Pictures Tell Story Of College in 'Western Reports'

It, as the saying goes, "A picture is worth a thousand words," the April issue of "Western Reports" should be a well-words volume.

Jack Carver and Ed Mapes have done an excellent job of covering the campus with their cameras, especially the music and Arts buildings—inside and out. These pictures along with those of the regional alumni chairmen will present the alumni with a good view of the new WWC.

Alma Mater Words First Sung as Senior Farewell Song—Class of '09

By MARION STEFANI

The first strains of "Far above the bays blue waters" were sung at a commencement exercise by the senior class of 1909 as a farewell song to the Bellingham Normal school.

"After serving as their adviser for four years, I wrote the words as a parting gift to the class," stated Mrs. F. A. Abbott of 513 High street. "I taught drawing and manual training," she continued, "but when I married I left Bellingham and moved to New York where I lived until 1930."

On her return that year, she attended a graduation exercise and found, much to her surprise, that her farewell song of 21 years past had been adopted and was being sung as the alma mater.

When asked for her opinion on the possibility of using a different alma mater, Mrs. Abbott commented:

"If there is a revision I would prefer that they change both the words and the melody rather than just part of the song. If an entirely new alma mater is used, I suggest that the "White and Blue" be sung at Alumni gatherings for the benefit of those who knew it as their alma mater."

The origin of the tune can be traced back to one of the southern border states. During the Spanish Revolutionary war it was a war song and at one time the opening bar was used as a charge signal for the troops. At present it is the melody of not only Cornell's alma mater, but also of Vanderbilt's.

The eight-page publication is featuring the dedication ceremonies taking place April 30, May 1 and 2. Coverage also includes the summer school program, annual conference, alumni news, training school, college drama, and sports. Audrey Dahl and Paul Gillie are writing on the last two topics.

Dr. Albert Van Aver is editor of "Western Reports." Mrs. Ruth Burnett is in charge of format, and Miss Elizabeth Hopper is committee chairman.

End of Quarter Visitor Finds Students Busy, Studying?

"This is my room. It's too bad you had to visit me today. Here's my bed—under this suitcase somewhere. I started to pack for Friday, but I can't find all my clothes. I guess I'll have to go around the dorm and round them up.

"Just throw off those books, while I take these sweaters and—well, what do you know? I was sure I'd lost these notes! Now, where's that report that these belong to? It might be under some of this stuff on my desk. M-m-m, Profile, two scarves, that moccasin I was going to have fixed (I must do that sometime), this shampoo I lost the lid for—oh, here's my report. With shampoo all over the first three pages.

"I'll have to type them all over again. And I loaned my typewriter to Maggie last week. I'm going right down and get it. The nerve of her, not returning it when she knew I had three term reports to do.

"Oh, do you have to go? Well, I'll be back in just a minute if you'd like to wait. It's just down the hall. Well, if you really have to go. . . . Gosh, I'm glad she's gone. I've got to get to work. First I'll get the typewriter, then I'll study for chemistry, and read 500 pages of history, write that overdue book report—gad, that'll take a week!

"This room is unspeakable. We haven't even picked up the stuff from those desk drawers that got turned upside down last night. I wish there was time to clean it up, but I better get started. What a horrible week. Ugh, I should have eloped last night with Jack. At least I wouldn't have all this work to do. If next week wasn't vacation, I'd die!"

The moral to this story is: Don't give up the ship. Remember, it isn't falling in that's fatal; it's staying there.

—Janet Beighle.

Table Tennis Tournament In Third Canto

Joyce Penner and Lois Rommer have advanced to the third round in the girls' table tennis play. This is a single elimination two out of three tournament.

In the second round of play are Irene Tonder, JoAnn Hoyt, Jackie Hurlbut, and a still undetermined winner in the second bracket.

Golf Tournament With Seattle U. Set for April 4

Golf will again come into its own April 4 when the tentative tournament with Seattle university at Seattle will take place.

The only carry-overs from last year's squad are Bob Carbonatto and Roger Stearns. Other members of this year's squad include: John Shields, Don Generaux, Roland Cackey, Grant Stone, Walter Shaudney, Robert Baklund, and Roger McDonald.

Other tentative matches include: April 25, CPS; May 5, UBC; and May 9, PLC. All would be held in Bellingham.

Stumble, Fumble and Fall

By GENE CARAKER

Whitworth's Pirates did a fine job of representing the Evergreen conference in the NAIB tourney, getting to the quarter finals before faltering to Murry State's dazzling fast break 81-69. Ralph Polson, the Whit's giant center canned 98 points in three games for a very neat average of 32.7 points per contest. Polson was selected on the NAIB All Star second team for his sensational showing. His top individual scoring mark, the highest one game performance in the tourney, was 41 points. * * * Shame, shame, seems that there are no more tough men enrolled at WWC, at least no one seems to want to show off his Sunday punch anymore. Maybe the girls will put on the smoker next year. * * * The females could probably put on a classier show anyway. * * * You think you have problems! Joe Martin, Western's baseball mentor, has woes aplenty. The baseballers have been working out on their own since the first rays of sunshine broke through the clouds, but Martin hasn't really had an official turn out, and won't have one before the spring quarter is underway.

The Vikings are scheduled to tangle with Seattle U on April 4 at Seattle and Coach Martin will have only four short days to decide which players will make the trip. He has a few veterans back but has several large holes to fill * * * Some More Dept.—Ray Ciszek really has depth in the hurdling department this spring with four hurdlers that have close to even ability. * * * Sam Carver hasn't called his golfers out as yet, but you can be very sure he will miss his ace performer from last year's team, Bob Jacobs. Jacobs is now enrolled at the U. of W. but Mr. Carver still has hopes that Bob will return for the spring quarter. It has been rumored that Jacobs recently beat Washington's top man in the Inglewood tournament, so the chances of his return are very slim.

Intramural Starts Fastball in Spring

The intramural program in the spring quarter centers around softball or as it has come to be called, fastball. However, there are only two teams registered for the program and to have a well-rounded program there should be at least eight or nine teams entered.

Also included in the program will be tournaments in volleyball and badminton. Whether these tournaments actually take place will depend on the interest evidenced in them.

A minute's enough to stop at the familiar red cooler for a Coke. Pleasure? Certainly . . . and refreshing, too.
