DON'T FORGET THE EVEN DOZEN

At 11 o'clock this morning there were an EVEN DOZEN and five candidates, all on equal footing, eyeing the coveted student body positions, and thinking little of the disappointment that will be dished out to many of them in carload lots.

An hour and a half later there were an EVEN DOZEN taking that Says philosopher Will: disappointment with a smile on their faces. But behnd it was a certain feeling of "out-of-place" nature.

We congratulate the winning candidates and wish them all the success that is obtainable in the line that they enter.

We congratulate that EVEN DOZEN that have to remain in the swim of things minus the honor of office-holding, but there is no need for chagrin on their part. It has been tradition in this school that the loser be welcomed with all the gusto that the winner has been handed.

It is no disgrace. Only a matter of votes. You, the EVEN DOZEN, have been honored by your nomination. You are not any weaker than you were at 11 o'clock this morning. The students will stick to the welcome" atmosphere and still accept you as "oke" in their midst. You are still worthy Normalites.

Don't drop out of things, nor lose the "ol' pepper," and keep a smile through it all—the school needs that EVEN DOZEN in its make-up. not down in the forest next to the

THROUGH THE YEARS

One of the greatest issues ever to be discussed here at Normal by the students, student officials, and faculty—provided that talk per hour is a speedometer—is the Rec hour question.

From the day that Rec hour was started until today, when orchestras are again chosen, the subject has never had a death. Rec hour has provided a two-fold pleasure for the school as a whole. It has given them an hour for dancing and it has given them a topic that is usable in conversation of any type at any one of the twenty-four hours of the day, every day in the year. It is an inexhaustible subject, and will never fail to get its response, and thus we don't feel that we are digging up a subject that is obsolete and of no interest to the students when we once more start it merrily on its way.

The students wanted double Rec hours and they succeeded in getting them. However, we ask, have they done away with the true spirit of the traditional dance by securing the legislation that they did?

Objections have recently been voiced. The only objection by officials and others, apparently in the know, is that these evening affairs take away the true spirit of the Rec hour institution. That they should be of the most informal type and should not even hint toward the possibility that added "dressiness" is required.

Most students claim that they do not feel any air of formality in the big gym at the evening doings. We doubt that many of them do, and yet one fact remains—the Rec hours during the past three quarters have not had the pep in them that they used to have. Since the double session the general reaction is not one of cherishing that precious one hour of hilarity as in the days of old.

We have declined to agree with many of the expressions of lost "Rec hour tradition," but we must admit that it seems to be the handiest reason to select for the loss of pep.

One thing should never be forgotten, though, and that is that if the students don't dance here on Friday evenings when nothing else is going on, they must go elsewhere for entertainment.

If they are satisfied with evening affairs, they should be allowed to have them, barring of course, conflicting conditions.

On May 12 the whole school will that date has been set aside as Campus Day. Last year there were sports of all descriptions and the faculty even tried to beat the students. How about a little bit of competition this year.

For the last few weeks outsiders have been using the school courts. A sign will be placed on the courts requesting outsiders not to use them. Let's get behind this rule and help to keep the courts for ourselves.

On April 29 the Viking track squad will meet the squad from the College of Puget Sound on Waldo field for the first scheduled track meet of the season. This will be a good time to see the team in action, so let's work up a little pep and go out and support the boys.

Because of rain the baseball team has not been able to hold any practice games and the first game of the season is here with St. Martins on April 25. Let's hope that it doesn't rain on that date.

In last week's issue a statement was made concerning an inter-class track meet for the following.. day. That was a grave mistake for the track meet will take place tomorrow, that is, if the weather is fair enough. So if there will be a good turnout, the boys will try and put on a good show for every one. -0-0-0-

Also it might be added that although Mel Hein was an All-American football man, he is not the track star. There are three Hein brothers and all of them are athletes. It is one of Mel's brothers that is the javelin stars.

In speaking of freak athletics, the basketball tournament at Santa Fe, N. M., held on April 11, was rather odd. "The unusual sight of basketball teams seeking to lose rather than to win, their games, and even helping their opponents to possible victory, was the situation in a sectional basketball tournament here." The freak situation developed when an odd number of teams were entered in the tournament for the championship, which necessitated five byes and a two-game elimination in the first round. To settle the question, the byes went to the losers of the first five games and there was a mad scramble to lose these games. The prize contest in the attempt to lose was waged between Cerrillos and Las Vegas, with the latter five finally emerging morally victorious by reason of its defeat. The two quintets defended the goals they were supposed to shoot at and fired the ball at the hoop they were supposed to guard.

FIRST EVENT COMPETITION FOR STARS THIS SEASON.

