Vern's . . . . . . Dale

Our attention has been called to the fact that, in spite of the "No corsage" sign that was hung out by members of the Norsemen's dance committee and published for two weeks prior to the event, several corsage orders being filled by local florists were canceled at the last minute last Friday.

It is strictly for your convenience that many local floral shops do not require deposits as orders are taken. FOR THE SAKE OF YOUR CONVENIENCE AND FOR THE GOOD OF ALL WWC STUDENTS LET'S NOT HAVE A REPUTATION OF THIS.

Being a member of the Communist party is not as yet illegal. Will the Supreme Court sustain a person that refuses to affirm or deny that he is a member of this party?

Students residing at the men's residence hall where birthdays fall in October were honor guests at an "October Birthday" dinner Wednesday evening. Guests of the evening were presented with individual birthday cakes with their frosting.

Air-minded in more ways than one the high flying Vikings take to the skyways for their Saturday excursion to Spokane. Read details and previews on page 4.

The staid old "freedom" town, Philadelphia is in for its share of tribulations in 1948. Members of the Democratic national convention will converge upon the city some time next year. Reports from that traditionally easy-going community indicate that its venerable citizens are evacuating en masse. Who can blame them — the Republican party begins its convulsion there JUNE 1 OF THE SAME YEAR.

Down in Los Angeles two married couples are suing a certain bottling company. Their contention . . . a very live lizard or salamander popped out of a bottle of ginger beer as they were mixing a concoction composed of ginger beer, vodka and lime juice. QUESTION OF THE WEEK . . . what would they have seen if they had DRUNK THE DRINK?

Student artists who painted the attractive posters advertising Edens hall's November 7 TOLO are to be congratulated on their artistic abilities. They have attracted considerable attention and give an impression of an enjoyable evening ahead.

THESE NEW STYLE DRESSES may give women that "long look"—but men don't.

Members of the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps were more than willing to assist us in our PEP PARADE down town last Saturday. For an afternoon of cultural enjoyment and as a token of appreciation for their assistance let's buy our tickets NOW for the matinee performance of the United States Marine Band at the Bellingham high auditorium Saturday afternoon. All proceeds go toward new uniforms for American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps.

Armistice Day Plans Ready For Assembly

Elaborate preparations are being made by the Music department of Western Washington College for the Armistice Day assembly, November 7. Dr. Frank D'Andrea, Bernard Regier, and Don Walter have prepared a program which consists of a varied and interesting assortment of talent.

To start the assembly off, the band, under the direction of Walter, will play some appropriate music leading into the National Anthem and the flag salute. The audience will then join together to sing one verse of "America."

Quartets to Sing
The college male quartet, including Duane Lewis, Glenn Bergh, Fred DeBruer, and Roland Peterson, will present three selections: "Beloved Land," "Sibelius," and "I Love a Parade." The newly formed and harmonious string quartet will also play the beloved "Andante," by Tschaiowsky.

A soprano solo, "Roses of Picardy," will be sung by Barbara Stockton, Glenn Bergh, the tenor of the quartet, will give a vocal solo, "Americans Come." Fred DeBruer, another quartet baritone, will sing, "America the Beautiful." Norma Jean Swan will play a violin solo.

Choir to Sing
The college a cappella choir will blend their voices in three selections, "In Endless Song," by Guy Booth; "Death and the Maiden," by Schubert; and "Grand Old Flag," by George M. Cohan.

The date again is November 7, the place, the college auditorium.

Parents Asked To Visit WWC

Letters inviting parents of freshmen students to attend a special "Parent's Day" held annually at WWC will be in the mail soon, according to Declan Barron of the invitations committee.

The occasion, which is designed to further relations between parents and the college will be held November 16. A program and tea in Edens hall, and conducted campus tours, will constitute the program for the day.

Students are asked to invite their parents," said Barron, "and are assured that this is not a means whereby parents can check on the progress of students."

English Department Publication "The Writer" Makes Fall Debut

By BOB DICKSON, ASB Vice-President

The Writer, created last year to serve as an outlet for the creative writings of WWC students, has grown in stature with each succeeding issue. Since it is composed entirely of material submitted by the students to a student board of publishers, its continued existence depends on a constant flow of new material from the pens of the students.

The latest issue of "The Writer" contains less variety than previous issues. However, some of the present contributions show a marked improvement in literary ability.

King Repeats

Easily the best work of fiction is A. R. King's "So Is It Now," which is vastly superior to his "Corn Cob" which appeared last spring.

