Most Students

who cross the promenade in front of the Viking Union probably do not attach any particular significance to the hexagonal concrete forms beneath their feet. But for us it is a symbol — one we have spread across the pages of this book. At different times and places in the history of man, the hexagon has had various meanings; for us here and now at Western the hexagon has a special meaning.

It represents a myriad of changing scenes and people and memories, some large, some small, some colorful, some dull. New buildings, mud, ditches, new faces, new instructors, new ideas — all part of a life called college and a college called Western.

To you, the students, we dedicate this yearbook and symbolize this year, nineteen hundred and sixty-two, with the hexagonal shapes found at the approach to the Viking Union.

ADMINISTRATION

Various influences contribute . . . to the success and welfare of a college. Perhaps the most obvious are the students and the faculty. However, there exists an unmeasurable underlying influence . . . the administration.

The credit that our leaders deserve cannot be measured. What can be done however, is to try to give the students a clearer picture of the kinds of services that are constantly being rendered by our capable and hard working administrators who are constantly endeavoring to improve WWSC.

The pages that follow will bring the reader some familiar faces as well as less familiar but no less necessary or important ones. The "Klipsun" hopes that those already known will become a little better known through the reading of this book. Others may become familiar and their work recognized.

The Board of Trustees . . .

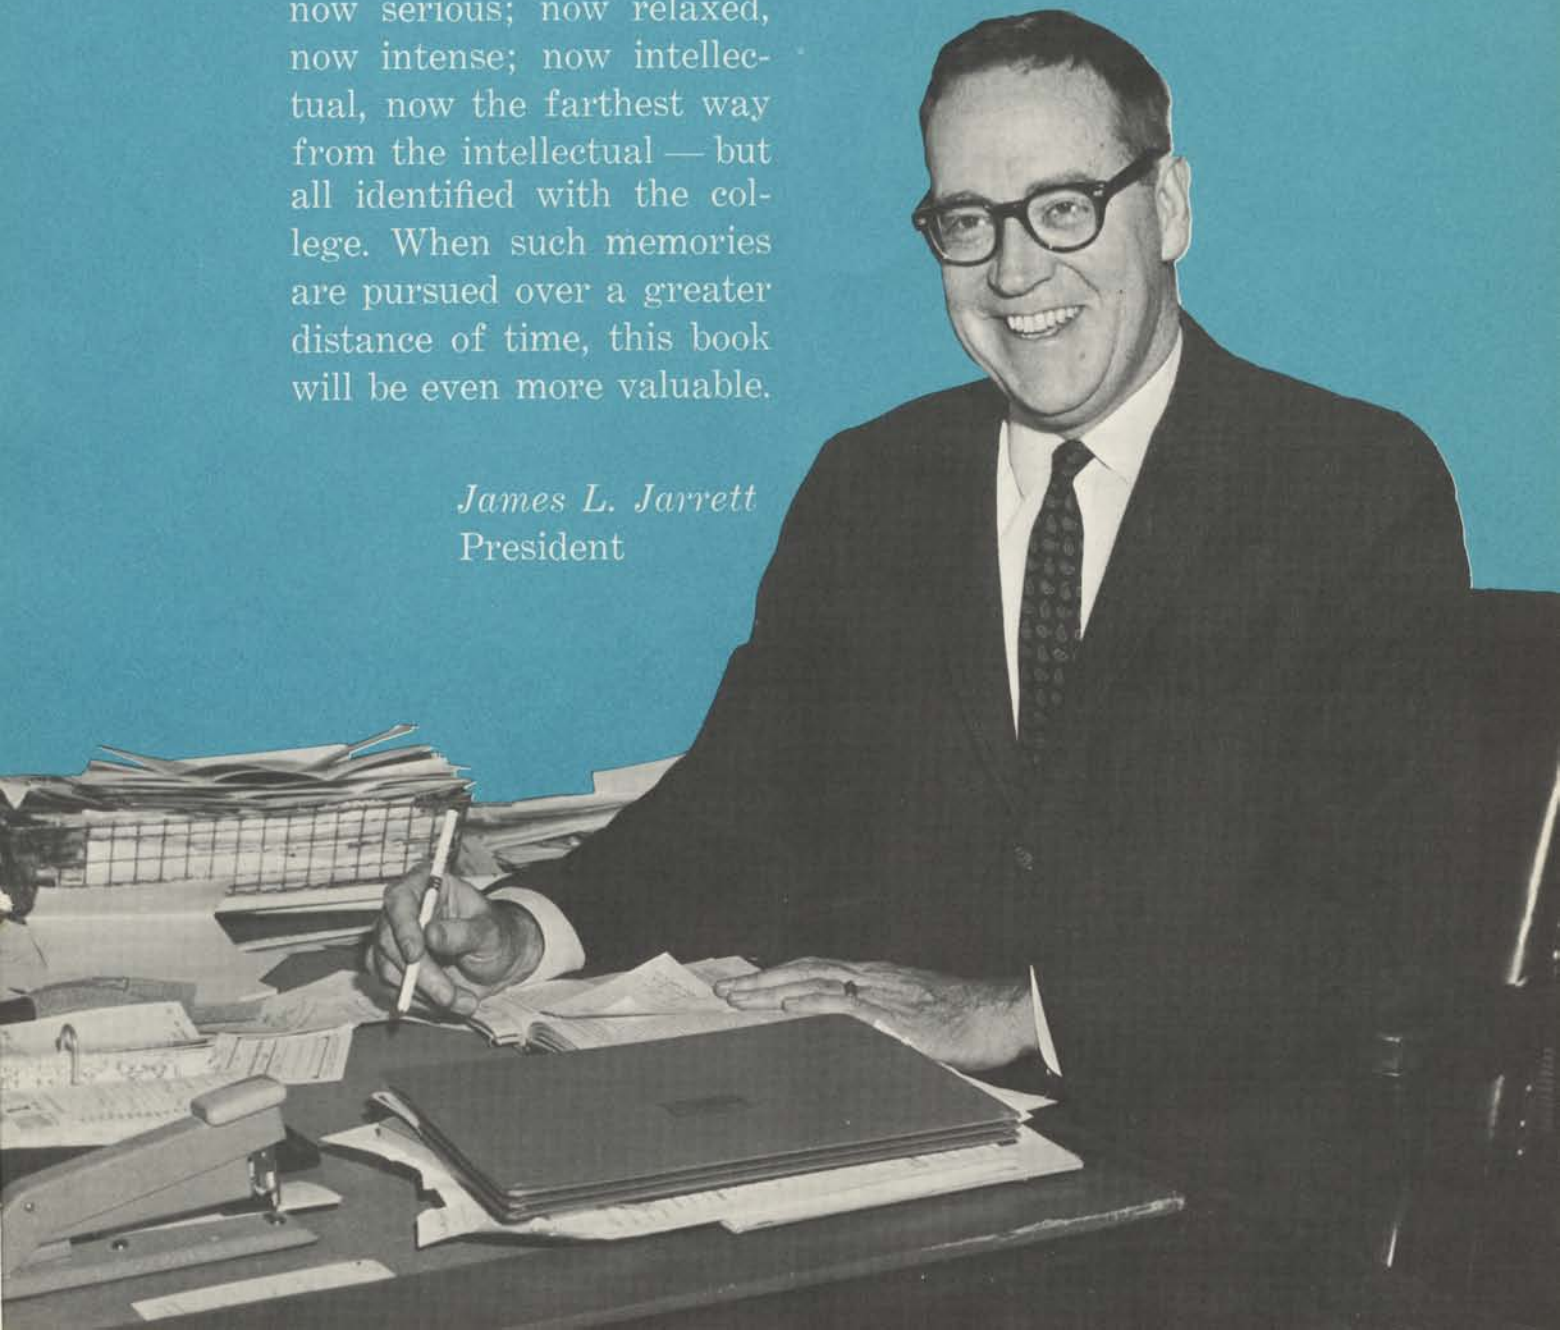

the governing body of the college, has the ultimate responsibility for all decisions of policy and finance, and the general operation of the institution. Appointed by the Governor for six-year terms and approved by the Senate, the Board has the power to buy and sell land, set fees, construct new buildings, and handle the many details necessary in operating the college.

Looking back on their college days ...

some few persons suffer bitter memories of disappointments and frustrations and some few retrospectively dismiss the undergraduate life as a frivolous extension of adolescence, but most persons become wistful and nostalgic: "Those were the best times of all." Those of us whose memories of college are pleasant, have availed ourselves of the rich opportunities afforded by an institution like Western. "We have heard the chimes at midnight," we say with Falstaff, and remember various midnights and noons, now convivial, now solitary; now gay, now serious; now relaxed, now intense; now intellectual, now the farthest way from the intellectual — but all identified with the college. When such memories are pursued over a greater distance of time, this book will be even more valuable.

James L. Jarrett
President

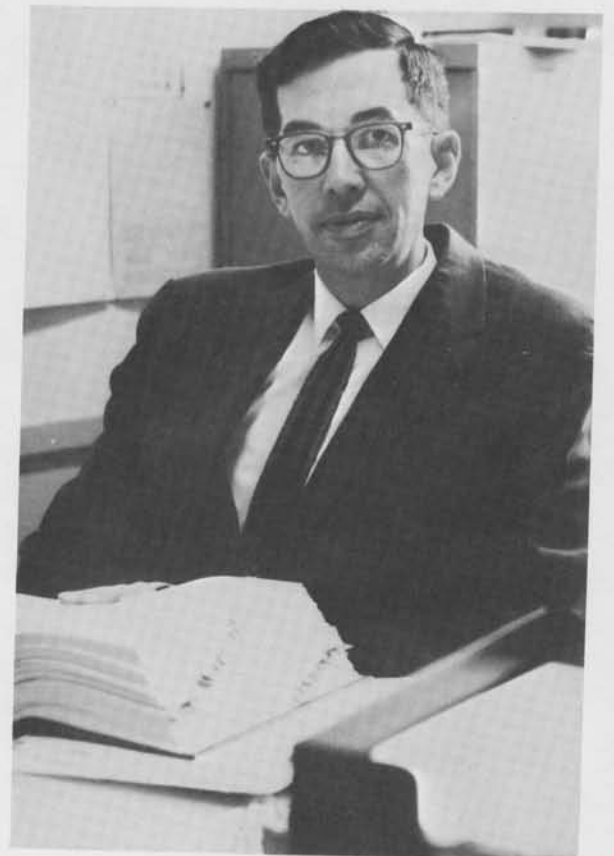

Dr. Merle S. Kuder

Dean of Students and Director of Personal Services, is concerned primarily with the student's academic life at Western. He works with the student advisor program, helps make policy decisions, and provides general student counseling.

Mr. Harold Goltz

Assistant to the President, has on his shoulders the responsibilities delegated to him by the President, such as work with the State Legislature and the budget officer. Mr. Goltz is now working primarily on the building program and campus planning.

Dean C. W. McDonald

Most freshmen men, before having trod many campus paths, heard the advice, "Don't cross Dean Mac—he's a mountain." And indeed, the Dean of Men is not only a fearful mountain in maintaining social discipline, but a mountain of helpfulness in solving monetary problems and the host of other needs that find his office full of students nearly every day.

Dean Lorraine Powers

Are you a shy, nervous freshman girl, four-foot eight? Have a problem but can't face Dean Mac? (He's so big!) Then hurry over to the Dean of Women's office. For the women of Western, Dean Powers not only handles problems of discipline, but can give sound advice on those little problems that are even more exasperating than the everyday ones—like money and grades.

