Gladiators to Defend League Lead in First Conference Tilt

By PAUL GILLIE

In their first action of the regular 1951 Evergreen conference football season, Western Washington's powerhouse Vikings meet the Pacific Lutheran Gladiators tomorrow night at Battersby field. Kick-off time is 8 p. m.

The Viking machine boasts three straight triumphs in pre-season tilts, the most impressive being last week's 59-0 smothering of the defending champions, Eastern's Savages, in a Kings-X contest.

Pacific university was the first Vik victim, losing 8-0 in a hard-fought contest. The Thunderbirds of UBC are the only opponents to crack the straight-line defense, while losing to Western 40-6.

Coached this year by Marv Harshman, the Glads have stopped Whitworth 13-6 and bowed to Puget Sound 20-0. Their T-formation offense is sparked by fullback Al Fink and quarterback Frank Karwoski. The Lutherans are out to crush the title aspirations of the Vikings and avenge themselves for last year's 47-0 Homecoming humiliation.

An Evergreen conference economy move limits the size of both squads to 25 players. Coach Charles Lappenbusch says that those 25 men who are in shape to play 60 minutes of ball will be suited up tomorrow night. The Vik coaching staff has been working to Leading Western's Vikings in tomorrow night's contest with the Lutheran Glads are Bob Lajala and Dick Pangallo, who were elected co-captains for the game by their teammates.

Lajala, letterman center, will handle the chores on offense. Pangallo, a newcomer from Seattle, is one of the outstanding additions to the "D" squad, and will act as captain while the Lutes have the ball (which won't be often).

gain flexibility and diversity in the line-up, preparing for any emergency that may be created by injuries in the ranks.

With the exception of the Homecoming game with Whitworth, November 3, tomorrow night's contest will be the last opportunity for fans to see the Vikings in action on their home field.

Last week's Collegian introduced some of the men who will be in the starting line-ups. This week we take a look at some of the reserves. Because of the 25-player limit, not all of the reserves will be in suits tomorrow night, but they may see action later in the year.

Three Ferndale freshmen, backs Bill Daws and Ed Pederson, and center Lindy Lingbloom, are scrapping for first-team berths. Ben Asplund, last year's try-for-point, will see action at the center spot.

Other newcomers include Tom Rassley, a halfback transfer from St. Martin's; Louie Jelinek, a quarterback from Sultan; Glen Great-house and Art Lee of Burlington; Ari Roberts, 175-pound freshman guard; and Don Jangard, center from Ballard.

"Miss Majorette for September," Lorraine Bergmann, will be seen with the band at the PLC game tomorrow night. Miss Bergmann, 18 years old, had her picture on the cover of the September issue of the national Drum Major magazine. The winner of a twirling contest and scholarship at Central Washington college, Miss Bergmann instead chose to attend Western.

First Mixer This Friday

First of all college mixers of the quarter will be held in the new gymnasium Friday night. Bobbie Brown's band will provide music for the dance, state the co-chairmen, Phyllis Skinner and Chuck Mesinger.

The mixer, which is sponsored by the Forensic club, will start at 8:30 p. m. and continue until 11:30 p. m.

PEP LEADERS WANTED

Wednesday night the yell leaders and song queens will be chosen. Pinky Bennett, chairman of the Pep committee, announces that all groups should be practicing and be ready to give their top performance before the board of control and the Pep committee at that time.

'51 Homecoming Plans Started; Begins Nov. 2

"Plans are well underway for the 1951 Homecoming," announced this year's chairman, Bud Woodward. Other members of the committee are Gloria Gaupp, assistant, and Ed Lapsley, who will be in charge of the assemblies. When the rest of the committee has been chosen all meetings will be held in the Homecoming headquarters in room 212.

One of the highlights of Homecoming, which will be held November 2 and 3, is the Saturday afternoon football game when the Vikings meet the Whitworth Pirates.

"Romance In Song" To Feature Recent Musical Comedy Tunes

"These exquisite singers are perfection in teamwork, with Doraine always the picture of loveliness, and Ellis the matinee idol type," said the Atlanta Journal, of Doraine Renard and Ellis Lucas, who will present next Tuesday's assembly, "Romance in Song."