SLATINGS MADE

At 10 o'clock tomorrow morning Coach Sam Carver's 1931 track and field aspirants will go through their be out cleaning up the campus, for paces for the first time in actual competition this season in the form of a frosh-soph interclass meet

> This meet has been a traditional affair for the past several seasons and many close meets have been witnessed. Feeling has been running high for the past few days and some remarkable marks will probably be made during the meet. The upperclassmen are out to avenge close defeat handed them by the yearlings last spring.

> > High Stars

The frosh, with several former high school stars in their ranks, present a very formidable array in the sprints and hurdles. The sophs' greatest strength lies in field events and the distance runs.

Coach Carver's tentative schedule for this spring includes meets with the College of Puget Sound, the U. of W. Frosh, and the Tri-Normal meet. Taking all in all the Normal track mentor should present a track squad as strong, if not stronger, than the near-championship squad of last spring. Losing the Tri-Normal championship last year by the relay race, Carver is pointing his men towards avenging that defeat.

Dash Opens Class Meet

With the opening gun at 10 o'clock Gable and Thomas, frosh, and Kirv Smith, sophs, will leave their marks for the 100 yard dash, this being the first competitive race of the season. Both frosh runners are former high school sprinters of last season, and will more than likely present a blanket finish when they hit the tape.

Immediately following this, the mile race will take place. The only entries in this race thus far are Hubler and Carter for the lower classmen. It is hoped that a soph opponent will sign up.

220-Yard Race Gable, Thomas, and Campbell have entered the 220 for the frosh, Eagan and Smith representing the sophs. No opponents have been found for the frosh high hurdlers, L. Jones, Collier, and Davies. In the 440yard dash, Danielson and Hubler, frosh, and Duyff and Bright, sophs, will toe the marks. Due to a scarcity of two-milers among the frosh, easy time chalking up eight points old B. S. N. S. for the sophomores.

A good race can be expected when Jones, Davis, Dawson, and Collier, frosh, and Eagan and Flowers, sophs, leave the starting line for the 220yard low hurdles. Only two runners will fight it out for honors in the 880-yard run, Hubler for the frosh and Bright for the sophs.

Field Events

Campbell, Collier, and E. Jones will represent the yearling class in the pole vault. Eagan, Shelton, and Carboneau will feature for the second year men. Those who will seek altitude in the high jump are Davis, Collier, Dawson, frosh; and Eagan, Gravrock, and Flowers, sophomores,

Those of the platter sailing event who will enter are Sutton and Dawson, frosh, and Flowers and Gravrock, sophs. Sutton, Dawson for the lower classmen, and Flowers, Moe, and Gravrock, upper classmen, will seek distance in the shot event. Those hurling the spear are Haggard, Collier, and Kemphays, frosh, and Flowers and Smith, sophs. Entering the broad jump are Gable, Davis, Dawson, and Danielson, frosh, and Flowers and Shelton.

The meet will close with a race between two relay teams which as yet have not been selected.

Weather Watched

Jupiter Pluvius has slowed up the activities of the track athletes for the past few days, but it is hoped that a clear day will greet the participants. More than likely Coach Carver will select his entire team from those entering the meet tomorrow, so we can be sure of the entrants doing their best to garner a few points.

Those men who have won points track meet we are liable to see a in any event in past meets will be golf tournament, as the schools are barred from entering that event. trying to arrange one. Rork and This will give the frosh a more equal standing on which to display their golf ladder, and if the golf meet is prowess. As yet a committee has scheduled they will probably make not been selected to oversee the the team. The team will probably meet, but it can be assured the events will be run off in true style.

DIAMOND ASPIRANTS ROUNDING INTO SHAPE; CUT EXPECTED SOON

Coach Gunn's baseball material is rounding into fine shape, even though the bad weather should hold it up a great deal.

The men who started out at the first of the season are still working hard trying to get a position on the squad. Up to date there have been no cuts. In the near future Coach Gunn expects to cut the squad down to eighteen men.

The first big game is with St. Martins college. This game is expected to be one of the hardest contests of the season. St. Martins has a strong club this season. The game will be played Saturday, April 25 on the local diamond.

W. A. A. Hikers Scale Slopes of Chuckanut

Ideal weather that is a rainless April day, greeted the sixteen W. A. A. hikers who ascended Mount Chuckanut Saturday, April 10.

An especially enjoyable part of the rip was spent in observing the marvelous views from the summit of the mountain, that is, after the fog had disappeared.

Another Planned

Although weary and slightly footsore after their climb, the hikers declared the hike a huge success. Another hike is being planned for tomorrow. The girls will leave the main building at 12:55 for Lake Padden. They will return by way of the Sehome hill or Ozone route. Miss Lillian George, who sponsors the hikes, will accompany the girls.

