COME TO THE PARTY . . . you are all cordially invited to attend a few small social get-togethers at the close of next week. Invitations have been offered by a group of WWC's illustrious professors. The only requirements stressed are that you attend in person (no facsimiles accepted) with two well sharpened pencils with wits to match. While these events are open to anyone in college, it is advisable that you more or less stick by the prof. whose voice has had such a sedative effect all quarter. GOOD LUCK AND MAY THE GOD-DESS OF WISDOM LOOK OVER YOUR SHOULDER FROM TIME TO TIME.

Impressive Christmas Vespers Enchant Overflow Crowd

legian

An overflow crowd sat as if enchanted from the opening number, "Come All Ye Faithful", throughout the hour long Christmas Vesper program presented in the college library last Sunday. Miss Meredith Hess' soprano rendition of "The Holy Child" was especially well received. Other feature attractions of the afternoon included: Miss Barbara Stockton, soprano soloist; Doris Dunn and Glen Bergh, soloist parts; girls' trio, and two numbers by the men's quartet. Music lovers who missed this performance will be offered another chance to be the listening audience next Tuesday when many of the Vesper Services numbers will be repeated in the Christmas program

Aliens Sought

All non-citizens, or students holding dual citizenship papers, enrolled at WWC are requested to see Marjorie Kingsley in the Registrar's office today or Monday.

Information must be forwarded to the Institute of International Education, Washington, D. C.

Proteges Perambulate For March of Dimes

Miss or Mr. WWC 1967 will be in the spotlight from the week of January 12 until January 23 as Barbara Ritchie, chairman of the March of Dimes drive for the college, announces the grand, squalling opening of an all-college BABY REVUE.

Simple rules stressed by the committee indicate that the you must be derived from regularly enrolled WWC students, and must be old enough to walk, but not over three years of age. Photographs which will be taken free of charge by a local photographer, will be placed on the main hall bulletin board with coin containers under each picture. Students will register their choice by dropping dimes into their favorite candidate's collection box. Stuffing of the ballot boxes is not only legal, but encouraged. All proceeds will be forwarded to the March of Dimes headquarters for the eradication of Infantile Paralysis.

No Oratory Expected

Announcements of winners and personal appearances of all contestants will be at a regular assembly in late January. Prizes, donated by local merchants, will be awarded winners. Contestants will not be expected to say a few words.

"Your votes for these youngsters who are barely able to toddle now will act as insurance that more and more children throughout the world will have an equal opportunity with them," said Miss Ritchie.

Names Needed Now

To gather an idea of how many parents would like to enter their proteges it is requested that all interested leave their name with Vern Matthews in the Collegian room before Christmas vacation.

Impressive Display Adds Attractions

Another feature has been added to the already impressive display of the late Kerr Eby's collection of artists drawings and sketches now being exhibited in the art gallery of

Miss Hazel Plympton has revealed that the Art department has received photos of a private collection of Eby's favorite drawings of action on Tarawa.

Klipsun Kards Still Available At Coop

Klipsun Explains Operating Procedure To Clarify 1947's Technical Deficit; Lounge Situation Demands Action Now

Further information concerning the 1947 Klipsun's technical deficit was presented at the Board of Control meeting held last Wednesday, December 10, by Betty McLeod, annual editor; Barbara Cozza, business manager; and Mrs. Ruth R. Rurnet, publications adviser, the board was advised as to how the Klipsun staff operates and how the business is

Variety Offered Music Lovers

Students of Western Washington College will be entertained Tuesday, December 16 in the coilege auditorium by the annual Christmas program which will be presented by the Music department.

This program will feature a variety of talent. The college band, under the direction of Don Walter, will play a collection of Christmas carols; the girls' trio, consisting of Janet Harris, Doris Dunn and Bessie James, will entertain the audience with a sequence of French carols. The male quartet, composed of Duane Lewis, Glen Burgh, Fred DeBruler and Roland Peterson, will sing two selections; the a capella choir will sing "Jesus, Tender Savior," and "White Christmas" under the direction of Bernard Regier.