The assembly will be given in the Doraine and Ellis both came from highly musical homes. Her parents were both skilled violinists. When Doraine was 15, she sang with the well-known tenor Giovanni Martinelli. At 17, she

Board Hears Gelder Letter on Books

Book buying policies of the student Co-op were questioned in a letter read at the regular Board of Control meeting Wednesday afternoon in room 211. (Full text of letter printed on page two). The letter from Harvey Gelder, assistant professor of mathematics, protested shortages in textbooks and pointed out certain difficulties in ordering text books.

ASB President Dick Pederson's appointments for chairmen of standing committees for the coming year were approved by the board. Appointed to head the committees are Bob Murphy, awards; Ed Lapsley, contest; Larry Wilson, assemblies; Pinky Bennett, pep and publicity; Dick Pederson, finance; Larnell Cooper, social; Larry Wilson, elections; Paul Gillie, student facilities and Co-op board; Charles Odell, Evergreen conference; and Lex Milton, student properties.

Pep Rally Saturday

Pinky Bennett, chairman of the pep committee, announces the first downtown pep rally will be held Saturday, October 6, at 2:15 p. m., at the corner of Holly and Cornwall.

All students will meet at the auditorium-music building at 2:15 to form a serpentine line. The group will travel by foot down High street to Kluan cottage, thence past Senior hall to the Harlow-Hollingsworth Funeral home where a police escort will lead the rally down Holly to Cornwall.

As the line forms at Cornwall the yell leaders will lead in a few yells. The German band will also participate. The rally will break up downtown and each will go his separate way from there.

In the interest of future school spirit for games, "Pinky" stated, "we are trying our best to arrange bus transportation to out-of-town football games so that everyone can go. We are all especially interested in going to the next Eastern game."

DORAINE RENARD

Auditorium-Music building at 10 a. m.

This second program of the Artists' and Lecture Series will feature many well known songs. Among them will be selections from "The Chocolate Soldier," "Showboat," "Sweethearts," "Rio Rita," "Annie, Get Your Gun," and "Oklahoma."

Each of the four groups of selections is presented in costumes befitting it. They were designed by Madame Elsa of New York, and graduated from a five year course at Ohio State university with highest honors.

Ellis was the son of a renowned Irish baritone. He graduated from the Cleveland Institute of Music during which time he also soloed over the NBC and CBS networks.

The summer following their graduations from college Ellis and Doraine met. Since then they have had leading roles in several musicals and have toured 23 countries.

Student (?) Assembly

Have you got registration blues?
Are you tired?
Do you feel depressed?
Are you suffering from backache?
Could you sleep for a week?
Or are your nerves on edge?

Laugh your blues away at the student assembly this morning at 10:00 o'clock in the New Auditorium Building. Be on hand for a surprise packed show of fun. (Epic note from the October 2 Official Bulletin).

After attending this program the Collegian editor offers for the consideration of those planning student assemblies the following suggestion: All persons making announcements in assemblies should be limited to three minutes.

Last Tuesday's STUDENT assembly was an example of HOW to encourage low attendance at assemblies.

It appeared to the casual observer that more time was spent giving announcements than giving the program.

President Writes Weekly Message

Over on the other side of this page you will find a column written by Dick Pederson, president of the Associated Students. This column is to be a regular weekly feature of the Collegian this year.

We suggest that you read the column this week and every week. With a large student body, widely dispersed, Dick just can't get around to talk to each of you personally to tell you what the board of control and ASB administration are doing, what they plan to do, and why. You should find the answers in his column.

What the Board of Control does will be reported in our news columns. Interpretations and explanations of board actions will be found in the president's column and in these columns at times.

There may be occasions this year when what we say in this corner doesn't agree with what Dick has to say on the other side of the page. In such cases we invite you to gather all the available information on each side and draw your own conclusions. But it's not likely that we will disagree often. We both have the same objectives; a better-informed and more active student body.

Perennial Problem Faces Pederson

A perennial problem that has exasperated students, instructors, and the coop management many times in the past has again arisen to confront Dick Pederson and the new student body administration.

The problem of textbook shortages is one that, with all its inconveniences, must be solved permanently. A solution can be worked out if all concerned, including members of the faculty, will work together to bring about a better system.

It will be a forecast of great achievements for the new ASB administration if they are able to create order out of this long-standing chaos and work out an effective, permanent solution.

