LAUREL SCHOOL WILL WORK WITH NORMAL

By referring to the Laurel Leader, published by Mr. Harold Sebring, the Messenger learns that Miss Pearl Jones, a graduate of the University of Iowa, has been elected as Principal to succeed Mr. Button, and that she was recommended for her position among others by Professor T. E. Hulse, head of the department of Rural Education at the Normal school. Miss Jones will arrange special help from the Normal and in this way can affiliate with the higher institution, an opportunity that is afforded to few High Schools. The adjustment at Laurel will be similar to that with Geneva. Miss Dorothy Leonard, a B. S. N. S. graduate, will have the primary department.

PRESIDENT TO GIVE RECEPTION TO SENIORS

Next Wednesday evening at 4:00 o'clock President and Mrs. Nash will entertain the July Seniors in a reception at the president's home, 614 Cedar street. The faculty of the school will meet the Seniors at this gathering.

HAYS LITERARY SOCIETY HOLDS PARTY

About twenty members of the Hays Literary Society had a delightful time at "The Cabin" on the lake Thursday evening. A "back to the farm" dinner was probably the most satisfying event of the evening. The remainder of the time was spent in singing and talking until the call came to go, but to nine of those girls the time was all too short so they remained all night. Several "stunts" were enacted and to those members who were not present we may say there is a surprise awaiting them. Some of them had 7:15 classes in the morning and there was need of sleep, so do not blame them because part of the Larson mill burned.

EXCURSION SATURDAY

A big student excursion is planned for Saturday with Glacier as the objective point.

Two or three of the students have been kept out of school as a result of measles. The latest sufferer was Miss Effie Lindblad.

Coach Carver Who Is Preparing at Berkeley for Football Campaign

Coach Carver is now in Berkeley imbibing new things from Coach Andy Smith, the celebrated coach of the California University. Coach Carver will remain in California during the summer.

PROF. HOPPE AND CAST TO GIVE PLAYS TONIGHT

Tonight at 8:00 o'clock, Mr. V. H. Hoppe of the Department of Expression, and associate cast will give a delightful evening of entertainment for the summer school.

Rehearsals have gone forward daily on three one-act plays, each one to have a good plot, plenty of action and complete unity. The vehicles selected are: The laughable English comedy, "My Uncle's Will;" the pretty and artistic sketch by Coppee, "The Violin Maker of Cremona," and the strong and mystic morality by the Irish dramatist Yeats, "The Hour Glass."

These plays embrace all the elements of drama from laughable farce-comedy to highest tragedy and will undoubtedly make for an evening of real entertainment.

BELLINGHAM NORMAL RANKS WITH LARGEST

Kansas has the largest normal school in the United States. Statistics recently published show that the Kansas Normal at Emporia has a total annual enrollment of 3,217 which leads over its nearest competitors, the Central State Normal and the Michigan State Normal by 300 and 400. Other normal schools among the leaders are the Illinois State Normal university, the Los Angeles State Normal and the Bellingham, Washington, Normal.

PROF. BEVER TO REPRESENT NORMAL

Superintendent Josephine Corliss Preston has called a meeting at Olympia for Saturday, July twenty-ninth, to further consider the working of the law regarding the twelve semester hours attendance. Professor Bever, who represented the school last year will act in that capacity again at this second conference.

HANDWORK IS BECOMING POPULAR

When plans were laid for the summer session, four classes were provided in Handwork. Before the first week has passed Miss Druse was compelled to organize an additional class, and now a group of students gathers in the evening for work in basketry. More than 175 students are registered with Miss Druse and real enthusiasm pervades her department.

MISS MOTTMAN WILL VISIT HONOLULU

On August second Miss Elizabeth Mottman, assistant librarian, will sail from Vancouver, B. C. for Honolulu. After spending ten days or two weeks in the Paradise of the Pacific she will return to Bellingham for the work of the new school year.

116 TO GRADUATE THIS MONTH

This summer the Normal will issue one hundred sixteen diplomas of graduation, twenty-seven secondary certificates, and seventy-six elementary certificates.

THE MESSAGE OF THE HILLS

By Mrs. Esther Shepherd
'Tis end of day—and I so full of care—
Unrest is in my heart—and dark despair.
O God! I faint beneath the load I bear—
Is there no rest?