Dr. J. Alan Ross

Dean of the Summer Session and Director of Graduate Studies, is most concerned with the education of graduates who are taking their fifth year program. These people are here mostly during the summer, but with the increased number of graduate assistants, the number of headaches for the rest of the year is growing.

Mr. Richard Reynolds

The Director of Student Activities, provides the mainspring of our little universe with all the delights which impel us to loaf here for hours—The Grotto, comfortable sofas in the lounge for naps, hours of coffee in the Shop—what else is there?

Mr. William O'Neil

Increasing enrollment at Western keeps the Admissions Officer busy handling correspondence with prospective students and working with the freshman scholarship program.

Dr. Melvin Allan

We can't stay here forever. Sooner or later we must—you know. And no doubt we will run across the Director of Placement, who will help us find a hard, cruel place to work.

Dr. Patrick Penland

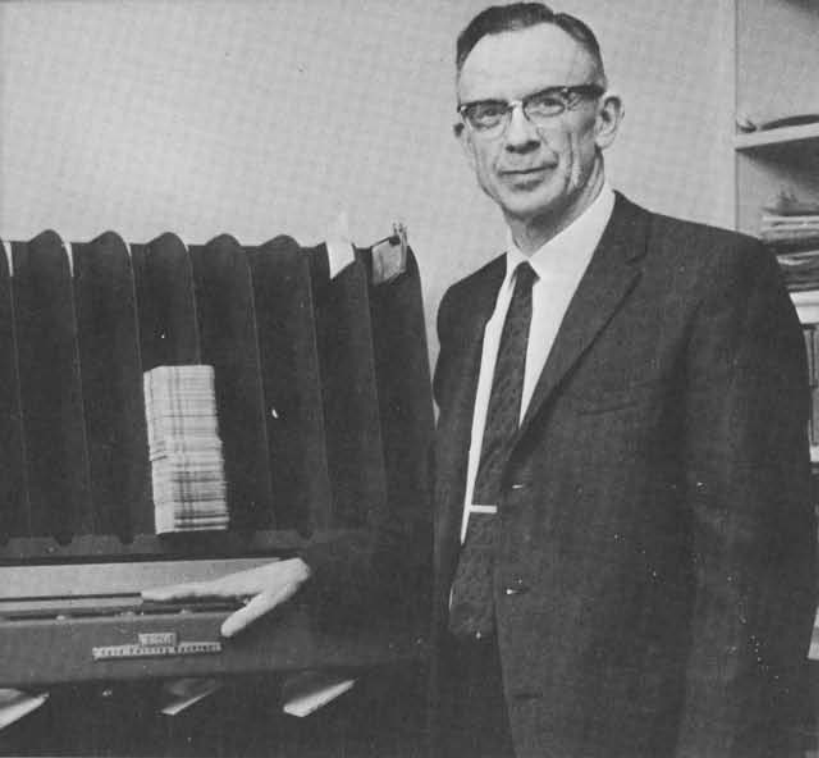

The Extension Office offers the student a variety of programs not made otherwise available. The Extension Office works with the Concert-Lecture Series, provides speakers for groups on campus, offers night classes, and this year began a series of foreign films.

Mr. James Mulligan

The Director of Public Information, handles college news releases for the various media, advises student publications here on campus, and edits Western Reports, the alumni magazine. A look into his office in the lowest limbo of the V.U. usually finds him reprimanding a miscreant Collegian reporter, or on the phone solving some problem with the outside world.

Mr. Donald Ferris

Mrs. Dorothy Button Mr. Spencer Nevan

Registrar's Office

IBM unscrambles the confusion that plagues the Registrar's Office at the beginning and end of each quarter — grade sheets, class enrollment and attendance cards. IBM is the only way to stay sane in a school this size.

Mr. Sam Buchanan

As the comptroller, he has the complicated task of keeping straight all the money that passes through the Business Office — workers' checks, loans, fees—dozens of small and large dealings that might add up to many problems without his expert guidance.

Mrs. Doris H. Buchanan

Mr. Ernest Sams

Mrs. Teresa Fickel

Business Office

We know about the Business Office. Those people with greedy smiles grab our fees, fines, and debts; and with reluctant frowns hand out our loans, refunds, and pay checks. But the Business Office is a rather friendly place to go—sort of a Mecca.

FACULTY AND

A noticeable quality . . . a Western student finds in his professors from the very first is friendliness and a willingness to give individual help when it is asked for. A professor who is dedicated to teaching to this extent deserves credit for it and Western seems fortunate in having many professors of this caliber.

DEPARTMENTS

The student wants to learn, the professor wants to teach, consequently a degree from WWSC has immeasurable worth. Western's faculty not only has a wide range of capability but also brings the students a varied cultural range that is an asset to a well-rounded education. Western's professors come from all parts of the world and each has brought with him or her an accumulation of knowledge to be swallowed, digested, and later given out to the world for its use.

Perhaps with charcoal in hand he will place an individual's gestures on paper, or with a brush in hand he will capture a sunset. He may use his bare hands to create something out of clay. Whichever way he chooses, the artist will express how he sees something; he will express himself.

The purpose of Western's...

Biology Department is two-fold: To provide instruction for those who plan to teach in the public schools and to offer pre-professional work in medicine, forestry, fishing and nursing. The Department also offers preparation for graduate work and university teaching.

Western is unusual among institutions in offering such a wide range of study in biology.

living," said Plato, and Western's philosophers take it as their mission to see to it that students examine their own lives. The results are sometimes unsettling. For most of us, thinking is painful; for most of us it comes as a shock to discover that "truths" we have taken for granted are highly dubious indeed. Students typically are divided on the value of the study of philosophy. Some call it impractical—too far up in the clouds. Others maintain that nothing could be more practical and foundational than a study of the ultimate values on which one's life is built.

Staff

A college the size of Western does not function and maintain itself.

To work properly, it requires the combined knowledge and co-operation of a group of people who comprise the staff.

Someone must sort, label, and file the thousands of statistics, letters, and verbal requests that go through the college daily. Accounts must balance. The Book Store must continually order, stock and sell. Two thousand students must have well-balanced meals three times a day. Their health must be guarded and traffic violation tickets issued.

The college requires a full-time maintenance crew, which includes custodians, carpenters, gardeners, painters, and electricians. Without this work force the life of the institution would grind to a stop. For them, Western is a full-time occupation.

ORGANIZATIONS

Varied organizations on Western's campus exist to correspond with the varied interests of the students. Certain religious groups exist to fulfill or help to develop spiritual interest. Likewise Alpine Club exists to take care of the mountaineer, while Sailing Club caters to those whose interests lie at the other end of the geographical scale. Such clubs as Math Club, Psychology Club, etc., extend educational interest outside the formality of the classroom. The political minded may express themselves through such governmental bodies as legislature. Other groups such as Bachelor's Club express other extremes of interest. An important part of the college, organizations give students a chance to drop their books and satisfy other worthwhile endeavors. Both are equally important in an individual's education.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

DICK HAYES

An office on the top floor of the Viking Union, a gavel, and a secretary help this person fulfill an extremely busy role . . . Meet Dick Hayes, your Student Body President. Dick, a senior majoring in pre-law, is from Vancouver, B. C. Besides being politically endowed, Dick has proved his athletic prowess by taking part in rugby and football at Western for three years.

GORDY MILLS

Occupying an office next door to Dick is Gordy Mills, Student Body Vice President. Gordy, a math major, calls Spokane his home town. Largely through his efforts, Western was privileged to have a number of top rate performers such as Louis Armstrong appear on campus throughout the past year.

Cabinet:
 G. Mills
 G. Bilodeau
 D. Hayes
 J. Boyles
 K. Larson

Vital links in Western's student government are the secretaries, advisers, and the cabinet.

Sue Martin, a junior psychology major from Seattle, began the year as head pencil pusher and road-runner for the president. Due to illness, Sue was not able to continue her job through the next quarter. Gail Bilodeau, last year's secretary, came to the rescue. Gail, a junior education major, continued the duties for the remainder of the year.

The cabinet is composed of the Student Body President, the Vice President, the Secretary, and the Finance and Facilities Chairmen. Sitting in are advisers Mr. Richard Reynolds, Director of the Student Union, Dr. Laurence Brewster of the Speech Department, and Dr. John Wuest, of the Government Department.

Coffee, pipe smoke, blue blazers, a long table, a number of thinking and alert minds . . . mix and add . . . the total will equal Legislature, the governing body of Western's student government. Monday afternoons have been known to find this set gathered to make decisions which affect each student on campus. Issues range from the more complex, such as joining NSA, to issues more minor in stature, such as whether to continue with the blue blazer. Each decision is made with the student's interest and well being in mind. In this way the Legislature succeeds as a representative body. Elections are held every Winter and Spring quarter for new members.

The Facilities and Finance Committees plus the Elections Board fill other links in Western's government. The Facilities and Finance Committees are headed by Jim Boyles and Ken Larsen, respectively. The Finance Committee is responsible for all the money spent by the A.S.B. Their primary task is to make up the budget, which is subject to approval by the legislature. The Facilities Committee is responsible for all A.S.B. property, such as Lakewood and A.S.B. office supplies.

The Elections Board, as the name implies, takes shape once a year around A.S.B. election time and forms rules concerning qualifications of candidates and campaigns.

Graduation plans and senior banquet plans keep the Senior Planning Committee busy throughout the year. Come spring quarter final plans are made and then the tedious but rewarding carrying out process begins.

Three subdivisions of the Union Board were the ACU, Recreation and Publicity Committees. Fall quarter Western played host to the Association of College Unions Region XI annual conference. The ACU Committee did a wonderful job of planning and organizing this remembered conference. Main responsibility of the Recreation Committee was providing union sponsored tournaments and recreational activities. Of course no program can be effective without an equally effective publicity program. This committee kept the student body informed about the various activities and programs planned by the board for them.

Darryl's right hand was Union Board Secretary Coleen McCormick. Coleen is a junior Education major from Stanwood and has been active in student government, besides being a member of Helmsmen.

Busy overseers were Union Board advisers Mr. Richard Reynolds, Director of the Viking Union, and Dr. Richard Whittimore, of the History Department.

Exhibits of Cultural and current interest, music programs, and discussions by professors of the college are a few of the contributions made by Western's Union Board. The Union Board, to define, is a student delegated organization who have as their responsibility the administering and programming of the student-owned Viking Union Building.

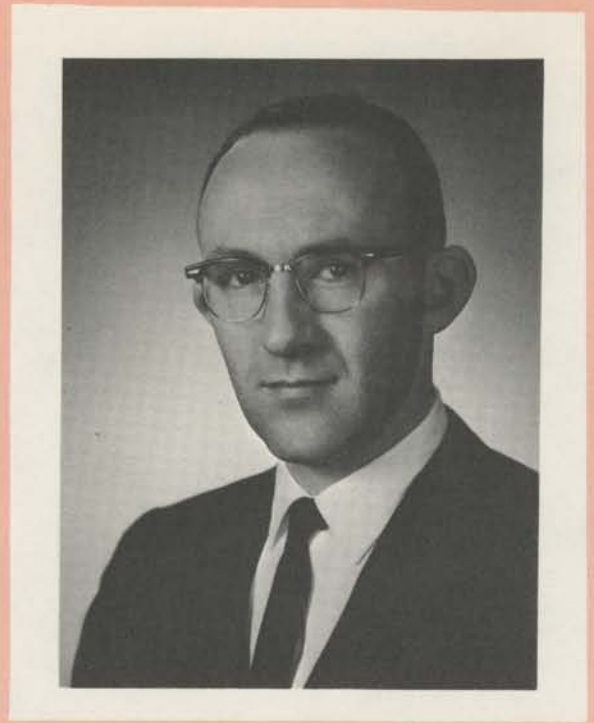

Highlights of this programming year have been the ACU conference, the W.U.S. drive and many special events, including the Christmas program.