Grotto Retreat Begg Students Be Neat

By JOHN FALLIS

Freshmen — freshmen — will your duties never end in this slave driving camp we call Western. Books to tote, books to study, tests to conquer, physicals to take . . . endless tasks, jobs, duties and what have you. No, dear children of education, there is no end to that role which you have just begun.

Just the same, you will occasionally find a spare moment to charge over to the Grotto for a cup of steaming coffee (the best this side of Hong Kong)! Yes, you've guessed it kids. There is another duty there. Hold it! This one is easy . . . all you have to do is set an example for some of the lame-brained upper classmen who aren't fortunate enough to have good manners or a sense of responsibility. These characters were unfortunate enough to have been exposed to the old lounge (did I say lounge . . . seemed more like a testing ground for army gas and smoke bombs). Consequently they brought their old, disjointed habits of relaxation into the new gab arena. The lounge and Grotto belong to the students . . . are actually paid for by student funds. Uhuh! You're catching on fast . . . it will take student funds to maintain and repair these same havens of rest.

Last spring the doors to the new joint had hardly been opened when people who had been here for years (I should know) began flipping cig butts all over the deck. One very depressed character had just completed a gruelling test in psychology. It left his so fagged he uncurled his massive frame all over one of the new love seats in the lounge. Odd that he didn't wear spiked shoes. The damage could have been greater . . . apparently a pleasure to this type. As it happened, his big wet clodhoppers merely left a big smeary puddle of mud for the next person to sit on. And this is college and culture. King Tut . . . and tut again!

Money interest anyone? We have what is known as a student facilities fund which costs each of us a small amount of jack. Now this money, along with ASB money buys equipment for the lounge. Should one careless nincom (I hesitate to use such expressive language) poop dig his pencil into a table top or rip the leather in a chair or divan with a nail in his shoes . . . we all pay through the nose. That repair or replacement money could have been spent for other necessities to student enjoyment.

Gabbing about money, there is another rather easy way to save student funds. Labor in the lounge, along with other expenses in that den of closer study, is paid for from the profits of that enterprise. If expenses are not met, the student facilities fund again suffers. Sooooo, gulp your coffee, sniff your milkshake, or gobble your hamburger. YUM! Now, when you have had your smoke and talked over all the gossip from MRH to Senior hall, you will be in an extremely good position to set another example for the upper classmen . . . grab your girl or boy friend with one hand and your CUP AND SAUCER OR DISHES with the other hand and waltz merrily toward the dirty dish wagon which is conveniently placed at the entrance of the Grotto. Then place the dish in the wagon (the china dish, that is) and carry on.

Speaking of carrying on, that's what I'll probably have to do when some of the higher educated yokels read this . . . nevertheless, frosh, good luck at Western . . . especially when it comes to etiquette in the lounge and Grotto.

Full Text Of Gelder's Letter To Board Published By Collegian

Mr. Charles Odell, President, Pro-tem, Associated Student Body
Western Washington College of Education
Dear Mr. Odell:

I would appreciate the attention of the Board of Control to the problem of student text book shortages. The Student Co-op is the sole supplier of texts and supplies to the students of this college and, as such, has an educational responsibility—that of having on hand sufficient copies of the texts required for course work. That the Student Co-op has not met this responsibility fully is evidenced by the experience of this department as well as that of other departments of the college.

There are several specific criticisms which should be considered:

1. Enrollment for any one course is not definite until several days after the quarter begins. This requires that the estimated enrollment be the basis upon which books are ordered. So that large inventories of books held over from quarter to quarter can be avoided, it is the tendency of the Student Co-op to order short of the departmental estimates.
2. There have been occasions when certain texts and supplemental course materials were not ordered for sale because of a small profit margin or lack of guarantee that the entire order would be purchased.
3. There have been instances where a desired change of texts in a course has been delayed until the inventory of present texts have been cleared from the shelves.
4. The Student Co-op at present will handle certain special material desired by departments only because extra copies are absorbed by the department.

In many classes insufficient text supply works a hardship upon both the instructor and the student. Those classes with large enrollment find the library inadequately supplied with the source material that has to be substituted for the text. In certain specialized courses no other resources are available.

The manager of the Student Co-op has the problem of operating the store as efficiently as possible. He has expressed upon occasions that he has not had the complete cooperation from the faculty regarding book orders and has been forced to take losses because of improper ordering and sudden changes of texts. The handling of small profit material is not desirable because the time and effort required to dispose of it outweighs the profit.