And then I lift mine eyes up to the hills,
And see their awful splendor; my heart stills.
The voice of God I seem to hear and it thrills
My very soul.

"Be not troubled, restless heart," it seems to say;
"Lo! the mountains are my handiwork. What may Thou have to fear? Strength for each day
I give to thee."

Round their summits like a halo, rests a haze
Of gold and purple vapors; as I gaze,
I know the message of the hills: "For all thy days
God granteth peace."

in 1906 under the direction of Miss Ida Agnes Baker, on the lines of a Woman's club, giving time to literary bership is limited to forty.

MISS JENSEN ENJOYING INTERESTING TOUR

Letters reaching Bellingham tell of the pleasant summer Miss Jensen is spending in the east. After leaving Bellingham it took our teacher of Latin five days to reach Montreal, where she spent a day taking in the sights, and then she went to Albany. From the state capitol of New York she made the boat trip down the Hudson, enjoying the scenery, but recognizing the fact that it is not as grand as that of the west.

In New York City Miss Jensen met
Miss Whitaker and the Misses Edens and with them visited many important points of interest. From New York she went to Ann Arbor, Michigan, for commencement. She reports that about three thousand Alumni were present at the reunion this year,

After a short stay in Ann Arbor,

while at the University, Miss Jensen went to her home at Rolfe, Iowa, where she will spend the remainder of the summer.

On Friday, July 7th, at 4:10 p. m., about twenty-five "real fellows" and members of the Normal Y. M. C. A., made their way to Squaticum beach, where they enjoyed themselves—some by swimming, others playing games, and all by the good eats which had been prepared for the occasion. A general good time was had by all, and we hope to see more of these in the future.

NORMAL NOTES

Miss Sands is enjoying another visit from her brother.

Miss Ormsby, head of the Home Economics department, has as her guest, Mrs. Ormsby, a sister-in-law.

The so-called "Big Four" quartet sang for the students one day last week. As usual they received generous applause from the students.

This morning at assembly, Mrs. Frank Deerwester, who has always been popular with Normal students, sang a very attractive group of songs. The program was most pleasing, the various selections being rendered with highly artistic effect.

A zephyr from the Dakotas blew in upon us Wednesday. Prof. Brown, head of the Expression department of the South Dakota State College, Brookings, lectured at long assembly on "Shakespeare, My Spokesman," another imposing feature of the tri-centenary season.

Miss Anna Myer is out on account of illness. She will spend the remainder of the summer on the shores of Lake Whatcom, near Geneva.

The Young Men's Christian Association enjoyed a pleasant time at a beach party on Friday evening of last week.

Monday was "Mexico Day" on the hill. At the morning assembly, Dr. Deerwester, as speaker on current events, gave a vivid account of recent occurrences in our unhappy sister republic. In the evening Professor Percy B. Burnet gave his illustrated lecture on Merico, a pleasing and informational feature of the summer entertainment course.

On Sunday morning last Professor Burnet occupied the Congregational pulpit in Bellingham and gave an interesting address on "Religion in South America." In the evening of Sunday Professor Parish spoke in the same place and greatly pleased his hearers.

At the assembly hour yesterday Professor Percy B. Burnet gave a very interesting paper on Education in Ger-

Where's the use of sighing?

Cannot make him stay,
Where's the use of sighing?

—William Earnest Henley.

Students, go down town and meet the business men personally. They are a live crowd and their acquaintance will prove helpful in your work.

One of the finest things that have been said about the summer students was what Prof. Bricker said concerning the courtesy of the Normal students as an audience. Let's be worthy of our reputation.

Students, act upon that finer impulse within you, that noble spirit of patriotism, and whenever you hear the Star Spangled Banner played rise tho you are the only one who does. It will show that you have something bigger and better in you than can be backed down by the gaze or words of a few misfits who masquerade as men and women.

Delbert Hennes doesn't like the idea of erecting concrete posts to keep autos off the approaches to the buildings. He claims that the original intent was that these approaches should be driveways, that vehicles were presumed to enter the grounds and approach within a few feet of the doors, and to change the plan now will work hardship to the aged. He suggests, too, that some suitable place be provided for the parking of machines before attempting to shoo the "flivers" off the green.