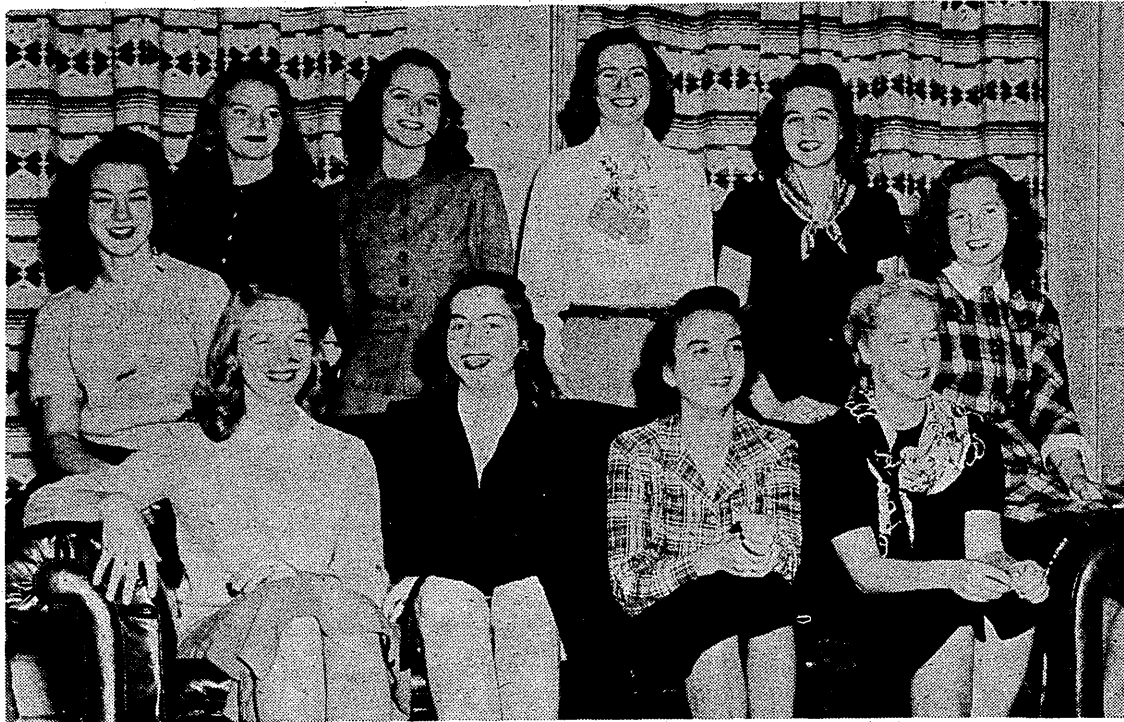

"So Is It Now" is a fast moving, well written story of a teen-age sailor on shore leave with a month's pay in his pocket and an inner conflict between a desire for social approval and recognition by his shipmates, and the moralistic training of his childhood. Author King writes with an ease and ability which makes for very enjoyable reading.

Karason Returns

Another writer whose current contribution surpasses his previous works is Halldor Karason, and his essay on "Koehtler, the Disillusioned" might well serve as a model for students who have term papers to write.

Karason gives the reader an in-

One Will Be Elected Queen Sigrid

A slight deviation from former years procedure for the selection of an aspirant who will become Homecoming Queen was announced today by Dan Northcutt and Marijune Eide of the Queen committee.

As in previous years the royal court will consist of one queen and four princesses. The queen will be selected by popular vote of the student body. The two runnerups will be the princesses from the two upper classes regardless if they are both of the same class or not. In addition, one sophomore and one freshman princess will be elected. Voting will occur in the auditorium at a special Homecoming program November 10.

IRC Representatives Journey To UBC For Congress Meet

Delegates to the International Relations Club Congress to be held at the University of British Columbia, November 21-22, were chosen in a special meeting of the WWC IRC Tuesday evening, October 28. An even dozen IRC members, headed by club president Bob Ingersoll, will attend the two day conclave. Theme of the congress will be "Can the Split Between East and West be Reconciled?"

Among other business taken up in the special meeting was the question of accepting new members. For a time, the question threatened to disrupt the meeting, but eventually it was decided that new members could be admitted immediately.

Competing for honors to represent the senior class as queen are Martha Monaghan and Claire Wilson. Both candidates are transfer students to WWC from Seattle colleges. Miss Monaghan is a 19-year-old education major from Bellingham, while Miss Wilson a 21-year-old brownette from Aberdeen, is a primary education student.

The junior class reached deep into their horde of beauties and nominated Gloria Carey of Bellingham, and Lois King, Shelton, to be their queen applicants. Both Miss Carey and Miss King were Publications Prom princess candidates last spring. Senior hall claims King as a resident there while Edens hall girls are reported to be strong Carey supporters.

First of the three sophomores in the contest is Mimi Anderson, 19-year-old fishing enthusiast from Friday Harbor. Miss Anderson is a repeat contestant from the 1946 queen campaign. Next in line, according to alphabetical order is Marijune Eide, 19, sophomore art major from Bellingham. Blond, blue-eyed Eide was also a Publications Prom candidate. Lovely Joanne Knowles concludes the list of girls offered by the sophomore class. Miss Knowles, 18-year-old student from Seattle, is another education major.

The largest class in the history of WWC offer Billie Lewis, Carol Nyquist and Haroldine Ruthruff for the inspection of the student body. Only one can reign as freshman princess, but the big question of the day is—which one?

Miss Lewis is a graduate of Bellingham high and is the lone red-head entry. Miss Nyquist, 18-year-old Lynden freshman, is furthering her education in social work at WWC. Another blue-eyed blond princess candidate is Miss Ruthruff, 18, of Port Angeles. She is an education student.

Campus Clubs Hosts at Tea

Eleven student organizations sponsored tables at the Interclub council tea Tuesday afternoon. Those clubs were the Off-Campus Girls, Valkyrie, Blue Triangle, Norsemen, Ski club, College Christian Fellowship, Associated Child Education, Camera club, WRA Colheconomists, and the AWS. For refreshments, cider and doughnuts were served.

During the regular morning assembly Ted Gary, president of the council, introduced the speakers from each organization and extended an invitation to all students to attend the tea.

Homecoming Guests Selected to Speak At Noon Luncheon

Ralph Neil, Seattle junior high school instructor, and Oliver Ingersoll, Olympia attorney, are announced as the speakers who will represent the three hundred alumni expected to gather at the Western Washington College Homecoming luncheon, Saturday, November 15. They will respond at that time to greetings extended by Dr. W. W. Haggard, president of the college, and William Rothgeb, president of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Other alumni on the program are Trygve Blix, principal of the Washington elementary school, Tacoma, and his sister, Natalie Blix, also a Tacoma teacher. The luncheon precedes the traditional Homecoming football game at Battersby field, with Eastern Washington College the 1947 opponent.

Quartet Entertains Student Assembly

Three vocal selections will be presented by Bernard Regier when the Ferndale high school band, under the direction of Dan Bots, presents their concert at the high school auditorium Monday evening, November 3.

The college quartet, which is directed by Regier, sang three songs in the students assembly last Tuesday, October 28, in the college auditorium. The songs presented were: "Stout Hearted Men," "My Eveline," and "Ezekiel Saw the Wheel."

Off-Campus Mixer Ready For Students

"Haunted House" is the theme of the Hallowe'en mixer, sponsored by the Off-Campus Girls' club, to be held in the gymnasium of the Junior high school tonight at 8:00 o'clock. George Hankin's band will play. The theme will be carried out in black and orange decorations to suggest the interior of a haunted house.

"This is one of the first all-school events given by the Off-Campus Girls' club," Peggy Nunamaker, president remarked, "and we want everybody to be there."

