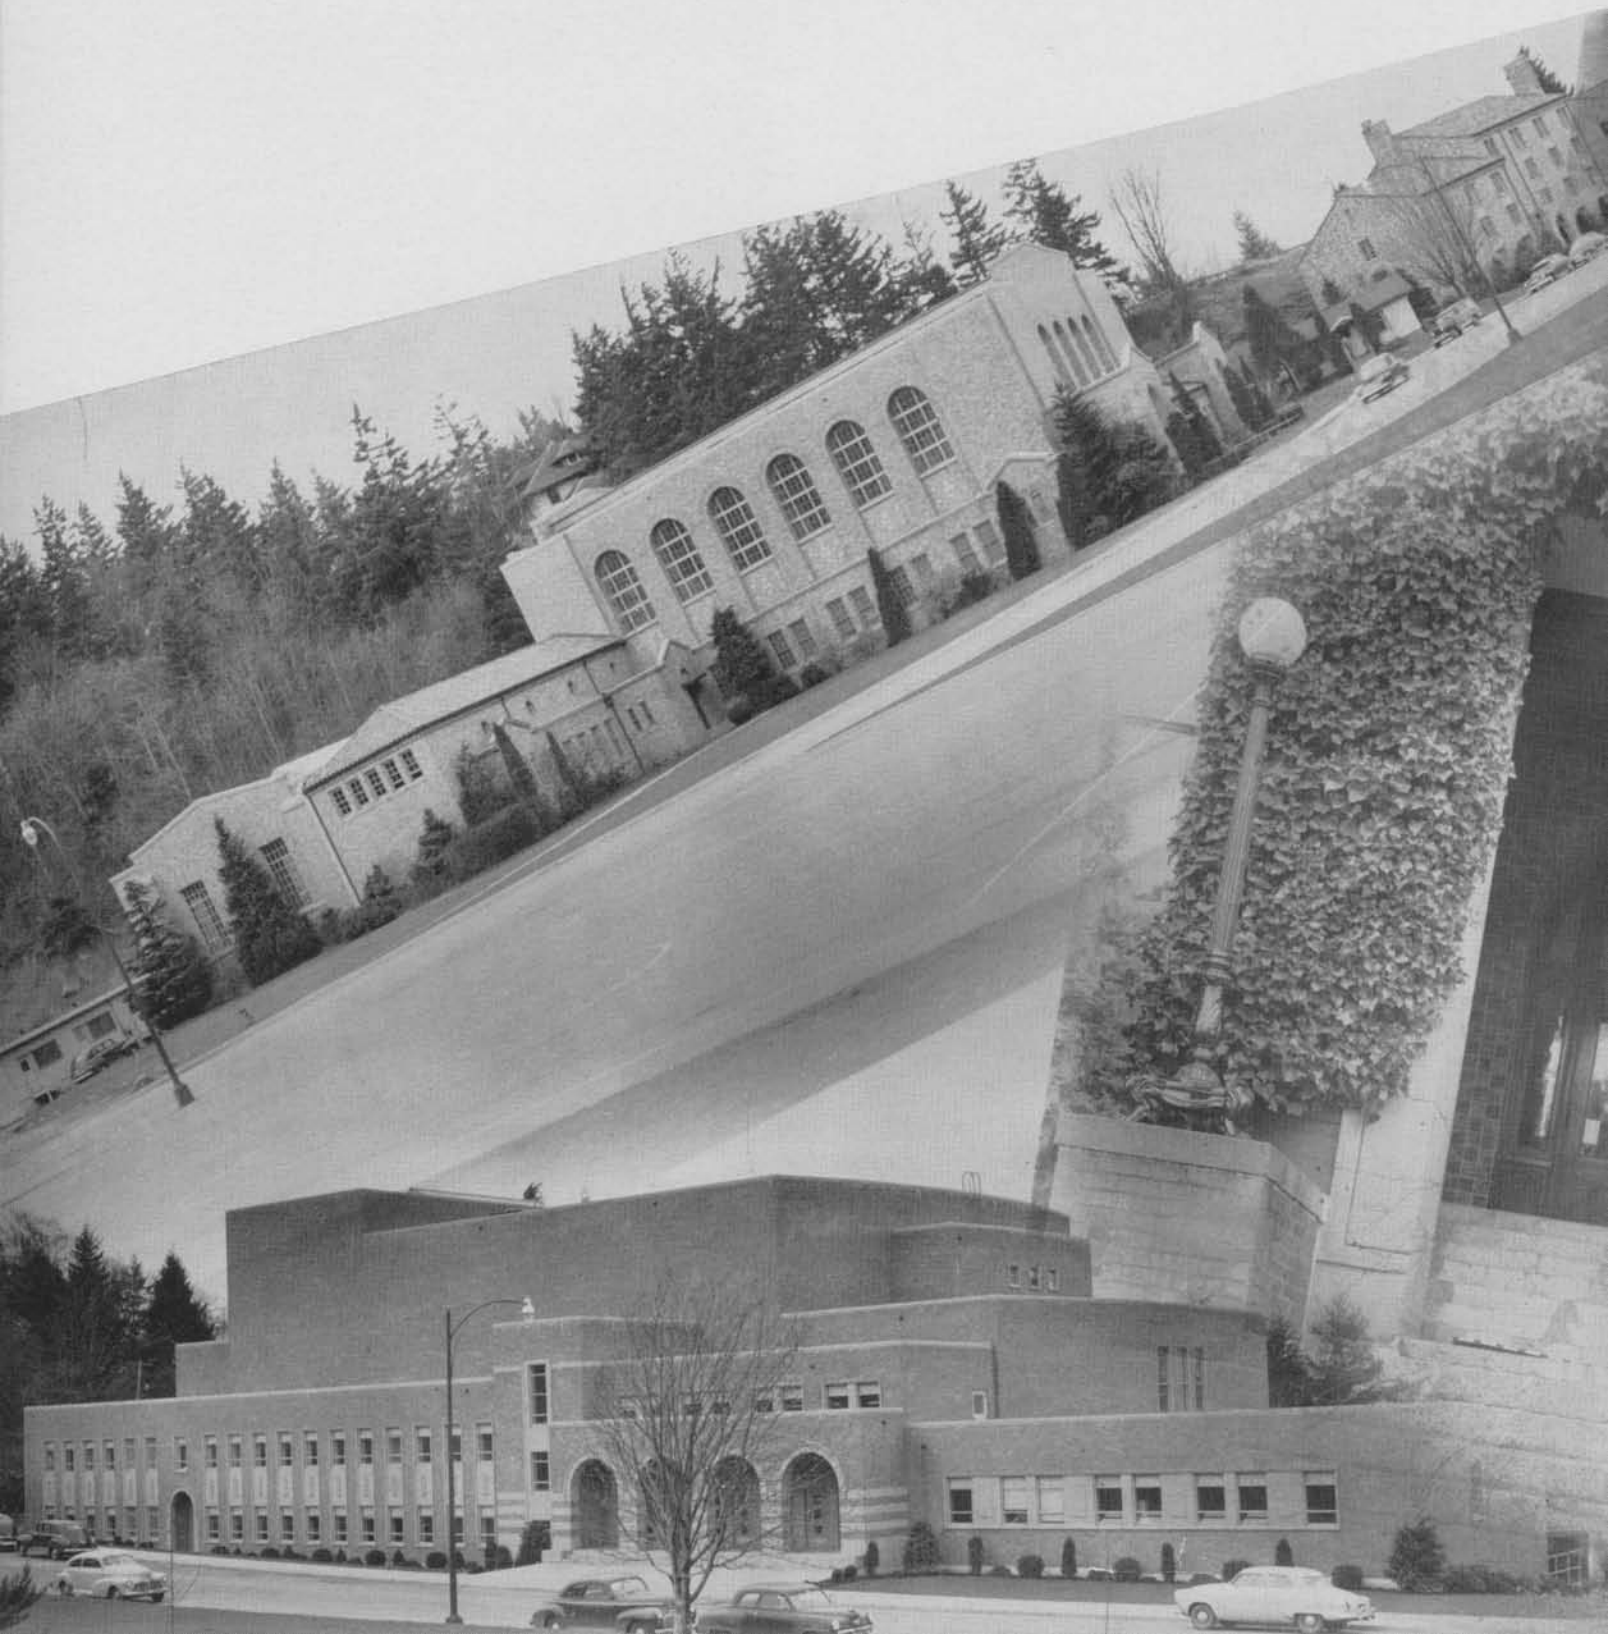

1. "And then she said to me . . ."
2. Sno fun!
3. Just on-lookers.
4. Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching.
5. Reveille, reveille, rise and shine!
6. The gazer and sipper crowd.

MINISTRATION

The Klipsun has significant purposes. Over the years it has presented by picture and word an annual story, or review, of the College. The author of "The First Fifty Years," a history of the first half century of the College, Professor Arthur C. Hicks, drew on the annuals. It is certain that the author of the second half century of the College will do likewise.

Emphasis, very appropriately, has been and is placed on people and student activities. It is possible for each student's picture to be in the Klipsun at least once; in most cases it is in a group, but this is significant. It is generally admitted that student activities may be described in terms of the reader's understanding by the annual better than in publications of higher institutions of some years ago. Also, the program and the plant of the College are presented as attractively as is usually found elsewhere. One picture, according to an ancient proverb, is worth a thousand words.

The Klipsun is edited and financed by the Student Body, for which the Trustees, the Faculty, and the Alumni are grateful. On every hand excellent planning and execution of plans by the Editor and her staff have been evident during the year. We thank Nadine Schilling, Editor; Ruth Britt, Business Manager, and James Bliss, Faculty Adviser. I know we shall always cherish their story of the College for 1954-1955.

W. W. HAGGARD
President.

Friendliness is as traditionally a part of WWCE as Old Main and its background of Sehome Hill and ivy-covered walls. This sociable spirit, said to be found on only a few small campuses, is developing to an even fuller extent as the college enrollment increases. In spite of a bigger plant, the faculty, administrators, and students associate easily, in or out of the classrooms, in a relaxed, amicable way.

This spirit is evidenced in such annual school affairs as the faculty dinners in September, the sack race on Campus Day, the conscientious, personalized counseling, the classroom discussions and coffee-break debates.

The Board of Control, the student-faculty administrative body on campus, provides another opportunity for relationships between students and faculty members to flourish. At weekly meetings pertinent problems are debated with all sides represented.

Together with the faculty and students, the administrators have contributed to the efficient operation of the 1954-55 campus. The Board of Trustees has for many years given Western Washington College the inspired leadership of laymen who unselfishly devote themselves to the problems of higher education. This year's Board of Trustee members included Burton A. Kingsbury, Donald Eldridge, and Harry A. Binzer.

The deans, their secretaries, the registrar and his assistants all have given a great deal of their time to making the year more educationally profitable to the students, and to smoothing the rough road to higher learning. Their offices are known to all students as places where guidance and friendly advice on such matters as programs, housing, employment, and veterans' affairs is willingly given.

The spirit of friendly cooperation between the administration and the student body, as well as the untiring efforts of the faculty to provide outstanding educational opportunities result in making Western Washington College an institution which is praised for its achievement by educators throughout the country.

New Faculty Members In Review

Pictured above are nine of Western's twelve new faculty members for 1954-55. Left to right they are Richard Paige, assistant professor of music in the absence of Bernard Regier; Corinne Klann, education supervisor; Dr. Patricia McDonald, education and psychology, who was here for fall quarter; Dr. Gerald Kahan of the speech department; Dr. Donald Brown and Dr. Jack Saunders, who are in the education department; and Dr. P. H. Atteberry, chairman of the industrial arts department. In the front are James Bliss, assistant professor of English and journalism; and J. E. B. Morris, catalog librarian. Others new to Western this year were James High, an associate professor of history; John Kulbitski, who is substituting for Ray Ciszek; and Fred Lister, a mathematics instructor; and a former Western grad in the science department, Dr. James Martin. He came during the winter quarter.

Notice how pleased Dr. Knapman looks as he carves ham for the Homecoming smorgasbord. Dr. Kuder, were you fudging a little as you started out in that sack race? Dr. Taylor looked worn out before he even started. Our rinky-tink pianist, Ralph Thompson, is all set to give us his rendition of "Far Above." Check Luck Kangley and Jim O'Brien enjoying coffee at the Lounge. Miss Ramsland looks so proud of her Scandinavian treasures. Could it be that she is thinking of returning? Bet she is! "Big Mac" even makes Judy, Hospice Inn's Saint Bernard, seem small. Straw-boss friends, Cederstrom and soulmate, are celebrating their success in giving final exams. Don't eat too much, now, Dr. Haggard. Dr. Hicks looks as if he's really going to fill up his plate. Sue Cabe and her friend are pleased about something. WHAT did THEY do? At the Norsemen's Ball we found Dr. Harwood and his partner "tripping the light fantastic." Fantastic? And way over in the corner is Dr. Van-Aver, who just DOESN'T want to cooperate.

School Service Their Aim

Secretaries and assistants to offices, departments, and staff members play an important role in creating the friendly spirit we know here at Western. Although only two of the many groups were able to get together for pictures, all of them deserve recognition for their work.

Many students are employed by the research bureau, the registrar, business office, the physical education department, laundry, president's office, book store, and co-op. Some are assistants to the faculty members. Some students serve as janitors, laboratory assistants, and cafeteria helpers. The list is almost endless. The school could not be run without the cooperative efforts of these fine people. We salute them!

BOC collects, distributes, administrates

The work and responsibilities of the Board of Control require considerable time to solve the many problems involved in an efficiently run student government. The board is responsible for the collection and distribution of all student funds, the administration of the student book store, co-op, and lounge. It handles the money for extra-curricular activities, including athletic programs, music, debate, and drama. In addition, it is the legislative organization for the student body.

The board members continued to investigate the possibility of erecting a Student Union building. This vital topic was discussed at length and a program promoted.

Several of the members attended conferences this year. This participation brought solutions to common problems of the colleges of our state. In May, Western was host to the Evergreen Conference Student Association on the campus.

Much credit must be given Mrs. Enid Griswold, Miss Shirley Nelson, Dr. Howard Critchfield, and Dr. Albert VanAver for their able assistance and advisement during the year.

Choir sings praises of Western

The Western Washington choir of 1954-55, under the direction of Richard Paige, started their season by singing at the annual Parents Day in October. The Christmas concert in December featured such works as "Agnus Dei," "Psalm 150," "Oh, Savior, Throw the Heavens Wide," "One God," "A Merry Christmas," and the massed chorus and orchestral presentation of the "Hallelujah Chorus."

Highlighting the Winter quarter was the tour of numerous high schools of Western Washington by about 60 members of the group. While on tour, the choir sang at Seattle, Renton, Kent, Aberdeen, Lake Stevens, and other schools. They also gave a television performance in Seattle and one in Tacoma.

After much hard work, "Dido and Aeneas" and "Trial by Jury," two short operas, were presented by the group during Spring quarter.

Mr. Paige, who is directing the choir this year in the absence of Bernard Regier, came to Western from the East coast, where he sang on radio and television for 12 years.

Officers for this year are president, John Sundquist; vice president, Hal Roberts; secretary, Nancy Turk; treasurer, Bill Vaughan; robe custodians, Gwen Boulton and Gladys Grabner; stage managers, Jack Campbell and Gene Langill. Senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman representatives were Bob Young, Gwen Boulton, Bob McMurray, and Carol Morrison, respectively.

