James L. Jarrett

“College as I see it is primarily an intellectual experience, not primarily either vocational training or a social romp: The best reason for going to college is to improve the functioning of one’s mind, to increase the store of one’s knowledge and to deepen one’s appreciation for the principal human values.”

“All of this is not to say that college experience is grim or dry or lacking in a lighter side. Every college person values his social experiences, the dances, the games, the bull sessions, and the friendships that he forms on the campus.”

DR. JAMES L. JARRETT

DR. JAMES JARRETT

Education has played an important part in the life of Dr. James Jarrett, who has just completed his first year as President of Western. His own education began in the public schools of Salt Lake City, Utah, but his high school days were spent in Los Angeles, where he earned a basketball letter and was editor of the school newspaper.

After graduation from high school he attended the University of California for two years, then the University of Utah, where he received his B.S. in 1939 and M.S. in 1940. In 1948 he received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Michigan.

Dr. Jarrett has taught at the University of Michigan, Columbia University and the University of Utah. He is past president of the Great Books Foundation in Chicago.

Writing is one of Dr. Jarrett's most profound interests. He has three noteworthy books to his credit: "The Quest For Beauty," 1957; "Contemporary Philosophy," 1954; and "Language and Informal Logic," 1956.

But his love of writing does not stop there. He also enjoys writing poetry, fiction, and philosophy. He lists among his favorite authors Plato, David Hume, Dostoyevsky, Hesse, John Donne, and W. B. Yates.

Music also holds many joys for our president, for he collects Beethoven as well as chamber music. He also enjoys cooking and delights in good food, his favorites being creole gumbo and sukiyaki.

ARTIST AND LECTURE SERIES

Western's Artist and Lecture series, which yearly presents the campus with the close-up view and sound of some of the world's great artists and speakers, came close to topping all previous line-ups this fall.

With four great performers, the series opened on a double note of eminence. General Carlos Romulo, Philippine Ambassador to the United States, was followed two days later to the Western Music Auditorium by Vincent Price, who read excerpts from three great American artists — Whitman, Whistler and Tennessee Williams.

Price was also the first visitor to open a new era of student contact with performers, as he joined Western students and faculty in the Student Union Building to talk informally with them. The feature soon became a highlight of the series. Soulima Stravinsky, composer-pianist and son of the great Igor Stravinsky told students, "Now that I have begun to work out of my father's reflected glory, I want to stay out." He also gave them advice to increase their musical appreciation: "Listen, listen, listen."

Raymond Boese, nationally known organist, was followed on the series by the Feld String Quartet, an eminent Hungarian ensemble. Dr. Peter Commanduras, Willem Oltmans, poet-novelist May Sarton, Vincent Sheean and Metropolitan mezzo-soprano Blanche Thebom completed the program.

The talks and personal meetings left varied impressions. The campus newspaper headlined Vincent Price's comment that we should have shown Nikita Khrushchev our "best side, not our back-sides" when the Communist leader visited the United States. They remembered one speaker who considered himself ignored and insulted when less than 100 people showed up, and they remembered Blanche Thebom, who said of her packed-house audience and her art, "I love it all."

With the opera star's performance the series headed into winter quarter and a new plan whereby all programs would be presented in the evenings instead of during the usual 10 o'clock Tuesday or Friday hour.

DANIEL'S AND EDEN'S HALL EMERGED THE VICTORS IN THE HOMECOMING HOUSE DISPLAY CONTEST

A gigantic Homecoming crowd of 3,000 witnessed a most inspiring performance in the Vikings' 27-13 victory over Central Washington College at Battersby Field. The crowd saw the Vikings put together drives of 99, 93, 90 and 41 yards to score in each period against the strong Central team.

Ron Ladines gained 137 yards rushing and scored two touchdowns to lead the Viking offense. Other outstanding players were Ed Melbourne, Doug Ringenbach, Sam Martin, Reg Dunbar, Ned Olson, Gary Eilers, Steve Hansen, Dick Hays, Len Gargarello and Jack Sim.

HOMECOMING

A regal Roman Holiday prevailed over Western's campus during the Twenty-Second Annual Homecoming celebration. The theme "When In Rome" was blended superbly into the largest Homecoming parade ever presented to the campus. A highlight of the gala Roman affair was the crowning of Peggy Owner as Queen Sigrid XXII at the Ball. Her court was composed of one princess from each class: freshman, Audrey Foster; sophomore, Sue Johnston; junior, Mary Ann Bosnich; and senior, Gail Cooper.

Jack Rabourn and Dennis Fish, co-chairmen, set a fast pace for the activities which included the queen's coronation, the rally and the bonfire, the skit night, the Homecoming mixer, the parade, the football game, and the grand climax, the Queen's Ball.

The high point of the weekend was the 27-13 trouncing which the Viking team dished out to Central Washington. Seniors Jack Sim, Bill Burby, Sam Martin and Ned Olson served as co-captains. Ron Ladines was the Vikings' offensive hero, leading the scoring with two touchdowns.

Yes, "When In Rome" was the most colorful and exciting Homecoming celebration in the history of Western.

中国书画函授大学肇庆分校建校二十周年纪念册

Western's football team finished the 1959 season with a record of five wins and four losses to finish in third place in the Evergreen Conference.