Those serving as committee heads are: Marijune Eide, decorations; Joyce Ruthruff, door; Yonne West, music; Madelaine House, faculty invitations; and Peggy Nunamaker, executive.

Enrollment Breakdown Released by College

Education Courses Attract Half of All Students Enrolled For Fall Quarter

With the latest official enrollment count at 1,202, including students hailing from Alaska and Ireland, a new flood of facts and figures was released today by Registrar Donald A. Ferris. After a final tally of the fluctuating registration it was found that 17 students are from outside the continental United States while 15 different states are represented.

Fourteen Canadians top the list of "visiting students" followed by two representatives from Alaska and one from Ireland. From eight states east of the Rockies have come five Pennsylvanians and four from Massachusetts. Others come from Florida, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio, Oklahoma, and Virginia.

Street Parade Plans Ready
Pep parades forming in front of the gym at 7:30 Friday evening, November 14, will start the ball rolling on 1947's Homecoming celebration. The program, as disclosed by Jay Lapp, will begin with the pep parade and proceed almost continuously through Friday evening and Saturday.

The Parade, consisting of student's cars decorated in blue and white will start from the gym and proceed to the corner of Cornwall and Holly streets where a rally will be held. A special car for the queen and her party and a truck carrying the band will highlight the parade. After an adequate demonstration has been performed in town the parade will return to the college for the freshman bonfire, another rally and the then the Homecoming assembly in the auditorium. Following the assembly, everyone is invited to the Junior high gym for an evening of dancing as guests of the WRA.

Saturday's events will start with the luncheon for students and grads at Edens hall. A brief breather between the luncheon and the game and then the big game at 2:30 which will include, among other things, the coronation of Queen Sigrid.

Climaxing the week-end's activities is the annual Homecoming dance, sponsored by the "W" club at the Armory, 8:30 to 12:00 o'clock Saturday evening.

There are 70 seniors. All upper classes gained by the 194 transfer students who came to Sehome hill to finish their education. Classified as special students are 33 men and women. There are four graduate students working for the new degree of Master of Education.

The Registrar also stated that this year the student body is almost equally divided between those who plan to enter the field of education and those who will enter other professions. Last year 38 per cent of the entire college enrollment was slated for the classroom. This year 49 per cent have chosen education for a career.

Lecture Series Offers Artist

Noted violoncellist, Ruth Krieger, will appear Tuesday, November 4, at WWC for the Student Lecture Series.

Miss Krieger, whose first love is music, secured a B.A. at the University of Washington and her master's degree from Michigan University. She also won numerous scholarships at the Juilliard School of Music and four from Coolidge Foundation of Pittsfield, Mass. At the present time she is a member of the Seattle Symphony, besides being a past member of several other symphonies.

Michiko Miyamoto, Miss Kreiger accompanist, is an American born artist of rare ability, also from this state.

Today, Vanya Oakes, foreign correspondent, author and lecturer, drew a large crowd on her stimulating talk, "How Informed Is American Public Opinion?"

Constitution Revision Approved By Board

Adopting an initiative calling for the revision in the procedure for nominating ASB officers, the Board of Control, in its meeting held Wednesday, October 29, tossed the issue to the general student body which will vote on the proposed amendment at the primary election which is to be held in two weeks.

The proposed amendment would have each club and class elect one candidate and one alternate for each vacant position during the sixth week of each quarter. The primary election would then be held in the seventh week and the three highest candidates for each office would be placed on the general election ballot which is run off in the eighth week. All candidates must be certified by the Interclub Council and election will be by plurality.

Sweater Awards Discussed

A proposal to award sweaters and appropriate emblems to the newly-elected yell and song leaders was discussed. The stipulation that the sweater would not become the property of the individual until he had served three quarters was encountered. A committee was appointed to consider available sweaters with the hope that they might be purchased before Homecoming, if approved by the board.

Radio Equipment

Discussion on the Speech department's request for radio equipment ended with the matter being shelved temporarily to enable the board to investigate the problems involved.

Editorials . . .

Proposed Revision Passed by Board

A long overdue constitutional revision (as provided in Article XVIII of the ASB constitution) of that section pertaining to the nominating convention (Article VIII, Section 1) is well underway and will be presented to students on the ballots issued for the November 12 election. This revision deserved the considered attention of every college student.

Veteran WWC students recall the furor created following the nominating convention prior to the election of the ASB president and vice-president this spring. A true over-all picture of the fallacy and inadequacy of the present method of electing ASB officers and Board of Control members was impressed upon students. It was proven that little group representation was actually being displayed. Instead of individuals acting as their organization had dictated that they should they would often times cast aside their own candidate and support who ever their own personal selves desired. IS THIS REPRESENTATION? It has happened in the past . . . possibly for years . . . it happened last year . . . isn't it possible to presume that it will occur again at the coming convention. SUCH AN ANTEDATED NOMINATING DEVICE SHOULD BE OBLITERATED IMMEDIATELY.

Campaign Platforms Remembered

Students campaigning during the last spring quarter election gave considerable room on their platform for an immediate revision of this section of our constitution. Voters backing these candidates have not forgotten. Questions have been asked all this quarter . . . "Where are the results of that 'campaign oratory' which flowed so freely last spring?"

Such a revision has been adopted by a constitutional committee appointed by the Board of Control. At Wednesday's board meeting it was approved by the board. As provided by Article XVIII it is up to you as individual voters to decide the fate of this revision. For your consideration and discussion a rough draft of the proposal is printed. This draft is not worded exactly as it will appear on ballots but the essence is here:

Compare This With Present Procedure

1. Each club and class may nominate 1 (one) candidate and 1 (one) alternate for each position open. (6th week of each quarter.)
2. Following nominations of candidates clubs and classes must submit names to president of ICC for certification.
3. Names of all certified candidates will be placed on ballot to be voted on in primary election to be held the Wednesday of the seventh week of each quarter.
4. The three candidates for each position receiving the greatest number of votes in the primary election shall have their names placed on the ballot for the general election.
5. The general election shall be held the Wednesday of the eighth week of each quarter.
6. No sticker candidates in primary election. Sticker candidates will be allowed in the general election only if the petition is signed by one-tenth of the student body.
7. Provisions for run-offs will be publicized later.