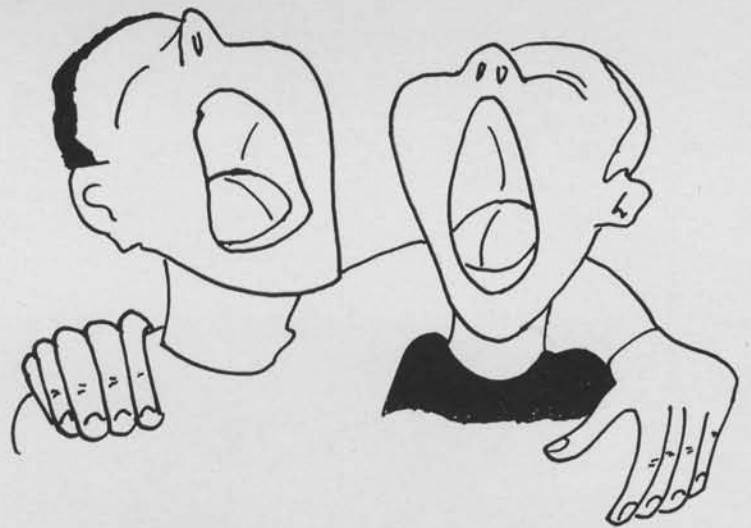

Row four: Dick Owens, Gerry Blankenship, Tom Roddy, Bill DeJong, Bob McMurray, Bob Young, Lee VanZanten, Jim Berg, John Goodman, Gene Langill, and Dave Johnson.

Row three: Ken Schaffer, Art Mafli, Dan Scribner, Hal Roberts, Al Zabel, Annette Frazier, Gladys Grabner, Arlene Adair, Mary Ann Coffee, and Gwen Boulton.
Row two: Carolyn Munch, Rose Ann Southern, Lynn Frazier, Elizabeth Carlson, Ethel Preston, Aleen Jones, Beckie Boroughs, Marlys Sliker, Kay Ellsworth, Janet Frankie, and Lorraine Tyyska.
Row one: Helen Snowden, Diane Maki, Janice Kleinsorge, Carole Kanouse, Myrna Kemp, Hazel Heather, Jeanne Rettig, Gayle Sparks, and Sandra Hall.
Missing: Carol Morrison, Shirley Taylor, Dick Walston, Allan Mathieson, Elaine Kelly.

They Met for Music and Dance

The Modern Dance Club, coached by Miss Shirley Nelson, is composed of students interested in rhythmical and interpretative movement. At the Artists and Lecture assembly March 4, they interpreted various geometric forms.

Back: Bob McMurry, Marilyn Walter, Don Daverin, Joyce Wall, Nanette Otness, Jane Mattieligh, and Evalyn Bickers. Front: Floyd Abernathy, Carolyn Keene, and Mary Jones.

Three of Western's most important smaller music groups are the girls' nonette and the two men's quartets. They furnished audiences with many enjoyable moments.

Under the guidance of Richard Paige, Western students were given a brand-new musical treat. Newly formed this year, the men's glee club sang for the coronation of the Homecoming Queen, the Christmas concert, and were featured on the choir tour in February.

First row: Burke Hatfield, Graham Perry, Lorraine Guthrie, Ron Ougland, Carole Kanouse, and Sandra Hall.

Highlighted by the Rafael Mendez concert, the winter tour, and supplemented by numerous campus appearances, the Viking Band, conducted by Dr. Don C. Walker, demonstrated its versatility this year.

Bellingham High School headed the series of tour concerts presented on the Washington coast between February 28 and March 4. Anacortes, Oak Harbor, Marysville, Snohomish, Bremerton, Silverdale, Port Orchard, Shelton, Puyallup, Fife, and Franklin and Garfield High Schools in Seattle were also on the tour itinerary.

Numbers composed and arranged by band members were included on the repertoire for the second consecutive year. Trends in progressive jazz were combined into an ensemble selection by Burke Hatfield, and Robert Castro arranged and played Grand Russian Fantasy, a bass solo. Viva Mendez, a cornet solo honoring the group's winter concert artist, was composed by Ronald Simpson Mendez, world famed trumpeter, presented two concerts on February 18, in his second appearance with the Western band.

President Ron Simpson headed council members Frank Nielsen, Donna Nugent, Pat Lunde, Bob Duvall, Don Poole, and Wally Rants in directing activities of the organization.

Home football games were sparked at halftime by the eighty-member precision marching unit with their unique formations and snappy marches. Traveling to the Viking-UBC game in Vancouver, the organization appeared on television and entertained a large group of enthusiastic spectators.

High-stepping majorettes Lorrene Bergmann, Lyla Bonney, and Donna Rhodes, and Drum Major Wally Rants led them in their drills.

The Homecoming Parade, Blossom Time Festival, and Northwest Indian Festival in Mukilteo were also participated in by the Viking Band.

Dr. Frank D'Andrea conducts the 85-piece Civic Orchestra, which is comprised of college students as well as townspeople. The orchestra plays for several musical presentations throughout the year, highlighted by the two concerts fall and winter quarters. At these concerts nationally famous artists appear as guests soloists. This year Raymond Manton, tenor, and Esther Glazer, violinist, were the artists presented.

Some of the major orchestral works that were presented this year were: Schumann's "Symphony No. 1," Wagner's "Rienzi Overture," and Mendelssohn's "Violin Concerto in E Minor" (with Esther Glazer, soloist).

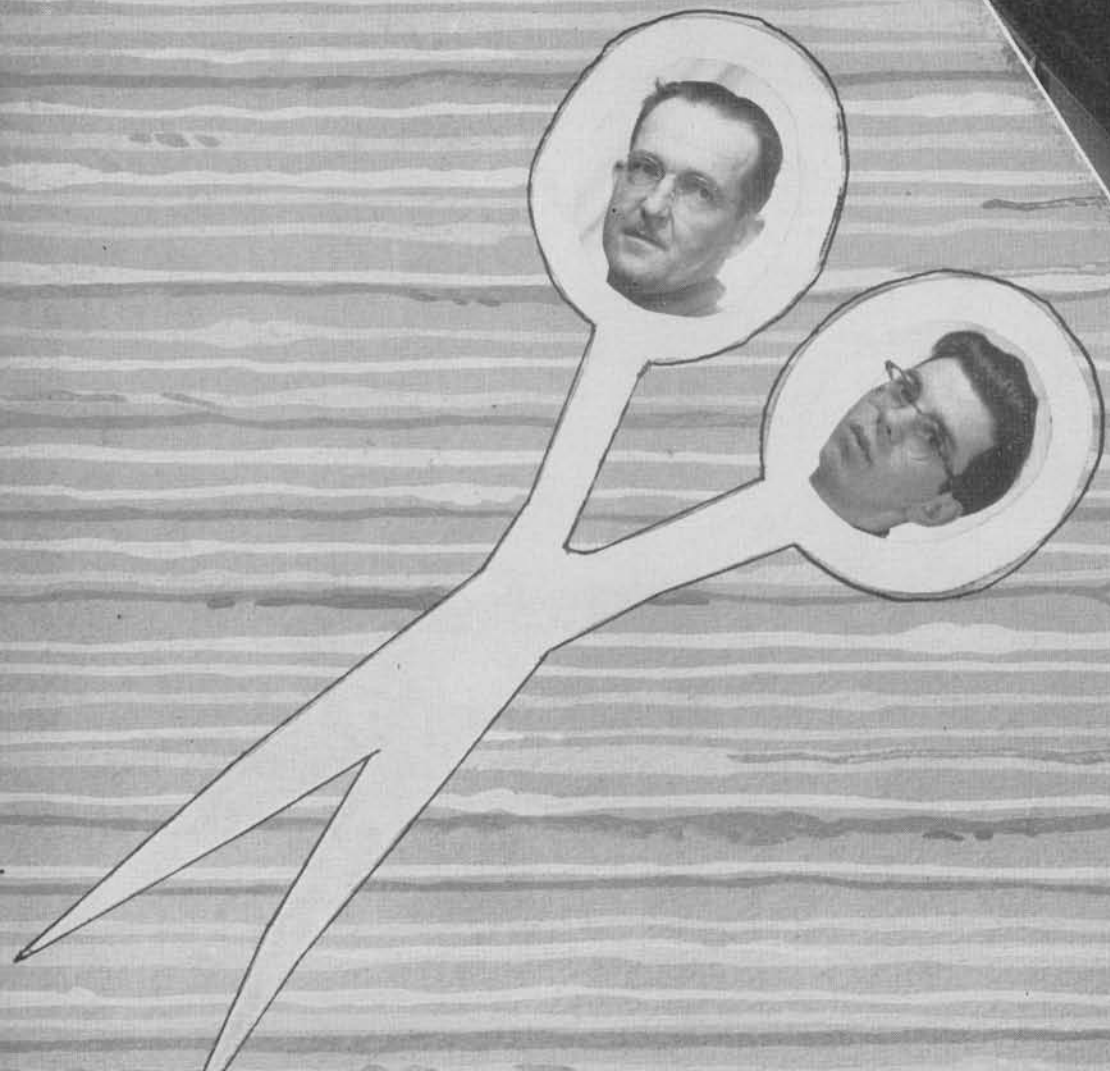

The college orchestra is derived from the student members of the Civic Orchestra, and this group also plays for numerous occasions. The yearly program includes: the college Christmas program, presented by the music department; several school assemblies; accompaniment for Mr. Schaub's organ recitals; the college opera, presented in the spring by the music department; and, most appropriately to climax the year, the graduation exercises.

Much time, energy and teamwork are required in order to produce a yearbook. Our Klipsun team this year included: Editor-in-chief, Nadine Schilling; business manager, Ruth Britt; classes section, Pat Hawk, Marilyn Peoples, Dave Johnson, Annette Campbell; index, Carol Holstine, Gail Gustafson; art, Ben Doyle, Pat Gibson, Al Swanberg, Rod Maxwell-Muir; photography, Ann Meurer, Ron Camfield, Stan Lilian, Art Maffli; administration, Lynda Samuelson, Sandra Yotsko, Jim Hamilton; organizations, Carol Morrison, Margaret Peterson, Marilyn Ogdon, Janet Frankie; campus life and organized houses, Bill Baumgart, Shirley Baumgart, Maxine King, Janet Soine; and sports, Pat Gerspacher, Don Tackett, and Tom Romerdahl. Across the top we show Lynda Samuelson, Margaret Peterson and Carol Morrison; and Benny Doyle. Below: Stan Lilian and Ron Camfield.

The Collegian, under the leadership of Editor Roger Grovdahl, kept the students of Western abreast of the local happenings on campus. The tough job of business manager changed hands in winter quarter when Colleen Sullivan turned over the reins of her office to Bob Pearce. With an excellent staff working on the paper, the week's happenings were delivered to the students each Friday at noon. The staff consisted of: Rodger Williams, copy editor and assistant editor; Dell Abelein, news editor; Tom Romerdahl, sports editor; Kathy Troutner, feature editor; Gail Gustafson, society editor; Jim Simon, student affairs editor; Stan Lilian, photographer; and Bob Dunlap, special feature writer. Among the many reporters on the staff were: Jim Hamilton, Roland Sayler, Margaret McMullin, Annette Campbell, Jan Atteberry, Clara Longstreth, Diane Pemberton, Herb Boies, Jan Matthews, Dennis Daggett, Keith Fletcher, Shirley Graham, Alice Meurer, Marilyn Ogdon, Margaret Peterson, Donna Rhodes, Nancy Thomas, Blair Nelson, and LaVonne Hamro. The annual publications banquet was held Spring quarter with Richard Bibler, the cartoonist, as guest speaker.

Minor Publications Play Major Role

TOM COLLINS
Navigator Editor

DELL ABELEIN
Profile Editor

JAN KING
Homecoming Booklet Editor

The Navigator may be one of Western's most important publications as far as freshmen are concerned. Each year, a copy of the Navigator is mailed to incoming students in order to give them a brief preview of the year ahead. The booklet contains facts on grades, deficiencies, organizations, activities, and other information about Western. The 1954-55 Navigator was edited by Tom Collins.

Western's student directory, the Profile, was edited this year by Dell Abelein. This booklet, which contains a list of names, addresses, local phone numbers, home towns, class, and marital status of students and faculty members, is published each fall with a supplement in winter and spring.

Jan King organized and put together another of Western's minor publications, the Homecoming booklet. This year's edition, which carried out a Gay Nineties theme, contained pictures pertinent to this annual Western event. Juanita Simonson served as business manager.

CAMERA CLUB

Both students and faculty participate in the activities of this group. The club helps beginners and experienced "camera fiends." Some members of this club helped record pictorially this year's events. Members include, back row: Bob Preston, Jerry White, Ron Camfield, Claude Brown, Terry Hansen, and Dr. David McDonald. Front: Bart Clendenen, Bette McGuire, Justin Nix, and Eva Aldrich.

WRITER STAFF

These are the ambitious people who compiled, edited, and helped write essays, stories, and poems for that publication entitled, "The Writer." With able leadership and advisement, this little book became a reality once again this year. In the picture are Clara Longstreth, Darrel Parry, James H. O'Brien, adviser; Bob Carey, editor; Dave Gay, and Annis Hovde, adviser.

PRESS CLUB

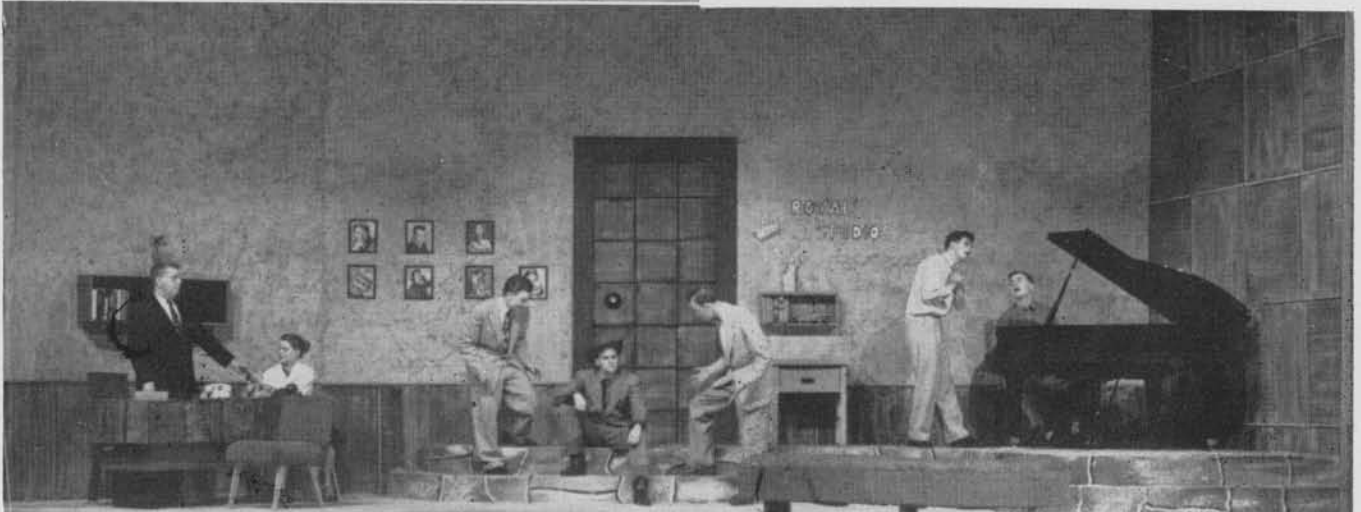

From the staffs of the various campus publications come the members of the Press Club. Their many activities opened with a party at the home of the adviser. They helped initiate a press conference which was held in conjunction with the Evergreen Conference at Western this spring. Left to right, they are: Pat Gerspacher, Jim Simon, Gary Douglas, James Bliss, adviser; Stan Lilian, Colleen Sullivan, Gail Gustafson, Carol Morrison, Dell Abelein, Margaret Peterson, Bob Dunlap, president; Ron Camfield, Howard Robinson, and Clara Longstreth.

Boy Meets Girl

This sparkling comedy-satire on Hollywood film life was presented by the Speech department, November 19 and 20. The play, a former Broadway hit, was directed by Gerald Kahan, with sets by Mark Flanders. The plot revolves around the efforts of Benson and Law (Al Gunderson and John Schermerhorn), a team of scenario writers, to capitalize on the infant son of Suzie (Kathy Garrett), a naive and lovable commissary waitress. Baby "Happy" is a sensation, much to the disgust of faded cowboy star Larry Toms (Lee Porterfield), who with his agent, Rossetti (Bill Elwood), schemes to get control of the child by marrying Suzie. However, Suzie's heart belongs to a young Englishman, Rodney Bevan (Richard Dye). The bulk of the action takes place in the office of production supervisor C. Elliot Friday (Jim Simon). Friday is "a patient man" whose nerves are severely taxed by waitresses, song writers, midgets—and trumpets! True love wins out in the end, with Suzie walking out on the whole mess, announcing that she's "going to Europe—with Rodney!"