"Andante Cantabile," one of Tschakowsky's great pieces, will be presented by Dr. Frank D'Andrea, Norma Jean Swan, Lia Chiorande, and Jeanne Hinthorne, in the form of the college string quartet. Patricia Paul and Patricia Wright will each sing a soprano solo, and Mary Ann Teichroew and Glen Bergh will carry the solo parts in Gretchaninoff's "Only Begotten Son" and "The Angel and the Shepherd."

It was pointed out that the 1947 year book had not exceeded its budget although there is a technical deficit of $299.31. The Klipsun staff had been advised by the business office last June that the book would have a surplus of approximately $400, but in October, they were informed that there was a deficit of $299.31. There may be a possibility that the G.I. reimbursements have not yet been accredited to the Klipsun account. The matter was tabled by the Board pending further investigation. Lounge Situation Grave

Approving the use of the lounge for two dates, January 5, registration, and January 15, the Publications party, the Board proceeded to take up the problem of how to keep the lounge clean. In view of the fact that there has been a lot of unfavorable criticism about the uncleanliness in the lounge, it was suggested that a lounge committee be appointed to work with the lounge managers. The problem was tackled from another angle by the assertion that larger ash trays were needed. The issue was tabled for a period of one week

Two other matters were discussed. The proposal that a committee be appointed to evaluate Homecoming for the permanent report was discussed. Although it was agreed that henceforth, all the major social events should be evaluated fairly, no decision was reached as to what method would be used.

Active Studes Tapped For National Honors

Scholarship, Service, Leadership, Basis For Selection of Who's Who Members

Special national recognition was awarded 15 WWC students today when Miss Lorraine Powers, dean of women, released the names of those tapped by "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Selections were made on the basis of scholarship rating, service to the student body, and leadership in campus activities.

Choir Program Attracts Critic

By JUNE HARDIN

Opening the Christmas Vesper services Sunday, the a capella choir, under the direction of Bernard Reger, filed into the library singing "O Come All Ye Faithful." The choir stood at the west end of the reading room which was decorated in typical Christmas style, giving the appearance of an altar.

Outstanding among the soloists were Meredith Hess and Barbara Stockton, sopranos. Miss Hess sang "The Holy Child" and Miss Stockton "The Virgin's Slumber Song." Doris Dunn and Glen Bergh also had solo parts.

The men's quartet, as usual giving full justice to their reputation, gave two selections: "O Come, O Come Immanuel" and "Sweet Little Jesus

Very impressive on the program was the girls' trio. consisting of Janet Harris, Doris Dunn and Bessie James. They sang, very beautifully two French carols, "Christmas Day is Here" and "Joseph and the Shepherds." Miss Mira Booth is their

Avoid The Rush Register Now

Absolutely and positively the last chance for any sophomore, junior, or senior to avoid the post-Christmas registration rush for Winter quarter is being offered Monday. December 15. Delinquent students will register January 5 with the thundering herd.

Complete instructions will be included in the envelope containing Fall quarter grades, which will be in the mail before the holiday season is over. Fees are to be paid in the Business office during the hour preceding the appointed registration time. All veterans will report to room 112 instead of the student lounge.

Students to receive the honor were: Donelda J. Barnhill, Donna R. Brown, Gloria Carey, Robert Dickson, Robert Frazier, Wade Haggard, Robert Moblo, James Sanford and

Barbara Stockton. Other students chosen were: Mike Smith. William Wilder, Kathleen Brodahl, Donald Brown, Halldor Karason and Arnold Lahti. Certificates of merit will be awarded to these students later in the school

Five recipients of the award-Barnhill, Brown, Lahti, Sanford and Wilder-were also elected to "Who's Who" last year.