Constitution Needs Airing Occasionally

When you study this, either individually or collectively, remember that constitutions are not cold rigid documents that go on with ages. Instead they are resilient fabrications designed to be altered as an altering society necessitates that they be revised. Freshmen students are particularly encouraged to study the above proposal. The students that you elect to represent you are the trustees of thousands of student dollars. If more competent bankers can be obtained under a new election procedure then it is within our power and duty to instigate a new method.

Clubs Activities Explained

Separate meetings of the all-college AWS and Norsemen clubs took place at the usual students' assembly last Friday to acquaint everyone with those organizations.

The AWS meeting was directed by its president, Gloria Carey who led a discussion on projects for the coming year. Arlene Swanson, vice-president, introduced the members of the AWS commission and explained the offices of the club. A musical program followed the business session.

The Norsemen were called to order by President Ron Dodge who explained the purposes of the men's organization. The faculty adviser, Clyde McDonald, made a few observations concerning campus regulations. The rest of the meeting consisted of colored films about football.

Ted Gary, president of the council, then introduced the leading officers of each club on the campus who in turn told something of the purposes and activities in which they were engaged.

Phalanx Offers Social Affairs

Proving popular among many students is Phalanx, the YWCA-sponsored "stag" club for all young men between the ages of 18 to 25. The purpose of Phalanx is to promote good fellowship and christian ideals among all college men, especially those who are away from home.

The club sponsors many activities and social affairs during the year. At present, the members are making plans to attend the Phalanx conclave to be held in Seattle on November 14 and 15. A full program of interesting speeches and entertainment will be in store for all those who attend. Phalanx is also starting a basketball team which will play in the YMCA league.

All men interested in Phalanx are cordially invited to visit at the weekly meetings which are held on Monday evenings at 7 p. m., in the YMCA. Milton Orphan, Jr., is president of the group.

Thornton Reelected Camera Club Head

At a meeting held Tuesday evening H. Marion Thornton was reelected as president of the Camera club at WWC. Also chosen as officers were Wayne Craig, vice-president; Bernie Lepeska, secretary-treasurer, and Paul Conner, program chairman.

On the schedule for the next year, the club has planned three field trips. The fall trip will take the group to Birch Bay, the winter trip will be to Mt. Baker, and an excursion through the San Juan Islands will take place in the spring.

Radio Class Springs Off to Good Start

By GLEN WOLF

"Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. This is Bob Robertson bringing you the latest news from the freshman class at Western Washington College." This was only one of the five student voices heard on the WWC newscast over KVOS, Thursday, October 23, at 4:45 p. m.

The college radio class got off to a good start with their first program which included a brief history of WWC and its athletic department. Listeners were informed of all current school news, the drama department's new play, "The Skin of Our Teeth," and the results of the freshman class elections.

"The class is small, but it has plenty of talent. We are hoping to get new equipment to take care of an increasing student interest in radio broadcasting," stated Sene R. Carille, head of the radio department.

An outstanding member of the class is Bob Robertson, a freshman lad from Point Roberts. Bob is an ardent football enthusiast and very much interested in sports announcing and plans to be a professional sportscaster. He has been helping Eddie Johnston, KVOS sportscaster, in covering the home games at Battersby field.

Students taking part in the program were Bob Robertson, Bob Bain, Norm Robbins, Russ Hoppe, and Molly Harrison.

City Treated to Show of Spirit

Bellingham citizens were treated to an example of WWC's reawakened school spirit last Saturday afternoon when two bands, a half-mile parade and colorful serpentine wound its way down Holly street, over to Bay and Magnolia, up Cornwall and finished at Holly and Forest streets.

A police escort led the parade, followed by the college band, the Valyrie club—complete with pom-poms and blue convertibles—several students with decorated cars, the American Legion drum and bugle corp., the American Legion drill team, and other students who composed the serpentine.

Walters, when asked his opinion of the parade, the band, etc., said: "No one will ever know how much magic we had to dig up to pull that band out of the hat!" He made no further comment. Walter is parade marshal and drum major. He stated that they were planning larger and better events for the Homecoming game.

Special Investigator To Take Action on Delinquent Checks

Veterans attending WWC who have not yet received subsistence checks from the Veterans Administration, will have an opportunity to report the fact to the VA, it was announced this week by Lloyd G. Johnson, chief of the guidance center.

A special representative from the Seattle regional office will visit the college on Monday, November 10, for the sole purpose of receiving subsistence complaints from student veterans. The VA registration office will be located in room 43. Office hours will be from 1 to 4 p. m. Veterans who have not received their subsistence allowance for the month of October are requested to report to the VA during the visit of the regional officer at the announced time and place.

Cases in which subsistence checks are overdue will be reported immediately to the regional office in Seattle by telephone, and remedial action initiated by the Seattle office. Every effort will be made by the VA to expedite payment of subsistence to veterans who have not received their checks. Veterans will be advised by letter of action being taken by the VA.

History of Hallowe'en Full of Man's Superstitions As Well As Pumpkins and Horror Movies

By ARLENE SLOTEMAKER

"Then first and foremost, through the kale,
Their stocks maun a' be sought once;
They steek their een, an' graip an' wale,
For muckle ones and straught ones."

In Robert Burns time, Hallowe'en was celebrated by playing such simple little games like this one described in his poem, "Pulling the Kale."

The plant being big or little, straight or crooked, was prophetic of the size and shape of the young people who participated in the game. If the earth stuck to the plant, it was a good omen. It can be expected that they readily believed these things which suggested in their games, for their lives were dominated by the fear of the unknown.

During the dark ages, the British people believed the tales told of the Druids, evil witch doctors. Superstition was common and one of the widespread beliefs was that on Hallowe'en night the spirits of the dead were allowed to visit their homes and friends. On that night, great fires were kindled on the hills, and men might have been seen standing in circles, waving pitchforks of bazing straw to ward off the attacks of the witches.

Today, Hallowe'en is that magical and mysterious time when "witches" ride broomsticks, "hobgoblins" peer around the corners, pumpkins become grotesque apparitions, and the local theater features a horror movie. Trick-or-treat, and bobbing apples are the favorite party games.