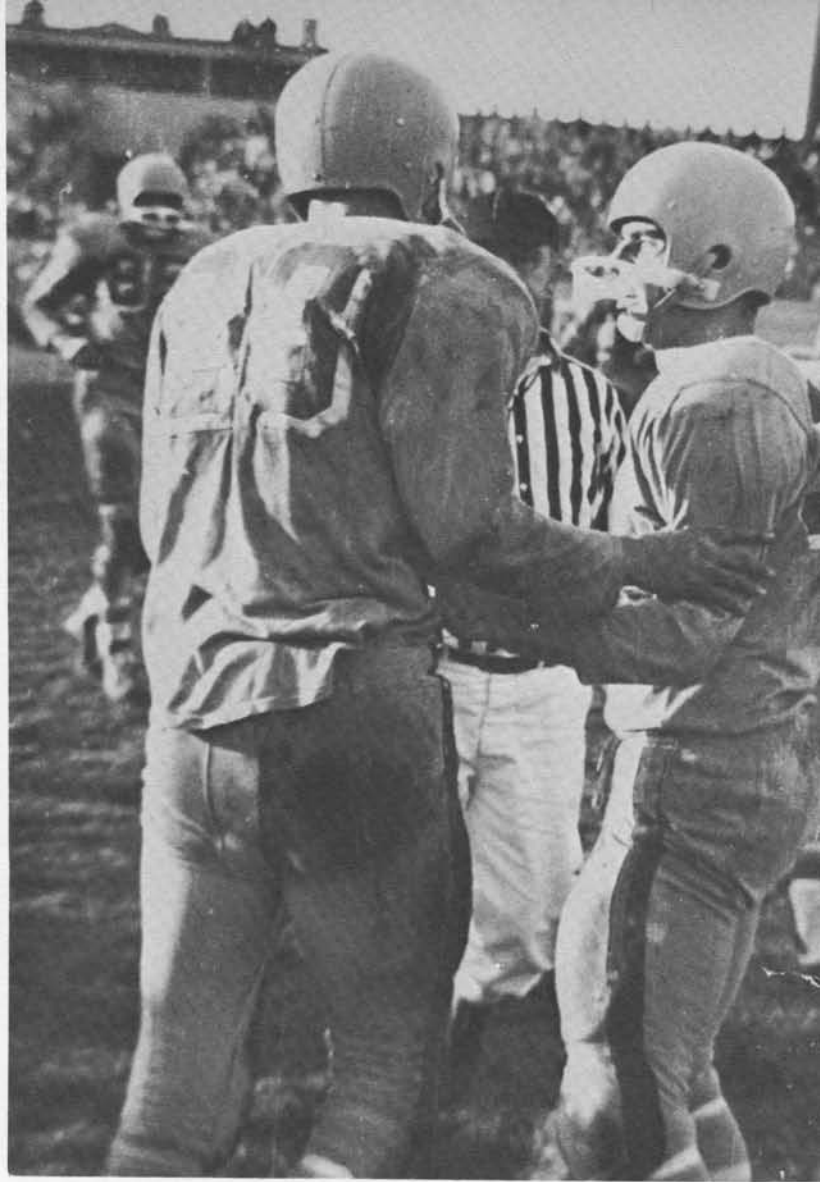

The squad was led by Ron Ladines, Sophomore full-back, who ran for better than five yards each time he carried the ball. Ladines was an all-conference choice along with Jack Sim, Sam Martin and Ned Olson.

A sad blow at the end of the football season was the resignation of John Kulbitski as head coach. He accepted a graduate fellowship at the University of Minnesota for the 1960-61 school year. His successor will be assistant coach Jim Lounsberry, formerly an assistant at Washington State University.

WINTER

WINTER

Winter at Western . . . rain, rain, rain, and more rain. That, however, was not all. There was also ice, slush and sleet. Bellingham provided a touch of snow which though short lived, made Winter official. The Collegian published their Ski Edition, which was noted for its excellent artwork and photography . . . this publication emphasized the importance of skiing as a sport among Western's Students . . . whether they can ski or not! This sport, though full of freedom and motion, also has its share of sprains and fractures . . . which were also evident on campus. Winter came as usual and the snow fell . . . what a new campus it blanketed.

CAMPUS MIXERS

The above group is typical of the many mixers held in the Viking Union Building this year.

SCIENCE BUILDING

The new science building last year was just the drawing that you see below. During the year the building has progressed to the state that you see above. The two pictures directly above are the west end as the building looked when this book went to press. On the right is the beautiful fountain in front of the new building.

WINTER ACTIVITIES 1960

Ruth Slenczynska

The Winter and Spring Artist and Lecture series represented an expert fusion of the talented artist and the informed lecturer, with the vibrant intensity of a Ruth Slenczynska blending superbly with the relaxed urbanity of an Edward Weeks. For the groundlings there was a folk-singing Dylan Todd, while sacred music had its exponent in the person of Stephen Kamalyan. Dance, a sometimes neglected art form, was resurrected in the graceful and imaginative interpretations of Daniel Nagrin. Instruction was also a part of the series, for the piano team of Ferrante and Teicher departed from the standard repertoire in demonstrating the versatility of the piano as an instrument of musical effect.

WINTER AND SPRING A and L

Westerners were no less charmed by a procession of illustrious speakers in the first half of the year. Hubert Herring, an authority on Latin America, reminded us, when Castro did not, that Latins are more than serfs, while George Mylonas carried us back to Agamemnon's day and the "glory that was Greece." Two emigre Britons, the sophisticated and articulate Alistair Cooke, and the massively witty and satirical jiber at bureaucracy, Dr. C. Northcote Parkinson, completed a year that was both instructive and diverting.

COLLEGE DANCE BAND

THE HIGH POINT OF THE YEAR FOR THE DANCE BAND WAS ITS MARCH JAZZ CONCERT FEATURING THE QUARTET IN ITS FIRST APPEARANCE ON CAMPUS. THE BAND PLAYED FOR FIVE MIXERS EVERY QUARTER, AND THEIR GOAL WAS TO MAKE THE BAND AS PROFESSIONAL A PERFORMING GROUP AS POSSIBLE.

VOCALISTS — LARRY MARSH, JERRY KOLL, BOB STORMS, BARBARA LODSDON.

CHARLEY'S AUNT

"I'm Charley's Aunt from Brazil! . . . where the nuts come from . . ." Tom Aston as Charley's Aunt delivers one of the many humorous lines from WHERE'S CHARLEY?

The old comedy Charley's Aunt is the basis for the rollicking musical Where's Charley? which was this year's musical comedy offering by the drama and music departments. This was Dr. Gregory's final play before the popular director took his year leave of absence.

BASKETBALL

Western's basketball team had the greatest season in the history of the school this season as they won 20 games, lost 8 and captured the Evergreen Conference basketball championship. Two victories over Pacific Lutheran in a three game series enabled the Vikings to represent the state in the National Association Intercollegiate Athletes in Kansas City. They were eliminated in this tournament by Arkansas A & M 64-53.

Ron Crowe, a two-year letterman from the University of Washington, transferred to Western for his senior year and broke every existing major scoring record in the Evergreen Conference. He broke Chuck Curtis's conference scoring mark of 314 by two points and was eventually named to a little All-American berth.