According to Darryl Zentner, Union Board Chairman, "It is not the purpose of the Viking Union Board to provide programs of a social nature but rather to provide them with an effectively administered campus living room and cultural center."

This year the new Publications Adviser, James Mulligan, moved into the "lower depths" of the Viking Union to become supervisor of Western's student publications. Mr. Mulligan comes from Casper, Wyoming, where he was public relations director of Casper College. Previously, he had worked on such publications as the San Diego Union-Tribune, the Edmonds Tribune-Review, and the Seattle Times.

In addition to being Student Publications Adviser, Mr. Mulligan serves the college in other capacities, including editor of Western Reports, Journalism Instructor and Public Information Officer.

To the various publications staffs, stuck away in their individual offices in the Viking Union basement, he is available to give professional advice and to lend an experienced hand.

Editor Barbara Boede and her staff successfully completed one of the more tedious jobs of the Publications Department. The Profile is made for the students use and is a directory of everyone connected with the college. The cover was designed by Gary Sirguy.

WRITER STAFF

The Writer is an annual A.S.B. publication of original works by Western students. This year's editor, Brent Remmert, was in charge of choosing the best manuscripts to be published in the spring. This publication is printed on campus and is therefore completely a student publication.

A continuance of the magazine format, a new editor, Karen Bainter, and a new advisor, Mr. James Mulligan, contributed to a portion of this year's Collegian. While Bob Galford ran around making "Incisions", Judy Borman sat in her "Fifth Corner" watching Frosty Billingsley "Take Five." As conservatism died, radicalism reigned highly. Deadlines were met . . . and by-lines set by those who were brave. Tidbits on campus life, or lack of it, plus assorted information surrounded by Mumme's "Symbolics," formed an interesting weekly publication.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS OFFICERS AND COMMISSION The AWS, with able and energetic leadership has fulfilled many of their objectives throughout the year. Women students eagerly participated in two fashion shows and two tolos which the AWS sponsored this year. Winter quarter was highlighted by the N.W. convention of the Associated Women Students held here at Western.

RELIGIOUS GROUPS

College students ARE interested in religion. Many times we manifest indifference or disbelief — but faith is a matter which definitely concerns us. In the college community people's religious convictions differ; some say they do not believe anything. We all wonder. What do we believe? Is there a true belief? Should we believe anything at all? We may affect insouciance. We may profess unorthodox beliefs. Yet we are puzzled, and we would like to find answers for ourselves.

Students go to the UCCF House for fellowship and an opportunity to worship. Religious Activities for the year included an International Relations dinner and a Universal Day of Prayer. They sponsored the very successful Faculty Speaks Program, where each quarter different faculty members spoke on a common topic. They published the Campus Compass, a student newspaper. Easter Sunday they sponsored a Sunrise Service at Cornwall Park for all students.

IVCF meets weekly in different homes for spiritual inspiration and Bible Study. The speakers at their meetings are either students, faculty, or other guests which they bring in. They have several small Bible study groups who meet on campus. Social activities for the year included a Halloween party and an outing at Lakewood. Several members attended Regional IVCF Conferences during fall and spring quarter.

INTERVARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

The Deseret Club, organized by students belonging to the Latter-day Saints Church, had several Fireside DESERET CLUB groups with speakers from Seattle as discussion leaders. A club dinner at the home of one of the members and an inter-club playday for the various religious groups on campus were the special activities of this club.

The quest of the mountaineer is for the freedom of the hills, to be fully at home in the high wilderness. Therein many in the club attended courses expanding their knowledge of the wilderness. Why do they climb? Because the mountains are there perhaps, but for whatever reason Mt. Baker, the Chuckanut caves and many other high altitude areas were visited by Alpiners before the year was over.

ALPINE CLUB

Blue Barnacles, the women's synchronized swim club, was organized to further the enjoyment and skill in synchronized swimming. "It's tour time!" is an exclamation that always brings joy to the hearts of Western's band members. This year the band took its annual tour during spring vacation that led them to many of the high schools in Western Washington. Under the direction of Dr. Jerome Glass, the musicians kept a tight schedule that left them worn out by the time they returned to Western. But, at the same time next year, they will all have found enough energy to do it all over again with the same exuberance and anticipation. In addition to the tour, they gave both a pop concert in the Viking Union and their annual concert in the Auditorium.

ACTIVITIES

Most vivid in the memories . . . of 'college life' stand the activities, the relaxation and entertainment for (growing) minds. For the challenge of the masses mixers were scheduled often. For their coordination and agility, spectator sports were offered . . . amateur and professional art displays, thespian productions and artists ranging from ribald humorists and reverberating combos to precise ballet companies via the Concert-Lecture Series. Perhaps the most welcome event of the year was Homecoming Week with its knights, maidens, tests of chivalry, and coronation of the queen to reign over the festivities. For the more casual minded of the student body, the Grotto provided a haven for billiard-buffs and ping-pong-paddlers.

A LINE BY ANY OTHER NAME WOULD BE THE SAME . . . TEDIOUS!

Thus the new year and fall quarter came straggling across our campus. The IBM cards were filled out, checks were signed, and meal tickets were purchased, all in the due process of registration. Only after you were hand-weary and eye-sore did you realize that those three holes at the bottom of the IBM card was really . . . YOU!

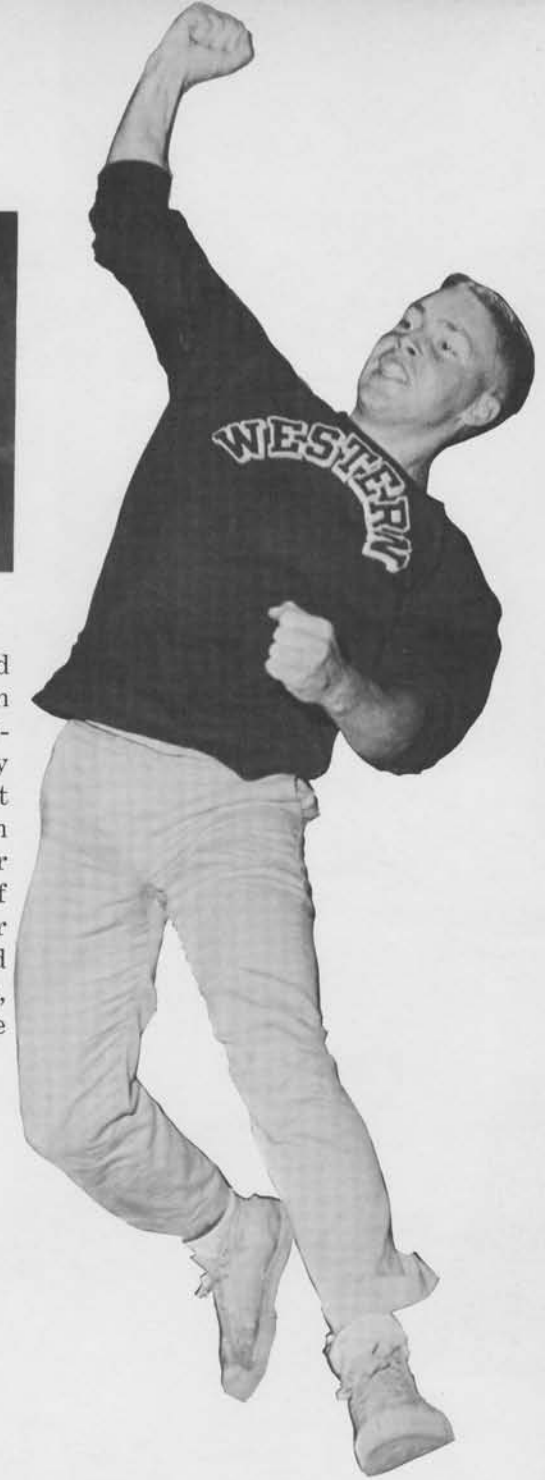

Students come to know their professors not only as teachers but also as advisors. The freshman finds the orientation simplified through the guidance of his advisor, while the transfer student is enlightened about the requirements he must fulfill, and even the returning student seeks approval of his courses for the new quarter.

WELCOME FROSH!

Russ Carlson, newly elected president of the freshman class, personified the exuberance and vigor displayed by most frosh as they arrived at Western. A week was given the new students for their campaign prior to election of officers. Ingenuity and color abounded in the posters and banners around the campus, exclaiming the success of the campaign.

EVERYBODY YELL!

The spirit of the pep staff election was intensified also by the presence of the frosh. Song leaders chosen included Pat Allen, fr.; Gail Woodham, so.; Kathy Rugg, fr.; Judy Costanzo, fr.; and Trish Clark, jr. Yell leaders elected were Marlene Vandergree, so.; Denny Davidson, fr.; Linda Pearson, fr.; Dick Boysen, so.; and Mary Wakefield, fr.

of the new women's dormitory, the unveiling of a bronze plaque highlighted the program in which Judy Ritchie, first president of Higginson Hall, was master of ceremonies. Speakers included President Jarrett and several members of the Board of Trustees, plus a guest, Paul Thiry, the architect who designed the building.

The social debut . . .

for many Western students was provided by the Norsemen's Ball, the annual semi-formal event of Fall quarter. Co-eds danced to the swinging sounds of Al Mendenhall in the Elks Club Ballroom.

Gail Bilodeau and Gordy Mills

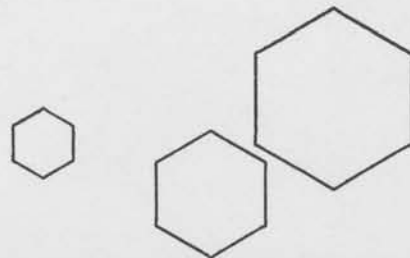

The magic of Homecoming 1961 transformed the campus into an imaginary kingdom. The peasants, having brought in a good harvest, were rewarded by the King at the Happy Harvest Festival (Kick-off Assembly). The night of merriment ended in terror as Prince Lucky Logger took the castle by surprise. Lucky's tyranny began with the peasant's mixer which he renamed "Lucky Logger Dance Time."

Villainous Lucky Logger (Nigel Adams) and his henchman, Jock of the Strap (Jack Hein) had many battles with the peasants and lords of our fair kingdom. Jousting, pie-eating contests and tests of sheer muscular strength were common events during the week of "Knights and Daze."

What girl can fail to be lovely on Presentation night? This year twenty-one girls were presented to the peasants as "Knights and Daze" got into full swing. From these attractive candidates were chosen Queen Sigrid XXIV and her four princesses, who would symbolize Homecoming "61" to the students and the alumni.

From Custer, Washington, came our lovely queen Kathy Larson. Senior princess was attractive Kay Ross, and Mary Lou Johanson of Bellingham became Junior princess. Pretty Vivian Oakvik from Seattle was the sophomore princess while Erma Price from nearby Lynden represented the freshman class. The five girls made a lovely court, and gave to "Knights and Daze" an air of beauty.