Superstitions die hard, for at Hallowe'en people the world over remember their old fears and indulge in a remembrance of them.

Art Educator To Instruct Classes

Felix Payant, nationally known leader in Art Education, will conduct an Art Workshop for the teachers of Bellingham and the vicinity, between 4 and 5 o'clock, the evenings of November 4, 5, and 6. Mr. Payant is the editor of Design magazine, a skilled craft worker and was for many years a teacher of children.

The theme for the workshop will be new approaches to art for the elementary child. The paintings and designs will be presented to the group in the same manner that painting and design can be presented to the children.

Those assisting in Mr. Payant's visit are Miss Pearl Bartruff, art teacher at Bellingham high school, Miss Clare Kersting, consultant for the country schools, Miss Myrtle Burnham and Miss Mayme Martin, teachers in the city elementary schools.

The workshop is free to college students. To those outside the college the fee is one dollar for three days attendance or 50 cents for one session. The college will furnish the supplies.

Those wishing to attend should register with the Art department on or before November 1.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor of The Colligian:
May I answer in part a student letter concerning the swim suits for women.

Since 1943 we have been following every possible lead to secure satisfactory swim suits for the college classes. The replies have consistently been in the negative. Original purchase price, cost of up-keep, etc., have definite influence on what we can use. We hesitate to spend several hundred dollars for poor quality merchandise.

We would appreciate any information as to where we can secure a good wearing suit of satisfactory style. Any suggestions will be gratefully received.

Very truly yours,
RUTH WEYTHEMAN,
Chairman Department of Physical Education for Women.

battles on the gridiron and what do they get from the student body—NOTHING—Not even any cheering.

It is our understanding, when the band plays the Alma Mater that the student body should be standing and singing. It might be helpful to look in the Navigator and learn the words. The song leaders feel kind of stupid out there being soloists.

Perhaps it is partly the yell staff's fault for not creating pep. They can and do it without cooperation. Each time they try to help by having yells and songs printed. But where do they go? Do the students learn them? NO! The students do not seem interested enough to give them a break. The yell staff, undoubtedly, will accept advice and suggestions cheerfully.

Still the question of the day—"Where is the school spirit of WWC?"

Sincerely,
JUST THREE.

Dear Editor:

We must hand it to the students who went to the PLC game in Tacoma for the support they gave the team. But what we would like to know is—where is the school spirit after that game. Could it have been drowned? We rather doubt it.

There has been lots of talk of showing the city of Bellingham that they have a college on the hill. But how in blue blazes are they going to do it when the students that go to the game sit like cement blocks. The boys hvae been fighting tough

Harborview

Today is Halloween and more things are brewing at Harborview than the proverbial witches brew. Over a cauldron bubbling with witty ideas may be seen the lovely members of the Homecoming display committee, trying desperately to cook up something different and eye-appealing enough to "cop the cup from Daniels!" Yep, they're really in a stew. . . . The Homecoming skit committee is also busy on their project, but with so much talent in the house that shouldn't be too difficult. They have several good ideas lined up, and we all know that with Dolly MacArthur for chairman it will be a darn good show. . . . Aside from these activities the girls are all pretty busy lining up dates for the Edens hall tolo shipwreck party. Costumes are going to be quite a problem to the kids here. . . . none of us have ever been shipwrecked. (At least not to the knowledge of this house reporter!)

Men's Residence Hall

"In the wee small hours of morning, when the cold gray dawn settles o'er, comes a gentle tapping, tapping, at the window on the first front floor." When the housemother asks you to bring your problems to her, Cooper, you shouldn't wait until the wee small hours to do that. And then again it could have been "the man with the green umbrella" . . . To be "short-sheeted" once in an evening would be less than enough, but twice—and within a few minutes after the first time. . . . It's at the dinner table that we hear so many fine, rich tenors and Saturday eve's dimer brought out one such golden-voiced troubador. . . . Ryan spent another week-end at home learning how to knit. . . . Put a leash on that fish of yours, Lenning, and you will have less chance of losing it again. . . . Can't think of anything with which to mention Charlie Ray's name. . . . This is getting worse.

Daniels Hall

For those who are wondering why lights are on at Daniels at 1:00 and 2:00 a. m. for the past week, the explanation lies with the mid-term tests. Besides, what the heck are you doing out that time of night anyway? . . . Guys are getting knocked off like flies, what with gettin' married or engaged. Leroy Wade and John Terrey are entered on the going list that heads the long line of gone boys. . . . See you at Whitworth.

Mathes House

The Norsemen's dance kept several of the boys out of the infirmary, until Monday, when all cards and magazines disappeared from the house. There is nothing to do but study around here now. . . . Al Iraola was drafted as chairman of the Homecoming committee at our last house meeting. Chaos and pandemonium will no doubt reign at Mathes on November 15 under his able direction.

Senior Hall

Never let it be said Senior hall is a dull place. Things started early Friday afternoon when Alice Robbins, Shirley Harrison and Jo Rucker were in a car accident coming home from school. Jo was cut badly around the face. All three were bruised and have been limping around the house. Several of the gals attended the Norsemen's dance, among them was "Oh ho" Phyllis Jones and "Oh ho" Mary Baker. Two girls were in Seattle for the U. of W. homecoming, and Betty Butler went home but not to see her folks. Madge McKeever also went home to Hoquiam. Phyl Armstrong has been sounding like a foghorn because of a bad throat. Then there are the girls who have been trying to learn to inhale! and last, but not least, there's one King in this school who will get our vote for Queen.