It is not the desire of the undersigned to criticize the manager of the Student Co-op but, rather to focus the attention of the Board of Control upon existing facts with the hope that some action can be taken to remedy an exasperating condition. Somewhere between the responsibility of the Co-op to provide sufficient text materials at the beginning of the quarter and the necessity to operate the bookstore on a paying basis should exist some answer.

Thanks you for your attention and consideration.
Respectfully yours,

HARVEY M. GELDER
Assistant Mathematics Professor.

Fireside Chat

By DICK PEDERSON

This column in our weekly Collegian was originated by Eddie Hickenbottom, last year's ASB president. Eddie, a World War II disabled veteran, who deserves a great deal of credit for many improvements about our campus.

It is our belief that if the student body is well informed there will be fewer misunderstands to block progress and efficiency in student government. We can't get around to talk to each of you personally to tell you what the board of control and ASB administration are doing or plan to do. We hope that this column will inform the student body and arouse student interest.

This first week we would like to go out on the end of the limb and express an opinion of our own. We might be saying the unheard of as far as many members of the student body, faculty, and alumni are concerned, but to us this matter has been a sore spot since our first days at Western.

Thanks to Mr. Don Walter, Western's band director, we have an original fight song. Why, then, can't we have an original hymn to the Alma Mater? We realize that Cornell's "High Above Cayugas Waters" is truly a fine hymn, but why must every grade and high school, as well as hundreds of colleges, copy Cornell's Alma Mater.

Music Groups Formed by Dr. D'Andrea

Two orchestras will begin rehearsals in Room 217 of the new Auditorium-Music building next week. The Bellingham Civic Symphony, composed of college and community musicians and directed by Dr. D'Andrea, will hold its first rehearsal Monday evening at 7:30. All college musicians interested in joining this organization are invited to be present.

College string players are also urged to join the newly formed String Orchestra which will rehearse every Tuesday and Thursday at 3. The string orchestra will be heard in several Morton Gould arrangements at a later assembly.

The Civic Symphony plans to present a formal evening concert each quarter. Three nationally famed artists have been engaged as guest soloists with the orchestra for these concerts. Miss Fredell Lack, violinist, will appear on December 4; Bernard Greenhouse, cellist, on March 4, and Grant Johannesen, pianist, on May 2. The concerts will be held in the new auditorium and will be free to students and the public.

ICC Plans Club Review

Members of the ICC held the first meeting of the year at 4:00 p. m., Wednesday, October 3.

Vice-president Iver Heinrich opened the meeting and asked for nominations for the position of president. There was a vacancy in this position when John Wilson, elected president, did not return to Western this year. Heinrich was elected president. Glen Carson was elected vice-president. Both men will serve for the year 1951-52.

President Heinrich called the club roll. Secretary Marian Stefani read the minutes of the last meeting. Business discussion centered chiefly around plans for the "Club Review," which will be held October 18. This "Review" is a program outlined to introduce freshmen to the various club officers and to give them a brief resume of what each club considers its main activities and objectives.

The Camera club will have charge of assigning the rooms for booths, all of which will be in the Auditorium-Music building. Members of the Music club will handle the stage program, to be made up of skits and music. Each club president decided which part his or her club would play in the review.

A special meeting of the ICC will be held at 4:00 p. m. on Wednesday, October 10, to continue work and discussion for the coming "Review." It is urged that all members of ICC attend.

Freshmen Students Sign For Annual Photos Next Week

All freshmen are urged to sign for Klipsun picture appointments next week in the main hall, it has been announced by Klipsun editor, Jo Ann Hoyt.

Pictures will be taken by Bradbury's Keith Studio, Commercial and Magnolia streets, from October 16 to 26.

In accordance with the contract signed by the studio and Editor Hoyt, new students will pay $2.50 per sitting. This price includes a retouched glossy photograph for the annual. Students ordering extra pictures will receive a 10% discount from the regular price. Students whose pictures appeared in the Klipsun last year may have the same print in this year's annual for a fifty cent fee, paid to the Klipsun staff: If paid to the studio the same service will amount to $1.