Queen Sigrid XXIV
Kathy Larson

The Queen's coronation took place in a setting of grandeur—a castle to rival Camelot. To climax the evening, Jerry Attebury announced Queen Sigrid XXIV to be . . . Kathy Larson. Football captain Gary Fumano crowned Kathy queen of Homecoming.

Queen Sigrid XXIV is a lovely brunette with intriguing brown eyes. A graduate of Western this year, she will teach elementary school. While at college, her minors were English, history and professional education. Kathy favors tennis as a hobby, and has been quite active in Valkyrie and AWS. Kathy's home is Custer, Washington. She graduated from Ferndale High School in 1958.

"Don Quixote Night," the faculty reception, was an innovation in Homecoming 1961. Constructed to give the faculty a part in the activities, this night was a success. Highlighting the program was the kidnapping of Queen Kathy by Lucky Logger.

Skit night was enjoyed by an overflow crowd. Winning the honors for the best skit was the sophomore class, catching the listeners with it's 'spoon-erisms'. Bobby Ray and Jim Brown won the in-between act trophy. Credit must also be given to the other talented groups and to Gail Bilodeau and Gordy Mills for their amazing song- and dance routine.

Stunts didn't end with skit night however, they were carried on by Nigel Adams and Jack Hein, who cleverly portrayed the villians, Lucky Logger and Jock of the Strap, keeping the Coffee Shop and Commons in an uproar all week. The Homecoming mixer, "Dragon Drag," followed skit night.

Skit Night

Dragon Drag

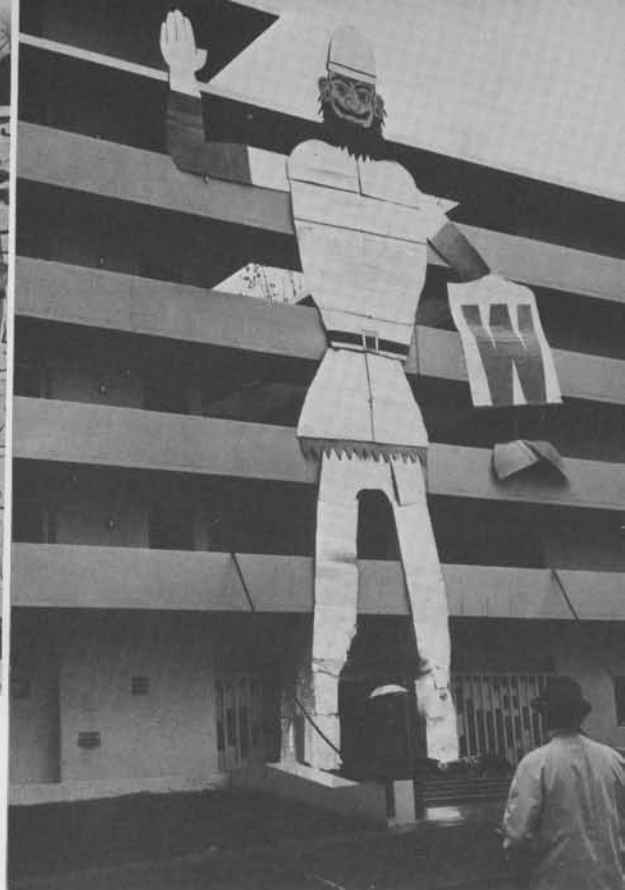

The weather-makers must have had it in for Western students who had worked strenuously on their house displays this year. Courageously battling high winds and torrential rains a few groups came through. Scenes of dragons and maidens in distress and knights in shining armor were not unfamiliar as one surveyed the college community during Homecoming Week. Winners of the best display trophies were Higginson Hall, sporting a four-story knight, and Highview Hall, with castle complete with plastic covering to ward off the rains. Downtown, each of the classes put up a display depicting the theme of Homecoming. Judged as the best window display was that of the freshman class.

Alumni are official guests of the campus at Homecoming time, although by their meager turnout each year, one would suspect that they are not told. This year, however, saw a marked increase in the number of alums that made their way back to Bellingham for Homecoming reunions. Attendance at the morning alumni program, the football game, Smorgasbord, and cabaret dance were higher than in past years. A special program was designed for those few returning students who made it as early as Saturday morning. Tours of the campus also were provided, showing off a number of new buildings. Grads of the years 1901, 1911, 1921, 1931, 1941, 1951, and 1961 were special guests this year.

Loggers luck-out!

The Homecoming parade, with floats, decorated cars, and marching units, ushered in Homecoming day. The sophomore class won first place for their float, a veritable "castle" on wheels. The queen and royal court rode on the official Queen's Float. A trio of high school bands and even the WWSC Philharmonic Band joined in the line of march, to make this one of the biggest Homecoming parades yet.

Playing the last Homecoming game on Battersby Field (Bog), the Vikings took it on the chin while the Loggers came into their own with a 14-6 victory. Nevertheless a full capacity crowd made themselves heard.

Half-time brought to the field nine more football players; many of these have not set foot on the turf since they wore the uniform of Bellingham Normal in 1921. Winners of blanket awards in past years formed an arena and the nine honored guests of Homecoming 1961 were introduced.

The "round table feast" had a medieval look as the Homecoming Smorgasbord came into prominence Saturday evening. A large number of students, faculty and alumni enjoyed turkey, roast beef, and ham prepared to excellence by Saga. Carvers at the feast were faculty and administration members, who amazed even Saga with their masterful style. Gaily bedecked with large shields and sparkling with the atmosphere of a medieval court, the Smorgasbord will be remembered as the best yet.

"La Bal de la Reign" the Homecoming Queen's Ball, climaxed Homecoming Week. The dance, sponsored by Valkyrie, honored Queen Sigrid and more than 1,700 loyal subjects who enjoyed the music of Steve Laughery. At intermission the trophies for the best student participation in skits, parade and displays were given, and Dr. Jarrett stole our queen for a waltz. The glimmer and beauty of "Knights and Daze" began to die out as the last hours and minutes of this Homecoming Week came to an end, but memories of our "kingdom" on the hill will not die so soon. As in Camelot, here at "Western-on-Sehome" there too was once a whisp of glory, ours being Homecoming 1961.

Western Hosts ACU Conference

Western was host to a regional meeting of the Association of College Unions early in November which found 250 delegates from 50 colleges and universities visiting the campus and community. Major speeches were given by President Jarrett, Chester Berry of Stanford, Garth McDowell of the University of Saskatchewan and Charles Clark of Boeing. Delegates represented colleges in Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Idaho, Western Montana, Hawaii, Alaska and British Columbia at the three-day conference. Richard Reynolds, director of student activities at Western, and the Union Board were in charge of arrangements.

Crowds of students became constant movie-goers as the college offered a wide variety of top grade films. Several of the best received films were "Diary of Anne Frank," "From the Terrace," "Stalag 17," and "Wreck of the Mary Deare."

The regular mixers were transformed into pulsating affairs with the arrival of the twist. Massive crowds of gyrating students filled the floors of the Viking Union and the Commons. The Math Club mixers, one of the first "twist dances," featured the Frantics and a twist contest. This highly successful dance became a model for many of the following mixers.

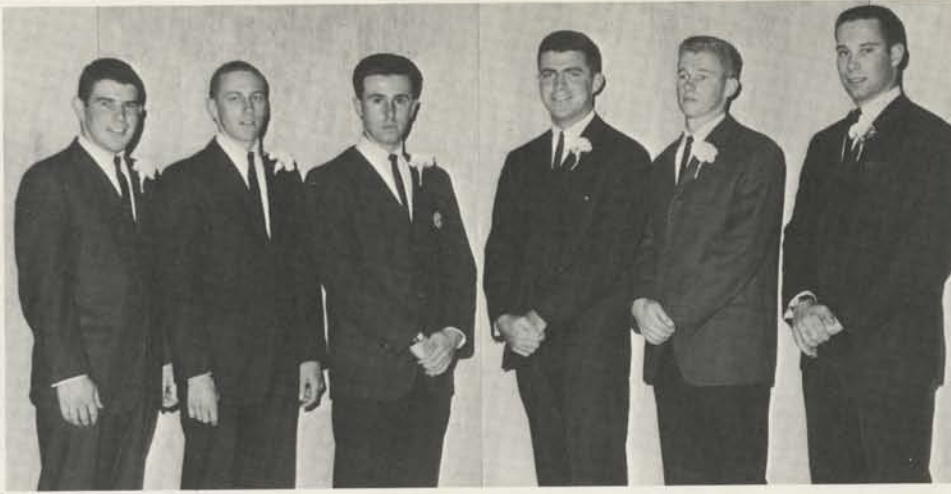

The Foreign Film Series, featuring movies produced in France, Germany, Japan, Czechoslovakia and England, were especially well attended.

*Tolo King
Gary Gunn*

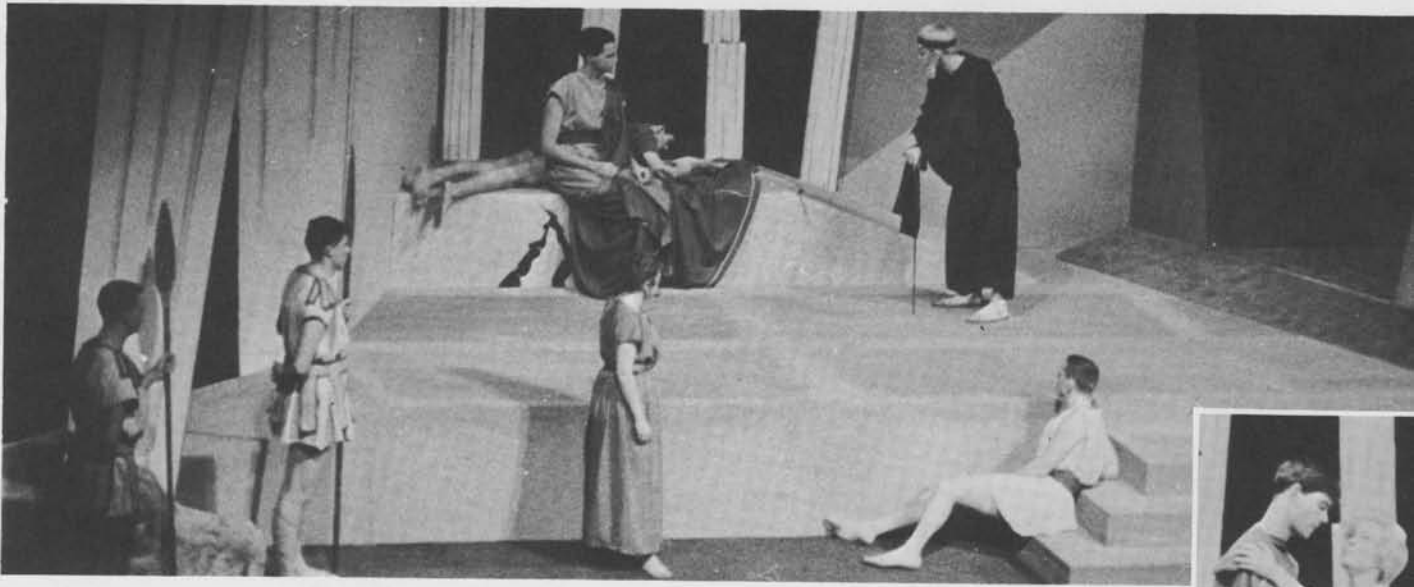

Candidates

Mistletoe leaves, beautiful dresses, and music by the college dance band, were all a part of the AWS Mistletoe-Lo. Highlighting the evening was the naming of Gary Gunn as Tolo King. Gary, a graduate of Bellingham High School, is active on campus as Sophomore Class President and as a member of Deseret Club. Gary, a pre-law honors student, is also a college ski instructor.