The Happy Hypochondriac

The hilarious production of Moliere's farce-comedy, "The Happy Hypochondriac," was presented winter quarter. The famous 17th century play portrays the miseries and comic capers of an imaginary invalid, Dysorgan (Charles Dennis), who places himself at the mercies of two quack doctors (Al Gunderson and Donn Higley). Dysorgan's groans, quarrels, frolics, and faithful reliance on pills, nostrums, and blood-letting brought frequent chuckles and howls of laughter from the audience. Expertly cast as a foil to Dysorgan was Hilda Nuttall as Toinette, the insubordinate housekeeper. Smooth, convincing performances were turned in by Pliny Allen (Thomas Bonebinder), Marilyn Tharp (Angelica), John Behme (Claude), Jacqueline Willette (Belina), Evalyn Bickers (Louisa), Floyd Jackson (Beralde), Herbert Spearin (Stickloyal), and Douglas Smith (Bottlestopper). A major portion of the applause was due to Dr. Charles Kahan, director, and Mark Flanders, technical director.

AWS has happy, eventful year

The executive council of Associated Women Students is composed of the officers of AWS, representatives elected by women students from each class, chairmen of standing committees, and representatives from each women's club on campus. This commission governs all AWS affairs. The advisers are Miss Mira Booth and Miss Lorraine Powers. Activities included in this year's program were teas, a fall fashion show, a Christmas party, special programs at assemblies, and the Snowball Tolo.

February 18 and 19 Western was host to the Associated Women Students of all colleges and junior colleges in our state. The University of British Columbia also attended as international delegates. Co-chairmen were Lorrene Bergmann and Kay MacKenzie. April 6-10, Lorraine Natrass, Dora Skieens, and Nadine Schilling attended the IAWS convention at the University of Kansas. WWCE was elected at that time to be a member of the Intercollegiate Associated Women Students.

Sponsorship of a semi-formal dance and many assemblies are among the activities of the Norsemen's Club. This group, which aims to unite and plan special social events for the college men, is made up of all the men students registered at Western. It is governed by duly elected officers and class representatives under the name of the Norsemen's Commission. They organize the yearly program and conduct the business affairs of the club between the regularly scheduled meetings. Advising this group is Mr. C. W. McDonald.

Officers this year included Jack Berry, vice president; Al Evans, president; Joel Carlson, treasurer; and Bill Elwood, secretary.

NORSEMEN . . . Activity for all.

FTA

The E. A. Bond chapter of Future Teachers of America, our own professional group on campus, gathered in the Campus School auditorium for their picture. A very active group in student affairs, they were led by President Paul Oakes, his officers, and Adviser Frank Punches.

Greer, H. Scott, L. Ford, S. Morrical, M. Hathaway, B. Strong, and A. Frazier.

CRITICS CLUB

A formal discussion group on campus is the Critics Club. This group is primarily for people interested in increasing their appreciation of literature and of everyday affairs. The adviser, Dr. Albert VanAver, is also the instructor of a literary criticism class. In the picture are: J. Kephart, N. Bergeson, Mrs. M. Rank, H. Small, L. Grace, J. Willette, S. Hall, B. Nordvedt, C. LeWarne, A. Shaw, Dr. VanAver, P. Oakes, T. Manney, and R. Cohrs.

FORENSICS

This club provides an opportunity for all students interested in debate, interpretative reading, oratory, after-dinner speaking, and acting to come together to exchange ideas. Throughout the college year they participated in many inter-collegiate debate tournaments in this state and also at Linfield College at McMinnville, Oregon. Members include: Back row: K. Moffett, J. Simon, B. McDonald, G. Roach, A. Gillespie, W. Lord, B. Cox, A. Crawford, and B. Waring. Third row: Dave Northrup, vice president; Mr. Paul Herbold, adviser; Nancy Tate, secretary-treasurer; Jean Dunham, historian; C. Dennis, J. Dennis, and P. Griffith. Second row: J. Brose, J. Morris, J. Warneke, and J. Lamoureux. Front row: J. Schermerhorn, S. Taylor, and D. Davis.

SCHUSSKENS

One of the larger clubs on campus is the Ski Club. Membership is composed of students interested in skiing, one of the fastest growing sports in the Pacific Northwest. Both beginners and experienced skiers are included. During the winter skiing months, the club sponsors one-day trips to Mount Baker. At the end of the season a ski meet is held with the winner receiving a gold cup. The back row: D. Yoakum, J. Frisbee, B. Hansen, B. Johnston, P. Gibson, N. Blom, and R. Hoff. Fourth row: A. Shaw, D. Dingerson, E. Tisch, J. Soine, P. Brown, B. Berg, G. Smith, J. Mattieligh, R. Walker, and R. Barber. Third row: E. Johnson, D. Lyle, I. Floe, N. Granger, L. Hogan, J. Groom, and B. Brownell. Second row: S. Hall, D. Tackett, N. McGee, J. Baker, M. Weber, S. Townley, M. Blom, and A. Swanberg. Front: P. Russell, D. Liberty, A. Oberhus, L. Stromberg, J. Richards, A. Jahn, and R. Britt.

STUDENT WIVES

The Student Wives is a social group composed of wives of married students in school. Regular meetings are held in the dining room of Edens Hall. Many services to the school and community are performed by the group. During the year, among other things, the group sponsored a turkey dinner. In the back row are: V. Armbrust, C. Keck, P. Elkan, M. Edwards, K. Randall, S. Brooks, N. Gudmundson, M. Pangle, M. J. Paull, M. Jacobson, B. Stone, N. Mickelson, and L. Westrick. Third row: D. Utt, P. Good, and C. Hoisington. Row two: P. Boushey, A. Gay, J. Hevly, M. A. Alsid, B. Clemmer, J. Start, G. Eastman, B. Baker, M. A. Coleman, S. Eacrett, L. Garcia, B. Thramer, M. Beaty, B. Anglin, R. A. Berntsen, M. Fletcher, N. Cowden, G. Streets, and S. Preston. Front: J. Porter, E. Rhodes, D. Ferrer, L. Brouillard, S. Bowen, S. Harder, M. Selk, C. Lowrie, J. Olson, C. Milat, P. Thompson, and B. Hawthorne.

OFF-CAMPUS WOMEN

All women students who do not live in college organized houses are eligible for membership in Off-Campus Women. During this past year, the group has sponsored and aided in various activities. The members are: Front row: J. Zion, J. Alexander, J. Wright, L. Reinholt, and E. Preston. Second row: C. Stull, M. McAllister, P. Hauser, R. Rairdon, T. Aldrich, and M. McSorley. Back row: M. Rodisich, P. Hauser, and A. Sweet.

COLHECONOMISTS

Women students interested in the field of home economics are members of Colhecon. Some of the club activities held this year were a waffle supper, fruit cake sale, donut sales, and a state convention during spring vacation. Members pictured in the back row are: N. Fehlhaber, Rosalie Weidenbach, D. Twing, M. A. Bailey, J. Wolgemuth, D. Shook, N. Gibson, A. Smith, M. Wilbur, M. Noble, B. Berg, P. Sowers, S. Widner, P. Putnam, A. Mullen, and P. Staggs. Front: N. Schilling, M. Tharp, N. J. Smith, Miss Katherine Detring, adviser; Barbara Donnelly, president; Shirley McBride, secretary; Janet Glass, vice president, and Deloris Olson, treasurer.

W R A

Led by Avis Weidenbach, the members of the Women's Recreation Association enjoyed a fully-rounded year of athletic events which included everything from bowling to hockey. A very successful Carnival in January was one of the main events of the year for these energetic girls, whose membership includes: F. Sanders, S. King, B. Arnot, J. Hall, L. Neklason, A. Meurer, S. Morrical, J. Hilliker, D. Rhodes, L. Frazier, M. Stevenson, D. Bowen, J. Christianson, Chloe Arbogast, M. Guetlin, N. Tate, M. Peoples, J. Carlbon, L. Stoneburg, R. Westman, A. Davies, M. Huff, and S. Yotsko. Row two: P. Barton, A. Weidenbach, M. Skina, P. Lindell, J. Rozman, J. Frankie, R. Haynes, J. Kleinsorge, L. Langberg, and H. Hayashida. Front row: L. Tyyska, L. Chudek, M. Scribner, D. Olson, J. Glass, S. Graham, M. Jones, D. Swenson, M. Mills, and C. Huver.

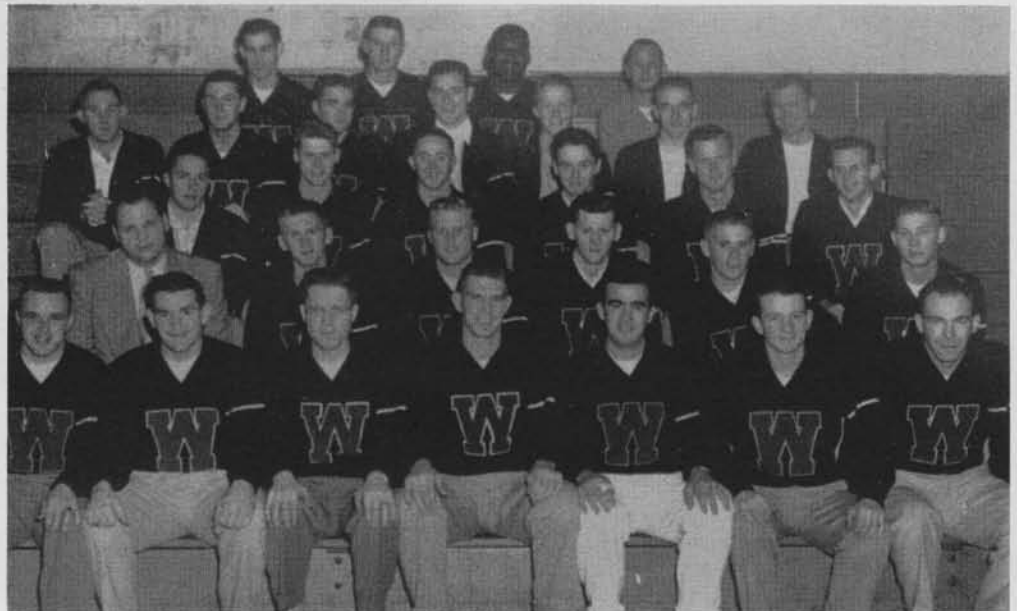

RHEBA D'S

Named for a former director of physical education, the Rheba D. Nickerson Club is composed of girls majoring or minoring in physical education. Their president is Lois Chudek, and adviser, Miss Ruth Weythman. In the back row are: L. Neklason, J. Hall, and L. Frazier. Third row: S. King, F. Sanders, and P. Barton. Second row: M. Guetlin, M. Jones, and P. Lindell. First row: E. Lewis, L. Langberg, D. Liberty, L. Chudek, and S. Graham.

"W" CLUB

Pictured here are several of the men who have earned a "W" sweater in an athletic event here at Western. Their president is Ken Swalwell, and their adviser is John Kulbitski. The club sponsors an award assembly, a mixer, and a banquet annually, among other events. Membership consists of: G. Radliff, D. Odell, W. Ball, and G. Galloway in the back row. Fourth row: R. Doyle, T. Whan, J. Sager, G. Pfister, K. Moffett, D. Daverin, and A. Swanberg. Third row: B. Doyle, J. Kennett, D. Burgess, G. Swan, R. Hughes, and R. Hansen. Second row: John Kulbitski, adviser; A. Hagglund, R. White, R. Burger, G. Kohlwes, and Bill Kendrick. Front row: D. Lapp, G. Hanson, P. Anglin, K. Swlawell, M. Halleck, R. Rosi, and G. Edwards.

ICC

Representatives of each student organization and faculty advisers compose the membership of the Inter-Club Council. All clubs are under the control of this central organization. They handle problems of groups, and set standards to follow in activities sponsored by these organizations. In the back row: E. McFate, R. Hall, A. Evans, and H. Small. Third row: R. Sayler, J. Reinholt, M. Scribner, J. Zion, L. Natrass, L. Chudek, P. Oakes, R. Samms, A. Swanberg, R. Camfield, and R. Dunlap. Second row: B. Donnelly, C. LeWarne, and D. Beatty. Front: D. Burgess, and R. Sundal.

PEP COMMITTEE

Committee Chairman Steve Gimurtu led the many members of his group in promoting enthusiastic response in all school functions. The committee is made up of representatives from the organized houses and clubs on the campus as well as cheer and song leaders. They were ably advised by Dr. August Radke. Back row: V. Solie, J. Buchanan, R. Jelinek, D. Johnston, D. Canary. Fifth row: C. Rolie, R. Sayler, L. Gazija, N. Lange, B. Kenyon, B. Fay, L. Bergmann, and D. Mason. Row four: Dr. Radke, D. Flora, N. J. Smith, D. Shook, B. J. Berg, J. Glass, B. Brownell, and D. Porter. Row three: C. Quigley, M. Peoples, K. Bowsher, J. Njos, M. King, M. Andrews, D. Pemberton, and D. Swenson. Row two: P. Bower, P. Kennett, N. Blair, J. Nelson, B. West, B. Berg, C. Brewer, and R. Sundal. Row one: S. Gimurtu, K. Barbas, L. Lindberg, N. Baker, P. Pace, J. O'Malley, D. Skieens, and H. Roberts.

VALKYRIE

To promote more school spirit is one of the purposes of the Valkyrie Club, an elective organization for active women students. Membership is by invitation, and is limited to ten per cent of the girls enrolled in the college. A 2.3 grade average is required. Under the leadership of Marilyn Scribner, the group participated in the homecoming affairs, attended sports events, and held several social functions during the year. Miss Shirley Nelson, adviser, is in the back row, along with M. Scribner, J. King, V. Creel, and P. Gibson. Row two: M. Walter, L. Chudek, A. Chenier, A. McKinney, J. Reinholt, A. Smith, D. Wray, K. Reardon, D. Flora, L. Natrass, L. Keaton, B. Donnelly, V. Wilkinson, A. Bennett, and K. Barbas. Row one: R. A. Britt, D. Skieens, T. Yamishita, D. Folk, L. Samuelson, P. Putnam, N. Schilling, J. Gregerson, L. Bergmann, M. Jones, A. Abernethy, A. Mullen, and K. MacKenzie.

I A CLUB

The Industrial Arts Club is composed of students and faculty members who work with and are primarily interested in this type of program. Their meetings are very instructive and offer many projects for the use of the members. In the picture, back row, are: D. Summers, M. Milat, P. H. Atteberry, adviser; B. Dupris, Mr. Johns, and S. Lilian. Third row: R. Berntsen, J. Neilsen, J. Kuranko, A. Hansen, G. Greathouse, J. Smith, and A. Porter. Row two: E. Carter, E. Robinson, Charles Rice, adviser; Jack Halstead, T. Waggoner, J. Westrick, and R. Selk. Front row: H. Worthyake, G. Staggs, E. Thomas, K. Merager, T. Hawthorne, E. Thramer, G. Thompson, and D. Huntley.

WESVETS

This was the first active year on the campus for the Wesvets, veterans who are enrolled at Western. Monthly meetings were held by the group, who helped to promote the interests of the veteran in school affairs. They were advised by Hugh Thompson. Membership included: T. Collins, L. Porterfield, D. McHugo, D. White, A. Porter, D. Campbell, P. Allen, R. Severson, H. Alsid, S. Lilian, R. Sayler, H. Spearin, W. Kauzlarich, G. Clogston, D. Haugland, N. Gudmundson, F. Johnson, M. Field, and R. Grafmyre.