"My Six Convicts" Author Talks Here

"No chapter in my life can equal the color, excitement and appeal of that which is reported in "My Six Convicts," said Dr. Donald Powell Wilson, consultant in psychology and author of the 1951 Book-of-the-Month club selection, who addressed the first Artist and Lecture series assembly for fall quarter in the music-auditorium building this morning.

In the early 30's Dr. Wilson accepted a post with the United States Public Health Service to investigate the relationship between criminality and drug addiction of the prisoners at Fort Leavenworth Penitentiary in Kansas. For his project, a regular staff of assistants was needed.

He had two thousand men to choose from—all convicts. He selected six and it is upon their personalities that his fascinating book mainly turns.

Half of Dr. Wilson's work was done once he had gained the good-will of these six, who would in turn secure for him the good-will of their fellow prisoners. This was not easy; he had been warned when he started his three-year study: "You'd better be a bright guy, or you may be a dead one." As prison psychologist, Dr. Wilson came to know their experiences. The idea of recording his experiences at Fort Leavenworth Penitentiary never occurred to Dr. Wilson while he was there. He made no notes, kept no records apart from the research data. However, at the urging of friends, he began to think about writing the book—sometime. After a long delay, in which many changes took place in prison personnel and administration, a chance meeting with one of the former inmates gave him the impetus to start writing the dramatic story.

The theme of his book? "Most people," says Dr. Wilson, "think of prisoners in the same terms that 19th century writers built their impossible fictional characters: with no good in the worst of them and no bad in the best of them. If my book differs from other current literature on prisons of today, it may be because I have tried to let the voice of the prisoner be heard in a society that, by its penal philosophy, is still all but silencing that voice. In this sense, perhaps my book is unique. But first and last, the book is my memory of my men, who I hope have turned out all right, and some of whom, I suppose, have not. I have never tried to find out about them."

Women's Sports Program Starts

Here is just a general idea of how the women's sport plan is shaping up for fall quarter.

- Mondays—Blue Barnacles.
- A swimming class that many of you freshman gals might be interested in.
- Tuesdays—Swimming and hockey.
- Wednesdays—Volley ball.
- Note: Miss Hieber will be the instructor. She is accredited with having a national rating for volley ball. Here is your chance to really learn to play volley ball as it should be played.
- Thursday—Swimming and hockey.
- Friday—Bowling.
- There will be a slight charge for the use of the alleys.
- All of these activities take place at 4 p. m. daily in the gym, except bowling, but all students will meet there to form a group and receive the announcements of their group's activities.

A consulting psychologist for many years, Dr. Wilson admits to being an incurable optimist despite all the frustrations, complexes, neuroses, and other mental aberrations he has observed.

Whoopee! Eastern O Vikings 59

Favored by seven points the Eastern Washington college Savages were rolled in the mud of Battersby field when the Western Washington Viking powerhouse steam rolled the Savage squad 59-0 last Saturday night.

Unhampered by muddy field conditions and a steady rain the Viking squad rolled up an impressive offensive total of 383 yards and 9 touchdowns. Two of the TDs were racked up on intercepted passes by the big D team.

Seven Western touchdowns were scored through rushing while the other two were tallied by the big D team via intercepted passes.

Bill Karawacki scored the first TD early in the first quarter on the fifth Vik offensive play. Norm Hash racked up the next two Viking TDs both from inside the one. Hash set up his first score with a 30 yard run that left the ball on the Savage one yard line. Spud Walley plunged the next offensive team tally over for the blue and white. In the final quarter Bob Feagan churned off 25 yards to rack up the sixth offensive team touchdown. Sophomore Vic Lee whipped off the most spectacular run of the night when he took off on a 69 yard jaunt that ended with the 7th big "O" team score.

The D team shared scoring honors with the offensive unit when backs Roy Richardson and Eldon Odle picked off Savage passes and returned them for touchdowns. Richardson returned his pass 48 yards while Odle returned his interception 59 yards.

The defensive unit spearheaded by the five man defensive line blocked two Eastern punts and held the visitors to a net offensive gain of 84 yards. The Eastern squad, held within their own 50 yard line, never put together a scoring threat.

Dick Pangallo, defensive lineman, blocked his third punt in three games. Al Cornet teamed up with Pangallo and Buck Burger to block the second Eastern punt.

STATISTICS

Statistically speaking Western offensive and defensive units have outpointed their previous opponents in every phase of football. Cumulative totals for non-conference games show that the big "D" team has held Western's opponents to 2.6 yards per play while the offensive unit has picked up 7 yards per try.