Fall Play—"Orestes"

Euripides' "Orestes," the Speech Department's fall quarter play, drew a high favorable response when it was presented early in December. "Orestes," a Greek tragedy with modern "blood and thunder" overtones, was the college's first undertaking of a Greek play. It was written about 400 B.C. The play was directed by Dr. Ralph Carter, and the sets which have been termed "abstract Greek" were designed by Mr. Paul Waldo. The translation was also modernized and the students added their own interpretations of the characters they were portraying.

Winter Play—“The Visit”

“Is this really happening?” was a question that the audience found themselves asking as the winter play “The Visit” proceeded. Deemed as one of the best plays ever done on Western’s campus, “The Visit” began as any drama with a smattering of humor, but this mood was not long-lived and as the story progressed, a deepening sense of horror was instilled in the audience. Atmosphere was produced through the sets, background music, and the excellent performances of the actors. Outstanding performances by Cassandra Lawyer and Ric Stephens were worth seeing. Madam Clair Zahanassion returns to her home town a very rich woman, and agrees to set the decaying community back on its feet, provided that they do away with Anton Schill. The humanitarian community rejects the offer indignantly, but before the final curtain falls the deed has been done. “The Visit” was directed by Mr. Paul Wadleigh and Mr. Paul Waldo designed the sets.

Sweethearts' Ball

One of the gayest events during winter quarter was the Sweetheart's Ball sponsored by the AWS and Norsemen. Pillars adorned by cupids enhanced the Roman setting. Music for the dance was supplied by Ernie Marshall and his combo. Voting on the five couples vying for the title of Sweetheart Couple was done by the student body during the week prior to the semi-formal dance. Etta Emery and Mike Kirk, two popular students, were chosen as the "Sweetheart Couple" of the well-attended dance.

W.R.A. Sock Hop—Carnival

The WRA Carnival and Sock Hop was a relaxing follow-up to the basketball victory over UPS. The old gym, gaily decorated with multi-colored balloons, was the scene of ten booths. The carnival included a balloon shave, cake walk, dart throw, bingo and penny pitch. Door prizes were a watch, camera, badminton set, and stuffed animals. KPUG disc jockeys played records and acted as MC's for the Sock Hop.

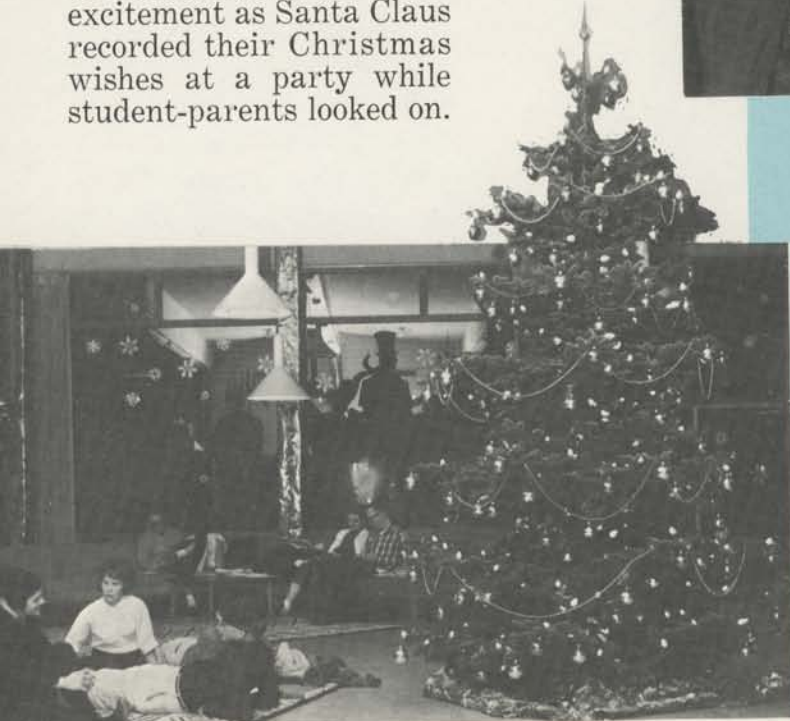

Christmas at Western

"Bring your holiday spirit" . . . echoes reverberated throughout the 'hallowed halls,' initiating the Christmas season. Music became the official language, the Choir offering a major contribution with carols and the Cantata, and the holiday became an actuality.

This season, anticipated by faculty and students alike, glistened with shades of nostalgia as voices, both harmonic and dissonant, filled the Viking Union during the All-College sing, and thoughts slid from finals to vacation. Snow iced the 'Christmas Cake'; walking became sliding, and studying turned from books to snowmen. Children, starry-eyed and amazed, sparkled with excitement as Santa Claus recorded their Christmas wishes at a party while student-parents looked on.

World University Service

Klondike Kate, surrounded by her gold prospectors, rode into the Viking Camp one February afternoon as WUS Week got under way. On hand to greet the lady and her rugged mob were Dean MacDonald, Bellingham's Mayor Jack Westford, who presented Kate the key to the city, and VU Board President, Darryl Zentner. Kate's arrival sparked rumors about a five-million dollar sale of the VU Building, and new forms of entertainment such as dancing girls and gambling in the coffee shop.

Slave Women, hula dancers, twist lessons, reserved parking spots on Sehome Hill, and faculty dancing, were some of the rare goods auctioned off by Sourdough Brewster at this year's WUS auction. Judy Ritchie and Joel Woodman planned the auction under the supervision of the General Co-Chairmen, Gary Beeman and Sharon Teyler. Following the auction was a mad jazz session in the coffee shop of Kate's newly purchased VU building. It was a night of wild bidding and swinging music. The gold raised during these two mining operations goes to the WUS to aid education programs.

Grand Opening Kates' Lucky Star Mine

The grand opening of "Kate's Lucky Star Mine," sponsored by the V.U. Board, proved to be the biggest night of gambling and dancing Western has seen since 1961. Like last year's "Bridgemanos," the evening was one of the biggest events of the year and was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. Entertainment was provided by Kate and her Barrs' Hall girls in the form of a lively floor show. "Kate's Lucky Star Mine" together with the other W.U.S. events really did prove to be a "gold mine"; for Western students again raised the praiseworthy sum of nearly $1,000 for World University Service.

Sophomore Dance

"Dawgpatch Scratch," sponsored by the notorious Sophomore Class, proved to be one of the liveliest dances held at Western this year. Grubs were the "word" in attire, and grubs it was for the lively trio of Kay Hunskor, Barb De Kay, and Karen Fortin (pictured below) who came dressed as pregnant hillbillies and walked off with the "Jug" (first prize for costumes). The "Scratch" contest, the Dogpatch version of the twist, was another highlight of this highly enjoyable evening.

Penny Sullivan*

Penny Sullivan, a glittering redhead, was chosen to reign over this year's Junior Prom, adapted to the theme, "Vacana." Penny was graduated from Bellingham High School in 1959. She is majoring in Education at Western. Extra curricular interests include ballet and active membership in Valkyrie, a women's service organization. Dave Corliss, Junior Class President and the Queen's consort for the evening performed the crowning ceremony.

Bird cages containing live pigeons, fountains, Venetian doormen, and wine bottles with candles in them, helped to set the scene for this year's Junior Prom, "Vacana." Under the chairmanship of Dave Corliss and Brenda Thomas, the dance developed into a scene straight from old Venice, complete with European atmosphere and charm. Music for "Vacana" was provided by Ken Cloud and his band. Highlight of the evening was the crowning of the queen, Penny Sullivan. Penny won over four of her classmates and proved to be a worthy monarch for "Vacana."

Special Entertainment ...

BROTHERS FOUR

Western students welcomed Mike Kirkland, Dick Foley, John Paine and Bob Flick, better known as the Brothers Four, October 17 for a matinee and evening performance. The University of Washington minstrels belted out both foot stamping, finger snapping, folk songs and melancholy ballads, playing, of course, their international hit "Greenfields."

Exclusively recording for Columbia Records, their renditions of folk songs have become a hit all over the country.

University of Michigan's double answer to the Brothers Four, the Friars, packed students into the Music Auditorium February 10 to provide a rollicking evening of fun and laughter.

Demonstrating great versatility, the octet sang everything from ribald ditties to serious ballads. At intermission one of the Friars played a string of light classical pieces on the piano. The group, well known through the Midwest and East, presented two hours of ribald humor, professional showmanship and music ranging from barbershop to rock and roll.

THE FRIARS

“SATCHMO”

A standing ovation contrasted with the easy melodic sounds of “Sleepy-time Down South” as over 2000 students displayed their unrestrained approval of a tremendous two and a half hour jazz concert by Louis Armstrong. The King of Jazz and his All-Stars played favorite jazz classics such as “Indiana,” “Tiger Rag,” “Now You Has Jazz,” and “The Bucket’s Got a Hole in It.”

Highlight of the January 14 Concert was the appearance of “Satchmo’s” new female vocalist, Jewel Brown. Miss Brown issued a great response from the male audience with her renditions of “All of Me” and “Have You Heard About Jerrie.”

ROLF HARRIS

Somewhere in the world everyone has his double. Rolf Harris and Dr. Flora (of Western’s Biology Department) would seem to bear this out, as the two men have been mistaken for each other in Vancouver and even by their own wives. Harris, an Australian nightclub comedian with a prolific sense of humor, gave a lively performance exemplified by his self-composed Christmas-time hit song, “Six White Boomers.” His versatility and originality merge to make the bearded Flora-looking man one of the most popular performers around.

Concert And Lecture

VANCE PACKARD

Speaking October 11, Vance Packard, using a prodigious background of research, described the present socio-economic crisis in America's social structure. The author of best-selling books, "Hidden Persuaders," "Status Seekers," and "The Waste Makers," Mr. Packard described the "planned obsolescence by American industry" in order to maintain product consumption.

LAWRENCE WINTERS

Tremendous expression and projection keyed Lawrence Winters in his October 23 performance at Western. Mr. Winters projected great interpretive expression and tonal power in operatic selections in Italian, German, and French. Ending an enchanting performance in a lighter vein with "Old Man River," the baritone singing-actor favored the audience with three encores.

AIR FORCE BAND

A delightful evening of entertainment was provided by the United States Air Force Band as they executed a rich and varied repertoire. Highlighting the performance were choral selections by the "Singing Sergeants" and a brilliant solo and several encores by M.Sgt. William Du Pree, formerly with the Japanese Opera House.

THOMAS MITCHELL

Thomas Mitchell, noted artist of the stage, cinema, and television, lectured on the many facets of the theatre, November 14. He explained that the best theatre today is in the colleges as against movies and the New York Stage who cannot perform the classics as they must appeal to the masses. Mitchell advised would-be stock thespians to get experience in summer stock and school plays.

VANCOUVER SYMPHONY

Under the baton of guest conductor Harry Newstone of London's Hadyn Orchestra, the Vancouver Symphony of Canada, presented an inspiring orchestral concert January 11. The 75 piece symphony brilliantly played the works of Berlioz, Mozart, Kodaly, and Brahms. A thrilling experience was registered by those in attendance.

Concert and Lecture

EDGAR SNOW

On January 19, Edgar Snow, author and journalist, stated that "the American policy in the Far East is unrealistic because of the lack of public information." From this, Snow gave a resume of the last 100 years of China's history and showed slides portraying the modern industry, housing developments, street scenes and every day life in the provinces under the Chinese Communists.