Edens Hall

What with all the gals making posters and working on committees for our coming "Shipwreck Shuffle" dance, it's beginning to sound like a crew of the Navy has taken over Edens hall. (On second thought, from the looks of the monitor room last week-end, maybe they have!) In case anyone hasn't heard or just doesn't know what the appropriate costume for the big event is, ask any Edentite and we'll set you straight. Jeannine Guy is doing a swell job as chairman of the affair, and promises that it'll be the best all-college tolo to hit the campus. . . . Edens hall is proud to announce that we also are represented in the Homecoming Queen contest by Claire Wilson, lovely senior candidate. . . . It seems Cy Systma and Bev Cameron are trying to compete with Dangerfield twins. They say there's no similarity, but even the faculty are getting them mixed up. Could that be the reason they've been going out alternately with the same fellow? . . . Charlotte Ellis found out the hard way the other night that we do not wander about the dining room conversing during meal time, "Simon Legree" Still gave her the word

Off-Campus Girls

This is the Off-Campus Girls coming to you on the ghost to ghost hook-up for another week. We're just getting in the spirit for our "Haunted House-Mixer" tonight in the Junior high gym. Grab your favorite ghoul friend or come a hauntin', and we'll rattle around. . . . Halloween isn't exactly the time for romance to bud but — oh, Irene! . . . Seen at the Norsemen's dance Friday night was Gerry Dillon with Charlie "Blue Bolt" Borden; also, June Hardin with the cute Cecil Thomas. . . . Peggy Nunamaker seems to be finding an added attraction in football lately. What "Tye's" it up, Peggy? . . . Jean Felhaber needs a lot of "Scoll" these days, and it isn't from a sun lamp either. . . . Ivaloe Stillman gets the "Blues" when it rains. Could be from your pom-pom. . . . We would like to know who the Off-Campus girl was who went up to the men's residence hall to use the telephone, and spent the rest of her time wandering around the halls with Les Winders. Sounds like fun.

Hospice Inn

Bowling discussions at Hospice Inn are rife this week with the Hospice "A" team, consisting of four Jacks and a Fred leading the league, with Hospice "B" team, captained by LaVern Brockmier, coming along in second place. . . . With the idea in mind of getting everybody in the house to play, men from "the best house on the hill" are playing basketball on teams all over the campus. The result at home is a percentage that reads something like .000. Don Fink reported the other night, "We got hot tonight, we only lost by 13 points." . . . Bill Meyer has a head full of ideas for the Homecoming program. Bill is chairman of the house committee on that activity. . . . Ben Cary, pianist, has joined the ranks of the Hospice. . . . Nuff said—Friday Harbor!

December Wedding Plans Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Elde, of Bellingham, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marijune, to Wade S. Haggard, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Haggard.

Last year Miss Elde was a candidate for Publication Prom princess while this year she is not only co-chairman of the queen committee for Homecoming but also a nominee from the sophomore class for princess. Haggard, also very active in student affairs, was Homecoming chairman for 1946, and head of the pep committee this year.

After their late December wedding, Haggard will continue with his work toward a BA in education.

Blue Triangle Club Seeks Members

Jean Seeley, president of the Blue Triangle, announced last Wednesday at the first official meeting of the club, that there will be a membership drive soon. It is the aim of the club to have all women students included in this group. Dues are 25c a quarter or 50c a year.

Officers for this year are: president, Jean Seeley; vice-president, Bev Burnaby; secretary, Janet Sungeen; treasurer, Dorothy McLain; publicity chairman, Pauline Roser; social chairman, Barbara McKinnis; and Homecoming assembly chairman, Esther Mjeon.

Violet Rees, chairman of the Homecoming display committee, plans to use a downtown department store window for their display. Her committee consists of: Lynn Shannon, Lucille Anderson, Mary Lou Thomas, Delores Finnie, and Willa Williams.

Margaret Lutro, who is chairman of the World Student Service Fund, is planning a drive to raise money for the help of college students in Europe. Keep this fact in mind, students, and start saving for your contribution.

Suzie Modesett and Barbara Hodges are to go to the nominating convention to vote for the club's nominees for Board of Control. The candidates selected are: Berdell Smith for 4 quarter man or woman, Margaret Lutro for 4 quarter woman. In addition to these elections, Marian Armstrong is to represent Blue Triangle at AWS commission. Lois Stocking was chosen for the freshmen representative to Blue Triangle cabinet.

WEAVING SHOP INSPECTED

Fisherman's Cove was the scene of a dinner party for members of the Colheconomists club and their guests Thursday, October 23. Following dinner, the participants went to the Barber residence on Gooseberry Point where they inspected Mrs. Barber's home weaving shop. Club members extended thanks to Miss Countryman, Mrs. Mildred Van Niese, Mrs. Germain, and Lois Rowe for the use of their cars.

The next Colheconomist meeting will be held November 13. All new and old members are urged to attend and hear Mrs. EdLane Brinson speak.

To elect officers and to make plans for the coming swimming exhibition was the purpose of the Blue Barnacles meeting held at the pool last Monday. Past president Shirli Stamatis took charge of the meeting until Dorothy Gruver was elected president. Kathy Redmond, vice-president, and Jane Clothier, secretary.

The pageant, to be held at the end of fall quarter, will be under the guidance of Miss Margaret Aitken.

Trips For Writers

Six trips to the Scandinavian countries in the summer of 1948 with all expenses paid will be first and second prizes for the best essays on "The Influence of Swedish Settlers on a Community or Region" in a contest sponsored by the Swedish American Line.

The essays, written in English, may concern a person—man or woman of Swedish birth or descent—anywhere in the United States or Canada. While the subject need not be a person of national prominence or of historical importance, it must be one who has exerted an influence on a community or region. The essay may also concern a colony, group, society, church or organization, past or present.

Sophistication Reigns At Norsemen's Dance

Full fashions were previewed at the Norsemen's Dance Friday night. The full skirted black taffeta worn by Donna Westall definitely reflected the new silhouette. Made very simply with snug fitting waist, the dress featured a wide sash of plaid taffeta tied in a bustle-like knot at the back. Dolly MacArthur's grey flannel suit was given just the right amount of emphasis by the addition of one of the brightly hand-painted scarves so widely in use this season. A touch of "Vogue" was added to the evening by Bev Rothlisberg who chose a smooth and rather sophisticated dress of dark brown crepe.

Social Dance Class Becomes Popular

Social dancing classes, under the direction of Mrs. Georgellen Schuske, have become so popular that they have been made into separate classes. One class will meet each Monday evening at 7:30, while the other will be held Tuesday evenings, same time, in the junior high gym.