Vancouver Invasion Planned for Next Weeks UBC Tilt

Tickets for the game next week in Vancouver should be available Monday afternoon in Mr. Lappenbusch's office. His office is located in the gym.

Tickets for the game will be at the student rate of 50c each.

Those who would like to go to Vancouver by chartered bus should sign up in the Collegian office sometime this afternoon or Monday for sure. The price of the round trip will be $1.75, plus the cost of your ticket. The busses will leave in front of the gym next week around nine o'clock in the morning, and will return to the campus that evening.

All girls taking the trip will have to have parental permission cards signed by their parents, and back in the office of the dean of women before they can board the bus for the northern city.

The cards for the girls may be obtained in the office of the dean of women, and must be filled out and returned this week.

Busses for the trip to Tacoma on the 20th, Eastern on the 27th, and to Ellensburg on the 10th of November are also being planned by the Pep committee. Information on these trips may be secured by seeing either Pinky Bennett or Mort Gronseth in the Collegian office.

Big Mac Has 27 Prospects

Twenty-seven men have announced their intention to turnout for basketball, eleven are returning from last year's varsity and JV squads—with sixteen new men already signed to turnout.

Four of the new students are transfers: Seymour Sturmann, a transfer from Washington State college; Dick Brock, who played for St. Martin's last year; Mark Thompson, from the University of Washington; and Rod Ziebell, who played at Everett Junior college last year.

Some freshmen this year who have seen coach Bill McDonald and indicated they will turnout this year.

Starting down the list in alphabetical order: Danny Austin of Shelton, Carl Bloom of Bothell, Jim Chamberlain of North Bend, Dick Guthrie of Ferndale, Ron Harrison of Snohomish, Tim McCarthy of Joyce, Dick McGovern of Concrete, Jim Reece of Darrington, Galen Reimer of Nooksack, Mike Riley of Renton, Ken Swalwell and Jack Wiley both of New Westminster, British Columbia.

Coach McDonald realizes there are more boys that will be turning out, and they should contact him in the dean of men's office sometime next week. Turnouts will start October 15, and all men should contact McDonald before that time.

Lutes-Wildcats Lead League For This Week

Pacific Lutheran pulled the upset of the week in conference play as they beat a two touchdown favorite Whitworth 13 to 6. Hard charging backs scored both of the Lutes touchdowns.

Whitworth's only score came on a pass play from Ed Kretz to Sam Adams. The pass was from 14 yards out, and was one of the few times the Pirates gave Marv Harshman's crew any trouble during the afternoon.

The British Columbia Thunderbirds gained a tie with Carroll college of Helena, Montana—13 to 13. Although the Thunderbirds aren't actually in the Evergreen football conference yet, they do play most of the teams, and will be considered playing members next year.

In the other game that counted in the conference standings, the Loggers of CPS dropped Central 20 to 6. It was the fumbling of the Wildcats that cost them the game, as two miscues set up the first two tallies for the Loggers. The longest play of the day was a pass and run combination of CPS—Art Viafort to Jack Fabulich—for 60 yards and a touchdown.

Here is the standing of the conference after the first week of play. It is well to note here that the Eastern game here was a non-conference affair, with the conference tilt being played at Eastern on the 27th of this month.

Searching Sports . . .

By MORT GRONSETH

There aren't enough words of congratulations in the English language to even start offering the football team for last week's trouncing of Eastern. Western has a wonderful start. In three games they have scored 107 points, while holding their opponents to a mere 6.

It is Pacific Lutheran this Saturday night, and they are at the top of the league. The Lutes could be the surprise team of the conference, as they defeated a favored Whitworth squad last week, 13 to 6.

It should be a good game, but let's hope the Viks, and their followers are happy tomorrow night around 10:15.

Pinky Bennett—that busy pep chairman—will have his hands full tomorrow, with the Pep Rally at 2:15, and getting everybody settled at the game tomorrow night. Along with all the work that goes into the home games, Pinky is getting chartered busses for all of the games away from home—including the Eastern and Central games.

There will be more announced on this later, but let's all follow the Vikings to UBC next week. It was the Thunderbird squad that scored the only touchdown against the Vikings in our first three ball games. They also led the Viks—the only team to do that so far this year.