Did you know that the National Educational Association last week went on record as favoring military training in schools and it will be but a short time until a teacher will have to know something about the work before he can get a position. One of the finest things a man can do, and still one of the least things, is to join the national guard. It doesn't take much of one's time and it gives training that everyone should have even if he never sees a war. A great deal of pleasure is also derived from being a member of the Guard. Every year the militia goes to encampment at one of the forts for about ten days and there receives instruction. Why not plan to join the militia, fellows, and go to camp in August for your vacation? You will enjoy it, receive valuable training, and at the same time receive pay.

VISIT POINTS OF INTEREST

Like the majority of the people in Bellingham, the greater part of the Normal students do not take advantage of the fact that Bellingham is the center of one of the most scenic regions in the world.

People travel from the east to our Puget Sound country so that they can see the grandeur of its sublime beauty, while people who live here hunt their pleasures elsewhere.

Puget Sound with its blue waters and its islands, with rhododendrons; Mt. Baker and the Sisters in the Cascades to the east; the Selkirks to the north, all for natural beauty are unsurpassed the world over, and the fact that our city and our school are in the midst of them all and not more than a few hours ride from the farthest should be appreciated more by the inhabitants.

No student should leave this summer without visiting these places, and once one visits them he will be a life-long subject to their calling, will never let a year go by without following the trail to somewhere, yet nowhere in the mountains, for

"There's a land where the mountains are nameless;

The rivers all run God knows where,

There are lives that are erring and aimless,

And deaths that just hang by a hair.

There are hardships that nobody reckons;

There are valleys unpeopled and still;

There's a land, oh it beckons and beckons—

I want to go back, and I will."

THE Y. W. C. A.

The work of the Young Women's Christian Association has been carried on during the summer session, by a committee under the leadership of Miss Cassie Cales, president for the year, assisted by Gertrude McMahan, Charlotte Claussen, Carrie Hansen, Clara Gibson, Mary Hootman, Martha Brown.

The customary assistance was extended to new students in finding their way around. In conjunction with the Y. M. C. A. a reception to the entire school took the form of a delightful frolic on the campus. Six classes in Bible study are held weekly.

MRS. KUYKENDALL TAKING SUMMER WORK IN EAST

Mrs. Minnie Kuykendall of the High School faculty has recently visited the Whitewater, Wisconsin, Normal School. While there she spent some time studying the work of the department which trains commercial teachers. Mrs. Kuykendall reports that the Whitewater school has a fine department with all kinds of equipment and an enrollment of one hundred fifty prospective commercial teachers. Since the visit to Whitewater Mrs. Kuykendall has gone to Chicago and has enrolled in the university for some of the summer courses. For the remainder of the summer Mrs. Kuykendall will live at 5619 Prairie avenue.

ANOTHER VIEW OF PREPAREDNESS

WRITTEN FOR THE MESSENGER BY RICHARD H. EWING

It is not commonly known that the English spend 37% of the annual budget for military (both army and navy) sustenance. Germany spends 55% of all hers, and France a slightly smaller portion of hers, while we spend or have used for the past years 67% of our annual expenditures thus. The new proposals for the end of preparation make the percentage about 70% for the United States. This raises the interesting query as to the inefficient expenditures we have made in years past for we had a navy of smaller capacity than that of Germany at the beginning of the war in Europe.

The money we have been spending in the past has been poorly economized. It has been too badly spent to hope to be able to become the leading nation in war preparedness till we shall have set our house in order for such a task. It can not be other than unwise to make larger appropriations for such purposes till such time as we are able to build as cheaply as other nations. This is the reason why Congressman Kitchin and others are opposing the proposed increases in expenditures.

Since 1900 we have spent on our navy $400,000,000 more than Germany has spent on hers. At the outbreak of the present war her navy had a greater potentiality than ours. However, since the naval battle in the North Sea the relative position of the two nations has changed. There is no danger of conflict with the powers now at war. We have a navy more than twice the power of any nation in the world which is not at war. What then is the immediate need of hastening our naval equipment when we are unable to expend our money advantageously.