Chosen by Local Committee

Nominations were made by a student-faculty committee and confirmed by "Who's Who." An objective point system was employed as a guide in the selections. Only upperclassmen were eligible for nom-

Roughly 70 students from WWC have been listed in "Who's Who" since the college was invited to submit nominations in 1939. The quota this year, based on total enrollment, was 13 nominations, plus two extras if the committee desired to use

Pook Used in Placement

"Who's Who is sponsored by a private agency. It serves as a nationwide index of potential leadership and may also be used as a basis of professional assignments by placement bureaus.

Old English Comedy Production Begins

With the successful productions of "The Skin of Our Teeth" now only a happy memory, the Division of Drama is beginning work on the Winter quarter show, "She Stoops to Conquer," an old-English comedy by Oliver Goldsmith.

The cast calls for four women and seven men. Students interested in doing dramatic work are urged to read the show over the holidays. There will be a try-out on Thursday, January 8, in room 308 from 3 to 5 p. m. Students cast in the play will receive from 1 to 3 credits.

"She Stoops to Conquer" will be presented in the Campus school auditorium the first week in March. There will be several sponsored performances by town organizations.

Public Misconception Named As Handicap to Institutions

That one of the largest handicaps mental hospitals have to operate under is public misconception, was verified by clinical instructor Miss Jo Rowland of the Northern State Hospital, last Saturday as students of Sociology 101 visited the institution.

"This misconception of mental hospitals by the general public is on the decrease," said Miss Rowland, "but, it is only through a prodigious en-

Until such time as we can obtain the support and backing of every citizen we will continue to operate under undue circumstances."

Miss Rowland, with the assistance of Miss Margaret Moffet, senior cadet nurse, led the group headed by Donald P. Irish through many of the wards, buildings and grounds. Included in wards visited were the Men's and Women's Administration ward, Men's and Women's Hospital ward, Male Epileptic and Mental Deficiency ward, and the Women's Disturbed units. Modern methods of treatment were explained by Miss Rowland.

Sociologists Tour Mental Hospital

One of the outstanding features of the Northern State hospital noticeable to members of Sociology class who visited that institution last week was the prevailing inter-feeling of mutual trust and respect accorded to the hospital staff members by patients and vice versa. Critics of state mental hospitals have in the past made much ado over the reported ill treatment of patients by staff members. If such treatment does exist it was evident to the touring sociologists that its existence is elsewhere than at NSH. The wholesome, cleanly, cheerful atmosphere prevailing there was encouraging to a group that before had been exposed only to second-hand facts.

Several other myths expounded by critics were exploded by veteran nurse Miss Jo Rowland during the tour. No patient is forced to participate in the work required to keep the community operating unless the therapy value to be gained from such work makes it necessary. No evidence of padded cells were to be seen although all parts of the 54 buildings comprising the community were offered for inspection. For the protection of patients too violent to be at large strong rooms are available, but only used in extreme cases. Patients whose families can afford to pay part of the expenses incurred are charged $40 per month. No discrimination is made between privately and state supported inmates. A staff of competent doctors, psychiatrists, nurses and attendants handle the medical attention of the 2,100 patients.

YULE GIFTS REQUESTED

An appeal for Christmas presents for patients has been made and highly publicized in newspapers and radio throughout the state for the past few weeks. Under present ruling the purchasing of gifts with state supplied funds is prohibited. As a consequence it is only through the open hearted actions of Washington residents that inmates will enjoy Christmas as it is portrayed in American homes today. The delight of patients over simple articles was evident to the students making the tour last Saturday. Miss Rowland stated that decorations, trees and even Santa Claus will be available. It is only through the good will of relatives, friends, and citizens that patients will enjoy the traditional gift opening though. Packages may be mailed direct to Northern State Hospital, Sedro-Woolley

Local Man Comes As Instructor

Have you seen, in prosaic literature ,the words, "home town boy makes good?" Here at WWC, in the person of George H. McMeen, newly arrived mathematics instructor, is the realization of the meaning of that phrase.