The second leading scorer for the Viks was Easy Ed Vadset, former All-Stater at Lincoln High, who scored in double figures almost every game. Coach Jack Hubbard continually received game saving efforts from Vadset and described him as the clubs floor leader.

Jim Greer, another former Washington player averaged slightly over ten points a game and was one of the leading rebounders. Big Jim's moment of greatness was in the last PLC-Western game where he hit for 24 points and was a demon on defense to lead the Viks to their berth in the national tourney at Kansas City.

The prospects for next years team appear excellent with nine of the top thirteen players still eligible. Coach Hubbard did a great job in molding this team into championship caliber as they had all played under different systems up to this year. It is safe to assume that next years team will be tops.

Although it lacked numbers the swim team this year demonstrated great potential, especially at the Evergreen Conference Meet at which they gave U.P.S. a real run for its money. The team has high hopes of winning the Evergreen Conference Championship next year. Time will tell.

LORNE DAVIES, COACH, AND BILL BURBY DISCUSS
RUGBY PROBLEMS.

Rugby enjoyed its most successful season in Western's history this year as the Vik ruggers won ten games, lost one and tied one. A post-season trip to California highlighted Coach Joe Davies coaching effort, as the Vikings played tremendous ball against the top notch California schools.

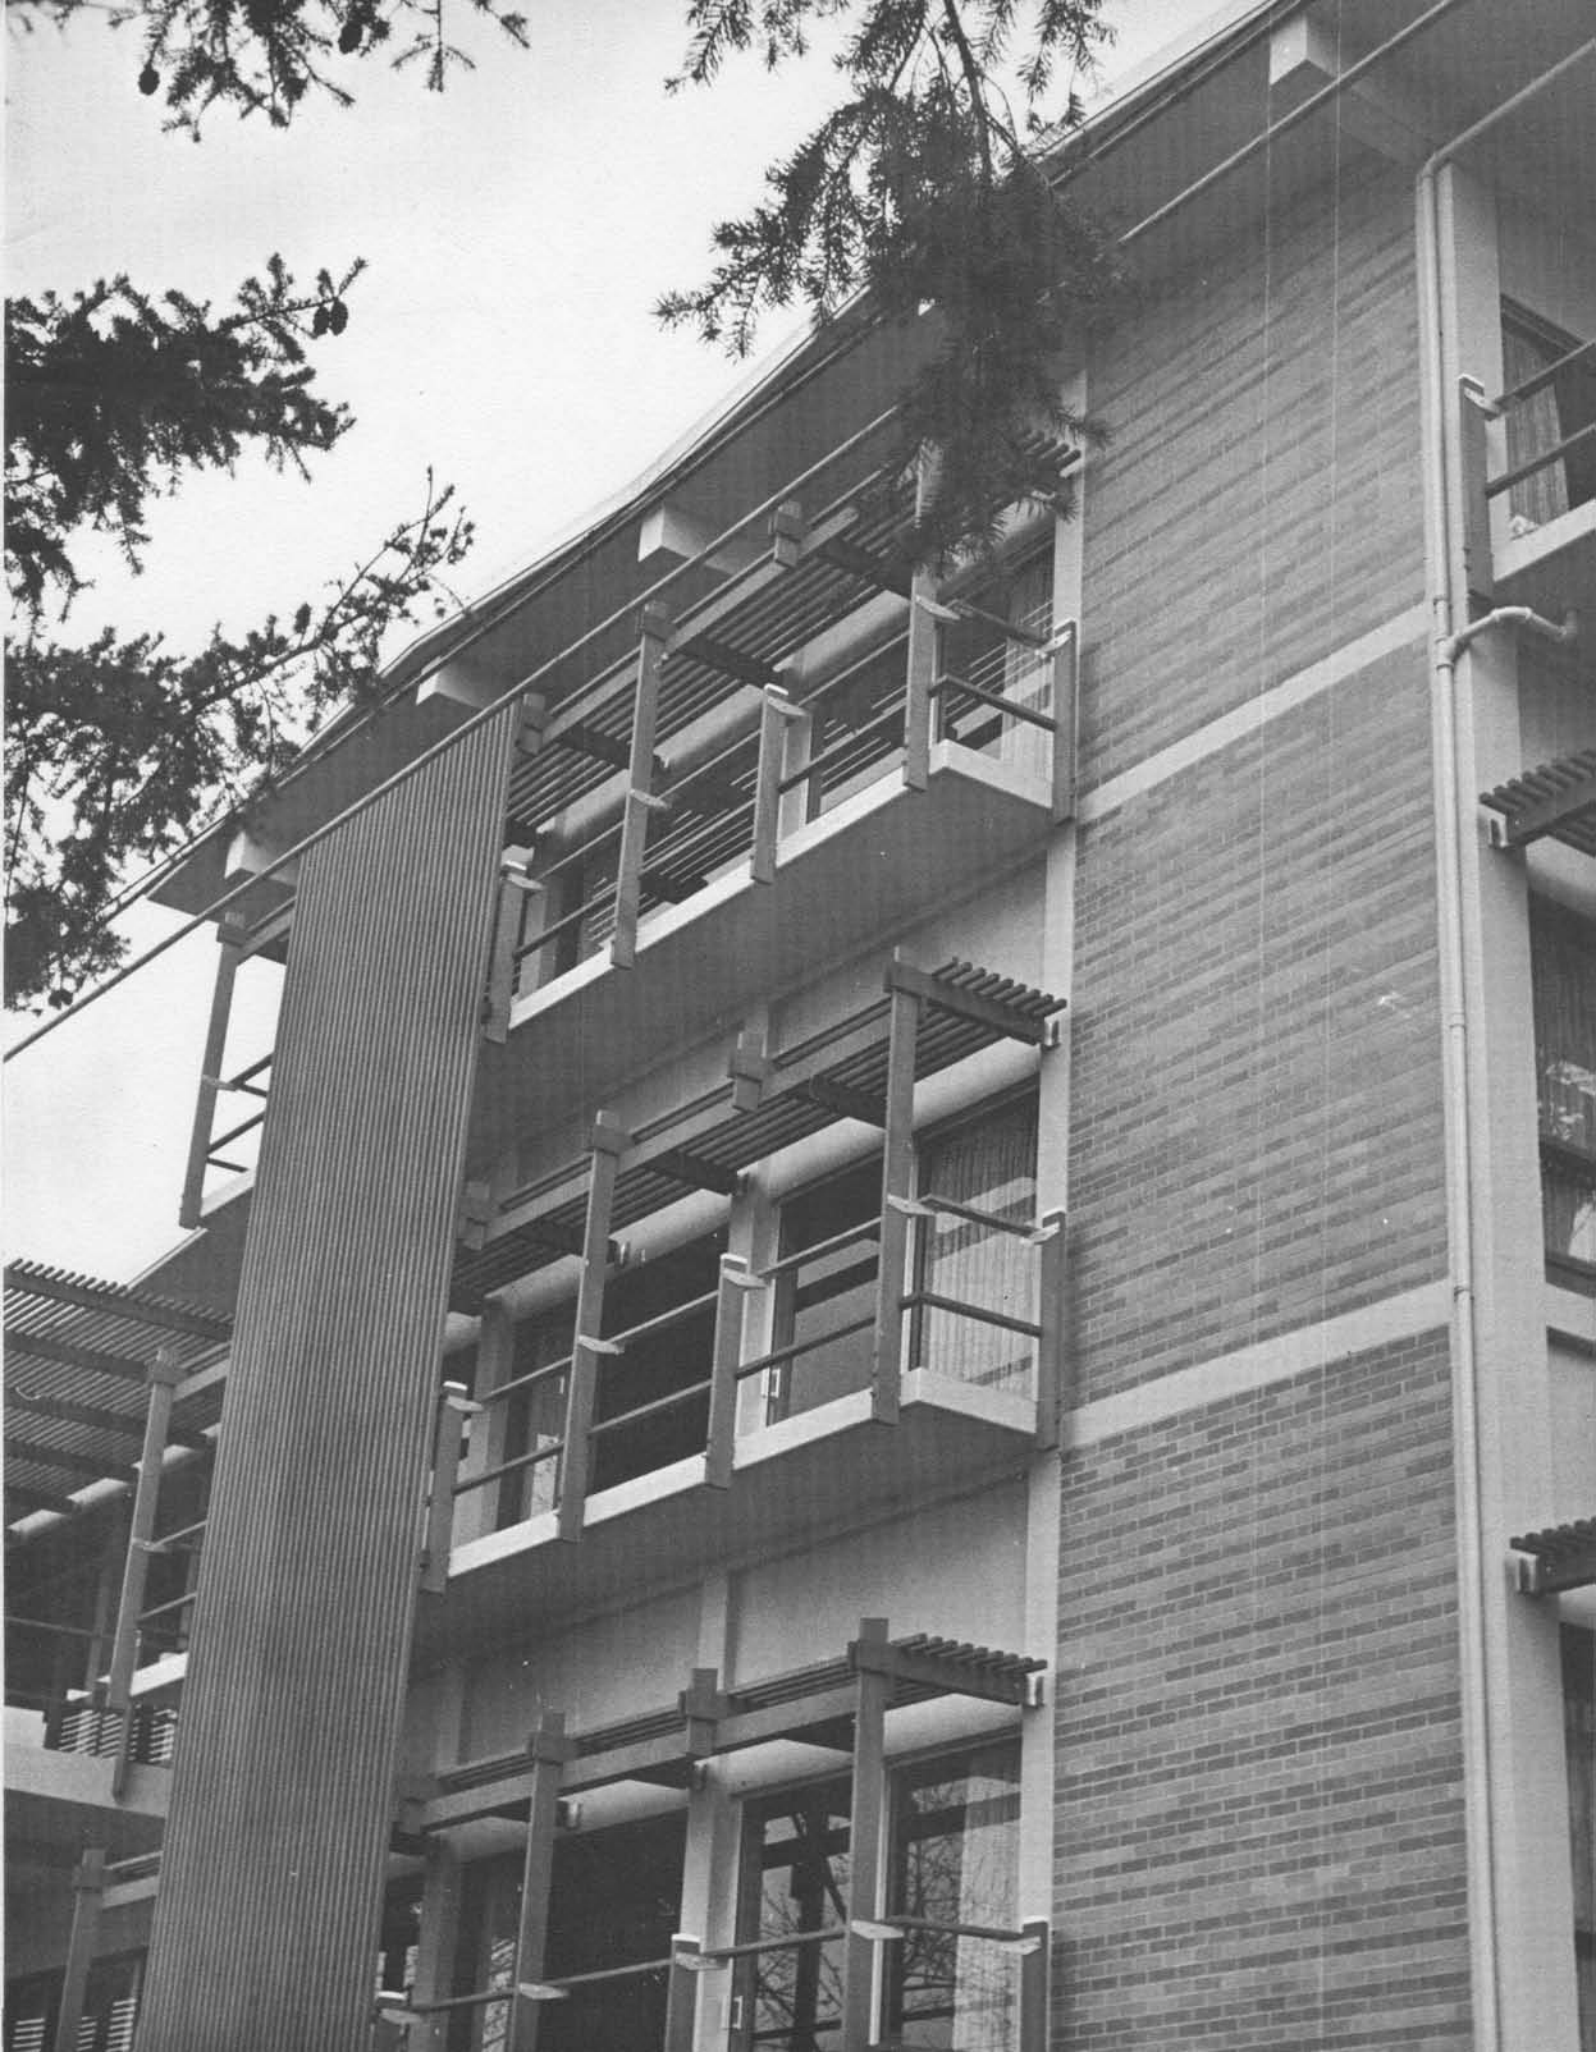

Ron Ladines, Pete Napper and Herb Langeman carried the offensive load for the Vikings and Al Mathieson, Jack Sim, Ed Melbourne, Denny Kimmel, Bill Burby, Gary Eilers, Gary Fumano, Dick Hayes, and Mike Boettcher were the defensive stars.

At present rugby is an intramural sport and is supported entirely by the efforts of the team members. A big pat on the back should be given to the boys and Coach Davies for their valiant effort to raise funds for their expenses.

Prospects appear bright for next season with almost the entire squad returning for action. Sim, Melbourne and Burby are the only important losses to the Ruggers, thus enabling Davies to look forward to another very successful season.