Reports from Tacoma's two schools—PLC and CPS—say they think Western's all-conference fullback is through. Don't know if there were any scouts up looking over the Viks last week, but that 23 points Norm Hash scored doesn't make it look like the old Bull is ready for the glue factory yet. Me thinks some schools were having a large pipe dream—or wishful thinking, maybe.

Like to give a big pat on the back to the students who sat in the rooting section through the moisture Saturday night. It was a cold, wet evening, but the cheer squad and the Vik rooters kept the football team just hot and going.

Along with that the band really kept up the pep and enthusiasm. It was a change upward to see such a peppy group of students—cheer squad—and band at the ball game. There'll be many tonsils added this Saturday night with the returning students back—let's hear all the more from the rooting section.

The New York Giants, a clutch team to beat all of the clutch clubs in the history of baseball, have done the impossible. It has been many a decade since the high and mighty Yankees have been beaten in an opening world series game, but those boys with a giant killing attitude did it after just finishing a cinderella game in the National league race.

All baseball fans will have their ears glued this morning and early afternoon to game two of the series—win, lose or tie the seven game World Series, the Giants are truly a miracle team.

This year's New York Giants top all teams in the ability to come back and snatch games from defeat. Their climb from the cellar to the championship and the final game win with one out in the ninth.

Parking Rules Go Into Effect; Fines Are Used

Driving and parking regulations on the campus went into effect yesterday, October 4, for the remainder of the year. Fines of $1 will be issued to violators of these rules, and if not paid in 48 hours they will be raised to $2.00.

The following regulations are posted on all bulletin boards:

1. Do not drive more than 10 miles per hour on campus or more than 20 miles per hour in vicinity.
  2. Refrain from using parking area immediately south of Main building, if you live on campus or in vicinity of college.
  3. Do not under any circumstances park on narrow drive leading from Normal Drive to main parking area.
  4. Park on old heating plant site immediately southeast of Main building. One car is not permitted to block another.
  5. Use parking area south of Mens Residence hall.
  6. Note that parking spaces in general are indicated by painted lines.
  7. Observe that the reserved parking areas are as follows: North and west curbs of area south of Main building; north rear entrance of Main building; Edens hall; rear of Campus school; marked spaces in front of PE building and in rear of Arts building.
- Violation of these rules is cause for denial of parking privileges on campus and the assessment of a fine.

Thursday Night Is Your 'Rec Nite'

Evening activities are just starting and to you freshmen as well as new transfer students here's the answer to your prayers. This is the time to meet your fellow classmates in the relaxed atmosphere of "Rec Nite." Take your pick of activities: badminton, swimming, square dancing, etc. (Then there's always Sehome hill.) Miss Muffly especially extends a hearty welcome to all who are interested in square dancing which will be held in the new gym.

Hike Up Mt. Baker Set for Saturday

Fall is here in all its glory and if you're a lover of the out-of-doors then this column should be your number one interest. Hikes of interest as well as of beauty and just for fun have been scheduled for you beginning this Saturday.

Transportation is taken care of. All you have to do is come (with your lunch) and have fun. Those of you who live in organized houses should be sure to put in a request for a packed lunch. The first trip will be around Mt. Baker to the Kulshan cabin and around the glacier area — weather permitting.

Future plans include a trip to Mt. Baker lodge and a hike to Chain lakes. Any change in plans or special announcements will be placed on the bulletin board next to the registrar's office.

See you Saturday!

"You may wear the sweater, but please remove the letter," said the poetic president.

Frosh Brave Rain In Tour of Town

Clad in red slicker raincoats, kerchiefs, and other rain wear, members of the freshman class braved last Friday's heavy down-pour to partake of a tour of the city of Bellingham sponsored by the Bellingham Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Jaycees, under the direction of Gordon Carson, provided 30 cars for the tour. Their guests were first taken to City Hall where they were greeted and welcomed to the city by Mayor Jack Mulhern. After leaving city hall, a tour was made of Chuckanut Drive, county airport, Bellingham high school, city parks, residential districts, the waterfront, Sehome hill and ended back on the campus.

Frosh Given Final Chance to Take Entrance Exams

"The Wednesday and Thursday's tests must be taken by all new students who missed opening week regardless if they are post grads or freshmen," said Mr. Ferris on Tuesday in his office.