OGDEN NASH

Ogden Nash, humorist and master craftsman of light verse appeared February 8, to recite some of his classic verses and comment on incidents in his life that produced them. His first Nashism: "I sit in an office at 244 Madison Avenue and say to myself, 'you have a responsible job, havenue?'" Nash is seen backstage conversing with English Department Head, Dr. Arthur Hicks.

Precision and beauty marked the performance by the Ballet Janine de France in their ecstatic evening presentation of dances from the genius of such composers as Tchaikovsky and Johann and Joseph Strauss. Filling in for renowned ballerina and choreographer Janine Charrat, Lily Reges, former prima ballerina of the Imperial theater of St. Petersburg, USSR, executed her part with exceptional grace and purity of style.

QUINTETTO BOCCHERINI

Italy's widely acclaimed chamber music ensemble, Quintetto Boccherini, devoted to the music of Luigi Boccherini (known as the "Italian Mozart,") presented an evening of music that expressed the quality that has made Italy as pre-eminent in the field of chamber music as it once was in the operatic field.

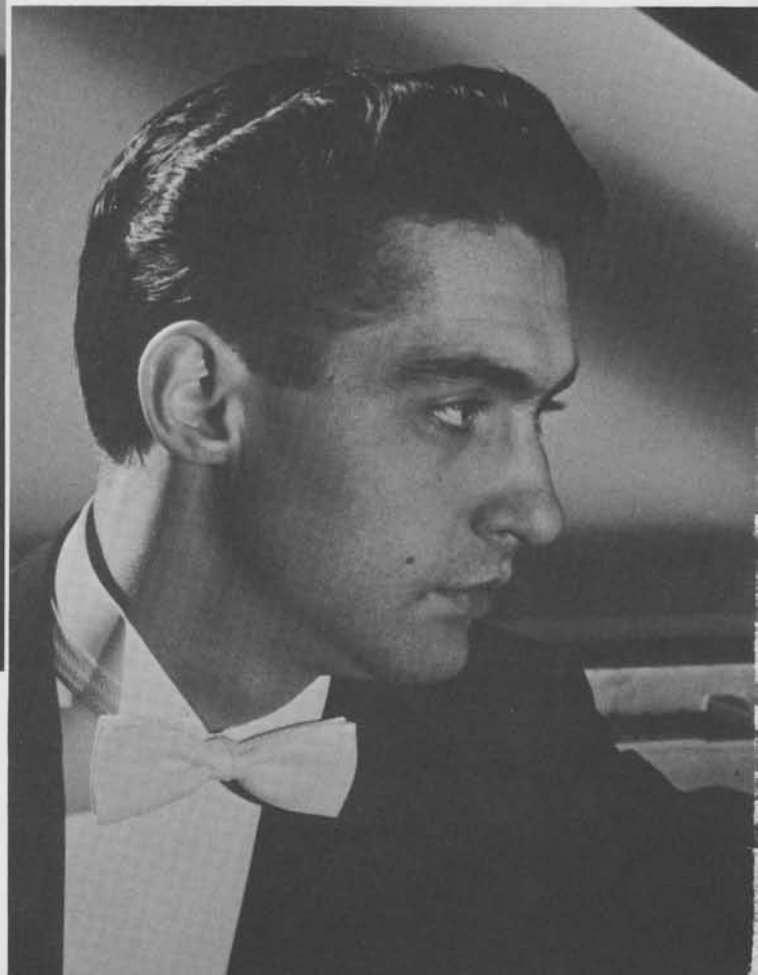

Concert and Lecture

MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington Correspondent Marquis Childs lectured April 11 on "Foreign Policy — the Transition from Eisenhower to Kennedy." The noted journalist related that grave alternatives shaded with hope in ideas are the two forces that can destroy or save freedom in these revolutionary times.

JOHN BROWNING

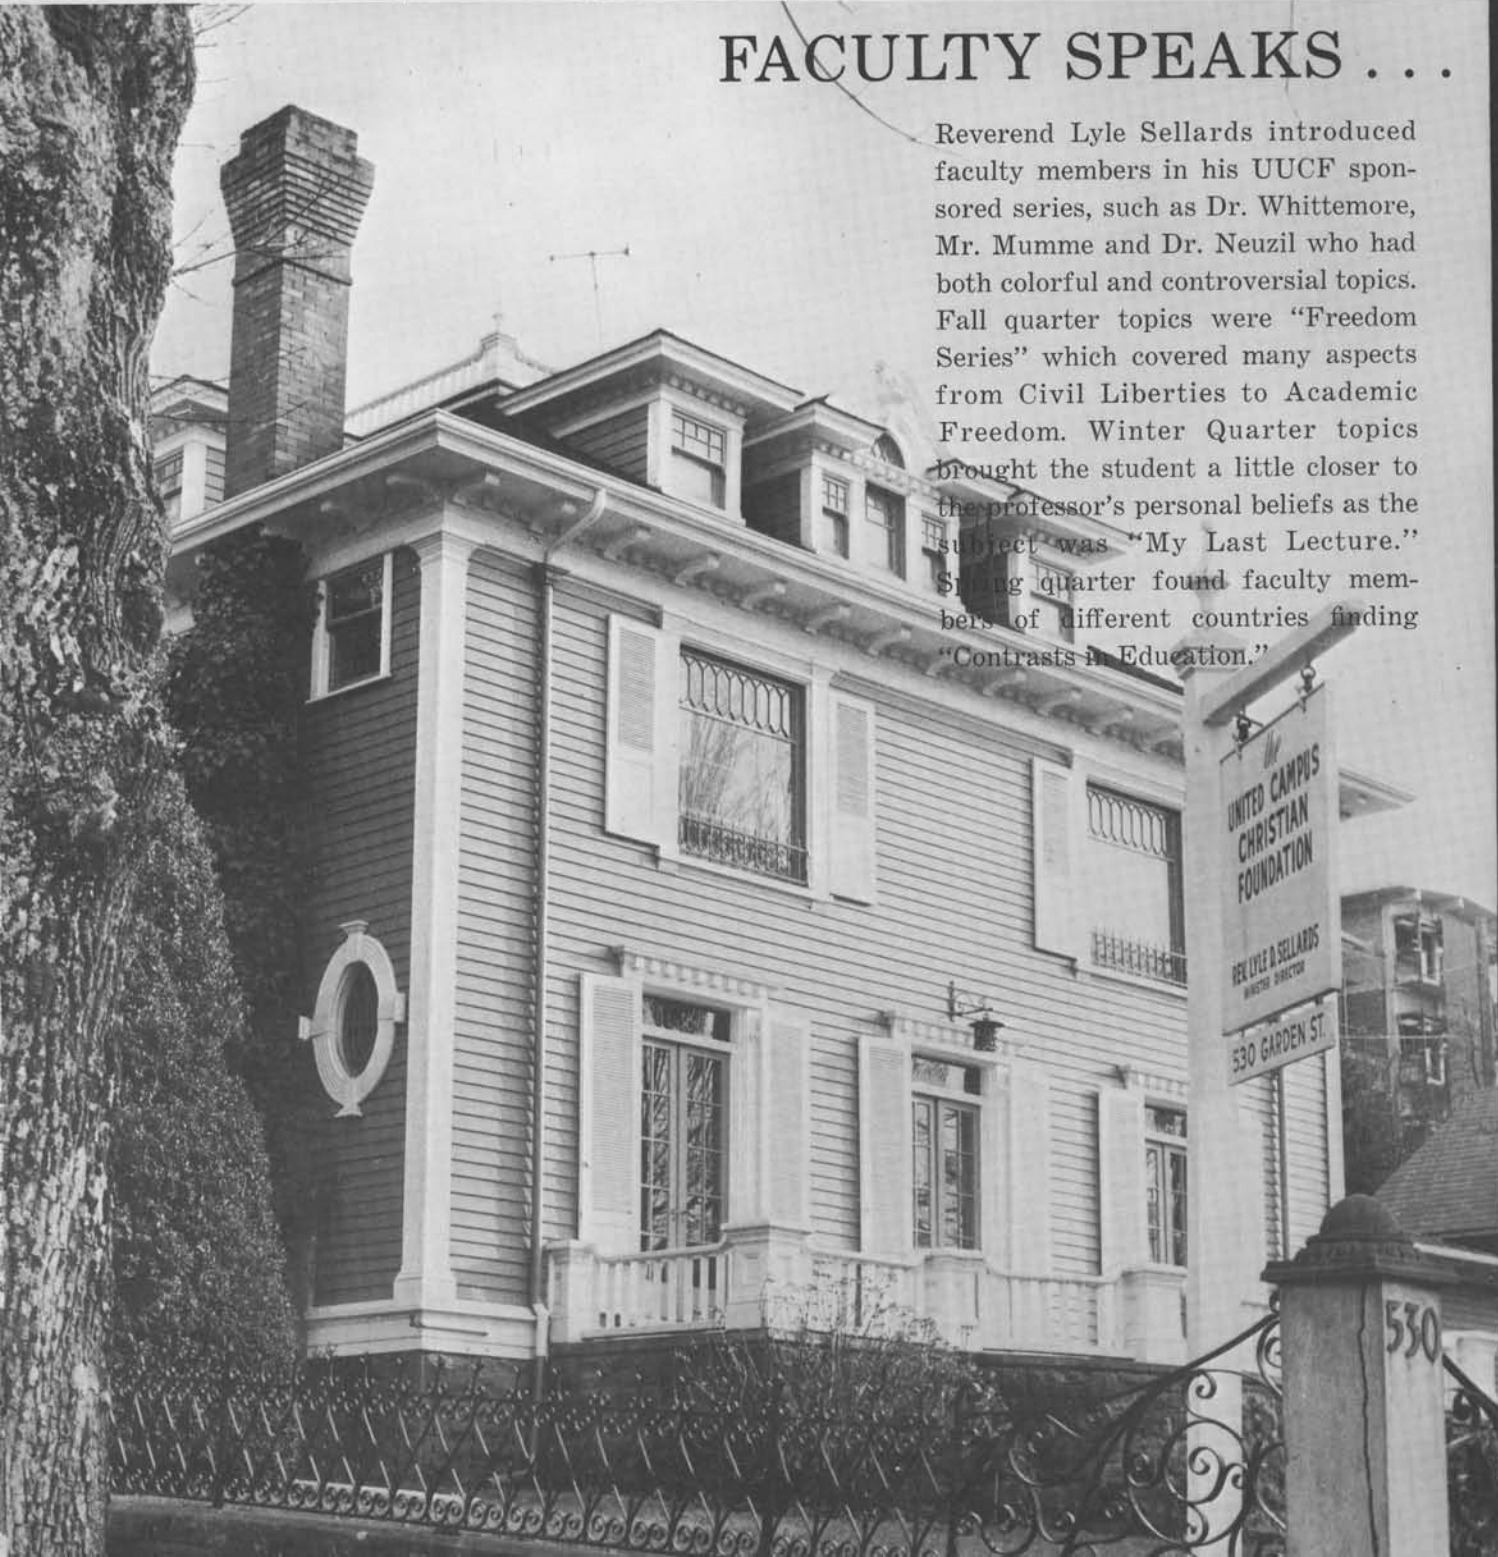

To be called "a born virtuoso" by the New York Times and a "meteor" by the New York Tribune is a rare acclaim in an artist's life, yet these descriptions seemed inadequate as John Browning executed an electrifying piano concert at Western May 2.