SPRING

SPRING

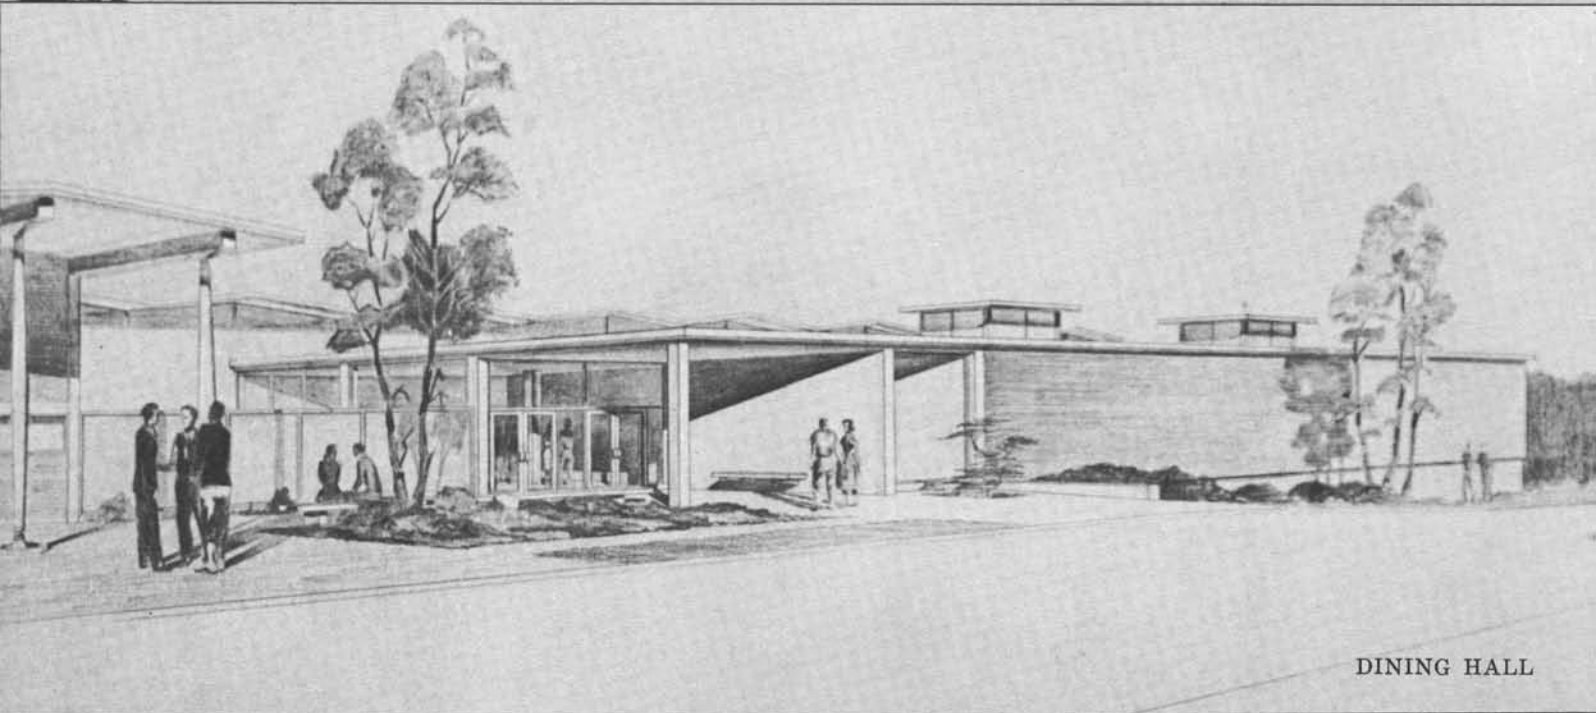

Spring . . . yes, it came in spite of everything. It was as beautiful as ever. The campus looked new . . . and yet, essentially the same. Old Main provided the comfort of an old companion and the new Science Building and Viking Union Building provided the excitement of a new acquaintance. Buildings will be erected and fall . . . thoughts will arise . . . run their course . . . and new thoughts will take their place. Spring will remain the same. People will always emerge from Winter and its reserve and trip down paths of fancy . . . such was the case with Western.

The staff of the 1960 Klipsun was small but hard working. The pictured Klipsun staff took over the job of getting out an annual six months later than is generally the case. Many nights saw the staff working in their new office in the Viking Union Building. By some miracle the deadline was met and an annual emerged on time. New Forms will probably go down as one of the most unusual annuals in Klipsun history.

A new and exciting format styled after Time and Newsweek was introduced to Western's campus this year. This new format began fall quarter with Ken Robertson as Editor. However, Robertson had an extremely difficult academic load and Howard DeWitt was elected editor for the last two quarters of the year. DeWitt presented an interesting and lively coverage of campus events in the liberal newsmagazine.

Many letters and comments were received from professional journalists concerning the high quality of content and exciting new format.

WRITER

The Writer is Western's creative writing magazine, an annual publication which invites all enterprising young writers to submit their material . . . and the surprising thing is that it quite often gets printed! This gives the Writer a broad scope of literary endeavor.

J. V. Hansen

Publications Adviser

The news-magazine format became the official dress of the Collegian during the year, but the disciples of the standard tabloid newspaper did not abandon their campaign for a return to the traditional form. In the "depth" interviews of Dr. Gregory, director of the memorable "Wild Duck" production, and the professors who participated in the "Faculty Speaks" discussions, the Collegian, imaginatively led by Ken Robertson, began to exploit the possibilities of the new format.

A catastrophe in the Klipsun department was happily prevented when Stacy Tucker and Gary Reul "rescued" the annual at the end of the winter term. Room One of the Viking Union became a gallery of rogues while the harried staff separated freshmen from seniors in the laying out of the class sections. Should the charge of uniqueness be hurled at the book, let it be said that the staff is only too aware of the implications. It was a most unusual year!

NORSEMEN

The Norsemen, composed of all of the men students on the campus, were well represented by the Norsemen Commission, which served as the planning board for all activities. Two highly successful semi-formal dances highlighted the Norsemen year. The first came in the fall and took place at the Elks Hall, another during winter quarter in the Student Union. The men also took an active part in sponsoring with their counterparts, A.W.S., a Welcome Week Tea, the Chinese Auction for the World University Service drive, and a talent show. Serving on the commission were Dale Bosshart, president; Larry Whitney, vice-president; Roger Jensen, treasurer; Doug Simpson, secretary.