The group has learned many interesting steps since the beginning of the class. The most popular one is the "magic step," which can be danced efficiently to music either slow or moderately fast. Additional steps learned are the "conversational," the "swing," the "box" and lastly the so popular "jitterbug."

Mrs. Schuske makes the class interesting by having the girls form a circle inside a circle of boys and rotating them in opposite direction until the music stops—then the boy dances with the girl nearest him. This is done several times throughout the class. Ordinarily all the steps are practiced each period rather than spending the entire hour and a half on only one step.

Social Dance Class Becomes Popular

Classes and more informal activities are also bringing to light new fashions—this time in the sports line. For instance that soft blue angora sweater Madge McKeever wears and Marian Natrass's plaid skirt which follows straight lines to the knee where it flares out in pleats. Shirli Stamatis's "robin hood" shoes of brown suede with the peaked flaps over the ankles share first place for novel footwear with Jo Knowles' red leather sandals which have pointed pixie-like toes.

It seems the feminine element of WWC has accepted the "New Look" (including long skirts) almost unanimously and despite the protests of the men.

Scott Tours State

Miss Patricia Scott, a former student of Western Washington College, graduated in journalism from the University of California last spring.

Miss Scott, with two of her friends, went on an extensive tour of the United States this summer. The girls drove across country to Boston, New York, and Washington, D. C. Later on they traveled to Montreal, Canada, where they stayed with a French family.

1943 editor of the WWC Collegian, Miss Scott plans to continue in the field of journalism.

Friendless Students Relax in Infirmary

Set up as an isolation unit for all major and minor communicable diseases the student infirmary is located on the road behind the campus school. Students are cared for free of charge for five days during the academic year. Any additional care must be paid for by the student at the rate of $2.50 per day. In case of serious illness there are two hospitals in Bellingham which are available to the student.

To safeguard against spreading of diseases Mrs. Mary R. Amidon requests that no students visit friends in the infirmary.

Dr. Lapp's Squad Smothers North Idaho--30-0 Tally

Refreshingly different from the setback suffered at the hands of PLC, Western Washington came back Saturday night with a 30-0 victory over the North Idaho State Loggers of Lewiston, Idaho.

The first quarter saw Walt Clayton, Lappy's conversion artist, start the scoring spurge with a field goal from the Loggers 10 yard line. Twenty yards from their goal, the Idaho eleven failed to do much.

The Vik 37 yard line was the starting point for a Western march that resulted in 6 more points for the first half tally. The theme of the touchdown play was razzle dazzle, in the form of Hal Partlow, end, taking the ball on and end around for a four yard dance over the Idaho home line. 9-0 was the fate handed to the lads from Idaho as the half-time gun sounded.

Viks Show Power

The Vik forward wall was responsible for the next score to be chalked up. Frank Gayda, back for Western, fumbled the ball to have it recovered by Idaho. When Gordon White, punter for the Loggers, attempted to kick out of trouble, behind his own goal line, the kick was blocked, for an automatic safety. The kickoff saw the Viks roll again, when Truman Pones returned the ball to the Idaho 43. The Vik power and backfield elusiveness came through again, and Svidran plowed over from the 3 yard line for another third period score. Clayton's kick was good. Gil Stewart set up the next Blue and White tally with a recovery on the Logger 13 yard line. Poe powered his way over from the five yard mark.

Simpson to Scoll

With replacements leading the field the Viks-clicked again. Lee Simpson flipped one to Bob Scoll, and the lad took off for touchdown territory. In the last few minutes of play Western threatened again, only to be turned back by a fighting Logger defense.

Coach Lapp's Head Men On The Football Field

Cowboy Keown Guards Again

By CECIL THOMAS

Possibly a little older than the average of the Viking squad but absolutely no less versatile, 25 year old Chuck "Cowboy" Keown has proved himself to be one of the most able right guards ever to play in the Vik lineup. When necessary, "Cowboy" also fills the quarterback position with near equal ability. With a 5 ft. 7 in. 190 lb. frame to maneuver against the opposition, he proves that he's a tough opponent to any opposing defense or offense thrown up. Not only is he fast, but a slick customer to hold onto the field.

Nebraskan at Heart

Hailing from Ord, Nebraska, "Cowboy" previously played guard for WWC in 1941. Possibly this is where he got the experience which is invaluable to him today.

After serving some time as a Navy Chief in World War II, Chuck has returned to WWC under the GI Bill of Rights. This is undoubtedly a break for the Vik football squad.

Too Bad Girls

A junior this year, Chuck is married and the proud father of twins. This alone could give the Nebraskan the fighting spirit for which he is known on the field.

Amateur Hoopsters Show Promise

After a start of team confusion the intramural leagues are settling down to some good ball. In the early stages of the league some of the teams would forget when to play, but they are organized now, and are progressing fine. Both leagues have a leader, undefeated no less, at least at the present time.

Here are the game scores for last week: Friday, the Playboys were swamped by Lost Ten, 99 to 15; Mathes lost a close one to the Collegians, 22 to 18, in the B league. In the A league the D Horns squeezed a 21 to 18 win from the Five Aces, and the Hoboes went into overtime to defeat the A Bombers, 25 to 24. Tuesday, Sehome was dunked by the flying Swedes, 36 to 21, in the B while the Unknowns took a 43 to 29 decision in the A league from the Southenders. Tuesday, in the B league, the Comets whipped the Playboys 64 to 16, and Daniels eked out a hardfought win over Mathes, 36 to 35. In the A league the Teetotallers lost to the A Bombers, 41 to 32, while the Five Aces beat Hospice 28 to 24.

Casaba Sport Lures Stars

Big Bill McDonald was greeted by approximately 60 ball players, Monday, October 27, the first day of basketball turnout for the '47 season. This group is one of the largest that has ever turned out for Western Washington. Many of last year's lettermen are still in football uniforms, and will not be ready for the first contest of the year, when the Viks meet the U. of W. November 21.

Condition Important

The players found that physical condition is an important factor in the casaba sport at Western, when they went through a rugged 15 minute scrimmage the first night. The bulletin, in the halls, will be more crowded than ever Thursday morning, as that is the means by which Coach McDonald will let his prospective ball players know of the first team cut. Twenty men will be all that will be out on the maple court Thursday night.