Racket Squad Prepares For Coming Match

With the first meet of the season with C. P. S. fast approaching, Sam Carver may be seen in these days of hectic weather, busily coaching the nucleus of the Normal tennis team, in how to win matches.

Rork Not Seen

"Wee Cliff" Hedger and "Big Bill" Houghton, the new tennis men from Whatcom, are rapidly getting into shape, and with the event of this first meet May 2 will be able to show their opponents plenty of opposition. He is still slightly erratic, but with straight downhill, up and down hill, practice will settle down to the real and finally the cross country (men, tennis he is capable of playing.

Five-Man Squad

In the C. P. S. meet, Coach Carver plans to take five men to combat the rival five-man team. It is to be a battle between fifteen or twenty to see who makes the trip.

Many Plan to Take Trip to Snow Joust

Of interest to many, the ski tournament under the auspices of the Mount Baker Club will take place Sunday afternoon, at the lower meadows near Bagley creek.

To Hut The contestants (club members only) will journey to the scene of their competition in private cars, which will take them as far as Bagley creek, where the Mount Baker Ski hut is located. From there it is a hike of about three miles to the lower meadows. According to last reports, the snow on the meadows is eleven feet deep. The events in the tournament will be the same for both women and men, the difference will be only in difficulty. Some of the events will be: Uphill climbing (three styles),

BASEBALL LEAGUE GAMES SCHEDULED

FOUR INTRAMURAL TEAMS ARE ENTERED IN COMPETITION.

NEXT GAME APRIL 21

The intra-mural baseball league has been organized and the games scheduled for the spring quarter.

Although only four teams have entered, nearly fifty men of the school will have an opportunity to participate in what is probably the most popular outdoor games. Needless to say, the fellows will get plenty of exercise and recreation when a few of the sluggers of the league get to slapping the old apple high, wide and handsome.

Four Teams

eague are the Co-ops, Kitchen Krew, Reynolds Hall and Fire Hall. Each one of these teams carries a formidable line-up of pitchers, fielders and hitters. The fans and players can be assured of plenty of fun and excitement when batsmen start slipping the soft ball out of shape. As mentioned above, the league will be of soft-ball variety and the cost for each team will be verv small

At Four o'Clock

The games will be played in the afternoons, probably at four o'clock the baseball diamond. One game was to be played yesterday afternoon. The next game is scheduled for Tuesday, April 21, between Reynolds Hall and Fire Hall.

Season schedule follows: First Half.

April 16-Co-op vs. Kitchen Krew. April 21-Reynolds vs. Fire Hall. April 23-Co-op vs. Reynolds Hall. April 28-Kitchen Krew vs. Fire

April 30-Co-op vs. Fire Hall. May 5-Kitchen Krew vs. Reyolds Hall.

Normal is promised a real evening of entertainment in the Men's Club Vodvil and Minstrel Show.

But this time it will precede the sixth annual Campus Day. The show is dated for Monday evening, May 11, in the auditorium and will begin two Viking feast days—the sixth in Viking tradition—and a glorious time for both students and alumni of the school. There is the likelihood that the annual Campus Day dance will culminate the two-day affair, as it has during the past. The dance is looked forward to by scores of alumni much the same as the fall Homecoming Ball, and Campus Day in a sense amounts to a spring homecoming.

Peter's studies are stimulated by his passion for eighteenth century London and for the house on Berkeley Square which he, a twentieth century American, descendant of the tition will become custodian of the original owners, has inherited from ceeds in his mad enterprise.

In Another Role

He, in his own person, goes back to the Berkeley Square house in 1784. Those desiring to enter are asked In the role of his grandfather he to sign the entry sheet posted in comes to London as a young man to court Kate Pettigrew. Peter's strange twentieth century remarks and his even more strange ability to read the future, make everyone fear him, with the exception of Helen, Kate's younger sister, with whom he falls in love.

The beauty and elegance, the wit and charm which he had so fondly imagined existed at this time is not "a filthy little pigsty of a world." which would have driven him back to his own century in short order Athletics, Women's Sports, Foreign had it not been for the magic of Clarence Thue has been given the Policy of the United States, Sinclair Helen—Helen who did not marry responsibility of molding from avail- Lewis and the Nobel Prize, The the Peter Standish in whose shape able material a large chorus, pos- Youth Movement, World Peace, and his descendant is masquerading Helen, whose eyes pierce his mystery, and whose love Peter takes back with him on his return to The topics of the conferences are modern life as an eternal memory.