During Welcome Week, A. W. S. held a Welcome Assembly, a transfer tea, and the annual big and little sister party. The Fall Fashion Show and the Fall Formal tolo "In The Mood" were the high points of the Fall quarter.

During Winter quarter six members represented W.W.C. at the Washington-Idaho A.W.S. Convention. The main activities of the quarter included an assembly with a bridal consultant speaking and a Talent Show co-sponsored with Norsemen.

The first all-campus Mother's weekend was held in May. Other major events during the Spring quarter included a fashion show and the spring tolo "April Love." Two delegates went to the regional Convention in New Mexico to gain new insights with a view toward improving our A.W.S.

Coffee hours, service projects, money-raising projects, and Christmas decorations rounded out the year's activities.

A.W.S. OFFICERS: Brenda Lindsley, vice president; Karen Brunstrom, secretary; Marilyn Jensen, treasurer; Karen Laulainen, president.

ALPHA RHO TAU

Alpha Rho Tau, a national honorary art society, is made up of art majors of Western. Alpha Rho Tau started the year off by presenting an art show when the new Student Union Building opened in the fall. ALPINE CLUB

A love of the mountains and desire to climb were required of members who formed the Alpine Club this year. Several outings were made to the mountains during the year.

The Bachelors Club, under the leadership of George Kuybus, became the fourth all-male organization on campus this year. The membership consisted of only single juniors and seniors. Aiming to promote traditions and school spirit on campus, the club did just that by stimulating participation in government, encouraging high scholarship, cultivating pride in respect to student facilities, and developing social graces and standards.

Local and out-of-town guests are invited to speak on religion, philosophy and ethics. Highlights of Western's Canterbury year were a get-acquainted dinner in the fall at one of Bellingham's hotels, a Christmas dinner party, and an all-day picnic held in the spring.

COLHECON

Colhecon is composed of the college home economists. This year the club held a pizza dinner to raise funds for W.U.S., providing an opportunity for the members to prepare and serve a meal for a large number of guests, as well as helping in the support of World University Students. The club sponsored a senior tea during spring quarter under the leadership of Mrs. Edith Larrabee. The year was highlighted by the annual state convention.

CRITICS CLUB

Dr. Van Aver's home provided the setting for many enlightening as well as entertaining evenings for the Critic's Club. The principles of literary criticism were applied to a wide variety of works during the past year. The only requirement for membership is an interest in literature and the variety of subject matter discussed touches upon all fields of literary endeavor, both ancient and modern.

The club participated actively in the election campaign during its two quarters of existence. Secretary of State Vic Meyers was a special guest on campus. A coffee hour was held in his honor, after which Mr. Meyers spoke at an open meeting.

A reception in the Main Lounge of the Viking Union honored Governor Albert D. Rosellini, who spoke to the student body. The club took part in the Washington State Young Democratic Convention held in Seattle, the County Democratic Convention, the second Congressional District Convention, and the State Democratic Convention.

The industrial arts and vocational education honorary enlarged its membership to 15 members this year. Requirements for this society are a 3.0 average in industrial arts courses and an overall average of 2.5 in all of their college work.

Among the activities which this club participated in this year were a Halloween mixer, a trip to the University of Washington, and a trip to Anacortes.

FRENCH CLUB — Janet Copley, Sandra Irvin, Carolyn Newton, Michael Shelley, Eileen Robinson, president; Fran Barber.

FRENCH CLUB

Der Deutsche Studentenverein, meeting on each second and fourth Thursday of the month, was profitable for many students of the German language. Because a foreign language is most easily learned through actual speaking experience, German was spoken as much as possible during meetings. To gain a better knowledge of German culture, films and slides were shown, occasional samples of German foods were provided, German songs were sung, and many German games were played. Outstanding this year was the annual Christmas party, in which German guests told of their experiences in Germany. Second-year students entertained everyone with two "Hans und Willi" comedy skits.

Newly organized during the latter part of Winter quarter, Le Cercle Francais desired to create an informal atmosphere for individuals interested in increasing their ability to converse in French by singing French songs, playing games, and dramatizing short skits. The members strive to understand the French people through a study of their arts and sciences, not only of their past history, but also of their contemporary activities and endeavors.

Mr. Mason spoke on "Jobs for Our Future." A picnic during spring quarter ended a year of successful club activities.

Helmsmen began its activities of the year by organizing and participating in the homecoming parade during the fall quarter. Winter quarter found the club in a new project, that of co-sponsoring with Valkyrie the drive for W.U.S. funds. Helmsmen raffled off a meal ticket which brought in more donations than any other activity of this campaign. Throughout the year Helmsmen further served the college by acting as guides for visiting dignitaries and students. Perhaps one of the most outstanding social events of spring quarter, the spring sports informal, was sponsored by Helmsmen. At this dance Western's Athlete of the Year was honored.

Western's chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, Eta Beta, had a busy and eventful year, for the national education honorary initiated many new members into this group dedicated to high professional and personal standards. Kappa Delta Pi took part in the homecoming festivities by sponsoring an alumni coffee hour. It presented a variety of programs, featuring such distinguished speakers as Dr. Geraldine Doll and Dr. Jesse Baird. Eta Beta Chapter was also represented at the national convocation in Chicago, Illinois, this year.

The Newman Club of Western meets on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. At these meetings discussions are held on topics of interest to the members. Scholarship Society, consisting of junior and senior students who have earned a grade point average of 3.5 or above, began its year's activities with an election of officers. Other activities of the group were the sponsoring of a coffee hour preceding the Honors Convocation and a fall quarter initiation of new members, at which time Dr. Mayer described plans for Western's new honors curriculum. In its other club activities the group has sponsored the Western Fall Regional of S.W.E.A. and F.T.A. clubs, sent delegates to the Fall Regional and the State Convention at Whitworth, and sponsored the first A.S.B. Roger Myers, Bud Bloch, Andy Yimouichak, Bill Wright, Keith Kingsbury, Jim Lewis, Coach John Kulbitski.

GOLF

The Viking golf hopes took a turn for the best when Bill Wright appeared back on the campus, fresh from a stint in the U.S. Army. Wright is the 1959 National Public Open Champion. Also back from last year's squad was Dave Ewart. The other three places on the squad were filled by the seven newcomers who turned out.