Future Coaches In Making

By LILLIBRIDGE

For the first time in his long coaching career at Western, Head Coach Chuck Lappenbusch has three assistants to help him with his overburdening duties. Two of the assistants are former WWC lettermen and field generals.

In Coach Chorvat, Lappy has one of the top field generals of the school. Chorvat played two years at half before moving up to quarter. In 1938 he quarterbacked the Viking team to a Winco championship. Chorvat is now backfield coach for the Vikings and also travels with the club.

Lappy's end coach, Dick Abrams, is a former Bellingham high star and a two year letterman at Washington State College. He does most of the scouting for the Viks and runs a feed store in Bellingham as a full time job.

The line coach position goes to another Western quarterback in the person of Les Smith. Les was field general on last year's squad and a terrific defensive man. Smith has had much to do with the shaping together of that big Viking line. He is still attending school at WWC as a full time enterprise.

Vik Squad Flies For Whitworth Battle; Pine Bowl Tomorrow

WWC's hard fighting Viks will fly high for their game with Whitworth college at the Pine Bowl in Spokane tomorrow afternoon.

A total of 21 of Coach Lappenbusch's gridsters will board a West Coast Airlines plane at the Bellingham airport around 8:30 Saturday morning and will arrive at the Spokane airport at approximately 10:00 o'clock. Although 36 men will make the trip, only the first 21 chosen to play will fly. The remainder have left in cars.

Although the use of the plane necessitates digging a little deeper into the expense funds, in the long run it will prove its worth. Two viewpoints are that it will enable the boys to sleep in their own beds and therefore get more rest, and also will not be necessary to miss any

Coach Stannard's boys use a modification of a single wing and sometimes a wingback in motion. They seem to particularly like to use a shovelpass behind the line for the wingback coming around.

Classes because of having to leave too early. The players making the trip via air will leave Spokane at 4:30 Saturday afternoon and will arrive at Bellingham in time for supper.

Worthy Opponents

Coach Lappenbusch states that in his estimation, the hardest game fought last season was against Whitworth college and more of the same fighting spirit can be expected when the Viks tangle with them Saturday. If the Vikings win the game, it will be a decisive victory over a very worthy opponent inas-

The change in altitude for the game has made it necessary for Coach Lappy's boys to take a rugged drill this week in preparation for the conflict.

Score to Even Up

In their recent game with Cheney, Whitworth lost a heartbreaker which will more than ever give them a fighting spirit which might prove hard to break.

One of the biggest threats offered by the Spokane eleven stands in the form of Tucker, who according to scouting notes was rated the best back on the field against Cheney. He proved himself as an excellent passer, a good kicker and a fast runner. Filling the other position for the Whitworth squad will be Cotlis at fullback, Deg at quarterback, Kuzion at right half, Colstad at center, Jones and Swanson at

Straight From The Bench

... by peters

Dr. Lapp's hilltop boys are far from out of the conference race and they demonstrated this in a non-conference tilt with the North Idaho State Teachers last Saturday. They completely overran the Loggers and chalked up an impressive 30-0 victory. The first tally was made by the man with the educated toe, Walt Clayton, as he kicked a field goal from the 10 yard line in the first few minutes of the game. Hal Partlow took the ball about midway in the second quarter and went four yards around end for the score. In the third period the Loggers attempted to kick out from their 8 but the attempt was fouled by most of the Vik squad, which rushed in and blocked it for an automatic safety—making the count 11-0.

Although Clayton didn't make the extra point on Hal Partlow's play he did connect after Art Svidran carried the ball over from the three yard line. Early in the fourth period Gil Stewart recovered Gordon White's fumble on the Idaho 13. After a penalty Big Tom Poe took the ball five yards for the count. Dr. Lapp kept throwing in replacements and then on a pass play, Lee Simpson to Bob Scoll, Scoll picked up a lot of friendly interference and took a short jog across.

Western's air arm was much more accurate than it has been for some time. The squad completed six passes of twelve attempts. The Idaho teachers, in eleven tries, only completed two. The line play of Western was really outstanding and they dished out some real punishment to the Loggers. Bob Gates did a fine job as quarterback, taking Mel Lindbloom's place.

Twenty-two Western ball players, Coach Bill McDonald, trainer, and Les Smith, assistant coach, will leave Bellingham by plane tomorrow morning. This is the first time in the season that the ball club has used planes. This morning three cars of players left to try to beat the rest over to the dueling grounds.

Looks as if Coach Bill McDonald can really take his pick for this year's basketball squad—more than 60 players turned out for the first day of practice—last Monday. However, many of last year's lettermen are still in football uniforms and therefore will miss the first game of the season. Of the 60 men that first turned out he will pick twenty from which he may choose prospective team members.

Look out Whitworth! The Vikings are still very much on the warpath and they're headed your way! After handing the North Idaho Teachers a 30-0 whitewashing, which is more lopsided than most had expected, the Viks went right back into training for the Spokane contest tomorrow. Luckily Coach Lappenbusch's squad pulled through with no serious injuries so they are all set for the Pirates' homecoming game, but by the looks of things that will be a tough game. Not only will the thin air be hard to cope with for the Blue and White squad but the Whitworth boys will be full of homecoming spirit and also, they will be playing on their own field.

Coach Lapp is well satisfied with the way the starting lineup worked out last Saturday so he plans to use the same men to start tomorrow. However, if Mel Lindbloom is able to play he will probably take the quarterback position, instead of Bob Gates. This set up will put Jack Frazier in the center position with "Moose" Zurline and George Yonlick at tackle. Right and left ends will be taken over by Hal Partlow and Dave Smith while Jim Kent and George Salesgiver are put down as guards. Lee Stout and Jerry Karnofski will take care of the halfback positions and Art Svidran is left to manage as fullback.

The first round of intramural basketball ends November 18. However, there will be enough time for the six top teams to play a second round. The teams are becoming more evenly matched and the final scores are closer together—except for one or two lopsided games. Both of the leagues have a decided, undefeated leader—at the present time. But they are going to have to go some to keep ahead of the rest of the league. A couple of those squads down in the lower brackets are looking pretty good.