FACULTY SPEAKS . . .

Reverend Lyle Sellards introduced faculty members in his UUCF sponsored series, such as Dr. Whittemore, Mr. Mumme and Dr. Neuzil who had both colorful and controversial topics. Fall quarter topics were "Freedom Series" which covered many aspects from Civil Liberties to Academic Freedom. Winter Quarter topics brought the student a little closer to the professor's personal beliefs as the subject was "My Last Lecture." Spring quarter found faculty members of different countries finding "Contrasts in Education."

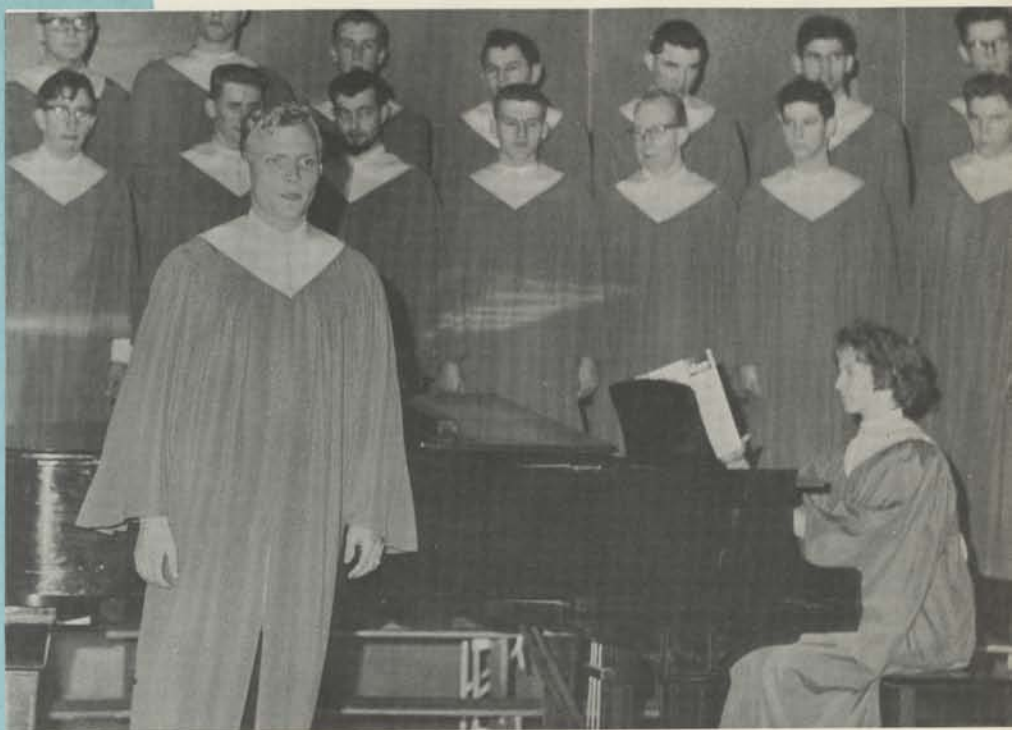

Fine Arts Activities . . .

Student and faculty participated in various musical recitals providing a part of the fine arts program. Faculty members, one, Paul Stoner skillfully executed a violin recital Fall quarter; a second, Dale Reubart performed a masterful piano recital Winter quarter; and Spring quarter found Don Vollstedt presenting an organ recital.

The Symphony Orchestra, with assisting vocal artist, Mary Collier, harpsicordist Don Vollstedt, and the Concert Chorale, performed the works of Bach to begin the concert season. Other concert performances included Christmas music by the College Choir, Concert Chorale, and Madrigals, Pop music by the College Band, the Civic Symphonic, combining Bellingham and college musicians, Pop music by the College Choir, College Band Tour music, and a Pop music concert by the Counts of Rhythm, the college dance band.

The Bellingham Music Association offerings contributed handsomely to the fine arts program available to the students at Western. Featuring the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, a most enjoyable evening of graceful dance was received by an appreciative audience. Later in the year an operatic presentation performed by the University of Washington Opera Theatre added a taste of formal vocal drama.

Orchesis, a modern dance club, presented "An Evening of Dance Theatre," Winter and Spring quarters. The modern dance compositions, choreographed by the students, ranged from luminous satire to serious pathos. Most of the theatre dance forms were represented, ballet, modern jazz, modern dance. Emphasis in this fine arts medium is placed on modern dance which builds movement in a time-space structure as a means of expression rather than as an exhibition of technical proficiency.

Fine Arts Activities

ART . . .

The Art Department contributed its part to the fine arts program beginning the year with a 25th Anniversary Exhibit of Graphic Arts, ranging from etchings by Rembrandt to lithographs by local Bellingham artists. A faculty exhibit represented here by a terra cotta sculpture "Portrait of an Artist" by Walter Wegner. A student exhibit followed, shown here with Chuck Stavig and his ceramic sculpture, amid mobile and ink prints. Winter quarter a display of "Landscape Painting, "Today" was featured. Early Spring quarter the 1961 Northwest Annual Exhibition was shown including an oil by art faculty member Martin Tucker. Spring quarter also saw the exhibition of Northwest Religious Paintings.

The Viking Union displayed a one-man show with Frank Dippolito, local artist. Everett Junior College students work was displayed in design projects and oil paintings. Dr. Proweller, art faculty member, displayed the work of his Design 260 class with a group of colleges.

DRAMA

Major dramatic presentations produced and directed by the Speech Department included "Orestes" by Euripides, direction by Ralph Carter; "The Visit" by Duerenmatt, direction by Paul Wadleigh; "Tartuffe" by Moliere, direction again by Ralph Carter; and an annual children's play which presented "Prince Fairy Foot," direction by Paul Waldo.

An attempt to provide more opportunities for people at Western who are interested in theatre but cannot spend the time on a major production has found success in the establishment of the Studio Theatre Series and Workshop. Production of student-written scripts, such as the chamber play by Brent Remmert "Close Enough To Know," offered aspiring authors a chance to see their works performed on the stage. Ric Stephens student-directed a play, "The Explainers"; Paul Wadleigh directed an experimental play in blank verse by Dylan Thomas, "Under Milkwood"; "A Phoenix Too Frequent" by Christopher Fry was student-directed by Steve Buss and who later directed Gilbert and Sullivan's one act operetta, "Trial By Jury" assisted in musical production by Gary Lind. English Department faculty member, Dr. Gerald Cohen wrote a one act comic opera, "The Hunger Artist," which the Studio produced and which Paul Wadleigh directed.

The dedication ceremony . . . of the new one million dollar gym revealed its name — the Samuel E. Carver gymnasium. Pullias, USC; Dr. Raymond Ciszek, and President James Jarrett.

Several knockouts and many close decisions made Fight Night sensational. Boxers from Fort Lewis, Monroe Reformatory, Vancouver's South Hill Athletic Club and Western participated in the 3-round bouts. The WWSC card included Mike Downs, Golden Gloves boxer. Proceeds from the evening feathered the "W" Club athletic scholarship fund.

Election Winners

Election posters papered the campus as the candidates for ASB offices ended a week of tireless campaigning. The officers elected for the 1962-63 year are: Mike Hyatt, ASB president; Gary Beeman, executive vice-president; Gary Gerhard, program vice-president.

Spring Tolo

The brilliant golds and greens of an exotic jungle scene set the mood for "Safari," the AWS sponsored spring tolo. Music for the gala semi-formal event was provided by the college dance band.

Driven by an instinctive force . . . the cry changed from "Touchdown!" to "Track!" and then to "Fore!" With the transformation of summer to fall, football and rugby became the conversation piece of the collegiate community. With that as a springboard, the inevitable snows ushered in the time of sitzmarks, ski lodges and innumerable status symbols . . . white plaster casts. Somehow the 'symbols' seemed to change corresponding to the seasons . . . encompassing such traumatic injuries as roller-banded ankles and stiff, unwieldy tennis arms. This was no obstacle. The unrelenting Vikings marched forth to the next demanding activity. Tennis shoes replaced ski boots and ski poles were exchanged for golf clubs. Spring was thoroughly initiated!

FOOTBALL

Gary Fumano, Captain
Jim Lounsberry, Coach

The second annual football banquet at the Bellingham Elk's Club placed an official climax on the 1961 football season. As the season faded in the background, memories took the place of action.

While the spectators said good-bye to Battersby bog, the players celebrated with a satisfactory second place in the Evergreen Conference.

Under the experienced coaching of Jim Lounsberry, the Vikings survived the season with a 5-win, 4-loss record. Led by Captain Gary Fumano, and spirited on by players like Inspirational Award winner Matt Kjelstad, a young but fighting team provided the spectators with wanted action throughout the season.

Excitement at the bog was further sparked by seven players honored on the All Conference team. They were Gary Moore, end; Harry Leons, tackle; Matt Kjelstad, guard; Ken Fry and Ron Ladines, half-backs; Gary Fumano, linebacker, and safety Doug Ringenbach.

Next season spectators will say hello to the new Civic Field. Perhaps the players will initiate the field with a championship team. Meanwhile, memories of the 1961 season will linger on.

BASKETBALL

Jim Adams, Captain
Jack Hubbard, Coach

The Viking basketball squad ended its 1962 season by soundly trouncing the Central Wildcats in Evergreen Conference action. Throughout the vigorous season, outstanding performances were given by Mike Kirk, Terry Clayton, Jim Adams, John Riseland, Dave Edwards, and Keith Kingsbury. Due to an injury, Jim Rife, stalwart on the team, was forced to sit out most of the season. Another blow was dealt the team by the loss of Mike Kirk during the first three minutes of the tense P.L.U. game, due to a broken wrist.

This year's team was ably coached by Jack Hubbard and led in action by Captain Jim Adams. This excellent leadership was prominently displayed by a second place finish in the league.

The completion of Western's new gymnasium saw bigger crowds and better action throughout a season of tense rivalry.

Al Mathieson, Coach

Rugby is the fastest growing team sport popularity-wise that has hit the Western campus in many years. This year, as a varsity sport, our men had a 3-3-1 record for the season.

The leading scorer was Gary Bridgeman, and other outstanding players were Max Hatch, the Burton brothers, Mike Cooper, and Ray Devier. Whether a win or a defeat, the team always gave an exciting and thrilling performance.

SWIMMING

Robert Jacobs, Coach

Western's swim team was hit hard by the loss of Dennis Donovan, conference backstroke champion, through ineligibility.

The Vikings went through the entire season with a small but powerful squad. The size of the squad cut down their chances for many wins in the dual meets, but their strength in individual events showed through at Central where they placed third.

In the final Evergreen conference standings, Western was second behind U.P.S. with a 3 won 2 lost record.

Outstanding for Western this season were such stalwarts as Dave Emery, Mike Hyatt, Dave Johnson, and Rod Norman.

The highlights of the year in swimming came when Dave Emery went back to the N.A. I.A. Nationals in Detroit and took 6th place in the 100-yard butterfly.

WRESTLING

Dr. W. A. Tomaras, Coach

The wrestling team, coached by Dr. William Tomaras, made its debut this year as Western's newest varsity sport.

Being a new sport, the Vikings' wrestlers were shy in numbers and experience, but strong with endurance and determination.

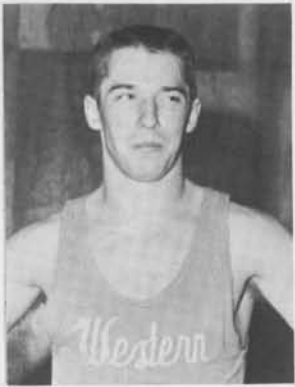

The team made much progress this year and gave next year's squad a good solid base from which to work.