WHO'S WHO

These students, juniors and seniors, were nominated for listings in the annual publication, "Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities." Membership is based on scholarship, citizenship, and participation in extracurricular activities. Back row: L. Chudek, C. LeWarne, R. Cohrs, V. Wilkinson, P. Gibson, D. Northrup, W. Moores, J. Lamoureux, L. Bergmann, and F. Jackson. Front: J. Gregerson, A. Smith, B. Fay, A. Chenier, M. Jones, K. MacKenzie, L. Natrass, and D. Gay.

SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY

The Scholarship Society was set up as recognition for students of high scholastic standing and ideals. A 3.5 average or above is required for membership. Members are chosen from the junior and senior classes. An annual banquet is their main activity. At this time new initiates are introduced and presented with their pins. In the picture, left to right, are: P. Oakes, C. LeWarne, Virginia Wilkinson, secretary; Ray Cohrs, Mr. Edward Arntzen, adviser, and June Lamoureux, president.

GANIZED HOUSES

Edens Hall

Fall quarter was celebrated with open house on Parents' Day, with the dorm playing hostess to 300 guests. Homecoming created enthusiasm for the girls, who presented a display and a skit. To complete the festivities, a smorgasbord was held in the cafeteria.

Thanksgiving was observed with the traditional and successful banquet, thanks to the work of many committees. As the joyous season approached, excitement in the dorm grew, for Christmas was just around the corner! The spirit of Christmas was captured when the girls decorated a large tree and their individual rooms and did the traditional Christmas caroling.

Along with spring came the freshman Pansy Breakfast. The pansies were hidden by the upper classmen on a section of the campus and all the freshman girls hurried to find them. The Mothers' week-end, which included a dinner for the girls and their mothers, was enjoyed by all present. Ending the year's fun, the graduating girls in the dorm were honored with the annual Senior Breakfast.

Guiding the year's activities were Mrs. Haynes, housemother; Linda Keaton, house president; Gladys Grabner, secretary; Nanette Otness, treasurer; and Judy Sorenson and Harriet Wilson, social chairmen, with the assistance of the 114 girls.

Men's Residence Hall

Men's Residence Hall initiated the year with its Halloween fireside, including dancing and recreation. Dean McDonald spoke to the group on college standards earlier in the quarter. MRH was among the houses taking part in Parents' Day open house on the Western campus.

The house officers were: Dick Walston, president; Dean Dingerson, vice-president; Clarence Youngberg, secretary-treasurer; Jack Hill, chairman of the disciplinary board. House mother is Mrs. Imogene Anderson.

Al Bedient and Al Hagglund were responsible for the homecoming skit, while Bill Cox and Wally Lord headed the display committee. In early November MRH sponsored its "Turkey Trot" mixer in the Rec hall. The highlight of this event was the giving of a live turkey to one of the students. Co-chairmen of the dance were Tom Romerdahl and Dick Kolkana.

MRH entered two teams in both the bowling and basketball intramural sports program. They also organized a house ping pong tournament.

Later in November the Thanksgiving banquet and MRH date informal were successfully held. Also the following month MRH helped program the Christmas dinner on December 14. At their party the same evening, Santa Claus appeared to promote the Christmas spirit.

February 26 was the date of both the college play and the MRH theater party. Inaugurated this year, the first Terrace dance was presented April 29. The middle of May they made their annual picnic outing. Fried chicken was number one on the menu.

Senior Hall

The twenty-three residents of 1201 Garden Street have concluded another successful year of activities. Fall quarter got under way with the initiation of new members, followed several weeks later by open house on Parents' Day. The holiday season proved to be a busy one, with the annual Thanksgiving banquet and Christmas buffet. The season of spring brought with it the Barn Dance mixer and later on the festivities of Mardi Gras converted the house into New Orleans style. A picnic for all the girls drew to an end the ninth year of Senior Hall's association with the college.

Mathes House

Mathes House is one of the most popular of the men's residence houses off campus. The location across the street from Edens Hall finds special favor with late-sleeping gentry who still like a bit of breakfast before that eight o'clock class. Our house-mother, Mrs. Joe DeGrace, says that our number, on week nights, adds up to thirty, but that on many week-ends it is difficult to scare up more than three men in the whole house! Our greatest talent display is in music, where this year we contributed strongly to both the vocal and instrumental divisions. Sportswise, we at least held our own ground.

Hospice Inn

The twenty-seven residents of Hospice Inn had a very active and eventful year. Fall quarter activities included a small fireside with their guest, Spencer Hall. After the fireside the group went carolling around other college houses.

With the coming of the new year, they welcomed Mrs. Grace Nicholson as their new housemother. Plans were immediately started for the annual semi-formal dinner dance. The dance was held February 25, at Brownie's Cedar Chest, and was enjoyed by all who attended.

The members of Hospice Inn were active participants in the intramural bowling and basketball leagues.

Officers: Harold Leschiutta, secretary-treasurer; Don Lyle, vice-president; Pat Gerspacher, president; Mrs. Stearns, housemother.

Spencer Hall

The active residents of 1127 Garden have participated in many school functions this year. Parents' Day, the first event on the busy schedule, meant "Open House." After this came the hustle and bustle of homecoming. Spencer Hall had a skit and house display, which brought them glory by winning first place. The display, along with many others, made Western's homecoming the best in years.

After the excitement had died down, the girls prepared for the Christmas banquet and the awaited carolling with Hospice Inn.

As the year progressed, Spencer had their annual dinner at Brownie's Cedar Chest.

Spring brought another opportunity for these girls to show their talent in Campus Day skits.

A beach party during the final quarter climaxed the Spencer girls' year at Western.

Officers: Vernetta Arbeiter, secretary-treasurer; Doris Sandvik, vice president; Nancy Baker, president, and Mrs. Frank Parris, housemother.

Harborview Hall

The seventeen residents of Harborview Hall had a terrific year, starting with Parents Day, which was enjoyed by all. This was followed by Homecoming, to which they added their talent. They tied with Daniels Hall for second place. A Christmas banquet was held honoring Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, house parents, and Delesta Smith for their wonderful help during Homecoming. Following the banquet the girls went carolling.

Officers: Back row: Genie Gray, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Hunsaker, housemother; Patty Griffith, reporter. Front: Alice Chenier, vice-president, and Marilyn Johnson, president.

Daniels Hall

Daniels Hall, under the able leadership of President Bob Carey, had another successful year. The fellows of Daniels Hall showed their usual zest by tying for second with Harborview in the Homecoming house displays, and by finishing high in the intramural basketball league.

Other house officers were Joel Carlson, vice president, and Ray Krebs, secretary-treasurer.

Alpine Court

The ambitious men of Alpine Court had an eventful year, participating in the intramural basketball and bowling leagues. At the close of the season they were up high in both.

With the coming of Spring, Alpine Court proved their athletic ability in baseball. The men of Alpine are well represented on our varsity teams.

Kluane Hall

Kluane Hall has been quite busy this past year with Open House, Homecoming, a slumber and a house party included in its activities.

Once a month at dinner a surprise birthday cake was served honoring the girls with birthdays in that month.

During fall quarter we held a backward dinner that caused a lot of fun and excitement. Everyone came dressed backward, they sat backward, and dinner was served backward.

Christmas included carolling and our Christmas party. We also had a room-decorating contest. The rooms were judged and the one with the most Christmas spirit received a prize.

Spring and its nice weather brought about our annual house picnic, which completed the year at Kluane.

Days of the Gay 90's return to Western

Days of the "Gay 90's" returned to Western during the 1954 homecoming. The co-chairmen, Dave Northrup and Kay MacKenzie, and the many committees did an outstanding job in coordinating the various programs and carrying out the theme. The festivities began with a "Bang" at the October 25 kickoff assembly. The classes nominated candidates who were introduced to the student body by their campaign managers at the presentation assembly. Betty Fay was chosen to reign as Queen Sigrid XVII. Nancy Lange, Kathy Barbas, Charlotte Rolie, and Beverly Bergum were elected princesses. Homecoming week-end began with the bonfire and parade, followed by the skits. The two-hour show consisted of skits and in-between acts dealing with the "Gay 90's" theme. Spencer Hall's skit won first-place honors and the Forensic Club placed second. The Press Club took first place in the in-between acts and Pi Kappa Delta second. Following the skits and ending the day's activities was a sock-hop in the gym. The freshman class won the display trophy, the senior class and their horse and buggy won the float trophy, and Spencer Hall was awarded the house display trophy, with Harborview and Daniels Hall tied for second. Bright sunshine and a victory for the Vikings over the Eastern Washington Savages thrilled the homecoming crowd at Battersby Field. Faculty, alumni, and students enjoyed the smorgasbord at Edens Hall before the final event of the week-end, the Queen's Ball. "Gay 90's" came to a fitting climax as the crowd danced to the music of Chuck Cabot and his orchestra in the gaily decorated armory.

The closing highlight of the Homecoming festivities — the Queen's Ball. . . . Spencer Hall's winning skit — Moulin Lounge. . . . Maury Halleck crowning Betty Fay as Queen Sigrid XVII. . . . The Queen's Court at the Alumni's smorgasbord.

This year at Homecoming we were fortunate to have a big name band from California — Chuck Cabot's Captain Willis Ball. . . . The Queen and her Court at the game. . . . Game. . . . The annual Norsemen's Ball . . .

The Crystal Ballroom of the Leopold Hotel was the setting for one of fall quarter's most outstanding social events, the Norsemen's Ball. The dance, held on October 15, was semi-formal. Many couples whirled about the floor to the music of Mel McKee and his orchestra. During intermission, dancers were served punch and were entertained by a piano medley. Al Evans was responsible for the success of the dance. This dance was only one of the activities sponsored by the Norsemen, associated men students on Western's campus.

and the A. W. S. Sno-ball.

The Crystal Ballroom was gaily decorated with snow scenes and snowballs with couples' names on them. The date was December 3, and the affair was the Snowball Tolo, sponsored by the Associated Women Students. Jan King and Pat Putnam, co-chairmen, worked hard to make the dance a great success. Committee chairmen were Norma Gibson, decorations; Ann Meurer and Lois Chudek, programs; Betty Kautz, chaperones; Marilyn Walter, music; Rosalie Weidenbach and Patsy Staggs, election; Maxine King and Joyce Brose, publicity; and Nadine Schilling, refreshments. The Stardusters supplied the music for the annual semi-formal dance. Maury Halleck was chosen king to reign over the ball. This was the second time a king has been chosen. Lorraine Natrass, president of A. W. S., presented Maury with the crown. King Maury and his partner started the dancing after the intermission. Others competing for the honor were: Ray Cohrs, Fred Sandau, Dave Langley, Larry Young, Don O'Dell, Ted Whan, and Tom Murray.

The Campus Mixers

One of the interesting features of the year was the week-end mixers. Various club and organizations took over the sponsorship of the mixers. Some had very unusual themes and displayed fascinating decorations.

Orchids In the Moonlight

One of the outstanding dances of the year was the Junior Prom, "Orchids in the Moonlight." By a waterfall, a volcano, a variety of Hawaiian flowers, and under a ceiling of orchids, couples danced to the music of Harold Knutsen and the Holiday Boys. Emarlyn Repanich was crowned Queen La-lone by Disc Jockey Gil Henry of Radio KING. Elizabeth Carlson, Pat Putnam, and Pat Spokely were princesses. Co-chairmen Don Burgess and Roland Saylor and many others helped to make the annual affair a success.

At the right are the girls from Hawaii who assisted with the dance.