Born in Bellingham, McMeen attended Lowell grade school, was graduated from the campus school, and attended WWC, receiving the BA in education in 1934.

"Why, I was here before a lot of the oldtime instructors," laughed the eager, friendly instructor.

McMeen began teaching in 1934 in the ninth grade in Everett. His subjects were mathematics and his-

Leaving Everett, McMeen joined the navy, was commissioned and sent to the Pan American school of navigation in Miami, Florida, to learn the intricacies of aerial navigation. After completing his course McMeen became a navigation instructor himself, then went overseas as navigator for the admiral of the commander of the South Pacific.

Following his discharge early in 1946, McMeen returned to Everett, this time to teach mathematics at Everett junior college.

Last summer McMeen received a Master's degree at the University of Washington.

Letters to the Editor

Just how many of you students reading this paper know what went on in last week's Board of Control meeting? Aren't you interested in what goes on here in our school? Well, I am and I have a few ideas. Here they are: Why doesn't each club or school organization choose one or more representatives to just sit in on the meetings and make a report of all material discussed, or a bulletin should be published every month with every action taken by the board recorded so that it might be read by all interested students. I have just one other idea: why not make all Board of Control meetings open to anyone who wishes to attend? I am sure some of us are interested enough in our school to attend. I know I am. -A Freshman

Ed. Note: The A.S.B. prexy has assured us that all Board of Control meetings are open to interested students. Meetings are covered, and reported as accurately and fully as space permits, by a WW Collegian reporter. However, we are inclined to agree that a published account of the Board's actions should be available to all. But, what is done is done. wouldn't putting the horse before the cart (have more publicity on matters before they are acted on) be a better idea?

"Centuries before Communism was heard of, our ancestors found their bugbear in Islam. As lately as the sixteenth century, Islam inspired the same hysteria in western hearts as Communism does in the twentieth, and this essentially for the same reasons. Like Communism, Islam was an anti-western movement which was at the same time a heretical version of a western Faith; and, like Communism, it wielded a sword of spirit against which there was no defense in material armaments.'

Oh, those off-campus girls, what they did. How about that Barbara and Katherine? . . . We hear Gerry Dillion really took her man out in style Friday night, chicken dinner and everything . . . Peggy Nunamaker, Doris Pauls, Phyllis Threlkeld. June Hardin. and Neva McIntyre were also seen escorting their beaux to the Tolo. Have fun? . . . And then there were the girls who didn't go. How about that Lois and Pat. By the way, who did the third gal disappear with? (As if we didn't know.)

Forest Inn

Life is very hectic nowadays, at least here. Everyone has a term paper to hand in and we all waited until the last minute. Our housemother says no more diets. Remember that, Lindy and Flea . . . Patsy Clark and Tillie Thiel are now well known in all the men's shops having examined each and every sweater before buying . . . Shirley Haggblom got more phone calls last weekend. The reason—Dick was in Bellingham.

Blessing's Hall

All of the little blessings have been counting the days until Christmas vacation. In case you didn't know-there are exactly seven more days! . . . This week we learned that when we come back from vacation, a new house mother will be awaiting us. We bid a fond farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Blessing and extend a hearty greeting to Mrs. Peterson . . . Blessing hall was well represented at the civic concert—six of the ten gals who live here performed. They are: Shirley Hamer, Ruth Antonnen, Rosie Wallace, Helen Johnson, Haroldine Ruthruff, and Joyce Ruthruff.

Harborview

"Short sheets," cracker crumbs, and pouring ice-water on pin curls seemed to be the main events at Harborview this week. We all knew it couldn't be peaceful for a whole quarter!" Closed week-end, Ugh! . . . The AWS tolo showed many new couples. Dollv McArthur took Bud Yonlick, Connie Martin was seen with Bill Baker, Margie Kingsley went with Herb, and of course Meredith Hess and Art Runnestrand were together. It seems that boys proved to be rather expensive!