The excellent coaching of Dr. Tomaras showed through as the Vikings came on strong in the latter part of the season to post decisive victories.

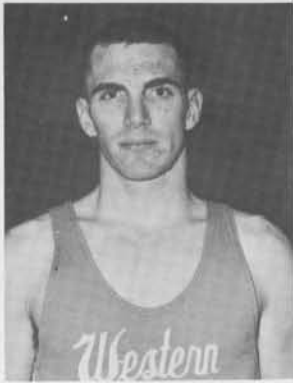

Outstanding performer during the season was sophomore Rex Silvernail.

The wrestlers have finished their first season at Western with a fine record and have bright hopes for the future.

TRACK

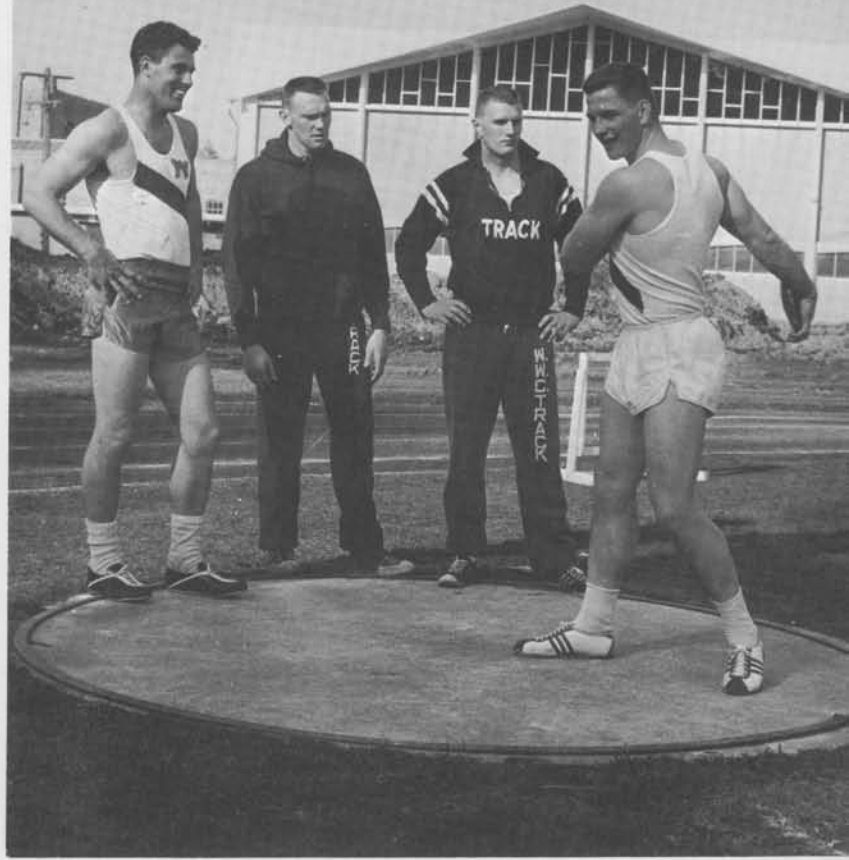

The Viking track squad got its season underway by downing S.P.C. in their first dual meet 68-52. The following meet was a hard luck battle for the Viks' as they lost to Central. This was redeemed by a rousing victory over Eastern 83-39.

Western's hopes for the conference championships has been brightened by such stable figures as Mike Jones, Jim Freeman, and Ed Cardall in the mile and 2-mile, Jerry Joyce in the sprints, Dick Nicholl and Ken Fry in the weights, Jerry Kenaston in the pole vault, and Bruce Schaeffer in the high jump. Also adding points will be Ken Coup-land, Dave Meranouk, Miles Phipps, Gale Pfueller, and Bruce Shelton.

Western's hope for the season looks very good. This squad is the strongest the Vikings have had in quite a few years.

BASEBALL

Robert Jacobs, Coach
Dave Edwards, Captain

The 1962 season for the Western Vikings looked favorable as the season started. On their first journey to U.B.C., the squad came out victorious — beating the Thunderbirds in both games. Led by returning lettermen Harry Leons, Doug Ringenbach, Fred Shull, Chuck Lindberg, and Dave Edwards, the Viks should do well in conference play. The loss of letterman Vance Spangler, due to a knee injury, was a blow to the team. As the Viks continued their pre-conference games, they suffered defeats to U.B.C. in a return match at Bellingham, and to Seattle U. Then they came up with a big victory against the University of Washington, and hope was once again restored. Outstanding on the list of newcomers is Bob Schwarz, who excited the spectators with a home run in the first inning of the second game of the doubleheader against the Huskies.

As we look upon the season, we are sure to find a team of which to be proud. Under the able coaching of Bob Jacobs, assisted by Merlin Jensen, we should see the Viks come through again in the realm of sports.

Coach Jim Lounsberry is expecting his team to be rough competition for anyone who attempts to win over the Vikings golf team. His top man, Paul Rudis, is well known for those long drives down the fairway. Bob Jorgenson, returning letterman, who represented Western at the Nationals last year, is also a top contender for victories on any golf course. Another returning letterman, Rick Weihe plus Tom Bearman and Dick Thompson round out the squad. An early defeat against U.B.C. in the season's opener did not put a damper on the spirits of our golf men, they definitely look promising as once again the Vikings go out to attack the other Evergreen Conference teams.

The tennis team looks like it is still in the rebuilding era this season, but it seems that its rating is very indecisive. Coach Lappenbush's team was defeated in their first match against Eastern, but pulled through the following week against U.P.S. In a big sweep the tennis men, trounced the U.P.S. Loggers. It was one of the biggest victories that Western has ever seen, as the score was 7-0. The club is led this year by James Herman, followed by Kenny Lewis, Larry Merriman, Bill Zagelow, Francis Wright, Bert Pedersen, Mike Chase, and Terry Cooney. So as the season continues, we hope that our Viks' come through with some overwhelming victories that will place us at the head of the Conference once again.

*Intramural
Sports*

Varsity sports are not the only competitive activities on the Western campus

Many fields are available, so everyone can participate in some type of athletics. Competition is particularly keen between men's baseball and basketball teams. Women are not left out either, for they have a vigorous program extending from hockey to badminton, to softball and basketball. We must not forget our teachers, for they provide much amusement as they compete against the Bachelor's Club and other men students. A well-rounded individual participates and takes advantage of the extra-curricular opportunities that Western gives him.

LIVING GROUPS

Amid hours, campuses, red roses, house meetings, rules and firesides, the virtues and vexations of the assumed "organized" house play a prevalent role in the life of the college student.

In the list of varied adjectives descriptive of the house or dorm the word "dull" is non-existent. Whether living in one of the sixty organized houses around campus or in one of the larger dorms there is sure to be present the intrigue of a poker party, the amusement of a practical joke, the chivalry of a serenade or the excitement of a water fight.

With the virtues and vexations of the organized house, you the student are receiving an important education outside the classroom. An education which will provide you with joyous memories to prevail in your book of experience.

...the "living" end

The path to graduation . . . from college consists of a series of steps. Perhaps the most obvious is the step from class to class. The freshman, upon entering college, meets a number of diverging paths. If he has chosen the right path and the one best suited to him, he will take another step to become a sophomore and then a junior. Finally after exploring the various fields of knowledge and interest to be found on the path, he is prepared to take the last step . . . the step that will make him the renowned college senior. On the following pages you will meet those who have just entered the path, faces which have taken two or three steps, and others who are leaving their particular paths to explore new ones.

A number of students at Western, "old timers" if you will, have reached the end of their path. For many it is only an end to their true beginning.

The Senior Class has been busy this year under the leadership of President Evelyn Freeman, Vice President Marilyn Baker, Secretary Gerri Watson, and Representative Terry Clayton. Heading the list of class events was a dinner dance held at the Leopold on May 25.

Of course the formal climax was the graduation ceremonies on June 8.

The Junior Class had a successful year under the leadership of President Dave Corliss, Vice President Carole Watkins, Secretary Brenda Thomas, and Representative Dick Frank.

The class began Fall Quarter by saluting the freshmen with a "Welcome Frosh" sign. Their contributions continued into homecoming. At this time, the class contributed to the success of homecoming by entering a float in the parade and decorating a window display.

Winter Quarter was a busy one for the Junior Class. At this time, members of the class contributed ingenuity to present the dazzling Junior Prom, "Vacana."

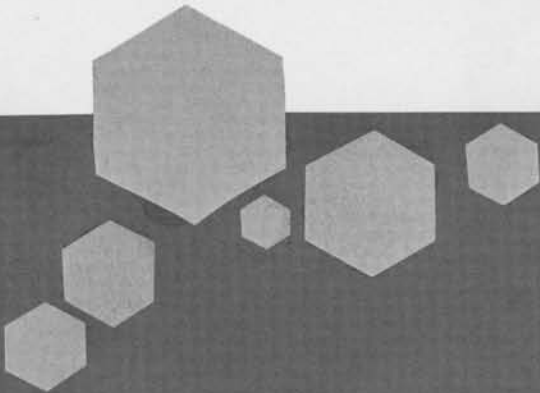

They completed the eventful year by sponsoring a dance and enjoying a class picnic.

The Sophomore Class, rich with a year's experience, had a rewarding year under the enthusiastic leadership of the Class Officers.

The Class proved industrious during homecoming by entering all competition, and receiving First Place for its homecoming float and skit.

Many will remember the fun they had at the class sponsored dance, in which all who attended responded to the delightful theme, "Dawg Patch."

Spring found the Class sponsoring a charity fund. Members of the Class also took advantage of sun and fun at a class beach party.

A wave of enthusiasm overwhelmed Western in the form of 1100 Freshmen.

The Class proved its unbounded spirit by forming a cheering section at football games. This spirit was carried on through homecoming, when the Class was awarded First Place for its window display.

Spring quarter found the eager Class sponsoring an all-school talent show and a street dance.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS...

This yearbook is you. And just as this book is dedicated to you so must we acknowledge you for its existence. But there are special "yous" who most certainly deserve to be recognized here for their work and assistance on this book.

First and foremost in thanks is Gary Sirguy, assistant editor, who most graciously and capably worked as editor during my absence in Winter quarter.

Mr. Mulligan, with smiling patience and subtle wit, gave direction and inspiration in his role as faculty advisor to publications.

A person whose diligence and persistent hard work have not been fully acknowledged in the past, our business manager, Sally Victor, proved, again, to be a valuable asset to the Klipsun staff.

Leslie Bumgarner, copy editor and recipient of the award for the most outstanding staff member, willingly completed her assignments and helped other staff members, displaying the qualities needed for her job as assistant editor next year.

At the drop of a hat, photographers Arden Munkres, Cale Cole, Mike Kaaland and Harvey Thornburg, would rush to an assignment and would return with the excellent photography we have in this book.

In appreciation for the hard work completed, my thanks to each member of the staff and to Nancy McLaughlan and Joyce Werries, late additions to our staff, for their work on copy and the index.

A special thanks to Howard Vierling of Craftsman Press, our printers, for his patience and understanding with our "missed" deadlines.

Jukes Studio photographers, Russ Clift, did his usual fine job on the student portraits and music shots.

These are the people that made the book that is you . . . at Western Washington State College, 1962.

Carson Boysen
1962 Klipsun Editor