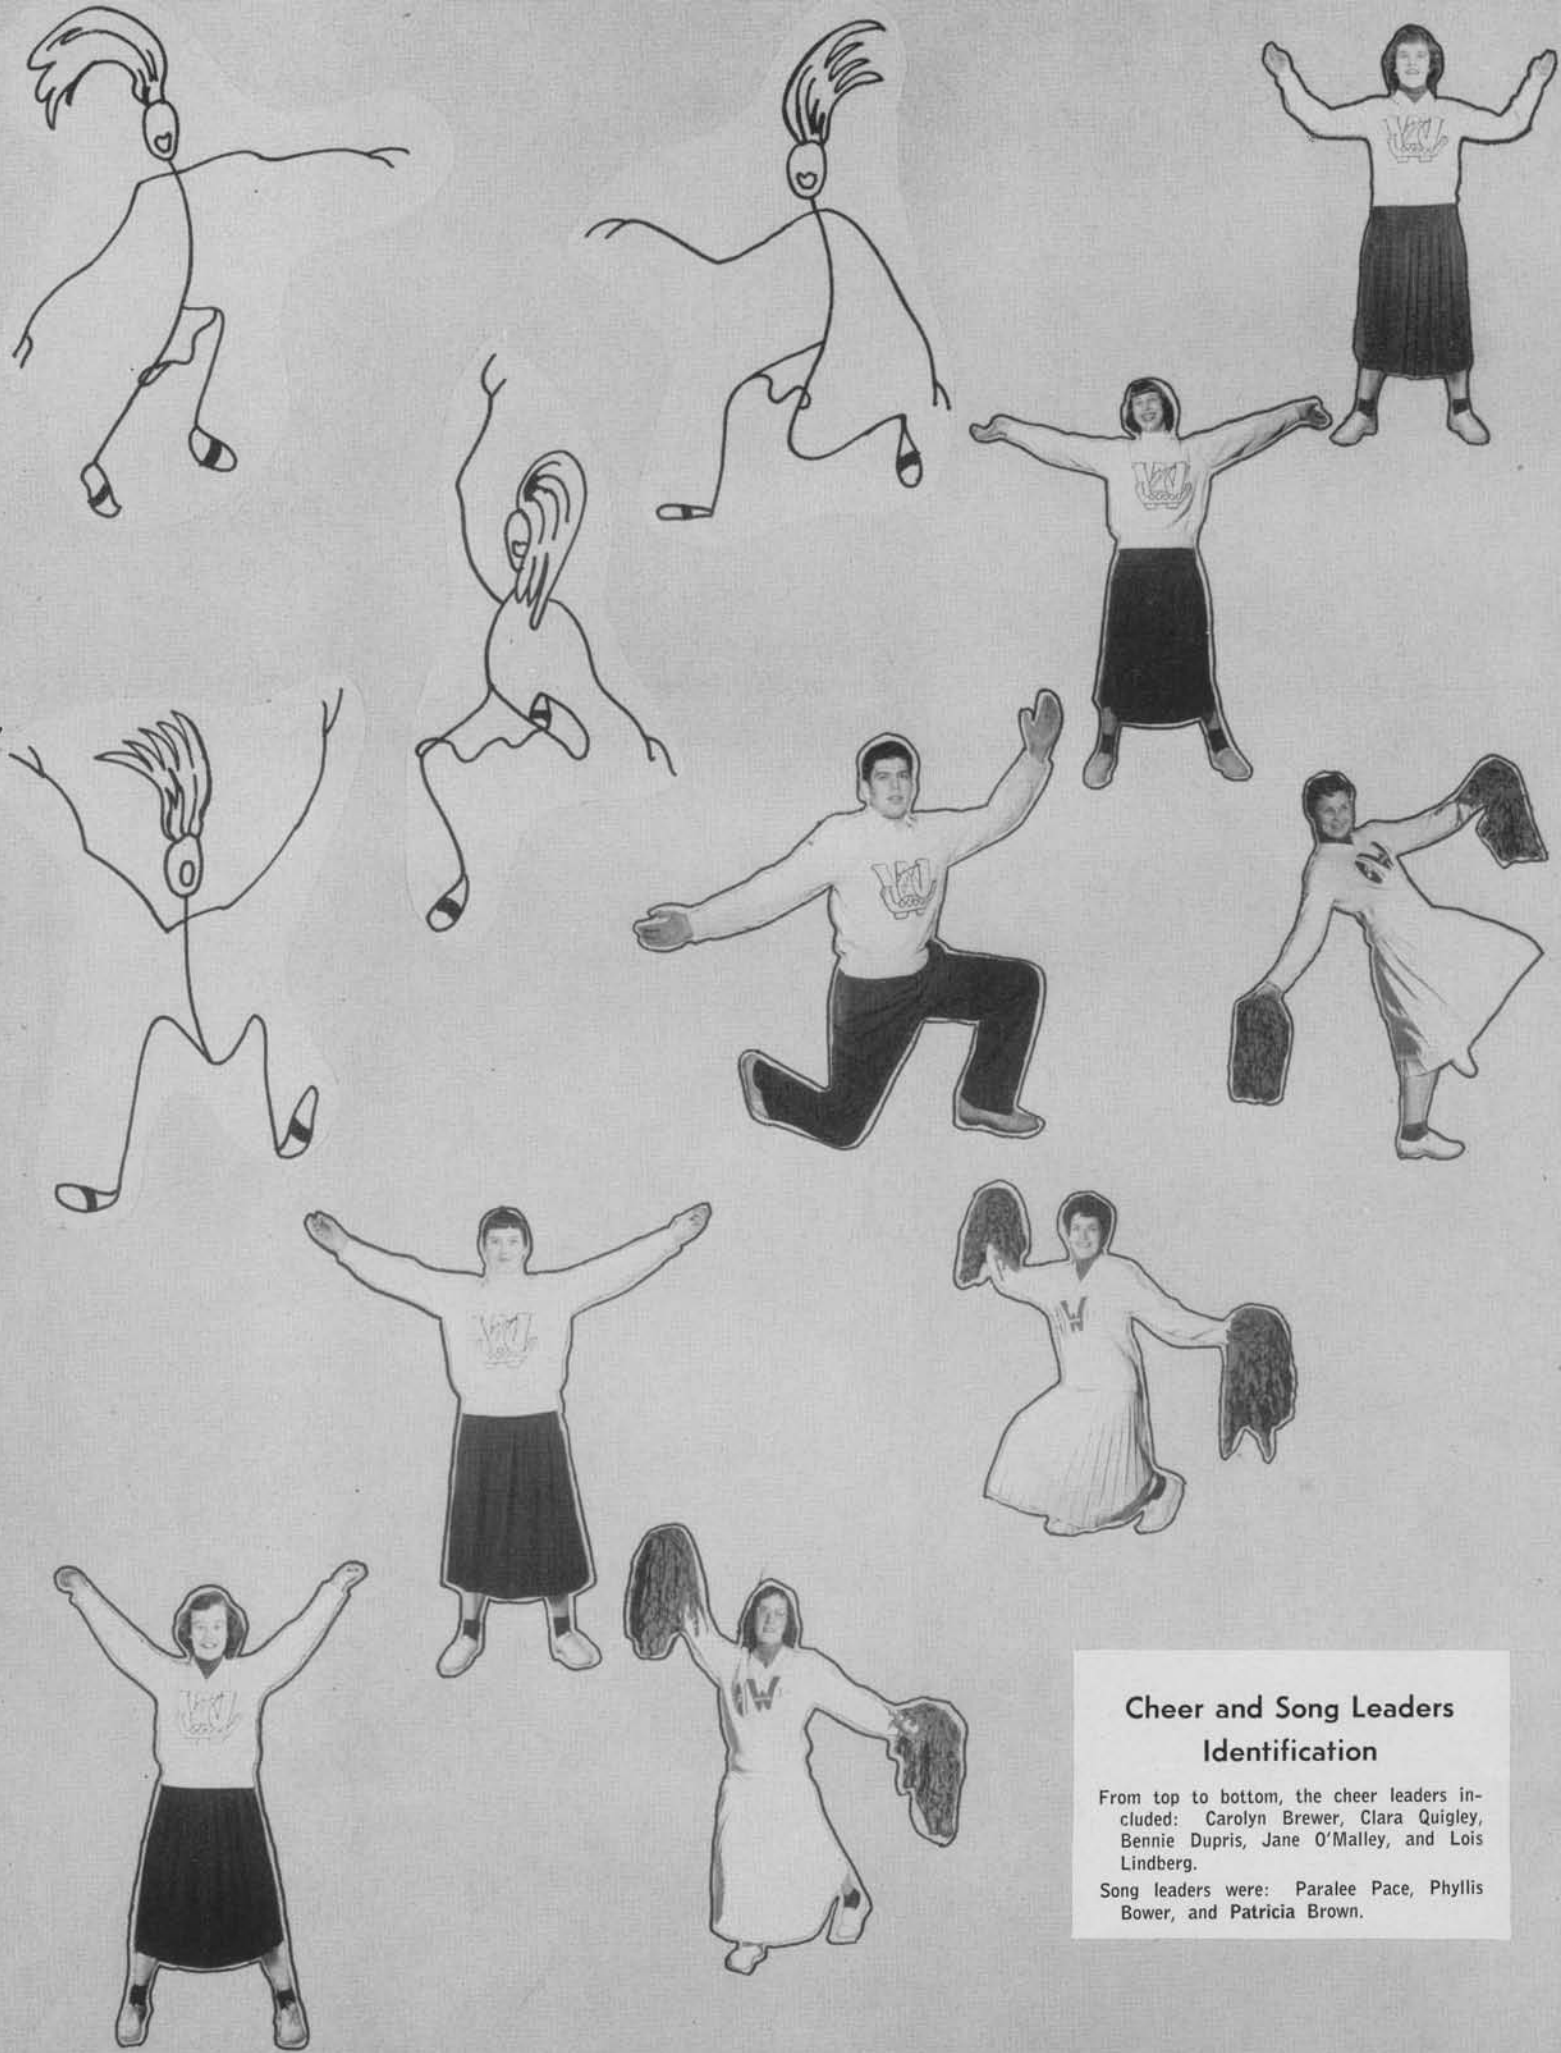

The Intellectual and Entertaining

One of the outstanding features of college, both educational and entertaining, is the Artist and Lecture Series. Included is everything from Dave Brubeck to Carlos Romulo. Not all could be pictured, but those shown are Dave Brubeck, the jazz artist; Paul Victor, the arctic explorer; and T. V. Smith, professor and politician. Below—the world's greatest trumpeter, Rafael Mendez, and the tenor, Eddy Ruhl.

Viks Take Fourth Spot In Conference

Getting off to a slow start, the Viks gathered speed in the last half of their schedule and roared to a fourth-spot finish in the Evergreen Conference for the 1954 football season.

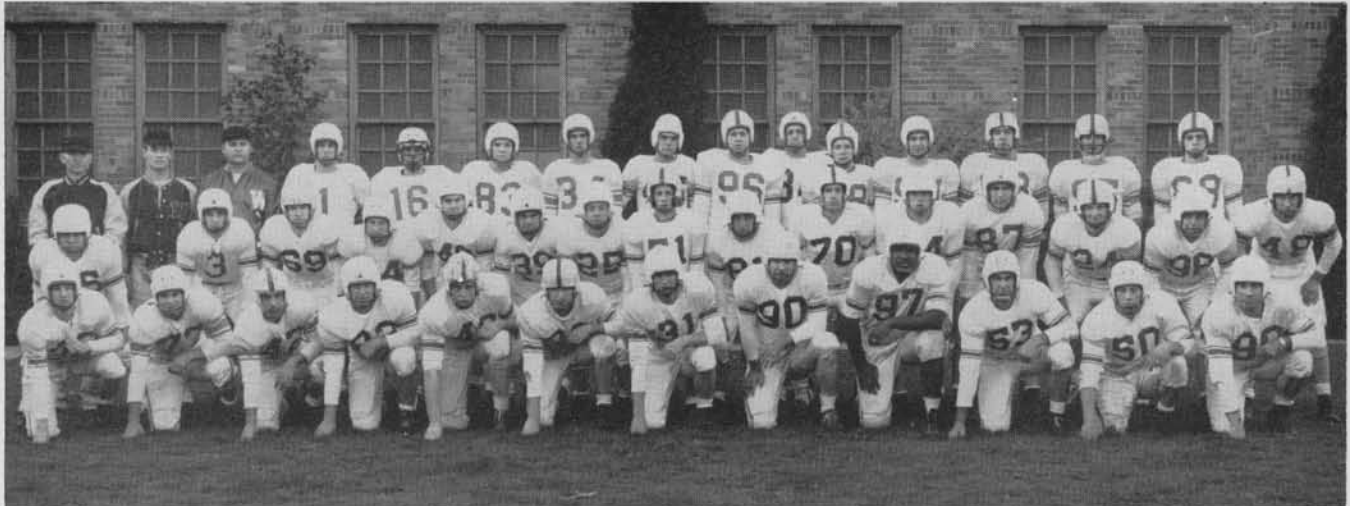

Western opened against Pacific University and lost a rugged 26-18 contest. The next two games were played against Whitworth and College of Puget Sound. The Vikings lost both games by a 33-0 score. These games gave the Viks the experience they needed as they went on to defeat the U. B. C. Thunderbirds, 7-0.

Playing at Portland, the Western squad walked off the field at half-time with a 6-0 lead over Lewis and Clark. When the second half ended, Lewis and Clark emerged victorious by the score of 27-6.

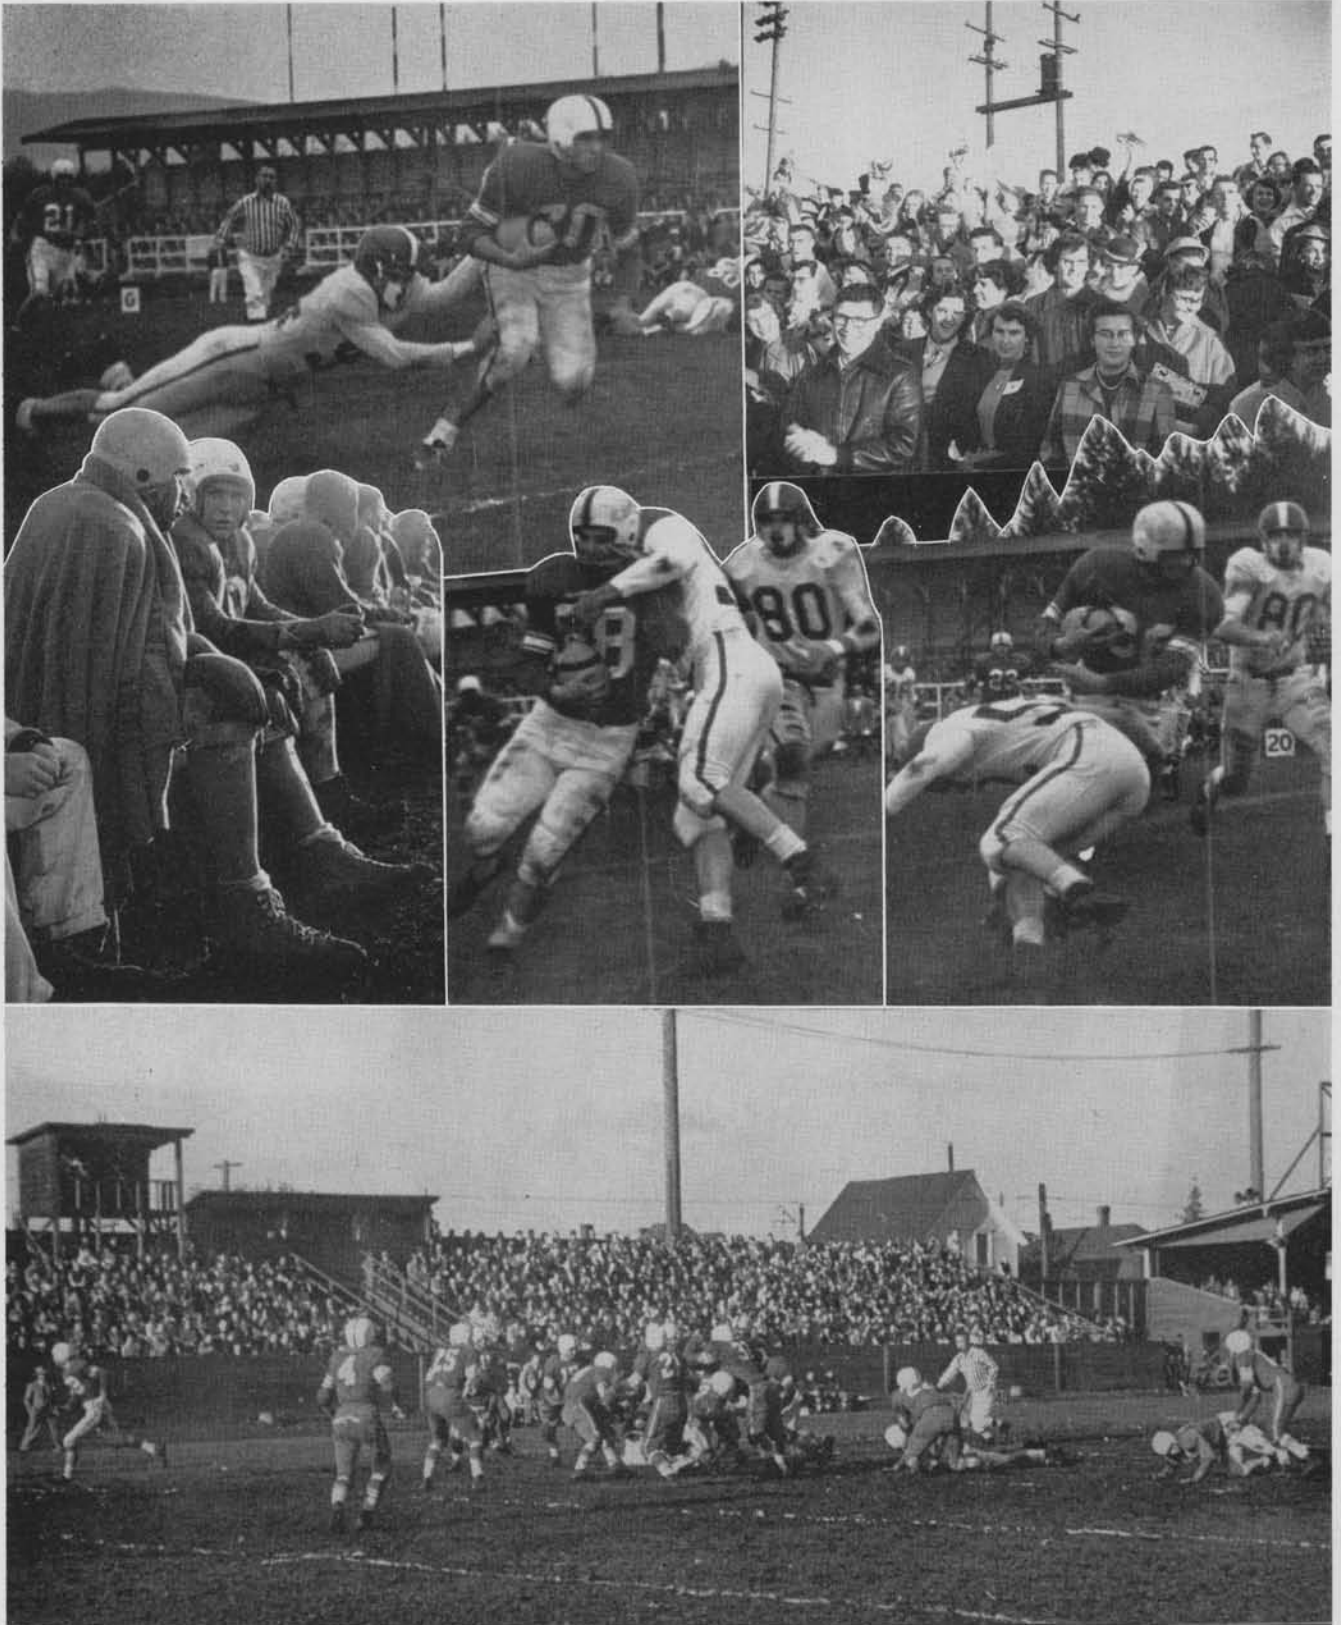

The following week Western traveled to Tacoma to give the P. L. C. homecoming crowd a scare before dropping a close 7-6 game to the Gladiators.