Hospice Inn

"Anyone caught boning for quarter exams at Hospice Inn during the coming week shall be expelled from this fine fraternity without further delay." Something about bringing up class averages, we think. At the same time, everybody's studying . . . hard.

. . . Fred Gaboury and Jim Loring went a-flyin' last Sunday and thrilled us all with a few spins out over the bay . . . Christmas shopping lists are being made up left and right. Mrs. Stearns, housemother, has captured the spirit of the season by hanging up a large holly wreath on the front door.

Chatter Box

Password of the day: "Have you finished your term paper?" Frank Watkins finished his paper just in time to eat breakfast. Bill Barron's eyes are still red from lack of sleep due to his term paper. June Carrick seems to be quite busy with these themes. June Hardin heaved a deep sigh of relief and screamed madly, "I'm through, I'm through!"

Our boys were really on the ball' Tuesday night against Seattle college. Speaking of Seattle college, we wonder what that cute boy on the Chieftain team thought when PAT RORNSTEIN harked at him. The Seattle college rooting section really had a lot of pep even though there weren't very many of them. Do you think we could do as well at an out of town game?

"Holly Holiday" drew a large crowd of the college set last Friday night. Some of the couples dancing to the music of George Hankins were Doreen Short and Bob Underhill. Mary Catherine Schive and Wally Miller, Lee Evy and Everett Tiland, Kay Beatty and Les Winders, and Dolly McArthur and George Yonlick.

Strapless and off-the-shoulder formals seemed to predominate at the dance. Virginia Prim looked sweet and lovely in a blue and black plaid one-shouldered dress. Joyce Ruthruff wore a black taffeta ballet length dress. Miss Lucille Reiman, one of the patronesses, wore a lowcut white formal accented with huge lifelike leaves on the skirt. She was escorted by Declan Barron.

Everyone had a swell time at the Collegian party at MRS. BURNET'S home Tuesday evening. The food was wonderful and everyone had fun playing cards. Seems as if CECIL THOMAS couldn't find the house and spent all evening looking for it.

Pinochle is still the rage at Western. Haroldine Ruthruff, Don Olson, Shirley Hammer, Norm Sansregret, Pete Bylsma, Sidney Vos. Don Key, Lloyd Vanette and David Quam are a few of the card sharks. Don Jones, Bey Follis, Howie Larson and Jerry Waddell are a few of the lucky ones who know how to play bridge.

Speaking of lucky ones how about Shirli Stamatis, who is spending Christmas in Los Angeles. She also plans to visit Greg Peck and a few of her Hollywood buddies.

That's about all for this week.

Vikings, 59; Chieftains, 46. This is what the scoreboard looked like at 10 p. m. Tuesday. The ball game was a thriller from the opening whistle until the final buzzer.

The scoring started when Jerry Starr got two foul shots and dumped them both. It was the Vikings all the way. Seattle college pulled even twice, but couldn't quite get the scoring punch to pull ahead of the Blue and game. Seattle college commit-

Louis Shown New Angle Apparently last week's bout the decision came as a just and between Jersey Joe Walcott and the champ has raised some strong and (if you will excuse the term) "wicked" verbal conflicts among the nations fight fans. To many of the spectators and listeners alike, the decision of the judges came as a lethal blow. To many others rightful conclusion to the 15round championship bout.

For those who are uneasy on the verdict reached, they have the consolation that Jersey Joe had weak management in last Friday night's fight but will take undisputed lead over the return bout next June.

Straight From The Bench by peters

JUST A NOTE . . . Dedicated to those who didn't see the Blue and White in action last Tuesday—no excuses, I know there were plenty-you missed one of the fastest games that has been played on the Hilltop boards for quite some time. One of the hottest and one of the best. Take a gander at that score-book . . . 59 to 46—not a thing wrong with that. Again it was the Arlington boy who took the lead, Starr collected a total of 23 points, Moose Zurline was next in line with 13.