WESTERN COLLEGE

TENNIS

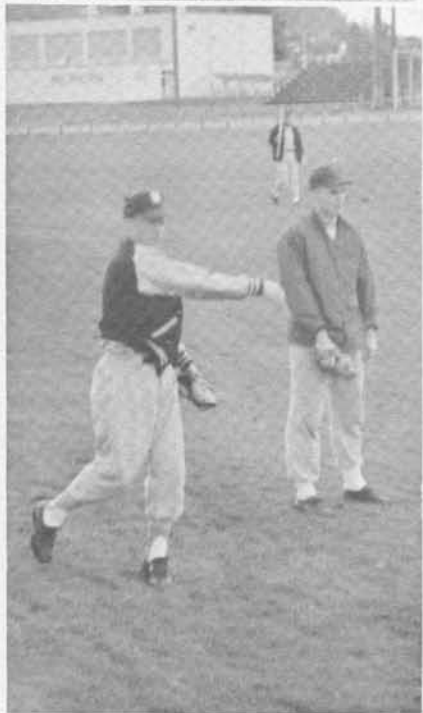

Coach Chuck Lappenbusch welcomed back only four lettermen from last year's squad. The lettermen were Chuck Bertrand, Joergen Shade, Ron Thompson, and John Stave. These four will make up the nucleus of the team, with the fifth position being filled by one of the newcomers.

BASEBALL

This year the Western Washington Vikings welcomed back, as baseball coach, Jack Hubbard. Hubbard took back the job he gave up to Red Smith four years ago. Coach Hubbard had only six lettermen back from last year's squad but he had a fine group of first year men. One thing that Hubbard looked forward to was the pitching and hitting of Roger Repoz, the NAIA's most valuable player last year, along with four other all-conference players. This gave him the nucleus of a good club.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Our thanks go out to all who had any part in making this annual possible. Without the patience, understanding, and helpfulness of a number of people this annual would not be.

We are especially grateful to Howard Vierling and Pat McGee of Craftsman Press, Inc. for their extra efforts and patience with this year's annual.

Our staff was small . . . but it was a hard working staff. To these people I am extremely grateful . . . especially Gary Reul, the Associate Editor, who, more than any one person on the staff, is responsible for this present annual.

The faculty showed extreme patience and understanding in getting their photos taken . . . for the third time!

This annual owes a large part of its new and distinctive style to Terry Drafs, who designed the cover and the small designs throughout the book.

Jukes Studio proved to be not only our helpers but our friends . . . Mr. and Mrs. Cliff of Jukes are to be thanked for all their extra work, which also proved to be of their usual high quality. Last, but not least, our thanks go out to Mr. Hansen for his encouragement and advice.

SPRING ACTIVITIES

No year would be complete; no season would be a season without its transition into the next. So does Spring give way to Summer, but it goes out in a burst of glory with swimming, tennis, and other recreation which will carry on into the summer. There are jobs to be done, finals to take, graduation practices; for some there is graduation and for others there is thought about summer work and return to college in the Fall. No, Spring does not yield carelessly its crown to summer; it leaves its traces on the land and in our memories, memories of Western, Whatcom county, and Washington.

The Spring Sports Informal, last major dance of the college year, was held at the Holiday Ballroom where a capacity crowd danced to the music of Ken Cloud and his band. Amid the sophisticated decorations of black and white, which carried out the theme Playboy Escapades, the couples waited at intermission to find who had been selected athlete of the year.

The suspense was broken when it was announced by Sam Martin, a Western athlete, that, of the many votes cast, a majority had been for Jerry Joyce, a sophomore from Everett whose major sport is track. Jerry was then awarded the Sam Carver trophy and plaque as the most outstanding athlete of the college year. (see picture, top left)

SPRING SPORTS INFORMAL

Two experimental French plays by Eugene Ionesco were presented on May 13th and 14th by Western dramatists. A great departure from the usual plays seen in the Viking auditorium, these aroused much comment, favorable and unfavorable.

Both plays were in a humorous vein but carried more than a superficial message. One parodied life and its repitious activities, the other presented the instructor, his inability to communicate with the student and the inability of the student to comprehend. Though different in nature, both ended as they had begun, indicating that these situations go on, and on.