Our nation is, of all the nations of the world, the most isolated. Canada touches us on the north. There is little danger of trouble with that country. Mexico touches us on the south. We have no reason for a great army in our relations with Mexico. No foreign country is able to make any headway with an army which must be brought here from over seas. There are in the United States 21 millions of men of war age. These are all available in time of need. Against these there is not the slightest chance any nation will ever try to make attack with armies that must be transported here over three thousand miles of ocean. It is impossible under these circumstances to imagine why so much should be said in favor of large military preparations when there is need neither for navy nor army.

What may be the motives back of the movement to make such gigantic preparations is an interesting question. The greatest enthusiasm for this move comes from the Atlantic sea-board. Here the people themselves are more or less excited over such events as the sinking of the Lusitania and other vessels which carried American citizens. Add to this the influences of England's friends here who look upon us as their neighbors and kinsmen and who wish our friendship and help, if possible; the influence of those persons in that section who are interested in the profits gained from the exports to these countries at war; and that of the politicians who are anxious to be with their constituents and one has the sum of the elements which advocate these measures. True, there are people East, West and South who have become excited in the passions of the hour aroused by the news of the situations both in Mexico and in Europe. These, however, are not such serious advocates as the other classes for their excitement will disappear as the tide of war elsewhere ebbs.

Baseball Game Fails to Materialize— Interest in Athletics Entirely Lacking

The game between the Giants and the Feds did not materialize Tuesday evening on account of the fact that only a few players turned out.

The sporting editor hoped for a "scoop," as the two teams mentioned have not crossed bats this summer, but the fine evenings, the bathing beach, the tennis court, the fine woodland paths and other incentives were too urgent and more in line with the desires of our (athletes.)

The only noticeable improvement among the ball players is the pitching ability of our noble "Silvan" Beck, who can now hit the bat with astonishing regularity.

Mr. Alvin Pyeatt furnished quite a sensation in climbing to a perilous height one dark night to save a friend. It might be suggested that clothes pins are good on any line, and especially desirable on electric lines.

CLARKE COUNTY CLUB.

This club has some thirty members with Mr. J. Edward Petite as president.

The trips that the club has taken have been instructive as well as enjoyable. The first was to Vancouver on July 1st. There were thirty on this trip but a few were guests, without hosts or hostesses. Our next exploit was to Mount Chuckanut July 3rd. Saturday, July 9th at 3:20 p. m. 18 jolly members left for Lake Samish where a very enjoyable evening was spent. It seems that the members of this club have a failing for hot-dog, on the last two exploitations toasted weenies and buns have been the principal means of sustenance.

NORMAL NOTABLES TAKE TRIP ABROAD

Chauffeur Hintz drove his Saxon to Vancouver one day last week and took with him a happy company of Normalites, who report pleasant experiences in visiting New Westminster, Vancouver and Capalano Canyon. The company was made up as follows: Miss Beryl Merritt, who never lost a case of love; Miss Corrella Wheeler, the modest violet transplanted from Wenatchee fields; John Nagley, the man with the kodak; Miss Gene Coates, whose smile has banished the frown from many a face; Clyde Reed, the tree-carver; Miss Louisa Vulliet, the songstress for the day; Master Vulliet, the boy scout; and Mrs. Blakesley, whose leniency in chaperonage has secured for her a permanent position during the summer session. —C. R.

Misses Frances S. Hays and Rose Baker will entertain at dinner Saturday evening in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Deerwester, who are to be away from the Normal during the coming year. The dinner will be served at the Hays cottage on the shores of Lake Whatcom.

Next Tuesday evening the July Seniors are to enjoy their much postponed picnic. The faculty will attend as guests of the class.

The Best Place.

In the course of a lesson on the subject of domestic economy and hygiene a mistress got a singularly smart and apt answer from a little girl. Speaking of milk and its importance as a food, the lady asked:

"What is the best place wherein to keep the milk perfectly nice and fresh during, say, a hot summer day?"

And one girl—evidently thinking it was an easy one—promptly answered: "Please, teacher, in the cow."—Tit-Bits.

During the summer term Professor Charles H. Scudder has moved his family from Cedar street to Garden, and Professor Chute has just recently come from Laurel to High street. The homes of these two manual training instructors are now more conveniently located than formerly.

Just in—a new assortment of pillows and pennants and box stationery.