Coming home for their last two games, Western poured on the power as they gave a cheering homecoming crowd a convincing 27-0 victory over an old enemy, the Eastern Savages.

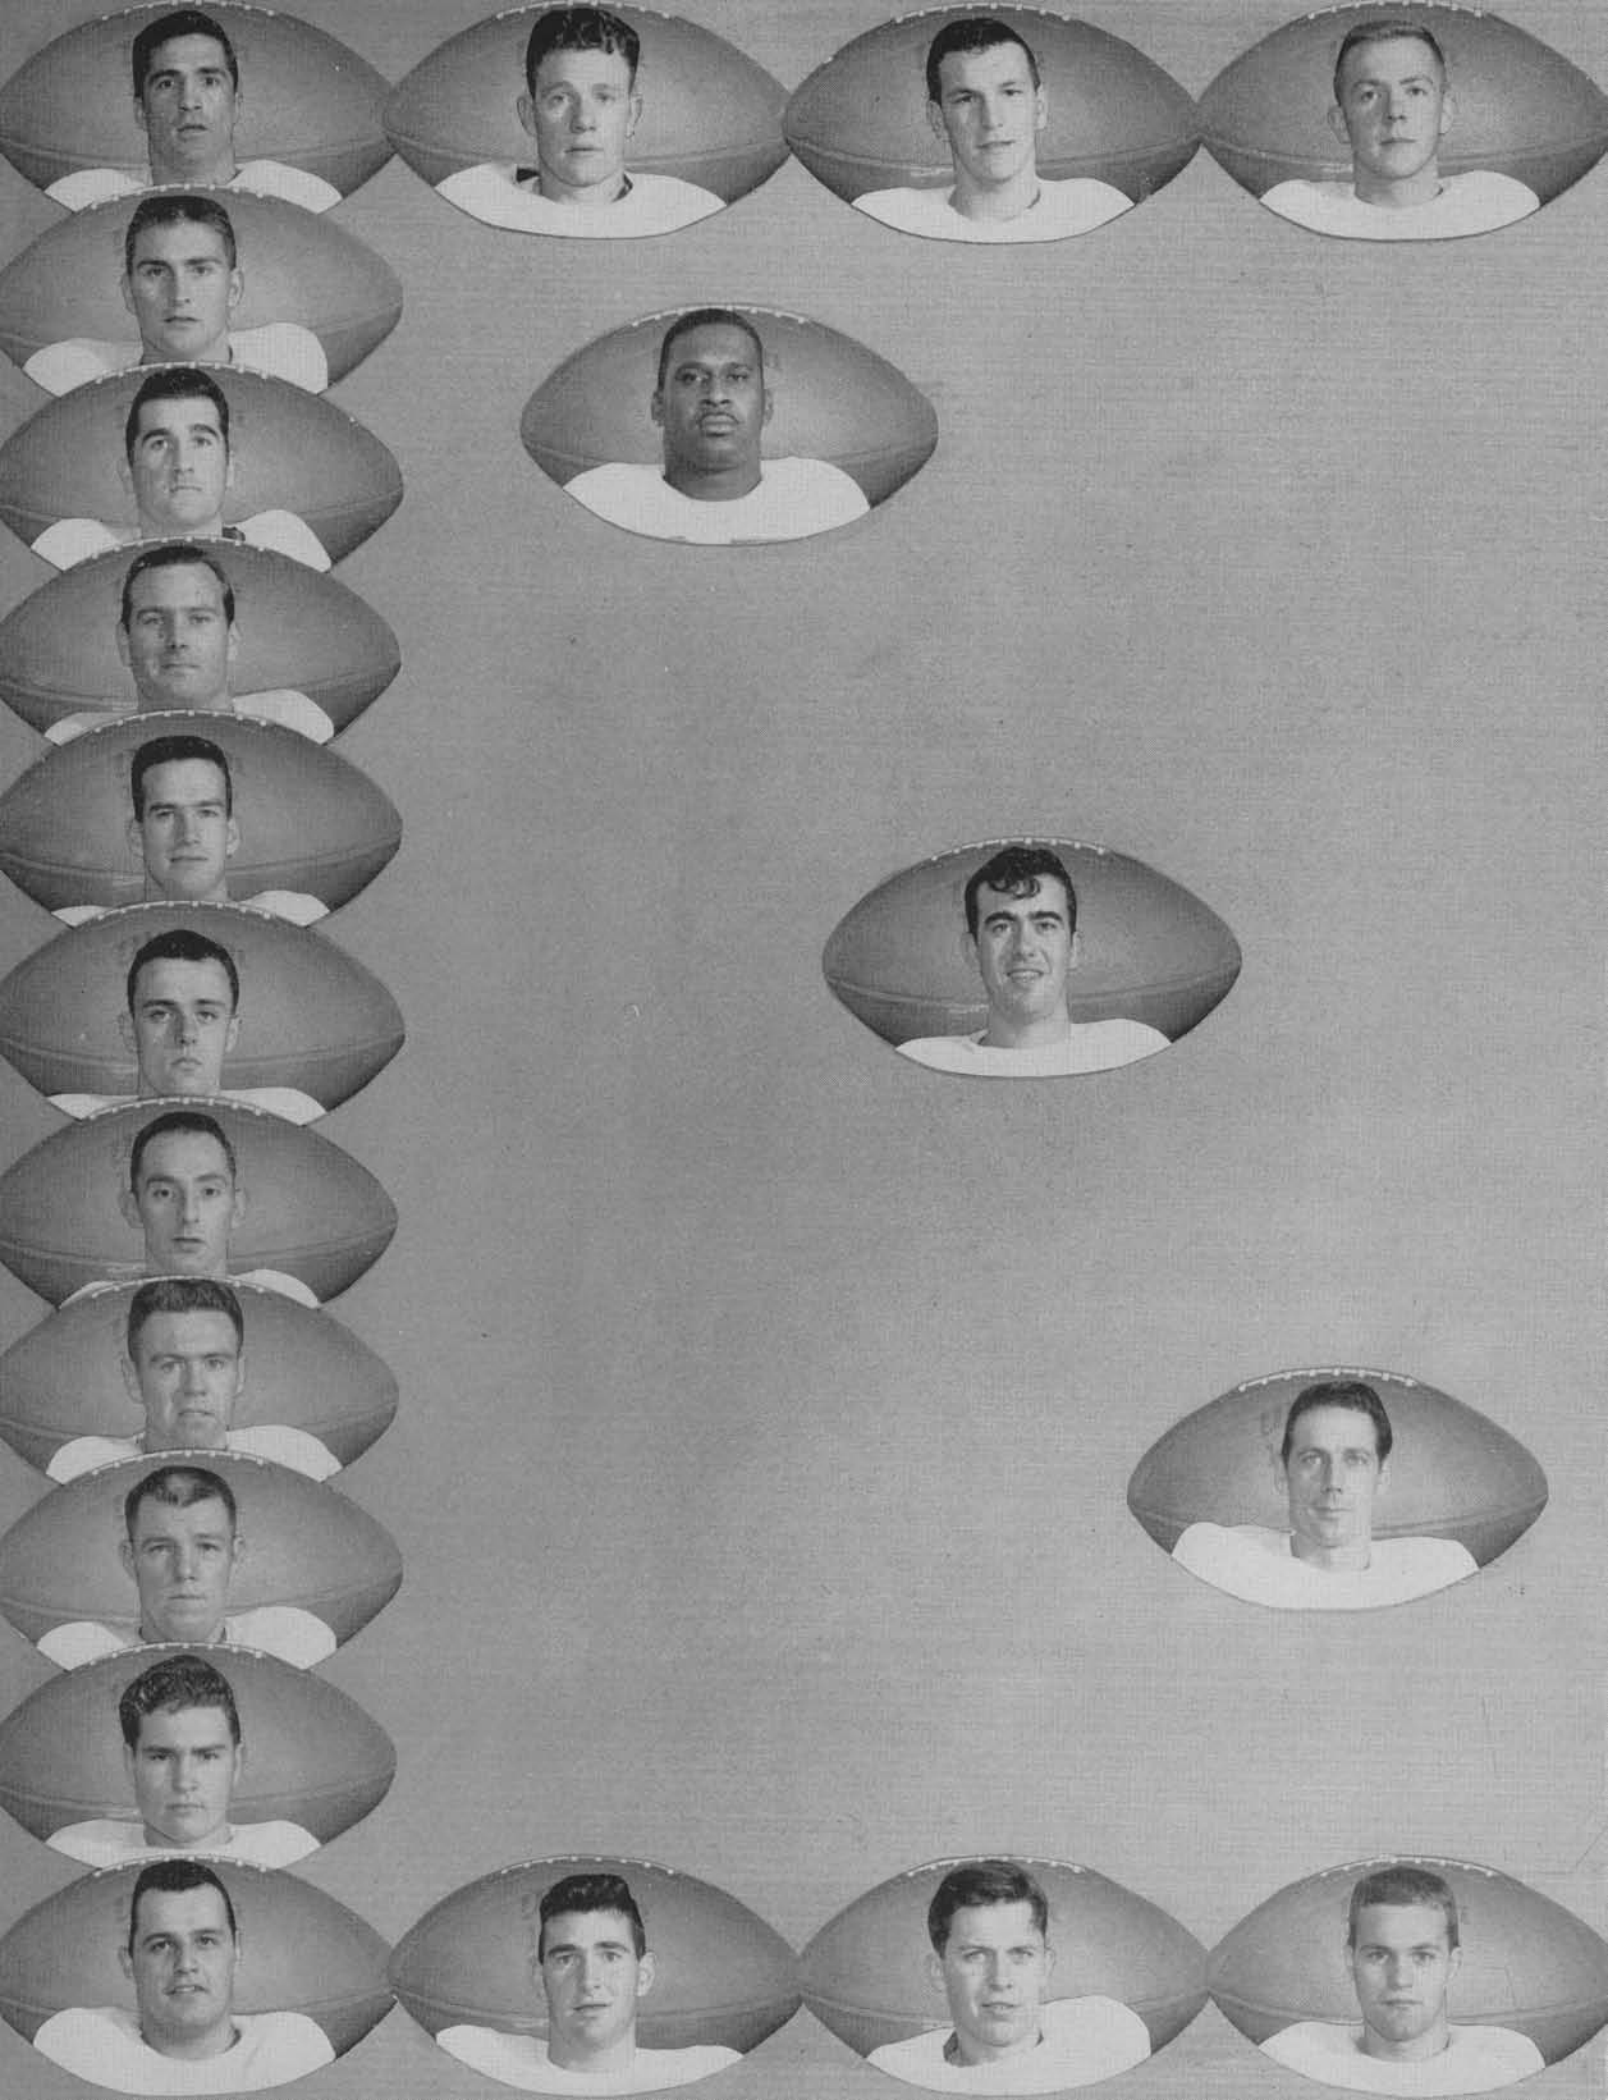

In the last game of the season, Western played the Central Wildcats. The first half saw a 0-0 deadlock. The Viks came out in the second half and promptly scored their first TD. In the first few minutes of the fourth quarter Western scored again, and almost made it a third time. Final score was 12-0 in favor of Western.

With determination, they never gave up

Hampered in size, but never in spirit, the Western hoopsters fought their way to a tie for fourth place in the Evergreen Conference. Coach Bill McDonald's cagers got off to a bad start in pre-season play, but began to click in the latter stages of league play. Senior and also captain, Bob Stone, led the Viking scoring with 245 points and was an outstanding man on defense as well. Bob received honorable mention on the All-Washington College team. Other team members who scored 100 points or more include Gary Radliff with 193 to his credit, Howard Brooks, who tossed in 139 point makers, Bruce Randall, with 138, and Jim Forbes, who made 130 points. The reserve members of the squad helped the Vikings a great deal as they played a steady brand of basketball which helped the Viks pull several games out of the fire. On the opposite page is a recap of the season's scores, and on the following two pages, individual action shots of the players.

Jayvees show skill for future years

Coach Ray Scott's charges ended a successful season as they won eight games while losing only four. Among their wins they outpointed Roberson Roofers and the Blue Moon of the City League, and took a close victory over the Whidbey Island Naval Air Station.

Spearheading the J. V. attack were Rich Weinbrecht with a total of 136 points to his credit, and Ron Breidenstein with 111 points.

The J. V. squad played a good brand of basketball and they should be a great help to the varsity in seasons to come. Several team members played with the varsity this season.

Splashmen give a good account

Although lacking in number, the Western mermen were never lacking in spirit as they swam their way through the season to take second place in the Evergreen Conference. In January, co-captains Papin and Pfister led the Viks twice against the Northern Division champions, the University of Washington. Following those meets, Western took on U. B. C., but was again defeated. The Viks then met W. S. C. and Eastern at the latter's pools. Papin took two firsts in the 50 and one in the 100-yard free style races. The relay team took first against the Eastern Savages. Western's last meet was a triangular affair with U. B. C. and the U. W. freshmen. Only the Vikings and Thunderbirds counted points as we lost a hard fought 45-32 meet to the Birds. Conference time arrived and an inspired Viking team took to the pool. Western and U. B. C. were close until the final relay, which U. B. C. won to take the meet and the title. Western was second, Eastern third. Hopes are high for next year's team, which will lose but one man, Al Swanberg, a graduating senior. Special recognition is given Coach Ilo Sande for a great job coaching this year's team.

The Blue Barnacles swimming club is composed of girls who have a keen interest in swimming and have shown proficiency in that sport. The membership this year consisted of twenty "mermaids." Officers for 1954-55 were: president, Pat Gibson; vice president, Grace Hopkins; secretary, Julienne Joubert; and adviser, Miss Shirley Nelson. Winter quarter Miss Gibson was elected president to fill the vacancy left by Berta Young, the former president. At their weekly Monday meetings, the girls practiced for the club-sponsored all-school swim meet and for their annual water pageant, held each spring quarter. At the swim meet the girls demonstrated synchronized swimming, featuring a variety of strokes. The water pageant, May 12 and 13, centered around a television theme. The girls and a few members of the men's swim team depicted programs on TV. Special emphasis was on the mystery type program, with some members of the club doing solo acts.

Skiing Proves Popular

Even though skiing is not an intercollegiate sport at Western, it always proves popular during the Winter season. This was due, in part, to the ski classes held at Mount Baker each Saturday.

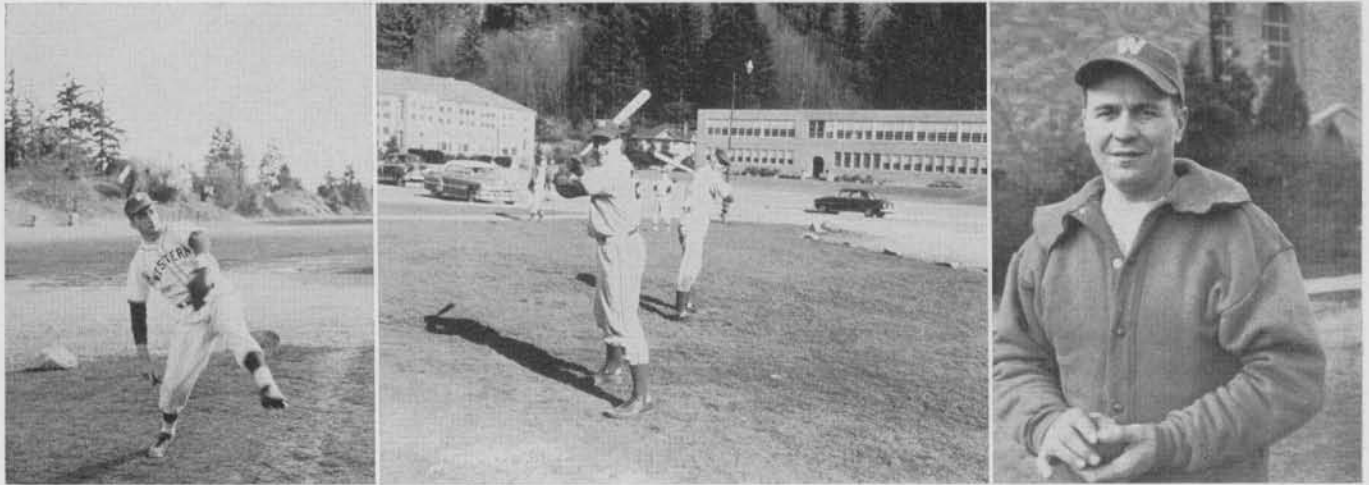

Over seventy students participated in the Winter sport, and they were rewarded with a lot of good times. There were eight student instructors, under the direction of Head Ski Instructor Greg Newton. These instructors were Gene Aarstol, Mac Blom, Norm Blom, Bennie Dupris, Pat Gibson, Jane Mattieligh, Al Shaw, and Carolyn White. They coached the students on the fundamentals of skiing. When the season was over a slalom race was held for each class.