You should have seen Dan Rosser-he was really hot that night, and from the way Mac is mumbling he has golden hopes for Dan. That tall fellow out there with the stiff joints was Bob Cline. A little limbering up and Bob will be all set to get up with the high pointers-wait and see. Tom Green and Pinky Erickson, the two boys who never worry about getting tired, come out on the short end of the deal-for being old McDonald chattel and all that. Tom has eight points to his credit and Pinky just doesn't TALK OF THE TOWN and the talk that is heard everywhere is the talk of the Louis-Walcott fight. Sure . . . Dr. Thundergloves has his name down on the docket as the heavyweight champion of the world, but did he really win the fight? In a low voice, he said to Joe Walcott as they embraced right after the bout, "I'm sorry, Joe. it's not my fault." There was quite a turmoil followed the fight. The crowds booed the decision-not Louis -as the announcer raised the champ's right hand. But Louis had no desire to exult in his victory and the glove never got higher than his shoulder. When Walcott's trainer, Dan Florio, dragged Walcott out into the center of the ring and raised his hand the crowd just about went crazy.

Immediately after the bout there was talk of a return match. This has been temporarily settled, and the two fighters are scheduled to meet again in June-this time at the Yankee Stadium in New York-that is, if Jersey Joe Walcott will accept 20 per cent of a probable million dollar gate.

After that impressive showing made by Walcott, Billy Conn is reported to be considering a comeback with Louis. Don't forget Willy-Joe is still a good man . . . although if he is going to retire he had better get busy.

LEAGUE LOG . . . Last Saturday the Washington State Cougars went on a scoring spree when they played Whitworthians. The Cougars wrote up a 78-48 win over the Pirates. High point men were: Ed Gayda of WSC with 14 points and Earl Mortlock

Pacific Lutheran dedicated their new gym with a game against the U. of W. and lost it to the tune of 61 to 36. The Thunderbirds of British Columbia just edged out our rivals of last Wednesday by one point in a thrilling well fought game. Score: 59 to 58.

Salem, Oregon; Central Washington doused the Willamette crew to the tune of 77-60. Let by guard Fred Peterson, Central piled up a 39-22 half-time margin and held the lead throughout the final periods. Peterson was high man with 23 points. B. Johnson of Willamette was just one point behind.

By the way the Savages lost one of their most valuable hoop men-Irv Leafer. He is regarded by coach Red Reese as one of the greatest basketball players in the Pacific Northwest. Reese, whose squad won 12 games and lost one last season, admits that his squad won't be as strong as it has been for a couple of years.

In a practice game last Tuesday, Cheney barely copped the edge in another one lucky point game. George Gabelhouse's free throw in the final seconds of the game cinched the tally-44 to 43.

Little All-America . . . was what the board said that they hung on Don D'Andrea, big center for Pacific Lutheran. His teammate, Eldon Kyllo, a really rugged tackle, received honorable mention in the selections.

Inspiration By Teammates

By a large majority of votes cast by his fellow team mates, Tom Poe was elected as the inspirational player of the 1947 WW football squad. The announcement of the decision by the Vik team was made by Coach Lappy at the annual high school-college banquet sponsored by the Bellingham Lions club Wednesday evening at Chuckanut Shell.

Coach Lappy brought forward the points which greatly enhanced "Big Tom's" chances for the inspirational nomination. High on the list was his fine sportsmanship and great enthusiasm brought out in both practice and team play. It also brought forward that he is a true leader and a real asset to the coaching and athletic field. It is a great honor to be elected by a player's teammates as an inspiration to the team and probably no one could better qualify for the honor team than "Big Tom."

Hailing from Longview, Poe completed his second year as fullback on the Vik grid squad this season. Because of shoulder injuries he was unable to play in the important CPS and Eastern games which came as a big loss to the backfield strat-

Coast Ball Not Up To Set Standards

By BILL BAKER

"What is the matter with Pacific Coast football?" The greats of the West pitted against the greats of the East is nothing but a cat and mouse paradox.