The exam schedule for next week: Tuesday, October 9, 4 p. m.—English placement test in room 209 for all who do not have college composition credit.

Wednesday, October 10, 4 p. m.—American Council Psychological exam in room 209.

Thursday, October 11, 4 p. m.—Nelson Denny Reading in room 209.

Wed in the Seattle Revival Temple September 11 were Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Finn (Mildred Peter). Mrs. Finn attended Western three years and was a princess of Homecoming and the Junior Prom last year. Her husband is a well-known wrestler. The couple is living in California.

Mailbag: Letters to the Editor

After discussing the value of the so-called comprehensive test, which we were forced to sit through for three hours, I've come to the conclusion that somebody owes the student body an explanation.

If our enrollment is around 1,200, it means that 3,600 man hours were spent on that "test." This time could have been better used widening High street, moving Sehome hill, or just pounding sand.

I've taken tests from most of the faculty in my 3 years at this institution, and have thought some of them should be tarred and feathered, but after taking this one, I salute all of my former profs as being years and miles above and beyond the level of the person or persons involved in compiling the material for this time-waster.

Couple Weds At Blaine

Miss Betty Jean Olson and Joseph Howard Urie, former students of Western Washington, exchanged vows at a double ring ceremony Friday evening, September 7. The Rev. David S. Lund officiated at the wedding held in the Calvary Pentecostal church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full skirted white taffeta gown, styled with a fitted bodice. A pearl embroidered cay caught her sheer veil, while nylon mitte, a crystal necklace, the gift of the bridegroom, and a bouquet of orchid centered cala gladiolas completed the costume. Honor attendant, Miss Dolores Hatchman, of Blaine, was gowned in lavender taffeta, while the other attendants, Misses Dixie Ecker, Lois Montague, and junior attendant Sandra Lou Olson, wore gowns of pastel taffeta. Candelighters were Miss Julene Boraker and Miss Jeanne Rogers.

Best man was Mr. Dwain Hogan, of Blaine, with Messrs. Norman Robertson, Orville Kline, and Billie Pherson as ushers.

Mrs. Norman Robertson, cousin of the bride sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Frank Whipple. Just before the exchange of vows, the bride sang "Because," while Henry Howe sang "The Lord's Prayer" before benediction.

The wedding reception was held in the Mirror Room of the Hotel Leopold, with Mrs. Orville Bassmass and Mrs. Fred Hachman acting as hostesses. Assisting Mrs. Al Schaffer at the punch bowl were Misses Julene Boraker, Jeanne Rogers, Gloria Faulkner, Virginia Langdon, and Mesdames Gene Ellis, Gordon Nevens, and Dorothy Benner.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Olson, while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Smith, of Blaine. Mrs. Urie was a member of the Collegian staff spring quarter.

Wrights Wed In August

A double ring ceremony at the First Methodist church in Vancouver, Washington, the afternoon of August 19, united Miss Joanne Sensenbrenner and Mr. H. Keith Wright in marriage.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Sensenbrenner, of Vancouver, and Mrs. Beatrice Wright, of Bellingham, is the mother of the groom.

White gladioli in standards, and lighted candles in floor candelabra decorated the church for the 3 o'clock ceremony, officiated by the Rev. Wade Carter. The candles were lighted by Miss Lois Currie, and Miss Carole Jane Edwards. Miss Barbara Hancock sang "I Love Thee" before the exchange of vows and "The Lord's Prayer" before the benediction.

The bride's dress was of white satin trimmed with lace and worn with a fingertip veil. She was given in marriage by her father and carried a white orchid on a white prayer book. Mrs. Edward Sensenbrenner, Jr., was matron of honor and wore a dress of violet organdy with matching hat and mitts. Bridesmaids were Miss Lois Currie and Miss Carole Jane Edwards, college roommate and cousin of the bride. Both wore gowns of organdy with matching hats and mitts.

When the couple left for their wedding trip to California, Mrs. Wright was wearing a brown suit with brown and aqua accessories. Her corsage was her wedding orchid. The couple will live at 812 East Chestnut street.

Wesleys To Play

Wesley club invites all students to come down to the Garden Street Methodist church for the evening of Friday, October 12. There will be folk games, socializing, refreshments, worship and discussion. At this time the officers would like to introduce the functions, aims, and purposes of the club to the freshmen, new transfer students and all others who are interested.