Competing for Western at the Pacific Northwest Ski Meet at Vancouver were Pat Barton, Pat Gibson, and Carolyn White. The girls placed fourth in this meet.

Although there were several minor accidents during the season, it can be said that this year marked a successful year for skiing.

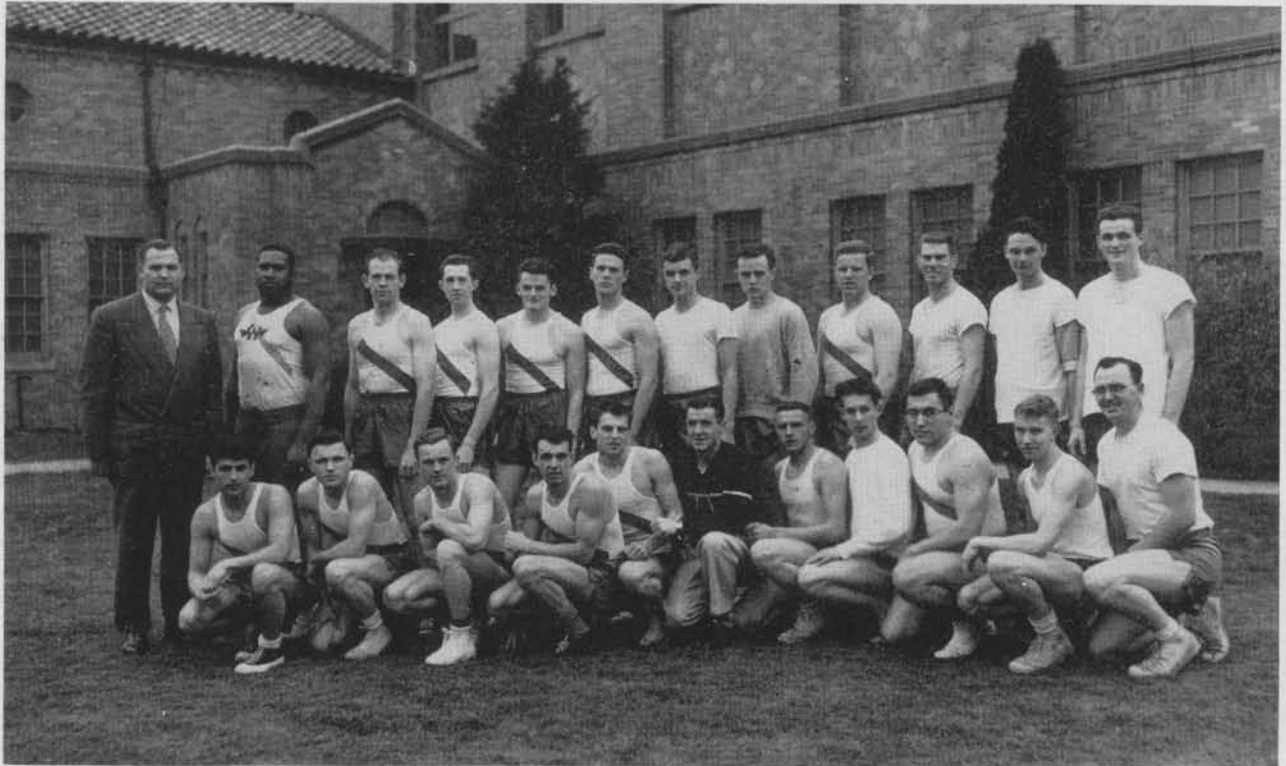

Diamond Stars are Hopeful

With the return of nine lettermen, the Viking diamond squad is hoping for a good season this year. Under the direction of Joe Martin, the squad has been improving to the point where it's a race for starting positions.

Returning lettermen include Bob Burger, Al Evans, Al Hagglund, George Hanson, Gary Kohlwes, Les Knudsen, Bill Stearns, Ken Swalwell, and Jake Thomas. Many transfers and freshmen are giving these veterans a battle for their positions, and with this kind of hustle the Vikings should have an outstanding team.

Trackmen Start Early

Western's cindermen started turnout early, and it soon paid off in dividends, as they did very well in the WSC Invitational Meet. With the return of the "Big Three" there are hopes for a good track season. The "Big Three," Ken Swalwell, Gerry Swan, and Ted Whan, are all experienced and are counted on for iron men performance. Swalwell placed in the British Empire Games last summer, and both Whan and Swan have done good jobs, as each took a first in the N. A. I. A. at Renton last year. This year, before the annual went to press, the Vikings copped first place in the annual meet against UBC and the Olympic Club. Coach John Kulbitski's charges are inexperienced, but are working hard and showing interest. They are figured on to place in the upper half of the conference.

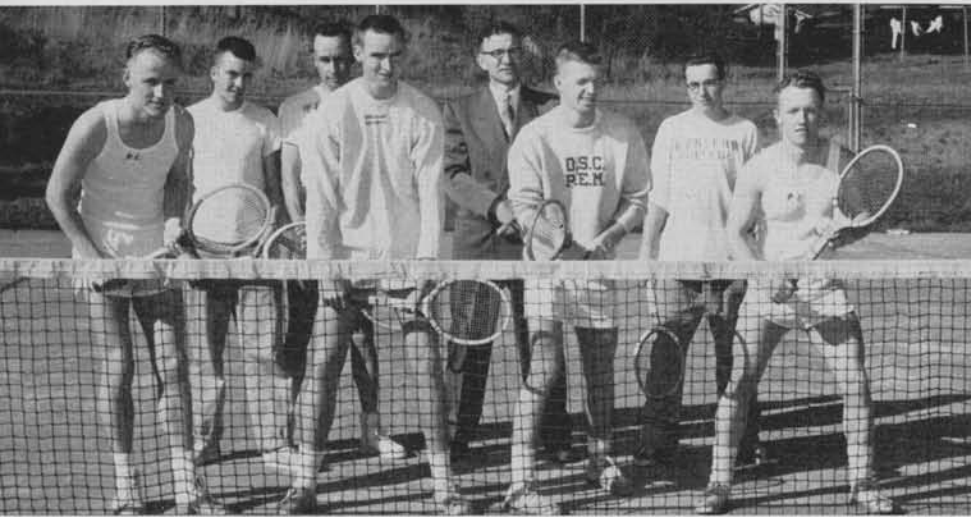

Linkmen tee off and Netmen start anew

Lacking in experience but not in hustle, the Western golf team will be fighting for improvement this year. Returning lettermen Tom Murray, Bob Doyle, and Don West will carry the main load for the Viks. Bob Doyle, with his brother Benny, played in the Nationals at Abilene, Texas, last year, where both turned in creditable performances. The team, as a whole, did fairly well last season as they took second place in the conference meet.

Only two lettermen reported to Coach Charles Lappenbusch for the opening tennis turnout. These men, with several new aspirants, form the core of the 1955 tennis team. Returning lettermen Ken Moffett and Terry Whalen will form the experience to make the team that will carry Western's honor on the courts.

In order to meet deadlines for the annual, it was necessary to write this before the official seasons began.

Intramural Basketball In Two Rounds

The first round of intramural basketball was brought to a close when Leslie House, of the "B" League, defeated Daniels Hall, of the "A" League. This meant that they took the Intramural crown for the first half of play.

When the second round began, there were many changes in teams in both leagues. The Alpiners took first place in the "A" League, but were soon pressed by the Leslie House and Wesvet teams. MRH looked good as they came from behind and took first place in the "B" League.

Keglers enter airmail bowling meets

This year saw a change on the bowling scene as the Vikings entered a new type of league, the Airmail Bowling League. Top intramural scores of each week were sent to different colleges around the Pacific coast and these schools sent their scores here. Scores were then compared and winners announced. Western competed against teams from the Evergreen Conference, W. S. C., Stanford, and the U. W. There is a hope that this new twist to bowling will be continued.

This is an intramural sport? Looks familiar, anyhow!

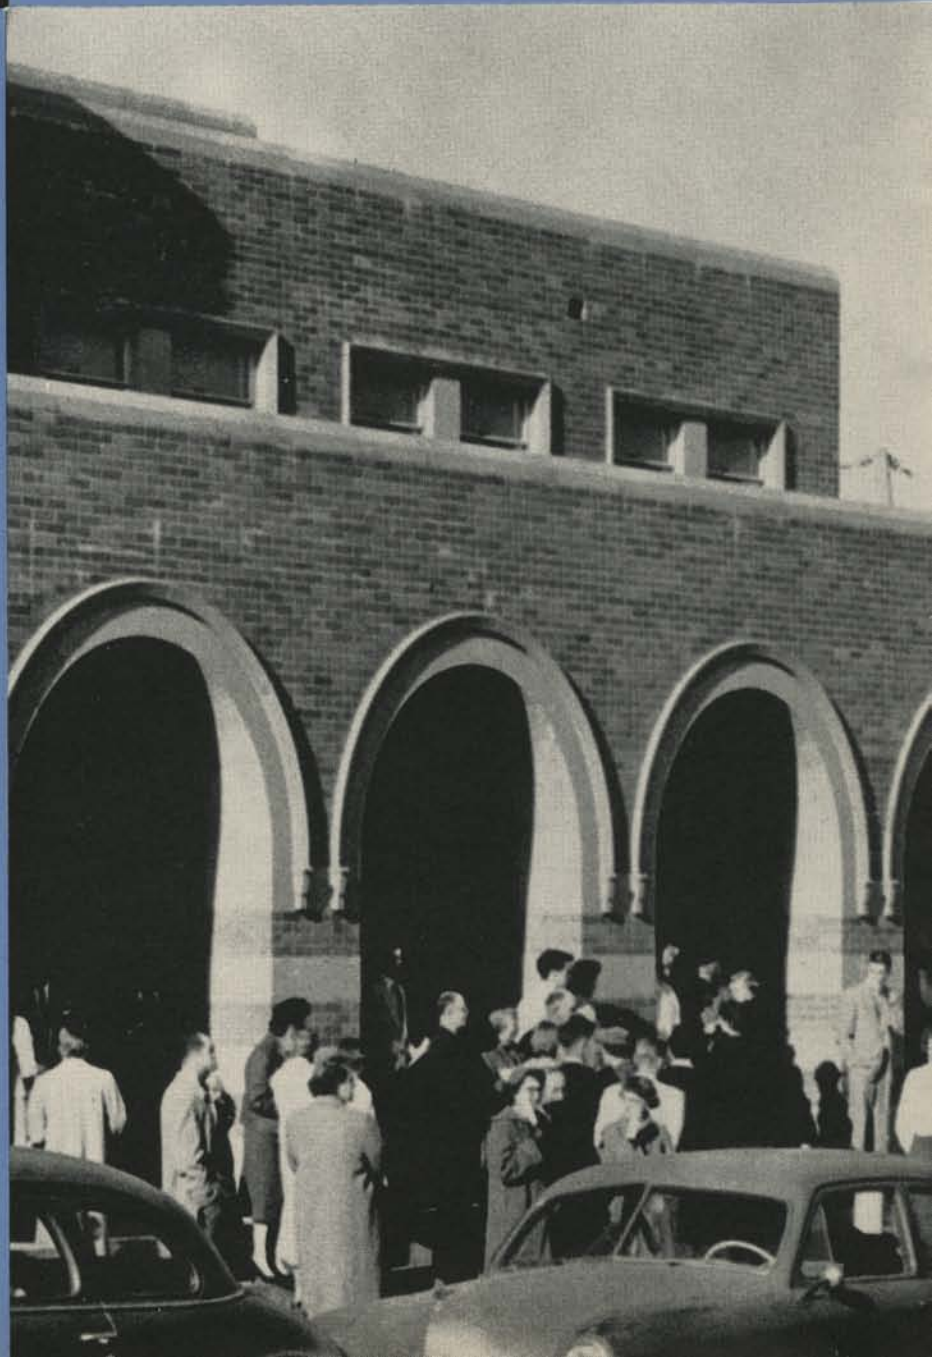

Intramurals Hit On All Sports

Pictured above are just a few of the action shots taken during intramural play and the smoker. Is it a strike or a gutter ball? Down he goes in the "W" club smoker. And it's a hook to the jaw in the third round. Are there jungle men playing basketball? Although there are many more events held during the school year, they are too numerous to picture.

CLASSES

Grads choose Western for further pursuit of knowledge . . .

The term "graduates" at Western is given to two different groups. One group is comprised of those students who, having earned their B. A.'s in education, are holders of Provisional General Certificates and are back at college working toward their Standard General Certificates. This requires an additional year beyond the four needed for completion of the degree, which is planned and carried out in terms of the individual teacher's needs as recognized in the initial year of experience.

The second group of "graduates" includes the educators who are earning their M. A. in education here at Western. The college has been authorized to grant this degree since 1947. A graduate council made up of college faculty members in the various departments, with Dr. Irwin Hammer as its chairman, assists the school personnel. Work toward this degree is planned to meet the functional needs of certificated school personnel and the individual's program is determined by his chosen area of concentration in the field of education.

President Danny Beatty led seniors through successful year . . .

The class of '55 ended its last year of successful college life under the leadership of Dan Beatty, president; Floyd Jackson, vice-president, and Joan Wolgemuth, secretary-treasurer. Working along with the senior officers was the class adviser, Dr. Murray, and the senior planning board.