The outcome of the Notre Dame-USC game last Saturday was enough to put Pacific Coast football in the same category with Pacific Coast baseball. Why? Universities of the coast league boast larger student bodies than most eastern colleges; they have just as much money. Of course the reason couldn't be that students graduating from Pacific Coast high schools, with any outstanding ability, are promptly snapped up by Eastern institutions. Or could it?

Joe goes to Podunk high school, he is an outstanding field general in the gridiron sport. "Go East Joe, that's where all the football greats are made. Why man, I hear they even give you good money for playing ball back there." Perry Moss, all American quarterback, was raised in Seattle. He even got as far as the front door to the Husky gridiron. Moss played a wonderful game at the '46 Rose Bowl for a crack Illinois outfit. Yale is now sporting an outstanding end that also went to high school in Seattle. These and many others have listened to the call of the East, and left the Pacific Coast for a better deal.

In four weeks the best of the Pacific Coast meets the best of the Big Nine. The outcome is already pre-destined, odds are heavy in favor of Michigan. Yet Pacific Coast fans are paying as much as $75 per seat to see the obvious. Keep our Joes at home. Then, and only then, will we have championship football will meet a powerful University of der the hoop; he never gives up Washington quintet in the Husky arena tonight at 8 p.m. Again the Viks are setting out to upset a highly favored varsity team. Remember the U. of W. has never lost a game to the hilltoppers.

Vikings Head South For Second Clash With University Five

Let's have a look-see at the starting university five and some of their past records. Sammy White is forward for Art McLarney's casaba artists. "Bouncing Sammy" was born and raised in Seattle; his career at Lincoln high school was spotted with athletic honors. He made allcity in both basketball and baseball in his senior year. Jack Nichols, center for the Huskies, and usually high point man, hails from down California way. The tipster made sports headlines in his sophomore year at UBC. Bob Jorgenson, two year letterman, is a cinch to start at the other forward position. Jorgenson also starred at prep ball in the Seattle city league.

Able Contender

A name that has always been liinked with Husky football comes to light on the maples. Gail Bruce, three year football letterman, has proven himself an able contender for one of the guard spots. Bruce excelled in the casaba sport at Puyallup. Whitney King, another football standout as well as basketball, will in all probability start in the other guard position. Art McLarney, skipper for the Husky hoopsters, was coaching basketball at Roosevelt in Seattle when he took over the Washington coaching job, vacated by Hec Edmundson. Good Shape

The Viking basketballers have looked pretty sharp in their hoop escapades up to date, dropping only one to the Huskies. Last Tuesday saw them upset a favored Seattle College club on the home court. Jerry Starr led the scoring in the SC game with 23 points. , Moose

Atomic Power Hits Bowling League

What the atom bomb did to our Japanese friends, so did this week's bowling do to the College league

The biggest upset of the day came when the high and mighty Hospice A team was knocked for a two point less by the Sehome five and for the first time in the league, lost claim to the number one position. Next in the line of catastrophies was the three point loss of MRH No. 1 to the Tramps. With the loss of these two teams in first place running, the golden throne was left to the victorious Daniels team who scraped by by MRH No. 2 for two points.

Percentage Change By completely overwhelming Hospice B, the Collegians gained the full three points and raised their percentage to a higher point bracket. The Mathes cellar-dwellers also showed their form, to the disadvantage of the Alley Cats, by taking two points for a slight percentage raise. Also getting a three point raise on a forfeit, the Lapps masted themselves for a two way tie for second spot in the standings

Weirach High Man

This week's king pin position goes to F. Weirach of the Sehome team for his high 203 game. Nudging him closely was J. Francis of Hospice A with his high 201. In the line of game totals, the Sehome five captured individual game honors with 852 pins while the Collegians took the two game high with 1569 pins. League Standings Fluctuate

With upsets occurring as they have the past few weeks it might even be possible for Sehome or Mathes to take first place position.