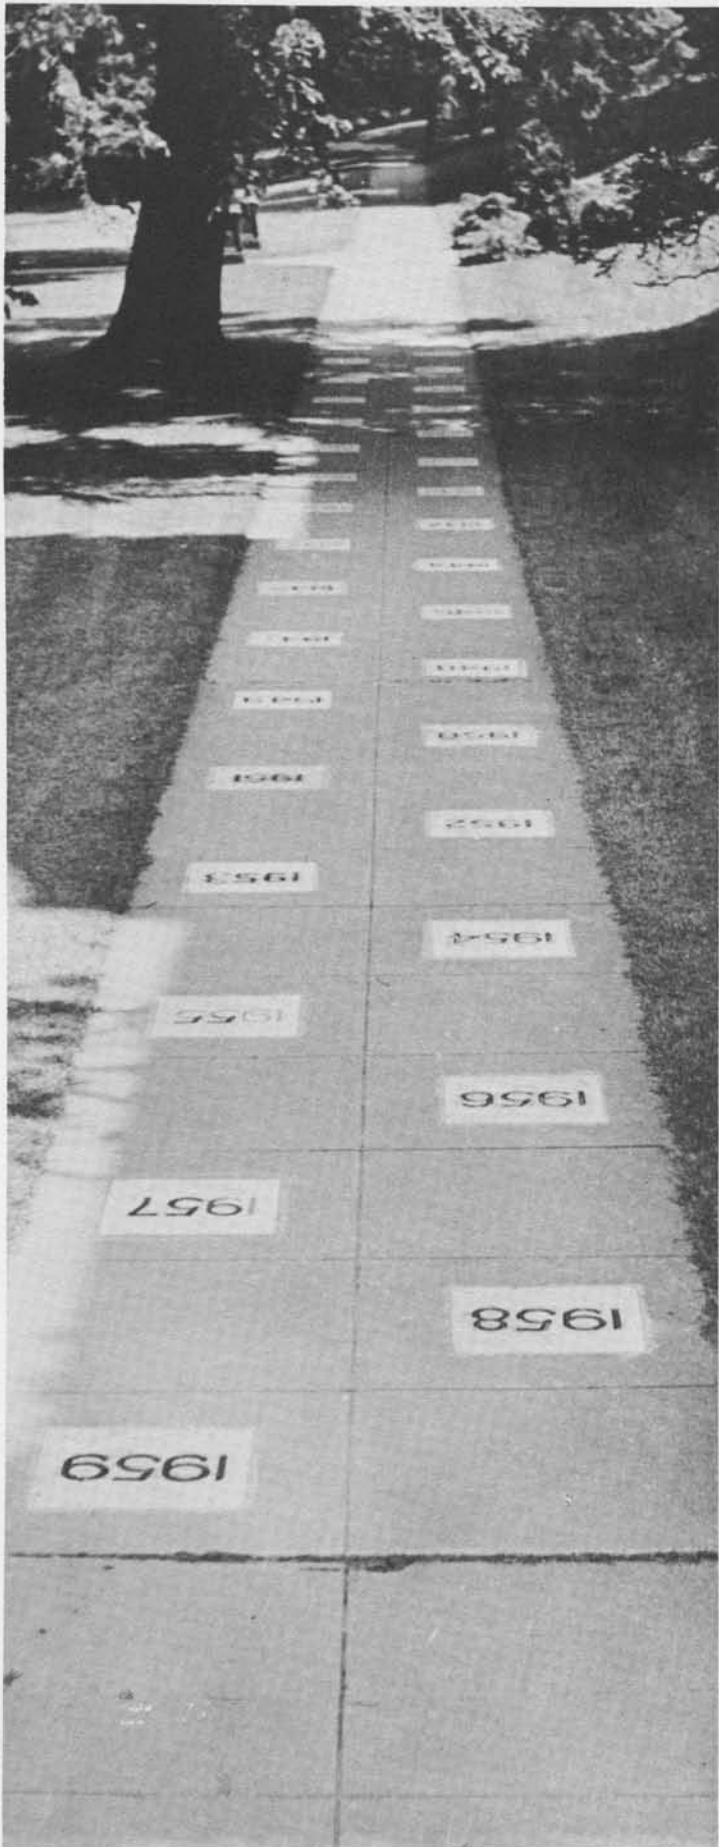

"THE BALD SOPRANO" was ably presented by Steve Bus, Gladys MacLean, Nina Paynter, Jim Hamilton, Jim Simon and Nancy Smith; "THE LESSON" was played by Chuck Petzold, Peg Plowman, and Karen Bainter.

"THE BALD SOPRANO"

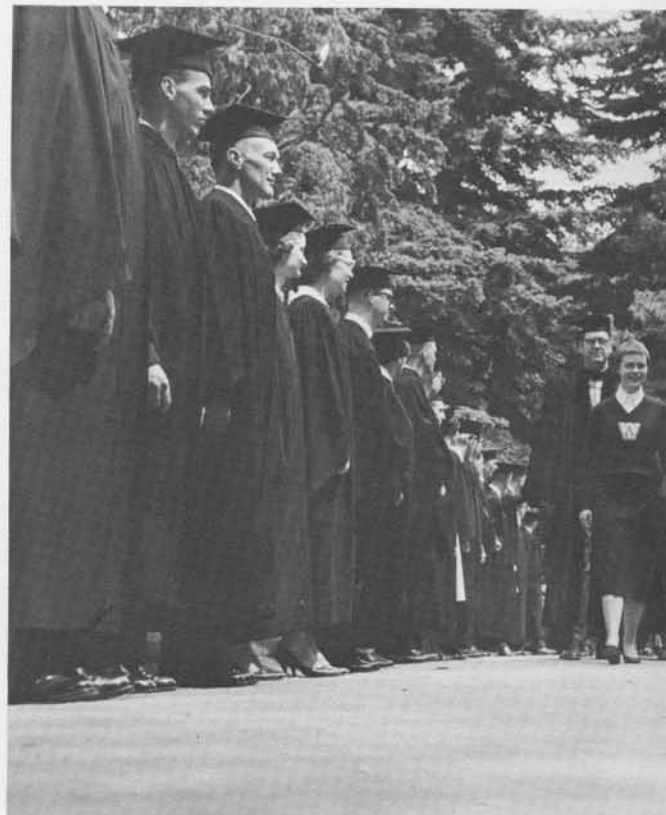

"THE LESSON"

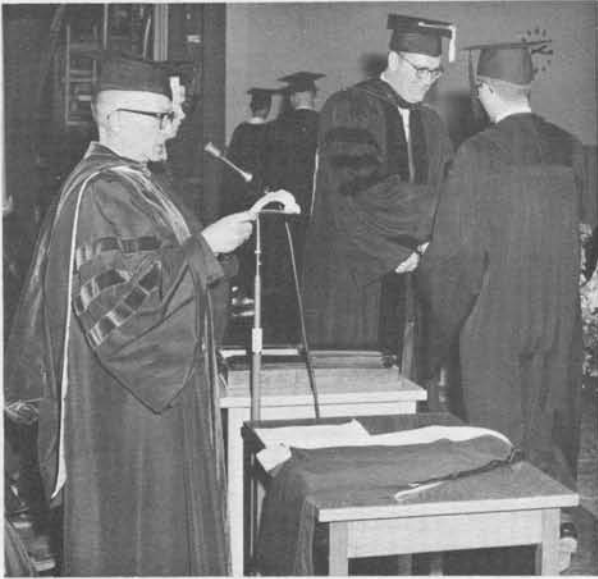

For many, June tenth was an ordinary day, a day like any other, but for two hundred and thirty Western Washington College Seniors it was the end of a long journey; a journey through years of studies, lectures, and tests. Certainly, there were during this time activities and recreation, but probably the greatest thrill of all for these students was when they crossed the stage of the Viking auditorium to receive their college degrees. In addition to these robed figures in their tassled hats so typical of commencement, who received their bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Arts in Education degrees, forty-two others received their Masters degrees.

There was more than this, however, to the ceremonies, for the graduates had already enjoyed a banquet and dance on June third and the Baccalaureate services on the following Sunday. Like the Spring they were a part of, the Seniors had pleasant memories to recall.