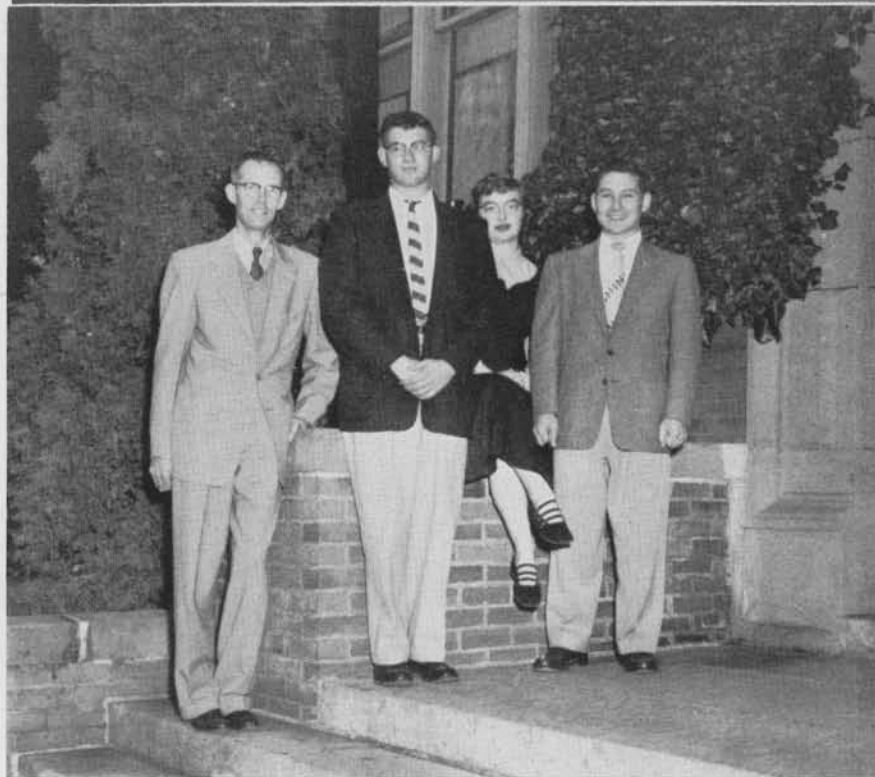

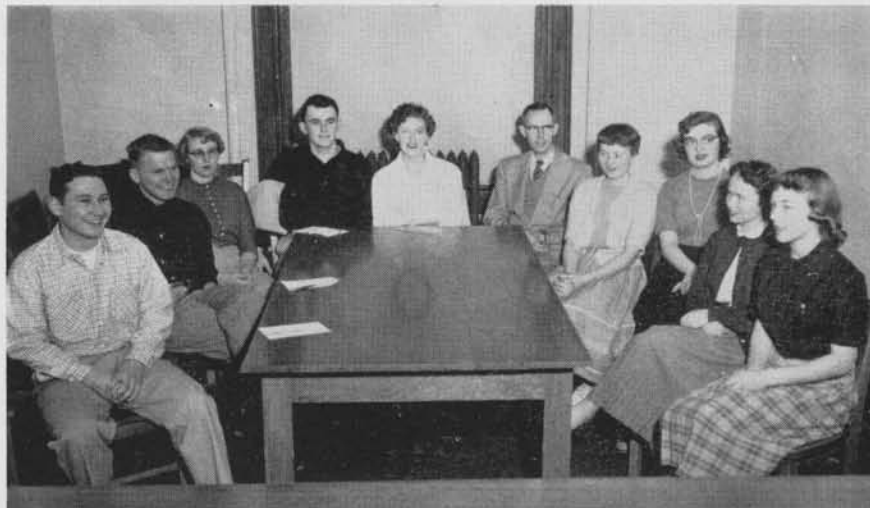

Out of the several candidates from both the junior and senior classes, Betty Fay, a senior, was chosen to reign as Queen Sigrid XVII for the 1954 Homecoming. Nancy Lange was a member of the court as senior princess.

Winter quarter found the senior class busy planning and taking part in what turned out to be a very successful senior banquet at the Leopold Hotel. Co-chairmen were Lorrene Bergmann and Alan Swanberg.

Spring quarter was filled with the many activities leading up to commencement itself, when the seniors officially terminated their four-year stay at Western.

Members of the planning board include Danny Beatty, Alan Swanberg, Judy Smith, Don Wallace, Lorie Matteson, Dr. Murray, Mary Jones, Joan Wolgemuth, Marie Benjamin, and Lorrene Bergmann.

These people are the officers and adviser, Dr. Keith Murray, Floyd Jackson, Joan Wolgemuth, and Danny Beatty.

Many campus leaders were members of this class . . .

Don Burgess worked with officers to organize junior events . . .

Don Burgess, president, along with Roland Saylor, vice-president, and Dave Northrup, secretary-treasurer, started the class of '56 on the right foot as they began their first year as upperclassmen. The class adviser was Dr. Herbert Taylor. Kathy Barbas very prettily represented the Junior class in the homecoming court. The class was active in the homecoming celebration, copping second place for their float and second for the window displays in downtown Bellingham.

The end of winter found the juniors engrossed in the activity surrounding the staging of the annual Junior Prom. Using the theme of "Orchids In the Moonlight," Don Burgess and Roland Saylor and assisting committees were able to present an evening of entertainment for all. Spring quarter found the class enjoying their annual salmon bake and making preparations to take over the vacated positions of the graduating seniors.

Sophomores enjoyed second year under direction of Fred Lange .

Fred Lange, Charlotte Rolie, and Lucile Schell

At the end of their freshman year, the up-and-coming sophomore class chose the following officers to guide them through their second college year: Fred Lange, president; Charlotte Rolie, vice-president; Lucile Schell, secretary; Ruth Ann Britt, A. W. S. representative; and Bill Kendrick, Norseman representative.

The class had a float in the homecoming parade and decorated a window in a downtown store. Charlotte Rolie represented her class as princess in the royal court.

Members of the class participated in many school activities, with some of them holding positions as club presidents and chairmen of special events.

In February a unique mixer, "Cafe Sous L'ecole," was held, with Stan Lilian and Rodger Williams as co-chairmen. Then to round out an active, enjoyable year, the class had a picnic with the members of the freshman class.

"Cafe Sous L'ecole" was the theme of unusual mixer . . .

"Welcome Week" greeted incoming students . . .

An exceedingly large class of expectant and excited freshmen began their four-year climb at Western in the fall of 1955.

During a well planned orientation week the freshmen elected the following class officers: Larry Young, president; Don Tackett, vice-president; Sharon Andreasen, secretary-treasurer; Kathryn Stole and Dolores Shook, A. W. S. representatives; and Tom Romerdahl, Norseman representative. Dr. Budd was chosen to be class adviser.

The freshman class was well represented during the homecoming celebration, with Beverly Bergum as class princess. They were very proud of their window display, which took first place. It was also the duty of the class to officiate at the homecoming bonfire.

A picnic was held during spring quarter to climax the year's activities.

Three types of memories: those of the long registration lines, those found visiting the co-op and bookstore, and finally those which you will find in this year's Klipsun.

Notice Dr. Ra'cke—he just happened to be around when pictures were taken!

Acknowledgments

Many thanks are due to those connected with the annual and with the school who helped to make this book possible.

We wish to thank ARTCRAFT ENGRAVING COMPANY and Howard Vierling for all their assistance in planning; BRADBURY'S PHOTOGRAPHY STUDIO and Bob Bradbury for their speedy service when it was needed most; S. K. SMITH COMPANY and Phil Clark for the blue and white covers; UNION PRINTING COMPANY and Ken Nuckolls for their thoughtful cooperation; SANDISON'S PHOTOGRAPHERS for the portraits of the homecoming princesses; and Jim Bliss, our adviser, for his guidance and help.

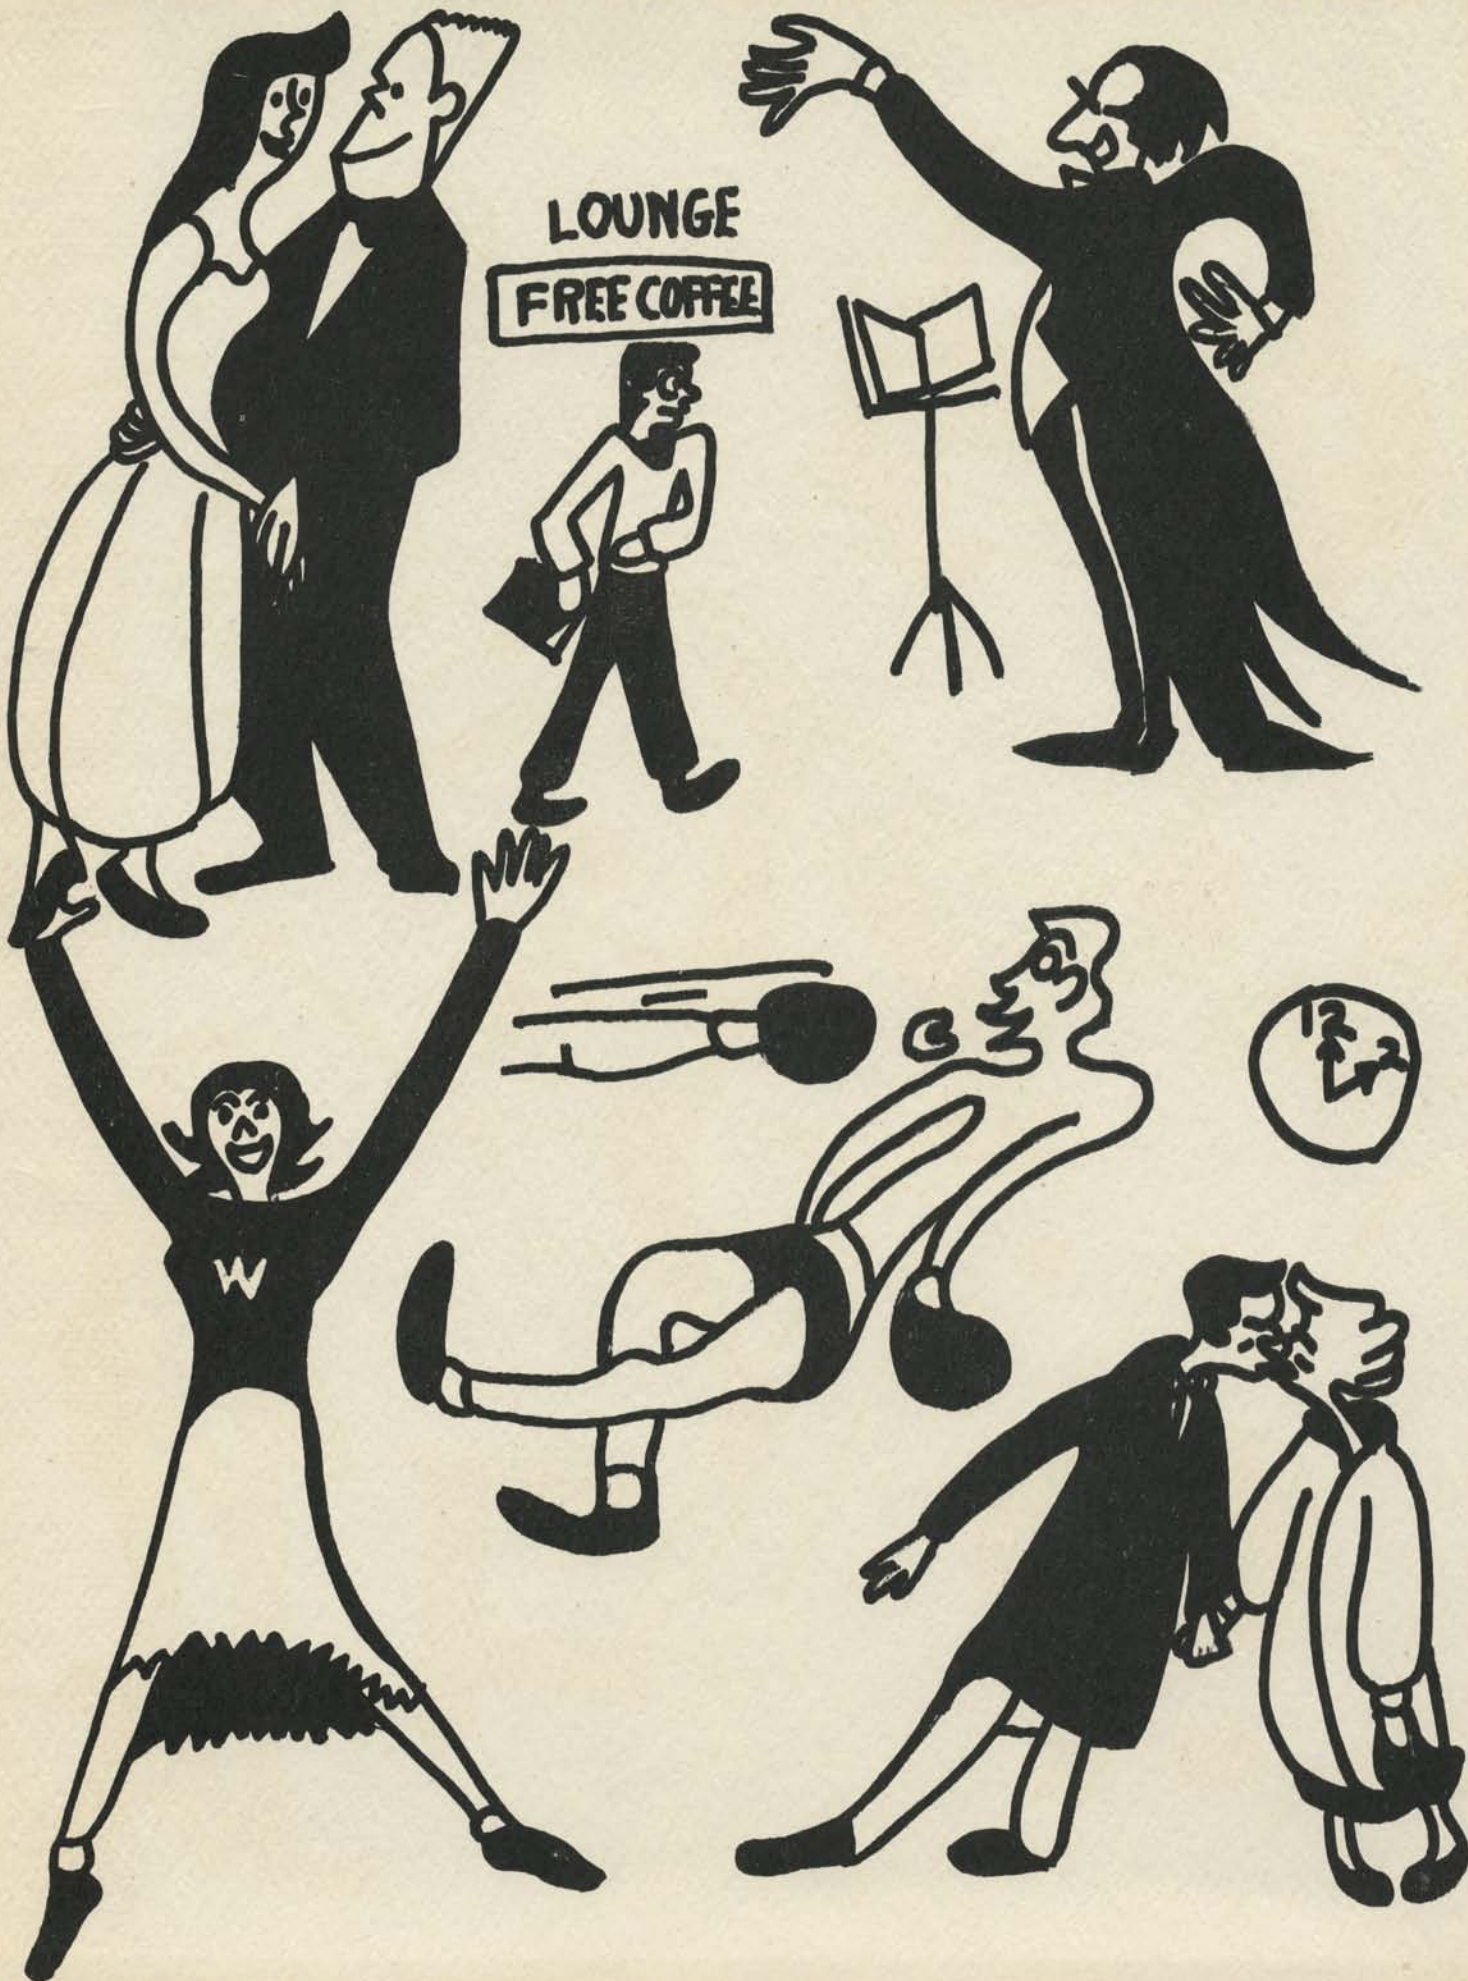

To the staff members — a special vote of thanks: to Stan Lilian, Art Mafli, and Ron Camfield for work in taking pictures of the many activities and organizations; to the art staff, Ben Doyle, Alan Swanberg, Pat Gibson, and Rodney Maxwell-Muir, who did an outstanding job (the fellows designed the end sheets); to the college and each student who contributed to the production of the book with pictures, suggestions, and assistance with copy; and to the ambitious staff we had this year. These people spent long, hard hours in room 128 working on the annual so that the pictorial and written word of this past year would be correct on every count. Without the section editors and their assistants the book could not have been put into production. The cooperation and willingness to work that they displayed helped us to complete the dummies, layouts, and copy writing to meet every deadline.

In these few words of recognition we could not possibly hope to mention everyone to whom thanks are due. A large share of the credit always belongs to those who work in the background and never receive the praise due to them.

We hope that in years to come this book will help you to recall old memories from your college days at Western.
